

The Quinoy Patriot

SATURDAY, JANUARY 4, 1913

| WEEKLY    | Sales  | Subs. | Rev. | Profit |
|-----------|--------|-------|------|--------|
| ALMANAC   | 4,744  | 425   | 8.29 | 5.47   |
| Sunday    | 5,744  | 430   | 9.00 | 6.00   |
| Monday    | 6,744  | 435   | 9.15 | 6.15   |
| Tuesday   | 7,744  | 440   | 9.30 | 6.30   |
| Wednesday | 8,744  | 445   | 9.45 | 6.45   |
| Thursday  | 9,744  | 450   | 9.60 | 6.60   |
| Friday    | 10,744 | 455   | 9.75 | 6.75   |
| Saturday  | 11,744 | 460   | 9.90 | 6.90   |
| New Month | 52,528 | A.M.  |      |        |

Welcome 1913!

How long will the average person be able to hold fast to those good New Year resolutions?

This dragging of base ball all along through the winter season is like gentle fall, slumbering in the lap of winter.

The redistricting of the state last Quinoy a chance to figure in the coming examination to fill a vacancy at West Point.

Heroic deeds are being performed by several hundreds of the same men right off the coast, yet little space is devoted to their exploits. They are not pictured as often as the college football hero, no one offered them a vandeville job, and even the yellow journals do not offer them a space for writing to the editor of some daring and hair-raising rescue.

Pulls, pardons and prosecutions, all commence with the one letter. We hear much of the three p's the present day.

THE HOLY CITY.

The sacred ground, given under the auspices of the music committee at Bethany church Wednesday evening was an unqualified success. A large audience was present, and the "Holy City" by A. R. Gail was rendered by superior talent, as follows: Emma Shuffeld Moore, soprano; Dorothy McTaggart Miller, contralto; Edward E. Bullock, tenor, Albert E. Hayden, baritone; Roscoe R. Pickett, violinist; Daisy Bemis Sampson, pianist; Agnes B. Ruggles, organist.

The church choir was assisted by the girls vested choir of Bethany church and Emmanuel church, Braintree, making a grand chorus of 40 voices, and was especially pleasing. Mrs. Moore and Mrs. Miller sang with their usual grace and ability, their voices blending harmoniously and coming forth pure and true on the high notes. Mr. Bullock possesses a fine tenor voice and sings with great expression. Mr. Hayden's powerful voice, so well modulated for in the softer portions, he displays the quality of a true artist, was heard to advantage. Mrs. Sampson, Miss Ruggles and Mr. Pickett interpreted the various difficult passages of the program very effectively and marked ability.

The committee is to be congratulated for its very superior entertainment.

G. A. R. INSTALLATION.

The members of Paul Revere Post, SS, G. A. R., gathered at Grand Army hall, Thursday, January 3, for the installation of their comrades whom they had recently chosen to guide the post for the ensuing year. Friendship and good cheer was marked in those present, and after the exercises which were conducted by Post Commander John I. Williams, a clamor was served. Remarks were made by the new officers which were well received. The officers installed were:

Commander—Dr. C. M. Marston.
Senior Vice Commander—Mark E. Hanson.

Junior Vice Commander—Edward Richardson.
Chaplain—Wyman Nightingale.

Quartermaster—Francis P. Lound.
Officer of the Guard—William M. Bird.

Adjutant—James H. Webb.
Patriotic Instructor—George L. Phillips.

Surgeon—James W. Pierce.
The dinner was prepared by comrades Asa Pope, William M. Bird and Luther Parrot.

A. O. H. INSTALLATION.

The officers of Div. 22 A. O. H. were installed at Div. 22 hall, West Quincy, Wednesday evening, January 3, by President Patrick J. Ferguson, who was assisted by County Secretary Thomas Welsh of Div. 5 and John Hoy of Div. 3 of Randolph.

Among those present were State Treasurer Dennis J. Slattery of Weymouth and County Secretary James Knox of East Weymouth.

Reports were submitted which showed the order to have reached the highest point numerically and financially since its organization.

An entertainment was furnished and refreshments were served. The committee was James W. Pierce, William Murphy, Michael Tracy, Nicholas Murphy and James McConville.

The officers installed were: President—James O'Dowd.
Vice President—Thomas F. Rogan.
Treasurer—John S. Dolan.
Financial Secretary—James J. McDonald.

Recording Secretary—Henry M. Hughes.
Sergeant-at-Arms—Stephen Hannon.
Sentinel—James Mulroney.

ENGAGEMENT.

The engagement of Miss Harriet C. Baird, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Baird of Great Hill, Quincy and Frank Kenna of Somerville was announced at a New Year's party, Tuesday evening. The marriage will take place during the latter part of the month.

Miss Baird is one of Quincy's most popular young ladies. She is a graduate of the Oliver Wendell Holmes school of Dorchester class of 1908, and entered the Quincy High school, class of 1911, where she attended three years. She is also a graduate of the New England Conservatory of Music and is an accomplished pianist.

Miss Baird is known throughout the city because of her athletic prowess. She is one of the strongest swimmers around Boston and has three rescues from drowning to her credit, two of them children. "She is also skillful in handling yachts and has been known to venture out in the waters of Quincy Bay under the most adverse conditions.

Mr. Kenna is a graduate of Somerville High School and is connected with the Boston Public Library. He is a well known club member of Somerville.

METHODIST ANNIVERSARY.

At the Sunday service at the Hall Place M. E. church, the pastor, Rev. T. C. Martin, read the "Historical and Financial Statement" made by Rev. Samuel Kelley, the pastor of the church, Dec. 15th, 1874, at the dedication, in part as follows:

"The first Methodist sermon was preached by S. Kelley, the Pastor in 1804, H. Doble's Hall, Sunday, April 28th, 1872. A class was formed Sept. 6th, 1872, consisting of 12 persons, who were members of the church and profession."

"The Sabbath school met in the afternoon in Mr. Doble's hall and was organized and conducted by members of the Orthodox Congregational church. It was formally transferred to the care of the Methodist church, now comprising the present Congregation Jan. 1, 1873. The school at present numbers 150. Average attendance between 90 and 100.

"A substantial proposition for constructing a church was made in June, 1873, and the building was opened August 1, 1875 and subscriptions solicited and mostly collected by the pastor.

"Joseph W. Robertson donated and deeded to the trustees a half acre of land on part of which the building was erected. The building was deeded to the trustees and valued by the contractor at $700.00 and in addition made a generous subscription of $500.00 toward the church.

"Thomas J. Bowers had the contract for grading the lot and the foundation. Jonas Shackley, the contractor for the carpenter work and material. Chas. Mitchell the painting.

"The main building is 40x50 feet with a vestry under the whole finished with three rooms 10 feet in the clear. The vestibule and hall are finished with 56 pews. The tower in front at base is 16 feet square and near 100 feet in height surmounted by a spire and weather-vane. In the tower is placed an 8-day clock.

"John L. Hill architect of Quincy gave his services for the general arrangement of the building which had to be governed much in form to the one donated to use the material to advantage. The Sabbath school have the honored credit of the weather-vane in the steeple at a cost of $30.00.

The Ladies Social Aid society in addition to the upholstering the pews and furnishing stoves and funnel and chairs for pulpit paid to trustees $29.82.

"D. E. Poland with aid from church and Methodist church Boston supplied the pulpit, and B. B. Russell, No. 55 Cornhill, Boston gave the pulpit bible. Miss Abby P. Robinson of Stratham, N. H., gave the Pulpit Hymn Book. The carpet for altar and platform by Messrs. Adams, Broadway, South Boston. The organ and table donated by Mr. Brabcock, Dock Square, Boston. The two altar chairs by Mrs. Mary A. Miller and the platform chairs by Ladies Social Aid society, Communion Flag and goblets by John Fetherlin, corner of Bromfield and Washington streets, Boston. The plates and baptismal font and table covered by several members of the church and congregation. Numbers for pews by Mrs. Martha Lowd.

The clock in front of orchestra by John O. Holden of Quincy.

The church property it now stands in valuation is considered worth $3,370.00. The trustees are owing including $250.00 on the tower clock $2,205.00. There are unpaid subscriptions which are considered reliable $647.00, leaving a debt of $1,558.00.

The pastor also preached an historical sermon taking for his text Acts 10-19 "While Peter thought on the vision, the Spirit said unto him, Behold three men seek thee."

He said: "Peter had gone up to the housetop to pray. He was alone with a man of ideas of an old historic faith and needed enlargement. God moved a man in prayer to see a vision. And while he is doubting or wondering what it shall mean to him three men sent by an Italian commander some 25 miles to the north and knocking at the door. They are the practical side of his vision. This incident and text it seems to me has a great deal of appropriateness as we stand at this time looking forward to the new duties which confront us for this enterprise of a church was begun in prayer. Prayer meetings were held previous to the organization of the Sunday school, 45 years ago, Sept. 8. What we term "cottage" meetings were held at the house of Mr. Miller and Eliza, one of which was a Methodist. It began in prayer! And the shining of the sun on the new school teachers at the Willard school was a need of a Sunday school. They were young ladies, two of them connected with the Orthodox church so called, one the Bethany, one of them connected with the Episcopal church, and one with the Congregational church. As Rev. Mr. Willmott had to leave early to attend his own church he was the first speaker. In introducing Rev. Mr. Willmott, Rev. T. C. Martin said that he had heard that the Congregational Church at Quincy Point was formerly a Methodist Episcopal church and said this was a splendid time to recognize the fine feeling existing among the Churches of Quincy and prophesied that Quincy would soon be known as the "City of friendly Churches."

Rev. Mr. Willmott said he was glad to be present and congratulated the pastor and people on the celebration of these anniversaries. He was not at all sorry that Methodist better was made out of a Congregational church. He couldn't see how Congregational better could be made from Methodist. The average person does not look for ancestry, but asks the question, "What does he know that I want to know?"

He saw no reason why there could not be a federation of churches as there are of ministers. He wished the Church a great deal of prosperity and happiness in the work.

The program following the banquet was opened by prayer by Rev. Carl H. Raupach of St. Andrew's Church, Jamaica Plain.

Mrs. John A. Burns was introduced and led to speak of some of her early experiences in the work, both outside and inside of the Sunday School and told that after she and Miss Carrie L. Riddett had visited Mrs. Helen Trask where they had a season of prayer they started on their task of canvassing West Quincy to secure members, while Mrs. Trask remained at home and prayed for the work. She also was the first superintendent.

Mr. Hayward, superintendent of the Bethany Sunday School was next introduced and said he was glad to represent the Bethany Bible School at this time.

Mr. D. Chase, one of the teachers and also organist of the Bethany School, the next speaker gave some reminiscences of the early work.

There were others that assisted them in this good work. Edward Southworth took a lively interest in the Orthodox Sunday school was chosen the superintendent of the new Sunday school.

Jan. 1, 1872, the Sunday school was formally transferred to the Methodist pastor and people. In the meantime an effort to form a church had been made. Of course they must have a creed. They appointed a committee but were unable to devise a creed on which all could agree and as there were no Methodists in the section they finally decided they would form a Methodist church. They drew up a paper and secured $300. for subscriptions and invited Rev. Samuel Kelly, then chaplain of the National Soldiers Home to become pastor and he preached the first sermon at the morning service on Sunday, April 28th, 1872, taking for his text, "And I, if I be lifted up, shall draw all men unto me."

"Prayer, vision and the work! If there is any one thing which characterizes this church it is self-help. Having been pastor of 19 churches I have never been pastor of a church where so much volunteer work has been done."

Rev. Mr. Martin then applied the text to the church as it stands today with its present day conditions and problems. He said that the future of the church should be the vision we should see of its greatest needs and ambitions and then strive to accomplish the vision; to be optimists and realists and to make this church, not a church of the past, but a church of the future. It must of necessity be called such, but to make it a church of Jesus Christ.

The following document also appears among the records.

"We, the undersigned, feeling the necessity of having religious worship in West Quincy, do hereby agree to pay the respective sums affixed to our respective names for the purpose of supporting Methodist preaching in said place for the current year, April 28, 1872. Signed:—M. P. Fuller, E. H. Doble, A. G. Davis, James Shackley, C. J. Fuller, H. Parham, C. A. Goucher, Elmona Glines, N. H. Beals, Richard Williams, D. Gage, C. D. Collins, Columbus Lary.

The following twelve persons comprised the class organized Sept. 6, 1872:—Jonas Shackley, Rachel Doble, Sarah Lowd, M. P. Fuller, Mary Jane Fuller, Jane V. Doble, Wm. Raleigh, Richard Pillage, Mary Ann Rickard, J. P. Bartlett, Hiram Glines, George Kidder.

The following persons were teachers in the Sunday school, Miss Carrie L. Riddett, Miss Nellie F. Nightingale, Mrs. Bush of Florida, Miss Hannah Eliza Hardwick, now Mrs. John A. Burns of this city, Lizzie Hardwick Alden, now in Europe, E. D. Chase, the organist, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. D. Spelman of New York, Ed. Southworth, one of the teachers of the church, the oldest living member of the church. He urged the present members to be as faithful in their work as were these pioneer workers in this enterprise.

The banquet was in charge of Mrs. Robert Newman with the following corps of efficient workers, Mrs. George Hawes, Mrs. James McCormick, Mrs. William McCormick, Mrs. F. L. Badger.

Rev. Mr. Martin stated that Mrs. Martha Lowd who now lives at East Milton, is the oldest living member of the church. He urged the present members to be as faithful in their work as were these pioneer workers in this enterprise.

The banquet was in charge of Mrs. Robert Newman with the following corps of efficient workers, Mrs. George Hawes, Mrs. James McCormick, Mrs. William McCormick, Mrs. F. L. Badger.

Rev. Mr. Martin stated that Mrs. Martha Lowd who now lives at East Milton, is the oldest living member of the church. He urged the present members to be as faithful in their work as were these pioneer workers in this enterprise.

The banquet was in charge of Mrs. Robert Newman with the following corps of efficient workers, Mrs. George Hawes, Mrs. James McCormick, Mrs. William McCormick, Mrs. F. L. Badger.

Rev. Mr. Martin stated that Mrs. Martha Lowd who now lives at East Milton, is the oldest living member of the church. He urged the present members to be as faithful in their work as were these pioneer workers in this enterprise.

The banquet was in charge of Mrs. Robert Newman with the following corps of efficient workers, Mrs. George Hawes, Mrs. James McCormick, Mrs. William McCormick, Mrs. F. L. Badger.

Rev. Mr. Martin stated that Mrs. Martha Lowd who now lives at East Milton, is the oldest living member of the church. He urged the present members to be as faithful in their work as were these pioneer workers in this enterprise.

The banquet was in charge of Mrs. Robert Newman with the following corps of efficient workers, Mrs. George Hawes, Mrs. James McCormick, Mrs. William McCormick, Mrs. F. L. Badger.

Rev. Mr. Martin stated that Mrs. Martha Lowd who now lives at East Milton, is the oldest living member of the church. He urged the present members to be as faithful in their work as were these pioneer workers in this enterprise.

The banquet was in charge of Mrs. Robert Newman with the following corps of efficient workers, Mrs. George Hawes, Mrs. James McCormick, Mrs. William McCormick, Mrs. F. L. Badger.

Rev. Mr. Martin stated that Mrs. Martha Lowd who now lives at East Milton, is the oldest living member of the church. He urged the present members to be as faithful in their work as were these pioneer workers in this enterprise.

The banquet was in charge of Mrs. Robert Newman with the following corps of efficient workers, Mrs. George Hawes, Mrs. James McCormick, Mrs. William McCormick, Mrs. F. L. Badger.

Rev. Mr. Martin stated that Mrs. Martha Lowd who now lives at East Milton, is the oldest living member of the church. He urged the present members to be as faithful in their work as were these pioneer workers in this enterprise.

The banquet was in charge of Mrs. Robert Newman with the following corps of efficient workers, Mrs. George Hawes, Mrs. James McCormick, Mrs. William McCormick, Mrs. F. L. Badger.

Rev. Mr. Martin stated that Mrs. Martha Lowd who now lives at East Milton, is the oldest living member of the church. He urged the present members to be as faithful in their work as were these pioneer workers in this enterprise.

The banquet was in charge of Mrs. Robert Newman with the following corps of efficient workers, Mrs. George Hawes, Mrs. James McCormick, Mrs. William McCormick, Mrs. F. L. Badger.

Rev. Mr. Martin stated that Mrs. Martha Lowd who now lives at East Milton, is the oldest living member of the church. He urged the present members to be as faithful in their work as were these pioneer workers in this enterprise.

The banquet was in charge of Mrs. Robert Newman with the following corps of efficient workers, Mrs. George Hawes, Mrs. James McCormick, Mrs. William McCormick, Mrs. F. L. Badger.

Rev. Mr. Martin stated that Mrs. Martha Lowd who now lives at East Milton, is the oldest living member of the church. He urged the present members to be as faithful in their work as were these pioneer workers in this enterprise.

The banquet was in charge of Mrs. Robert Newman with the following corps of efficient workers, Mrs. George Hawes, Mrs. James McCormick, Mrs. William McCormick, Mrs. F. L. Badger.

Rev. Mr. Martin stated that Mrs. Martha Lowd who now lives at East Milton, is the oldest living member of the church. He urged the present members to be as faithful in their work as were these pioneer workers in this enterprise.

At this point the choir was asked to sing the Anthem sung by Mrs. Ripley at the dedication of the Church, "Beautiful are thy towers," and was well rendered and pleasing.

Rev. Carl H. Raupach of Jamaica Plain, who directly preceded Mr. Martin as pastor at West Quincy was next welcomed. He said in part, "Words cannot be found to express the joy in my heart at having this great privilege of being present here tonight. I thought I was a Methodist in the wood, but after hearing of the work done in the past by these heroic people I think otherwise."

"Some of his best friendships had been made in West Quincy, and while it had been his privilege to serve longer than any other pastor, except Father Kelley, he had had some small part in this great work, he felt like cheering Brother Martin and West Quincy. He complimented the choir on the singing of the Anthem and hoped God's richest blessing would rest on the church and what he had heard of the work done in the past by these heroic people I think otherwise."

Mrs. McNew, the sister of Rev. A. Brown was introduced and Mr. Martin spoke of his work at Youngstown, Ohio, where he is at present located.

Rev. A. B. Tyler was next welcomed as the pastor who stood second in the number of baptisms during his ministry. "Father Kelley" baptized 80 persons while Mr. Tyler baptized 25. Mr. Tyler spoke of the faithful work of William Williams, organist during his pastorate and of the pleasant times he had enjoyed here and sometimes wished he could have lived at West Quincy. As that had not been possible he was glad to be present and wished the Church great success in the future.

Mrs. C. H. Raupach was called on and wished the Church great prosperity in the years to come.

A most interesting and beautiful letter was read from Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Spelman of New York, former teachers.

Rev. Mr. Martin spoke of the faithful work of Mr. Doble who for many years and whose son had succeeded him at that office.

A letter was read from Mr. and Mrs. Mayo P. Fuller who were charter members of the Church.

Rev. Mr. Martin stated that Mrs. Martha Lowd who now lives at East Milton, is the oldest living member of the church. He urged the present members to be as faithful in their work as were these pioneer workers in this enterprise.

The banquet was in charge of Mrs. Robert Newman with the following corps of efficient workers, Mrs. George Hawes, Mrs. James McCormick, Mrs. William McCormick, Mrs. F. L. Badger.

Rev. Mr. Martin stated that Mrs. Martha Lowd who now lives at East Milton, is the oldest living member of the church. He urged the present members to be as faithful in their work as were these pioneer workers in this enterprise.

The banquet was in charge of Mrs. Robert Newman with the following corps of efficient workers, Mrs. George Hawes, Mrs. James McCormick, Mrs. William McCormick, Mrs. F. L. Badger.

Rev. Mr. Martin stated that Mrs. Martha Lowd who now lives at East Milton, is the oldest living member of the church. He urged the present members to be as faithful in their work as were these pioneer workers in this enterprise.

The banquet was in charge of Mrs. Robert Newman with the following corps of efficient workers, Mrs. George Hawes, Mrs. James McCormick, Mrs. William McCormick, Mrs. F. L. Badger.

Rev. Mr. Martin stated that Mrs. Martha Lowd who now lives at East Milton, is the oldest living member of the church. He urged the present members to be as faithful in their work as were these pioneer workers in this enterprise.

The banquet was in charge of Mrs. Robert Newman with the following corps of efficient workers, Mrs. George Hawes, Mrs. James McCormick, Mrs. William McCormick, Mrs. F. L. Badger.

Rev. Mr. Martin stated that Mrs. Martha Lowd who now lives at East Milton, is the oldest living member of the church. He urged the present members to be as faithful in their work as were these pioneer workers in this enterprise.

The banquet was in charge of Mrs. Robert Newman with the following corps of efficient workers, Mrs. George Hawes, Mrs. James McCormick, Mrs. William McCormick, Mrs. F. L. Badger.

Rev. Mr. Martin stated that Mrs. Martha Lowd who now lives at East Milton, is the oldest living member of the church. He urged the present members to be as faithful in their work as were these pioneer workers in this enterprise.

The banquet was in charge of Mrs. Robert Newman with the following corps of efficient workers, Mrs. George Hawes, Mrs. James McCormick, Mrs. William McCormick, Mrs. F. L. Badger.

Rev. Mr. Martin stated that Mrs. Martha Lowd who now lives at East Milton, is the oldest living member of the church. He urged the present members to be as faithful in their work as were these pioneer workers in this enterprise.

The banquet was in charge of Mrs. Robert Newman with the following corps of efficient workers, Mrs. George Hawes, Mrs. James McCormick, Mrs. William McCormick, Mrs. F. L. Badger.

Rev. Mr. Martin stated that Mrs. Martha Lowd who now lives at East Milton, is the oldest living member of the church. He urged the present members to be as faithful in their work as were these pioneer workers in this enterprise.

The banquet was in charge of Mrs. Robert Newman with the following corps of efficient workers, Mrs. George Hawes, Mrs. James McCormick, Mrs. William McCormick, Mrs. F. L. Badger.

Rev. Mr. Martin stated that Mrs. Martha Lowd who now lives at East Milton, is the oldest living member of the church. He urged the present members to be as faithful in their work as were these pioneer workers in this enterprise.

The banquet was in charge of Mrs. Robert Newman with the following corps of efficient workers, Mrs. George Hawes, Mrs. James McCormick, Mrs. William McCormick, Mrs. F. L. Badger.

Rev. Mr. Martin stated that Mrs. Martha Lowd who now lives at East Milton, is the oldest living member of the church. He urged the present members to be as faithful in their work as were these pioneer workers in this enterprise.

The banquet was in charge of Mrs. Robert Newman with the following corps of efficient workers, Mrs. George Hawes, Mrs. James McCormick, Mrs. William McCormick, Mrs. F. L. Badger.

Rev. Mr. Martin stated that Mrs. Martha Lowd who now lives at East Milton, is the oldest living member of the church. He urged the present members to be as faithful in their work as were these pioneer workers in this enterprise.

AMONG THE CLUBS.

The annual meeting of the Hospital Aid Association, scheduled for Dec. 26, was adjourned to a later date as the Christmas holidays were not conducive to a large attendance.

Another Shakespearean lecture by Mrs. Herbert J. Gurney was given Thursday under the auspices of Abigail Phillips Quincy Chapter, D. A. R. The regular monthly meeting of the Chapter will be held Jan. 13 with Mrs. E. O. Woodward of 34 Elm avenue. Mrs. Poore will read a paper on Agnes Surridge and Sir Harry Knapland.

Adams Chapter Daughters of the Revolution held their New Year's meeting Monday afternoon, Jan. 6 at the home of Mrs. Antoinette S. Paige, 17 Davis street, Wollaston Park. It will be a "gift" afternoon, each member carrying a gift for the gift box, the distribution of which always makes for merriment and good cheer, as the cost of the gift is limited to ten cents.

Mrs. Lawrence H. Sturtevant is to be hostess in place of Mrs. William Whitney, for the meeting of the Junior Friday club, Jan. 6, and Mrs. Ernest D. Gould will be in charge of the program; subject history of drama in Ireland—Congreve, Farquhar and Sheridan.

A home afternoon with reports of conferences and Federation meetings and a social tea is announced for the meeting, Monday afternoon of the Milton Woman's Club.

The January meeting of the Quincy Day Nurse Association will be held at the Women's clubhouse on Tuesday afternoon, Jan. 7.

The Philanthropists of Braintree are to give their annual dramatics next Tuesday afternoon at Cohasset hall.

Mrs. Mac Dowell, widow of the composer is to speak of the Peterboro pagents at the meeting of the New England Woman's Press Association at Hotel Vendome, Boston on Jan. 15. Bertha Cushing Child is to sing and to read a number of an unusually entertaining program.

Mrs. T. Lyndon Gurney is to be chairman of the Jan. 9th meeting of the Atlantic Shakespeare society, the five of King John being taken up. The play to be studied by the club is The Tempest.

Mrs. C. Theodore Hardwick will be the hostess and Mrs. Herbert J. Gurney chairman of the next meeting of the Friday club on Jan. 10.

Mrs. Herbert J. Gurney is to be the speaker at the meeting of the Quincy Women's club on Saturday evening, Jan. 11, and gentlemen's night is scheduled for Jan. 25.

The next affair in which club women and Quincy society people are interested is a Russian afternoon, for "Current Tendencies in Education," to be given by Mrs. Carrol Bates of Warren avenue on Monday, Jan. 6th.

At the next meeting of the Quincy Teachers' Association, Coddington School Hall, Thursday evening, January 9th, Dr. David Snedden, Head of the Department of Education of the Commonwealth will be the guest of the Association and the speaker of the evening will be Dr. Snedden's first visit to this city in his official capacity and in view of this fact it is expected that a large audience of teachers and city officials will give him a warm welcome to Quincy.

Dr. Snedden will take for his topic "Current Tendencies in Education." Solos will be rendered by Miss Emma Perkins, formerly Supervisor of music.

A very pretty wedding took place at 28 Wyeth street, Malden, Dec. 23, 1912 when Miss Emily E. Cousin of Malden and Simon M. Stewart of Quincy were united in marriage by Rev. A. Foster of the Church of Christ, Everett, Mass.

The bridesmaid was Miss Tessie Cousin, a sister of the bride while George H. Stewart of Bath, Me., a brother of the groom was best man.

The bride wore a dress of emerald green with white net and the bridesmaid was dressed in pink chiffon.

Having returned from a wedding trip to Maine, the happy couple will be at home after Jan. 8th at 186 Franklin street, Quincy.

Plans for the steel work to be used in the submergence of the contract for which has just been awarded to the Electric Boat Co., by the United States government the cost of which is about $2,250,000, are now being made by the Fore River Ship Building Co.

The hulls of the submarines will be built at the Fore River ship building and the remainder of the work will be done at the plant of the Electric Boat Co. Groton, Conn. Although work on the hulls will not be commenced until the coming summer it is necessary to finish the specimens for the steel and get the orders for the 1500 tons of shapes and plates for the ribs and sides of the under-water craft.

The Fore River Shipbuilding Co. is preparing a bid for the greatest of all war ships, the Pennsylvania which will have a displacement of 32,000 tons and which will cost $7,500,000 and the armor plate and armament much more.

The fourth twelve inch gun for the Argentine battleship Rivadavia has arrived and the fifth is on the way. The Rivadavia will have twelve of these guns but even at that she will be no match for the Pennsylvania.

Plans for the steel work to be used in the submergence of the contract for which has just been awarded to the Electric Boat Co., by the United States government the cost

The Quincy Patriot

SATURDAY, JANUARY 4, 1913

SINGLE COPIES & CENTS.
FOR SALE AT
The Patriot Office, Quincy, Mass.
H. P. Kirtland, City Editor.
J. P. O'Brien, 25 Hancock St.
C. F. Carlson, near Quincy Depot.
L. A. Cook, Quincy Point.
H. H. Smith, Quincy Point.
Sprague & Hobart, Quincy Point.
Shank's Periodical Store, Atlantic.
Thomas Gurney, Atlantic.
Bransfield & Martens, Atlantic.
Bransfield & Martens, Norfolk Downs.
Peter J. Litchfield, Quincy Adams.
E. H. Doble & Co., West Quincy.
Frank A. Skinner, Copeland-Cross.
Mrs. Lark's Store, Brewer's Corner.
J. J. Hammers, East Milton.
South Terminal Station, Boston.

Notes and Comments.

—Now is when the sunny clime of California, the warm breezes of Bermuda, the vernal warmth of Florida and the wonders of the Panama canal attract large numbers of people who are anxious to leave the rigorous north.—Mansfield News.

—All enlistments in the regular army now are for seven years, instead of four, so that each recruit who serves his full time will be a new man when he comes out, if there is truth in the old theory that a man's physical characteristics completely change in seven years.

—Scientific experiments demonstrating that caffeine is fatal to rabbits and that nicotine paralyzes the optic nerve, should impress the public. Hereafter no truly humane person will give the rabbit coffee for their breakfast nor put cigars in their mouths or chewing tobaccos in their own or others' eyes.

—The New York Tribune refers to the school system of Massachusetts as ideal in every respect, one that is attracting the attention of educators all over the country. Yet right in this state are people who do not hesitate in saying that the state's system is very bad. Just a difference of opinion, you see.

—The butter trust ought to be the next object of attack by the women of the country, for there appears good evidence that it is one of the greatest trusts in articles of food. Elgin, Illinois, is the center of the butter trust, and according to reports the price of butter is absolutely regulated from there, regardless of the law of supply and demand.—Old Colony Memorial.

—"Kicking time" is now an institution in the official life of Kellogg, an Idaho mining town, where the town council has set aside one meeting each month for irate citizens to vent their spleen. Mayor I. F. Davis has decided it would be best to have a special meeting for this purpose rather than to mar the harmony of business and legislative sessions of the council.

—The demands of business are doing more toward eliminating the drink habit than all the temperance orators. The modern deterrent was summed up by the general superintendent of the Pennsylvania railroad, speaking of the renewed effort of the company to stamp out tipping among its employees, when he said, "You can't run trains and drink run at the same time."—Milford Gazette.

—From the wireless station at the navy department at Arlington frequent communication has been had with Colon, a distance of 2,000 miles, and this month an effort will be made to exchange messages between the station and the scout cruiser Sailer, 2,000 miles out in the Atlantic. With the rapid development of the wireless it will not be many years before it is possible to send a message through the ether clear around the globe.—Somerville Journal.

—The limit of sensationalism in the pulpit would seem to have been reached by a Minneapolis clergyman, who recently invited two chorus girls from a burlesque theatre to dance the "turkey trot" and "grizzly bear" in the church on Sunday morning. To illustrate his sermon on the harmfulness of such dances. When the girls had finished, he observed "Now you have just seen how fashionable society carries on when it gets started." Even so there is no occasion for the pulpits to outbid fashion in the matter of sensationalism.—Milford Gazette.

BIG YEAR FOR BUILDING.

The report of Inspector of Buildings Warren S. Parker, for the month of December is that during the month 28 building permits were issued, involving an expenditure of $63,325. This is slightly falling off from December 1911 when 51 permits were issued involving an expenditure of $74,475. The total number of permits for the year 1912 was 670 involving an expenditure of $1,272,801, as against 690 permits for the year 1911 involving an expenditure of $1,261,543. It will be seen by these figures that while the number of permits this year was less than in 1911 the amount involved is larger.

The following table gives the various permits issued in December 1912 compared with the number issued in December 1911.

|               | 1912 | 1911     |
|---------------|------|----------|
| Dwellings     | 16   | 52       |
| Cottages      | 7    | 4,700    |
| Manufacturing | 0    | 0        |
| Stables, etc. | 2    | 375      |
| Auto houses   | 6    | 700      |
| Alterations   | 6    | 4,850    |
| Removals      | 0    | 0        |
| Miscellaneous | 0    | 0        |
| Total         | 31   | $63,325 |

On motion of Councilman Boyer the order for changing the grade of Elm avenue was taken from the table and rejected by a vote of 13 yeas and 5 nays as follows: Yes—Beaman, Boyd, Carruthers, Craig, Devaney, Erickson, Gauthier, Gill, Richards, J. R. Ross, Sodergren, Studley—13. No—Barker, Cunningham, Murray, Thompson—5.

On motion of Councilman Erickson the order for widening Sea street was taken from the table and rejected by a vote of 12 yeas and 4 nays as follows: Yes—Beaman, Boyd, Carruthers, Craig, Devaney, Erickson, Gauthier, Gill, Richards, C. A. Ross, J. R. Ross, Sodergren, Studley—12. No—Barker, Cunningham, Murray, Sodergren, Thompson—4.

Councilman Cunningham moved to

CITY COUNCIL.

The City Council of 1912 passed away at 8:16 Tuesday evening. The last meeting of the year was marked with peacefulness. There was no display of fireworks and everybody seemed imbued with the spirit of the new year. Before adjourning, the council reported the way of resigning of Councilman Gill, who was elected to President Hobbs, Clerk Magee, City Messenger Tirrell, City Auditor Fairbanks and to the press. The absent members were Councilmen Abele, Bailey, Ford and Mahoney. The communication of George H. Brown, Esq., in relation to the school committee bill was placed on file and is as follows: Quincy, Dec. 18, 1912.

My attention has been called to an article in the Quincy Ledger of yesterday reporting the action taken at your last meeting in reference to my bill for services in connection with the Wollaston schoolhouse matter. I did not present or intend to have this bill presented to the city, nor did I know it was so presented and I am sorry to hear that it was. I immediately requested Mr. John L. Miller, Chairman of the School Committee, to whom I had presented it, to withdraw it from the city, and supposed my request had been complied with until I saw the article above referred to.

I desire to express my regret that this bill should have been presented to the city without my knowledge or consent. Yours truly, George H. Brown.

THE DOCK QUESTION.
A communication from Chairman William T. Shea of the special committee on the public dock question, as follows was referred to the next City Council. Report of the committee on the municipal dock to the mayor and city council, City of Quincy, Mass., December 1912.

This committee was appointed by His Honor the Mayor and the City Council of 1912 to consider the advisability of building a municipal dock for the City of Quincy, and to make recommendations for the location of a site. The committee organized November 23, 1912 with Hon. William T. Shea as Chairman and Charles W. Bailey as Secretary. The only data available at the time of the organization of this committee was the report of the Commission on the Waterways of the State, which recommended the leasing of a site for five or ten years, and stated that the State of Massachusetts had appropriated twenty-five thousand dollars for the deepening and improvement of the channel of Quincy Town River, continuing to the City of Quincy, and building a municipal dock. This committee has held four meetings. It advertised for suggestions and plans for locations, and two plans for a location have been submitted for its consideration. It held two public hearings, which were well attended. The committee also inspected Quincy Town River from its confluence with Weymouth Fore River to the head of navigation, and begs to report as follows:

It is the opinion of this committee, in the limited time at its disposal, that the question of the location and location of a Municipal Dock for the City of Quincy is a matter of so large a scope and involves so many interests, that it should not be decided by the City Council of 1912, but should be referred to the incoming City Council of 1913, with the recommendation of this committee that His Honor the Mayor and the City Council of 1913 immediately appoint a similar committee on the Municipal Dock to continue the study and investigation of the subject, and report back to the City Council of 1913 at an early date, and that the City Council of 1913 consider of so important a matter.

Respectfully submitted, Wm. T. Shea, Chairman for the Committee.

PETITIONS.
Petitions of the New England Telephone Co. for attachments on Merrymount road and Baxter avenue were granted.

Councilman Cunningham presented a petition for street lights at Squantum and later an order for the following lights which was referred to the Executive: Huggins avenue and Bellevue road; Bayville road and Orchard street; Brunswick street and New Street; Gladstone street and New Street; East Squantum and Ocean street; Bellevue road and Green street; East Squantum and Aberdeen street; Dorchester street between Pratt road and East Squantum street; Dorchester street at end of Car line; Pratt road; Huggins avenue; Bay street; Bellevue road and Wedgewood street.

Petition of Charles H. Johnson for an order granting Sunday Fruit license to James C. M. Sharp, East Howard street. Granted.

TRANSFERS AUTHORIZED.
Councilman Studley offered the following transfer orders which were adopted.

Transferring $65.55 from receipts from sale of wire, old tires, etc., of the police department to Police Miscellaneous. $80.33 from balance of Ballot box to Receipts of Public Buildings. $229.20 from balance of Hill street to Repair of Public Buildings.

ORDERS.
Councilman Sodergren offered an order for lights on Riverbank road, Beebe road and Oakwood road. Referred to Executive.

On motion of Councilman Boyer the order authorizing the Mayor to petition the legislature for a bath house on Wollaston beach was taken from the table and adopted.

On motion of Councilman Gill, the petition to remove the old building off Beale street was recalled from the committee and referred to the next Council.

The order appropriating $1200 for contagious diseases of the Board of Health was passed to be ordered. Councilman Cunningham asking no objection, the order making a transfer of $399.43 to pay of men of the police department was passed to be ordered.

The order amending the ordinance concerning call men of the fire department was passed.

When the vote was taken on this order the vote was 13 yeas and 5 nays as follows: Yes—Beaman, Boyd, Carruthers, Craig, Devaney, Erickson, Gauthier, Gill, Richards, J. R. Ross, Sodergren, Studley—13. No—Barker, Cunningham, Murray, Thompson—5.

Councilman C. A. Ross moved a rising vote of 13 yeas and 5 nays as follows: Yes—Beaman, Boyd, Carruthers, Craig, Devaney, Erickson, Gauthier, Gill, Richards, J. R. Ross, Sodergren, Studley—13. No—Barker, Cunningham, Murray, Thompson—5.

In replying President Hobbs said that he wished to thank the members of the committee for their thoughtful manner throughout the year. He hoped that they would feel that the work of the year had not been misspent and he felt sure that the Council had accomplished considerable. Many things have been accomplished that will reflect credit on the City of Quincy.

During the years that he had been a member of the Council he had found that members have always given their best effort. They had not always agreed but he believed that every man was honest in his opinion as was in his. He had acted as he thought proper. At times he had perhaps spoken sharp words but they were intended to impress the members that he was right in his ruling. He had nothing but the best of feeling toward all members and he wished all a happy and prosperous New Year.

Councilman Cunningham moved a rising vote of 13 yeas and 5 nays as follows: Yes—Beaman, Boyd, Carruthers, Craig, Devaney, Erickson, Gauthier, Gill, Richards, J. R. Ross, Sodergren, Studley—13. No—Barker, Cunningham, Murray, Thompson—5.

On motion of Councilman Richards a rising vote of 13 yeas and 5 nays as follows: Yes—Beaman, Boyd, Carruthers, Craig, Devaney, Erickson, Gauthier, Gill, Richards, J. R. Ross, Sodergren, Studley—13. No—Barker, Cunningham, Murray, Thompson—5.

On motion of Councilman Studley a rising vote of 13 yeas and 5 nays as follows: Yes—Beaman, Boyd, Carruthers, Craig, Devaney, Erickson, Gauthier, Gill, Richards, J. R. Ross, Sodergren, Studley—13. No—Barker, Cunningham, Murray, Thompson—5.

On motion of Councilman Studley a rising vote of 13 yeas and 5 nays as follows: Yes—Beaman, Boyd, Carruthers, Craig, Devaney, Erickson, Gauthier, Gill, Richards, J. R. Ross, Sodergren, Studley—13. No—Barker, Cunningham, Murray, Thompson—5.

On motion of Councilman Studley a rising vote of 13 yeas and 5 nays as follows: Yes—Beaman, Boyd, Carruthers, Craig, Devaney, Erickson, Gauthier, Gill, Richards, J. R. Ross, Sodergren, Studley—13. No—Barker, Cunningham, Murray, Thompson—5.

On motion of Councilman Studley a rising vote of 13 yeas and 5 nays as follows: Yes—Beaman, Boyd, Carruthers, Craig, Devaney, Erickson, Gauthier, Gill, Richards, J. R. Ross, Sodergren, Studley—13. No—Barker, Cunningham, Murray, Thompson—5.

On motion of Councilman Studley a rising vote of 13 yeas and 5 nays as follows: Yes—Beaman, Boyd, Carruthers, Craig, Devaney, Erickson, Gauthier, Gill, Richards, J. R. Ross, Sodergren, Studley—13. No—Barker, Cunningham, Murray, Thompson—5.

On motion of Councilman Studley a rising vote of 13 yeas and 5 nays as follows: Yes—Beaman, Boyd, Carruthers, Craig, Devaney, Erickson, Gauthier, Gill, Richards, J. R. Ross, Sodergren, Studley—13. No—Barker, Cunningham, Murray, Thompson—5.

On motion of Councilman Studley a rising vote of 13 yeas and 5 nays as follows: Yes—Beaman, Boyd, Carruthers, Craig, Devaney, Erickson, Gauthier, Gill, Richards, J. R. Ross, Sodergren, Studley—13. No—Barker, Cunningham, Murray, Thompson—5.

DAY NURSERY CHRISTMAS.

The annual Christmas party for the Quincy Day Nursery was held on Saturday and was a decided success. Thirty-eight children were present, many of the mothers, and several ladies interested in the work were present. The children looked well and happy, and marched in singing a Christmas song. Then they gave a program of songs and recitations carefully planned by Mrs. Barker, the matron, and thoroughly enjoyed by the children themselves as well as the audience. At the conclusion of the entertainment the children were seated at their little tables where they sweetly sang a blessing, and more of their songs, led by Miss McDonald, the matron's assistant. Then they were bountifully served with ice cream and cake, furnished by friends of the Nursery.

After they had eaten all they could, they returned to the parlor for the Christmas tree, a very handsome one, presented by the Universalist church. Before the children received their gifts, Mrs. Doble the president of the association, was presented with a beautiful bunch of pink, the gift of the children. Then each child received two pairs of stockings, a box of candy and an orange, each girl a doll, and each boy a toy, and all were sent home happy and satisfied.

MANET CLUB BANQUET.
The annual banquet of the Manet club was held at the Hibernian lodge rooms, Franklin street, Tuesday evening and 50 covers were laid. Guests were present from the city, Brockton, Braintree and Weymouth. The menu consisted of crab, chicken and potato salad, roast turkey with all the "fixins," scalloped oysters, frozen pudding, ice cream, coffee, tea, milk and cigars.

Music was furnished by DeNeils orchestra, Worcester, John Quinn and Harry Crocker of Brockton gave a continuous half hour entertainment while the boys directed their attention between the performers and the eatables.

President Leo Howley was toastmaster and James M. Canfield was the principal speaker. He was followed by club members who were optimistic in outlining the future. A musical entertainment was provided in which each individual took part. The party saw the old year out and welcomed 1913 with three cheers and a tiger.

NEW YEAR'S PARTY.

The New Year's party of the Chocho club at Braintree Tuesday evening was attended by about 50 couples. Dancing was enjoyed from early evening until midnight. Refreshments were served and everyone had a good time. The members missed the presence of president George O. Wales who is confined to his home with illness.

WATCH NIGHT SERVICES.

Watch night services were held in Wollaston at the Methodist and Park and Downs churches. At the Methodist church Rev. F. H. Morgan, Rev. Wentworth F. Stewart, D. D. of Boston and Mrs. F. H. Morgan were the speakers. The meeting began shortly after eight and refreshments were served during the evening.

At the Park and Downs church the service commenced at eleven. A service of praise and consecration was conducted by the pastor, Rev. William R. Ayers.

At the Catholic church, Masses were celebrated in all the Catholic churches of the city today in observance of New Year's, which is a Holy Day of Obligation. The Te Deum was chanted at all the services.

At St. John's church the five o'clock mass was celebrated by Rev. Fr. Casey. Rev. Fr. Coan celebrated the seven o'clock mass and the celebration of the high mass at nine o'clock was by Rev. Fr. Seannell. Benediction followed the mass.

At the church of the Sacred Heart Rev. Fr. Cuffe said the 5:30 mass and Rev. Fr. McNiff celebrated the eight o'clock mass and Benediction followed the mass.

Rev. Fr. Duffy said the early mass at St. Mary's church and Rev. Fr. Grady celebrated the eight o'clock mass. Rev. Fr. Andrew J. O'Brien of Brighton Seminary celebrated the nine o'clock mass. Benediction will be held this evening at 7:45.

Rev. Fr. McNiff said the eight o'clock mass at the St. Francis church, Houghs Neck.

CAROLERS ENTERTAINED.
Tuesday evening, people in the neighborhood of Walker Charlesworth's home were pleasantly surprised on hearing the sweet strains of harmony of the English Carols once more. They announced their arrival by singing appropriate selections, in the open air. After which they were invited to a delightful repast, prepared by Mrs. Charlesworth. Following the supper many beautiful carols in keeping with the season were rendered.

SCANDINAVIAN FESTIVAL.
A Christmas festival under the auspices of the Scandinavian Social club drew a large number to Eleeta hall, Saturday evening. An entertainment dancing and refreshments was the program for the evening. Gifts were present from Milton, Braintree and Weymouth.

Several readings by H. Nelson and piano selections by Mrs. K. Schabowski were well received. A concert by the Colonial orchestra preceded the dancing which continued to midnight. The affair was a success and the efforts of H. Stenberg, A. Bergstadt, Oscar Carlson, H. Wallin, A. Larson.

SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

An important meeting of the School committee was held Tuesday evening. It was also the last meeting of the committee for 1912. Dr. William G. Curtis of Wollaston was absent.

The committee on the petition of the Janitors for an increase of salary asked for further time. Granted.

The committee on the annual report submitted the same which will appear in print in the city book.

The following resignations were received: Miss Norma C. Lowe, teacher of stenography at the High school and Miss Emma Perkins supervisor of music. Accepted.

Miss Pearl N. Perry was elected as teacher of stenography at the High school and Miss Maude Anderson as supervisor of music. Miss Anderson is now the supervisor of music at the Wollaston school building for Jan. 21. Granted under the usual conditions.

On petition that the evening schools be continued for another term it was voted to grant the request and the term will begin next Monday evening.

The report of the finances of the School committee for the year were as follows. The report shows that the school committee has lived within its appropriation and has a balance.

INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL ACCOUNT.
Appropriation Expended Bal.
Industrial School $1,150.00 $1,131.81 $18.19
Day School 1,050.00 1,022.21 27.79
Total $2,200.00 $2,154.02 $45.98

CLAN MCGREGOR BALL.

The biggest New Year's Eve event in the city was the 32nd annual concert and ball of the Clan McGregor, No. 5, Order of Scottish Clans. A concert was in order until 10:30 and dancing was enjoyed until three o'clock. The occasion was marked by one of the largest attendance of the city.

A most impressive sight was the greetings extended as the hour struck midnight and many ushered in the New Year by clapping the hand of friends and neighbors.

The grand march was led by Chief and Mrs. Alfred O. Diack who was followed by Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Nicol and 125 couples. Plaids were worn by members of the local and visiting clans; MacKenzie of Boston, Stewart of Charlestown, Ramsey of Roxbury, MacLeod of Hyde Park, and MacDonald of Brockton. Walter Lamb of the Caledonian Club was a prominent guest.

A well rendered concert program entertained the older members and friends the first part of the evening. The selections were distinctly popular Scotch songs and were sung by Scottish songsters. All the artists were given fine applause.

Those who appeared were: James Singer, Miss Margaret K. Alexander, John E. Daniel, Harry MacLean, Miss Mary Ogilvie, Reid and Holmes the last named in instrumental selections.

On the dance order cover was a list of names to be chosen from to elect the candidate of his first choice. It cannot be counted for any other. But if his No. 1 candidate has enough votes without his, or if including his, this No. 1 candidate has not enough votes to be elected, then his vote is counted toward the 2nd choice candidate. If the 2nd choice candidate can not use, or does not need, the vote, it goes to the 3rd choice, and so on. Practically, there will be no votes lost. The utmost freedom of nomination will be made possible. In case of a disagreement among a group of voters as to the choice of representative, they could nominate two candidates without any danger of splitting this vote and losing their representation.

"For an example, we will imagine a district where 14,000 votes are cast and 14,000 names are to be elected. If the duty of the election officers, after the votes are counted, to ascertain the "quota." This will be done by dividing the total vote by the number of candidates to be elected. And as 7 is contained in 14,000 just 2,000 times, we see that any party or group of voters, if they have 2,000 votes, are certain of electing the leading candidate in this group. The votes which were cast for the lesser candidates are not lost, but are transferred and counted for the one who best represents 1-7 of this constituency. In this way every party or group of voters will be represented in proportion to the number of votes cast, and they will be represented in every case by their best candidates, for obvious reasons. In this way we can have a majority rule in the true sense. The majority of opinion is not elected, but the majority of votes is elected. It is a more correct way of electing representatives than the present system, and it is a more correct way of electing representatives than the present system, and it is a more correct way of electing representatives than the present system.

Mr. Lyons is clerk of the East Norfolk district court, having succeeded the late John P. S. Churchill. He is a graduate of the Quincy schools and Harvard Law school. He is past grand knight of the Quincy Council, Knights of Columbus, and is director of the prominent young men of Quincy.

WOLLASTON FORUM.

The last meeting for some time at least of the Good Citizenship Forum was held at the Wollaston Unitarian church, Sunday noon. Levi H. Turner was the speaker, and he took for his subject, "Proportional Representation." Among other things he said: "The political machinery of each of the old parties is complementary to the political machine of the other and each is controlled by a boss. For 60 years popular government in the United States has been of that kind which prevailed in Switzerland, but the true principle of popular government is the place of 'representative' rule. Proportional representation is the product of an advanced political civilization and it is destined to prevail. Then and not until then shall the people govern themselves, become their own legislators, and elect the judges of the constitutionality of their own law making acts. Thus forever shall we keep for the common people that governing power, which never ought to be delegated to agents and substitutes.

Proportional representation is a legislative body representative, each organized or unorganized interest in its constituency should have the right and the opportunity to choose its own spokesman. But the architects of our republic did not learn this important, logical lesson. Neither did they see that this principle would be carried out in the higher plane of universal suffrage. Ignoring this, the true representative principle, they attempted to institute a representative government based on universal suffrage. It failed as a natural consequence. Unintentionally disfranchised 5 per cent of the population, it has vitiated the legislative bodies.

"The State Legislatures and the Congress of all the States ought to be an exact counterpart of those whose interests they have in charge. They should mirror the state and the nation, reflecting all shades of opinion and preserving proper proportions. In the National House of Representatives in 1870 James A. Garfield, while still a Congressman, long before his name had been mentioned in connection with the Presidency, said, 'It is a weak point in our government that a large portion of the voters are permanently disfranchised.'"

Take for example my own district. I have never been elected by less than 9,000 majority. Sometimes the majority exceeds 12,000. Yet there are 10,000 Democratic voters in my district, and they have been voting there for 40 years, without any more having a representative on this floor than of having one in the Congress of Great Britain."

Proportional Representation consists in abolishing the present district system of electing a single representative by a majority or plurality vote and enlarging the districts so that 7 or more candidates shall be elected on a general ticket. This makes it possible to apportion the successful candidates among the several parties in exact proportion to their popular vote. Thus establishing a fair and just method of representation to all important phases of public opinion in proportion to the number of voters holding those opinions.

"As far as the voter is concerned a system of Proportional Representation would make no complications in his ballot. His duty on election day is as simple and as easy as at present. The important difference being he would be able to choose from a number of candidates for Congress, and for the Legislature, instead of one as at present. By the bare system his vote would only count for one and he would signify his preference by marking the candidate he likes best No. 1. His next choice No. 2, and so on in rotation. If his vote goes to elect the candidate of his first choice, it cannot be counted for any other. But if his No. 1 candidate has enough votes without his, or if including his, this No. 1 candidate has not enough votes to be elected, then his vote is counted toward the 2nd choice candidate. If the 2nd choice candidate can not use, or does not need, the vote, it goes to the 3rd choice, and so on. Practically, there will be no votes lost. The utmost freedom of nomination will be made possible. In case of a disagreement among a group of voters as to the choice of representative, they could nominate two candidates without any danger of splitting this vote and losing their representation.

"For an example, we will imagine a district where 14,000 votes are cast and 14,000 names are to be elected. If the duty of the election officers, after the votes are counted, to ascertain the "quota." This will be done by dividing the total vote by the number of candidates to be elected. And as 7 is contained in 14,000 just 2,000 times, we see that any party or group of voters, if they have 2,000 votes, are certain of electing the leading candidate in this group. The votes which were cast for the lesser candidates are not lost, but are transferred and counted for the one who best represents 1-7 of this constituency. In this way every party or group of voters will be represented in proportion to the number of votes cast, and they will be represented in every case by their best candidates, for obvious reasons. In this way we can have a majority rule in the true sense. The majority of opinion is not elected, but the majority of votes is elected. It is a more correct way of electing representatives than the present system, and it is a more correct way of electing representatives than the present system, and it is a more correct way of electing representatives than the present system.

Mr. Wollaston election, L. O. O. F., held their annual election of officers at their lodge rooms, Tuesday evening, and the signal horn of being chosen financial secretary for the 25th year was conferred on Past Grand Arthur W. Stetson. The third degree was conferred on several candidates and a collation was served. It is planned to entertain Massasoit lodge of Brockton, Jan. 14. The guests will come by train and will be escorted to the scene of festivity by a large representation headed by a band.

The officers chosen were: Noble Grand—Matthew Swanson. Vice Grand—William Essau. Recording Secretary—Past Grand John W. Nash. Financial Secretary—Past Grand Arthur W. Stetson. Treasurer—E. Frank Mitchell. Trustee for three years—William J. Williams.

NEW NOBLE GRAND.

Mr. Wollaston election, L. O. O. F., held their annual election of officers at their lodge rooms, Tuesday evening, and the signal horn of being chosen financial secretary for the 25th year was conferred on Past Grand Arthur W. Stetson. The third degree was conferred on several candidates and a collation was served. It is planned to entertain Massasoit lodge of Brockton, Jan. 14. The guests will come by train and will be escorted to the scene of festivity by a large representation headed by a band.

The officers chosen were: Noble Grand—Matthew Swanson. Vice Grand—William Essau. Recording Secretary—Past Grand John W. Nash. Financial Secretary—Past Grand Arthur W. Stetson. Treasurer—E. Frank Mitchell. Trustee for three years—William J. Williams.

NORWEGIAN FESTIVAL.

The Quincy Norwegian Society held a Christmas tree festival in Eleeta and Protection halls Tuesday evening. A large number of presents were distributed by Axel Anderson who acted as Santa Claus. A tree was set in the center of Protection hall and was heavily laden with gifts.

An entertainment, dancing and refreshments helped pass the evening. Quartette selections were rendered by Martin Fredericksen, Axel Anderson, Henry Johnson and Oscar Anderson. The merry party broke up at 11:45 o'clock. Music was furnished by the Colonial orchestra. The committee was Oscar Anderson, Axel Anderson, Martin Fredericksen and Henry Johnson.

WATCH NIGHT SERVICES.
Watch-night services were held at the Wollaston Methodist church Tuesday evening. Rev. F. H. Morgan, Dr. Wentworth F. Stewart and Mrs. F. H. Morgan were the speakers. There was a large attendance.

Rev. Paul Hallin led in prayer and preached an appropriate sermon at the Watch-Night service at the Swedish Baptist church. A social hour was enjoyed from 9 until 10 P. M. All joined in the Welcome hymn at the old year passed.

The church bells of the Swedish Lutheran church ushered in the new year while the members of the Luther League united in a silent prayer of thanksgiving. During the evening a social was enjoyed consisting of a splendid concert program and appropriate speaking.

FORESTERS ELECTION.

Court John Erickson, Foresters of America held their annual election of officers at Wilson hall December 27. Routine business was disposed of and committee reports were accepted.

The officers elected who will be installed Jan. 8 by J. Perkins of Weymouth, district deputy for Quincy, are as follows: Chief Ranger—August Johnson. Sub Chief Ranger—Nils Dahlberg. Treasurer—Algot Erickson. Financial Secretary—Swan Cedarstrom. Recording Secretary—Gerna Hermandson. Senior Woodward—John Almquist. Junior Woodward—Ola Hanson. Inside Beadle—Nils Lodengard. Outside Beadle—John Larson. Lecturer—Peter M. Carlson. Trustee—Thure Carlstrom. Physician—Dr. John H. Ash.

STREET RAILWAY UNION.

The annual election of officers of the Quincy Division of the Street Car-men's Union was held at the Johnson building, Thursday Dec. 26th. John C. Faircloth was elected the president of the third time. The local consists of men from Quincy, Weymouth and Braintree Branches. The officers chosen were: President—John C. Faircloth. Vice President—William H. Gould. Recording Secretary—John J. Kelly. Financial Secretary and Treasurer—A. L. Blanchard. Conductor—J. E. Carey. Sentinel—Thomas Ferguson. Warden—J. K. Banks. Executive Board—John C. Faircloth, William Gould, William Kelly, Walter Belyea, John J. Kelly, John McManus, A. L. Blanchard, James B. Ford and Patrick W. Kearns. Auditing committee—James E. Carey, Frank Eldridge and Thomas Forrest.

FORESTERS INSTALLATION.

An election of officers and plans for a public installation on Jan. 14 were the important accessories of St. Francis Court, M. C. O. F. at a special meeting Sunday afternoon. The public installation will take place in St. Joseph's

The Quincy Patriot

SATURDAY, JANUARY 11, 1913

EVENING CENTRES.

R. E. Hawley, who has charge of the Evening Centres in Boston, is to speak in Quincy under the auspices of the Philanthropic committee of the Quincy Women's club, Jan. 21, in the afternoon. Mrs. Chandler W. Smith, chairman of the committee, applied for the use of the council chamber, city hall, and permission to use the chamber has been granted, for this occasion; so the committee extends a cordial invitation to all interested in the question of providing evening instruction and amusement for working young people to attend this meeting.

Mr. Hawley will speak especially of the work which is being done with young people of Boston, in the opportunity clubs. These clubs were started by Mr. Hawley under the auspices of the Women's Municipal League, of Boston, in East Boston, last year. They proved so successful that the Boston School Board took over that work and centres, similar to that in East Boston have been established in South Boston, Roxbury and Charlestown.

This year in East Boston alone 700 young people are registered in the different clubs. They meet in the high school building and each of the 37 clubs is prospering and flourishing. Among the clubs are chorus and music clubs, city council, mixed orchestra, literary, dramatic, girls, athletic, sewing and mandolin clubs.

In addition to these a mothers and homemakers club has recently been organized, under the direction of Mrs. Hawley. At the meetings of these clubs, which are held in the large hall, entertainment is provided and a social hour, moving pictures, lectures etc. The story of this work is intensely interesting and suggestive, and it is extremely well told by Mr. Hawley, who illustrates his talk with views. It is of interest to the welfare of the young people in Quincy will avail themselves of this opportunity, to learn something at first hand of this splendid work being done in Boston.

OPPOSED BATH-HOUSE.

Strong sentiment against a state bath-house at Wollaston Beach was voiced at the annual meeting of the Wollaston Park Improvement Association, Thursday evening at the Wollaston Yacht club. A unanimous vote was passed that no bath-house be erected and provision made for a committee to represent the association at the State House hearing.

The following officers were elected: President—E. O. Woodward; Vice President—Prof. J. H. Marconi; Secretary—Russell T. Anthony; Treasurer—F. H. Chase; Directors—Benjamin F. Chase, Louis S. Cleves, W. J. Gaffney, William E. Hingston, Dr. Philip Kelley, D. W. Wade and Harry M. Watts.

This is the second year of the organization and William H. Woodward, marked upon the association's success and presented President Woodward a handsome gavel as a testimony of appreciation from the members.

There were many speakers against the public bath-house the charge being pushed for the matter. The president of the district was taken up and a committee appointed to wait on the mayor, chief of police and city council.

It was the suggestion of several members that, if the efforts were made this year as last, a subscription should be taken up and a special officer hired to protect the locality.

President Woodward thanked the club for its token of appreciation and urged the co-operation of all members.

WOLLASTON UNITARIAN VESPERS

Vesper services at the Wollaston Unitarian church are held the second Sunday in the month at 4:30 o'clock. On Sunday Rev. Carl G. Horst will preach upon the "Power of Music." The music committee has engaged the well-known Victor Male quartet of Boston, A. C. Prescott, 1st tenor; A. F. Cole, 2d tenor; G. H. Woods, baritone and W. E. Davidson, bass; for this service. A fine musical program has been arranged and the public is cordially invited to attend. Please be in your seat at 4:25 o'clock. The following is the order of service:

Organ Prelude, Andantino in A flat. Renard
Call to Worship. Shackley
Quartet, "Jubilate Deo." Shackley Responsive Reading from the Psalms of Chant, Now unto the King Eternal.
Hymn
Quartet, "I'm a Pilgrim." Marston
Scripture Reading
Quartet, "Rock of Ages." Delmont
Prayer
Response, "Come Holy Spirit." Burdette
Hymn
Offertory, Virgin's Prayer. Massenet
Sole, "Holy City." Adams
Hymn
Benediction
Congregation sings
Organ Postlude, Allegro from Third Sonata Mendelssohn.

TAX EXEMPTION.

State House, January 10, 1913. Representative Michael T. Sullivan, seeks to obtain legislation whereby property used for a dwelling house and occupied by the owner thereof for at least one year previous to April 1, may become exempt from taxation to the amount of $1000. In order to have advantage of the exemption, the owner must make oath to his intention to use the building exclusively for dwelling purposes for at least one year from April 1.

Rep. Sullivan's argument is that it would tend to improve property and make for better citizenship, if some inducement is offered for more people to own their homes.

Another petition filed by Representative Sullivan asks that the trustees of the Thomas Crane Public Library be authorized to take and hold real estate to an amount not exceeding $750,000 which may be given, for the benefit of the library. The petition is signed by Morton Smith, Eugene R. Stone, George A. Sidelinger, Rufus B. Tolney, Arthur W. Hall, Maurice P. Spillane, Henry R. Holden and William Edwards.

BRIEFS

Mrs. Charles White of Union street is ill at her home with pneumonia.

Miss Annie Kingman is confined to her home on Maple street by illness.

Ex-Councilman Joseph Carruthers has moved from Edison street to Bridge street, in Ward One.

Norris Cox of Cambridge was the week end guest of his nephew, Clyde Cox of Greenleaf street.

Officer Charles T. Crocker has been confined to his home several days with a severe attack of the grip.

Mr. Wollaston lodge of Odd Fellows worked the initiatory degree upon several candidates Tuesday evening.

It is expected that 15 members of Quincy Council will take the fourth Knight of Columbus degree at Boston, Feb. 25.

Lewis Leary of the Citizens Gas Light Co. has returned from Springfield where he attended the funeral of his mother.

Miss Etta Hanson entertained the Dorcas society of the Universalist church at her home 963 Hancock street Tuesday evening.

Miss Mary Ford of the Tax Collectors office is at Brockton with an attack of appendicitis. Miss Ford was at Brockton on a visit when she was taken ill.

Mayor Stone said this week that he intended to have a glass front case made for his office in which he will keep the silk flag presented by the Women's Relief corps on inauguration.

An unusual number of members of John Adams Aerie P. O. E. attended the installation ceremonies at Electric hall, Wednesday evening. Guests were present from Hyde Park, Brockton, and Dorchester Aeries.

Mrs. Johanna Whittemore, wife of Frank A. Whittemore, died at Saturday at her home, 24 Chestnut street. The deceased was a sister of the late Mrs. William Corbin of Summer street, and is survived by a husband.

The installation of the officers of Court John Ericson, Foresters of America, took place in Wilson's hall, Wednesday evening. Grand Deputy, Charles Guertin and Herald James Curley of Monmouth Court, performed the ceremony.

The Quincy high school ball season opened with a gusto Friday Jan. 3, when Thayer Academy were defeated in the local gym 46 to 7. The game was good to watch, with many scraps for the ball taking place, with Quincy as the aggressor.

Miss Bessie M. Flowers who was married to William O. Deaver at Portland, Me., on Dec. 4, is the daughter of Mrs. Mary Flowers, 33 Newcomb place, whose maiden name was Mary G. Deaver. The return from Boston giving only the mother's maiden name.

The State Board of Health among other things they will ask for this year will be an appropriation of $10,000 for continuing its investigation of infantile paralysis and one $25,000 for completion of the work of improving Neponset river so that it will be less dangerous to public health.

One of the first acts of Mayor Stone after the inauguration ceremonies was the appointment of the following as special police, Samuel D. DeForest, Henry J. Matthews, Malcolm C. Stewart, Calvin T. Dyer, David L. Gordon, Charles J. A. Nelson, Edward J. Sandberg, William J. DeCoste, Jeremiah J. Connelly.

Frederick D. Drew, oldest son of Samuel T. Drew, composer at the Patriotic office, has been elected to the office of City Clerk of Portsmouth, N. H. He has been for several years editor of the Portsmouth Times. Mr. Drew senior is much pleased over the selection of his son for so important a position in the city government.

About 75 couples attended the dancing party of the First Square Club of the Universalist church at New Colonial hall Friday, Jan. 3. Music was furnished by Wilson's orchestra and refreshments were served. The committee in charge was Lester Sprague, Freeman Hyland, Willard Hyland, Everett Andrews.

Too much cannot be said in praise of the refined, unique and attractive entertainment presented by the Adams sisters, at Alpha hall, Friday Jan. 3, under the auspices of the Women's Auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A. The program was varied and interesting and the charming personality of the sisters gave additional pleasure.

R. E. Hawley of the Boston School committee, Assistant Director of Evening and Continuation schools, is to speak in Quincy, Jan. 21, under the auspices of the Philanthropic committee of the Quincy Women's club. Mr. Hawley will speak especially of the work done at the Opportunity clubs in East Boston, Roxbury and Charlestown.

Mrs. Celia J. Baxter of 238 North street, North Weymouth, died at the Quincy City Hospital Friday Jan. 3. The funeral took place from her home Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock. As a speaker he is something of the rapid fire order, who can present his hopes in a logical way and still reach the innermost thoughts of his hearers.

The Modern Tendencies of Education were discussed by Dr. David Snedden, State Commissioner of Education, before the Quincy Teachers' Association at the Coddington school, Thursday evening. Consuming about one hour, Dr. Snedden gave a most intelligent version of the hopes of the future. As a speaker he is something of the rapid fire order, who can present his hopes in a logical way and still reach the innermost thoughts of his hearers.

Paul Poelcher clinched his match with Hintze on the second roll in their 20 strings at the Coliseum alleys, Thursday night, rolling up a score of 1181 to 1093 for Hintze. In this second string, both men developed a new improvement over the showing at their first meeting at the Chelsea alleys, Monday night, when Poelcher hit the pins for 1029 and Hintze for 985. Poelcher went at the task in a cool and determined manner, and smoked throughout the contest. Hintze at the start, showed some little nervousness. He chewed gum all through.

There has been some delay in putting the new system of auditing and accounting at City Hall, in effect to the non arrival of the necessary books from the state. The system is that devised by the Bureau of Statistics and is installed free by the state to those cities who desire it. The City Council of 1912 voted to have the state install the system and two men from the State House have been at work on the books for some time getting things ready for the new system. Everything was in readiness Jan. 1, but the books had not arrived from the state. It was announced on Thursday that the books were on their way.

BRIEFS

Two good games are scheduled for the local Sunday school league Saturday afternoon at the Y. M. C. A.

Robert Fitzgerald will be the tenor soloist at the first concert of the Wollaston Glee club at the Wollaston Congregational church next Tuesday evening.

The Massachusetts Real Estate Exchange has introduced a bill in the Legislature to place assessors in the cities and towns in Massachusetts under the civil service rules.

The Juniors of Woodward Institute beat the Seniors in a close basket ball game in the gym Wednesday afternoon. The victory was credited to Helen Crane who made the deciding basket, the score being 4 to 3.

Since the opening of the New Year there has been a greater number of teachers absent on account of illness than for many years and there has hardly been a school that has not had a substitute for one or more days.

Court John Ericson beat Roger Wolcott in a Foresters league match at the Coliseum alleys Thursday night, 3 to 1. Halquist was high man with a single of 101 and Hastings of the losers high total of 271. The strings were from 68 up.

The boys of the Quincy High school track team want banks built in the High school, but they have not the material. They have made a very good showing so far and want to make a better showing next spring. An indoor track will accomplish that result.

The local Y. M. C. A. team will endeavor to win its sixth victory Saturday night when it meets the strong Tech Frosh team. This year's entering class at Tech is expected to have the strongest basket ball team of any of the Freshmen classes and a good game may be expected.

Rev. Dr. Isaiah W. Sneath of Wollaston will speak at the regular Saturday morning meeting for boys in the Y. M. C. A. gym this week at 10:10. All boys between the ages of 10 and 15 are cordially invited. Immediately after the meeting the Junior gymnasium class meets.

Twelve tables were in play at the whist party of Mrs. John H. Starr in protection hall and the high scores were made by John Drummond, Mrs. Mary Thomas, Miss Mary T. Allen, W. L. Parrell, Herbert Selden, Mrs. E. Starr, Mrs. H. Selden, Mrs. N. Galvin, Mrs. Alice Jones and Joseph Lapham.

Mayor Stone said this morning that he should send to the City Council, Monday evening, the names of the gentlemen whom he had appointed as his official family for the year 1913. No changes are looked for by the public in his appointments, as his officers have given general satisfaction throughout the year.

The present Neponset-North station line via Hampden street will be operated between Park street, Dorchester, and the North station during the hours of light riding, and the service on the Neponset-North station line will be increased during the same period from 15 minute intervals to 12 minute intervals.

The first Quincy resident to take up aviation is B. H. Brooks, not known generally throughout the city, but known at the Fore River yard as the official stenographer of the Argentine Commission. Mr. Brooks has been here but two years and has not attained the reputation of a pilot in nature, he is the last man in the city, one would connect with aviation.

It was generally supposed that at the time Officer Patrick A. Milford of Quincy and James E. Quayle of Braintree found the body of Louis G. Restelli, the murderer in the quarry hole that they would receive the reward offered by the city for the apprehension of the murderer, but up to the present time all they have received was the $100 offered by the Hardwick family for the finding of the dead body.

There was a good attendance Wednesday evening at the tennis whist tournament of the Granite City club, ten tables being in play. As usual twenty-five hands were played after which the entertainment committee served scalloped oysters, rolls and cocoa. The two best scores were recorded by the victors, L. Summers and Rollin H. Newcomb, the former scoring over 77 per cent.

Quincy lodge of Elks to the number of about 150 were the guests of their brother Elks, Col. Henry L. Kincaid, Thursday evening at his new theatre, where they enjoyed an exceptionally fine program, including three good moving pictures, one of which was a double roll, entitled "The Vengeance of Fate" and was most interesting. The others were "A girl's conscience" and "Jim works his way through college."

The Modern Tendencies of Education were discussed by Dr. David Snedden, State Commissioner of Education, before the Quincy Teachers' Association at the Coddington school, Thursday evening. Consuming about one hour, Dr. Snedden gave a most intelligent version of the hopes of the future. As a speaker he is something of the rapid fire order, who can present his hopes in a logical way and still reach the innermost thoughts of his hearers.

Paul Poelcher clinched his match with Hintze on the second roll in their 20 strings at the Coliseum alleys, Thursday night, rolling up a score of 1181 to 1093 for Hintze. In this second string, both men developed a new improvement over the showing at their first meeting at the Chelsea alleys, Monday night, when Poelcher hit the pins for 1029 and Hintze for 985. Poelcher went at the task in a cool and determined manner, and smoked throughout the contest. Hintze at the start, showed some little nervousness. He chewed gum all through.

There has been some delay in putting the new system of auditing and accounting at City Hall, in effect to the non arrival of the necessary books from the state. The system is that devised by the Bureau of Statistics and is installed free by the state to those cities who desire it. The City Council of 1912 voted to have the state install the system and two men from the State House have been at work on the books for some time getting things ready for the new system. Everything was in readiness Jan. 1, but the books had not arrived from the state. It was announced on Thursday that the books were on their way.

BRIEFS

The annual parish meeting of Christ church will be held Wednesday evening, Jan. 22.

Mrs. Mary A. Howe of Newtonville is to speak on Women's Suffrage, on Wednesday at 11 A. M., at the home of Mrs. N. S. Hunting, Hancock street corner of Whitney road. Any one interested in this timely topic is invited to attend the meeting.

The capacity of Alpha hall was taxed to its utmost at the ladies night of the Quincy Lodge of Moose Thursday evening. Guests were present from Weymouth, Braintree, Milton, Dorchester and Brockton.

The new term of the evening classes at the High school as well as all the industrial classes opened on Monday. The schools for non-English speaking people also resumed their sessions to complete the term of 40 weeks. The time teachers are in charge of the classes as during the past term and excellent work is expected to result.

WEST QUINCY

Mrs. Albertina Nelson, widow of Silas Nelson, one of the long residents of Quincy, died Saturday morning at her daughter Mrs. John Anderson, 42 Nelson avenue, aged 75 years. Her husband was one of the first Swedish residents of that part of the city and Nelson avenue derives its name from him.

Mrs. Elizabeth Clifford, wife of John Clifford of Portsmouth, N. H., and daughter of Mrs. Margaret Farrell of 210 Willard street, West Quincy, died Jan. 2, after a weeks illness with pneumonia. The deceased was in her 38th year and leaves her husband and two children, a son, William, and a daughter, Mrs. E. J. Galloway. She was well known in West Quincy, where she had her home up to about six years ago. The body was sent here, arriving Sunday. The funeral took place from 210 Willard street Monday morning at 10 o'clock, and was held at St. Mary's church.

John W. Truesdale, Jr., the four months old son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Truesdale of 66 Copeland street, died Monday night. He had been suffering from the measles but a short time when he died.

When the whistle ended the Quincy Gyn Randolph girls basket ball game at St. Mary's hall Tuesday evening, the local Q's were 33 to 25.

As was expected the members of Ave Maria Council went to East Weymouth Tuesday evening for the first match in the high school, against the Knights of Columbus league and brought home all the points. The schedule as prepared was arranged for four councils, but Braintree decided at the last moment not to place a representation in the running.

At a meeting of the Quincy Y. M. C. A. held at St. Mary's hall, Monday evening, a Society of West Quincy Monday evening the subject of basket ball was brought up and created much enthusiasm. It was unanimously voted that the Society be represented by a basket ball team and John J. Joyce was elected manager for the year 1913. The fans of Quincy well remember, when this society had a team, they were always in the front rank in basket ball circles and met and defeated many of the strongest contingents in the state. With a live "Jack" Joyce at the helm, the Quincy team is expected to do well.

At the Sunday morning service at St. Charles church, the Rev. Warner F. Gookin, of the New Testament department at the Episcopal Theological school, Cambridge, preached a strong and forceful sermon of the Church's duty, taking his text from St. Paul's words, "The church is the body of Christ." The Rev. and Mrs. Frederick H. Steensma of the rectory, Wollaston were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Collins of Manville, Rhode Island, the rector accepting an invitation to officiate at Emmanuel church where he was formerly rector.

Many advanced ideas along the line of social uplift were contained in the address "The social function of the church" Tuesday evening in the Wollaston Unitarian church by Mrs. Garlin Senecker, a director of the New York School of Philanthropy.

The sewing circle of Dorothy Q. lodge No. 55 will meet Jan. 13 with the vicar and secretary at 43 Freeman street for the annual election of officers. The final meeting of the year will be held with Mrs. M. Leland, the vice president.

QUINCY POINT

Miss Maude Merrill of Amesbury was the guest of Mrs. Ernest Smith of Washington street last week.

Mrs. John H. Smith of South Weymouth was the week end guest of Mrs. C. S. Brown of Washington street, Quincy Point.

The alarm from box 7, Monday afternoon was for a lively grass fire of Edison Park that gave the people in the vicinity a little scare for a time before the arrival of the firemen. The fire was dangerously near a large gasoline tank at the T. R. Yacht Club and it was thought at one time that it would explode. The fire was extinguished by the firemen. The fire was caused by a boy named John, who was playing with a match.

The new Colonial bowling team opened the season with a victory at the St. Mary's hall Thursday night by beating the All Stars to a frazzle.

SOUTH QUINCY

Miss Mary Manhire of Albertina street is the guest of her sister in New Jersey.

Congratulations are being extended to Sargent and Mrs. Ernest Bishop, who are the parents of a daughter, born Wednesday.

A pleasing and instructive stereopticon lecture was given Wednesday afternoon and evening at St. John's Parochial school hall on "Historic Quincy," by Charles H. Johnson.

The funeral of Giovanni Peruzzi was held at the Quincy City Hospital Monday night from pneumonia in his 94th year. He had been in America but four months.

The Y. P. S. C. of the First Presbyterian church are to hold a social in the vestry next Friday evening.

Rehearsals for the play "Mr. Bob" which is to be given by the Y. P. S. C. of the First Presbyterian church, sometime next month have been in earnest and a good cast has been secured and under the direction of Miss George Michael promises to be one of the best of the season's events.

THE SCHOOL CALENDAR.

Those who observed the public school calendar as printed in Wednesday's issue of the Ledger may have noticed that it is changed quite materially from last year. The present year will have four terms instead of three. The period between Jan. 1 and the close of the school year is divided into three terms, each eight weeks long, instead of two eight weeks long, between Easter and the close of the school year.

The new calendar also provides for a two week vacation between the first and second including both Christmas and New Years.

Every reader who has not a practical artificial reading lamp, for electric gas or oil, should not fail to see the exhibition and sale the coming week at McKenney & Waterbury Co., 181 Franklin street, corner Congress, Boston, when they will offer over three thousand table and floor lamps, at wholesale prices for one week only.

WOLLASTON

Miss Helen King who has been spending the Christmas holidays with her mother, Mrs. Edward A. King of Clay street, returned to Dana hall, Weymouth, on Monday.

Twenty-five members were added to the membership of the Wollaston Congregational church at the communion service on Sunday. The attendance was larger than at any communion service in the history of the church. The new members were welcomed by the pastor Dr. Sneath with a short address full of hope and cheer. This large accession to the membership is the result of only four months' labor on the part of Dr. Sneath and augurs well for the future.

Glady's L. Bain returned to Wollaston college Thursday afternoon to spend the Christmas holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Bain of Prospect avenue.

The Wollaston Unitarian Forum meets Sunday at 12 o'clock, subject: "Can a business man be both honest and successful?" Leader, Walter B. Simmons. Everybody is welcome.

The people of Wollaston and Quincy may not appreciate the work done by the Wollaston Glee club during the eleven years of its existence. It has given many concerts each season, including the large program standard works of the best composers and introducing to its patrons the best soloists to be obtained. This year the club has a well selected program which has been carefully studied.

The first concert of this season is to be given Tuesday evening at the Wollaston Congregational church, Mrs. Wilhelmina Wright Calvert, dramatic soprano, beside solos will sing with the club in one selection "Spring Night" by Max Fikie. Friends of the Glee club are anticipating a fine concert.

The second term of Miss Corcoran's classes in dancing in Wollaston, will begin on Monday next. The annual dance given by Miss Corcoran on the afternoon of Feb. 22, will be held this year at the Copley Plaza instead of Brookline.

The regular meeting of the Wollaston Parents-Teachers' Association will be held in assembly hall Monday evening, at eight o'clock, when Rev. Benjamin A. Willmott of Quincy will speak on "The School System in Relation to the Home." Bass soloist, Louis T. Weaver. C. B. Galloway, a whist party to be held by Dorothy Q. Lodge on Monday evening, Jan. 20 in Odd Fellows hall, Wollaston.

The many Quincy friends of Mr. and Mrs. Dorothy Peyton Pray at Elizabeth, N. J. are extending to them hearty congratulations because they are the happy parents of a baby girl, Rouena Canterbury, who came to join their happy household Sunday, Mrs. Pray will be remembered at Mr. and Mrs. Howard C. Barnes, formerly of Wollaston, and whose marriage to Mr. Pray took place in Wollaston, August 1910.

Miss Eva B. Rice and Miss Minnie H. Rice of Standish avenue returned Saturday after a week at Worcester and Holyoke where they were guests at a wedding and later a reception. Their grandfather, Joseph Mussette of Dixville, Canada who is visiting the family accompanied them.

R. U. Instructor, Emily R. B. Osborn, died Dorothy Q. Lodge an official visit Jan. 8. L. J. Galloway, of Manville and other visitors were present. A collation was served at the close of the work. Mrs. Prudence Brown was chairman of committee.

At the Sunday morning service at St. Charles church, the Rev. Warner F. Gookin, of the New Testament department at the Episcopal Theological school, Cambridge, preached a strong and forceful sermon of the Church's duty, taking his text from St. Paul's words, "The church is the body of Christ." The Rev. and Mrs. Frederick H. Steensma of the rectory, Wollaston were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Collins of Manville, Rhode Island, the rector accepting an invitation to officiate at Emmanuel church where he was formerly rector.

Many advanced ideas along the line of social uplift were contained in the address "The social function of the church" Tuesday evening in the Wollaston Unitarian church by Mrs. Garlin Senecker, a director of the New York School of Philanthropy.

The sewing circle of Dorothy Q. lodge No. 55 will meet Jan. 13 with the vicar and secretary at 43 Freeman street for the annual election of officers. The final meeting of the year will be held with Mrs. M. Leland, the vice president.

The new Colonial bowling team opened the season with a victory at the St. Mary's hall Thursday night by beating the All Stars to a frazzle.

TABLE OF AGGREGATES.

One of the many things to be found in the assessors books, is what is known as the table of aggregates. This table gives in detail many things that do not appear when the tax rate is announced, for it is the last table compiled. The tables for 1912 was as follows:

Number of persons assessed on property: Individuals 5,224
All others 1,250
Total 6,474
Number of non residents assessed: Individuals 2,421
All others 218
Total 2,639
Total number of persons assessed: 9,113
Polls only 8,888
Total 17,177
Number polls assessed 10,770
Value of assessed personal estate: $6,229,250
Valuing resident bank stock: $6,229,250
Total 12,458,500
Value of assessed real estate: $15,970,250
Buildings excluding land $15,970,250
Land excluding buildings 12,902,200
Total 28,872,450
Total value of assessed estate $45,401,020

Tax for State, County and city purposes, including overlays: On Personal estate $147,628.54
On real estate 635,193.90
On polls 27,404.00
Total $800,226.44
Tax rate $22 per $1000
Number horses 1,092
Number cows 674
Number neat cattle 28
Number swine 8
Dwelling houses 7,130

Mr. and Mrs. George H. Kendrick of 18 Beach street, Wollaston, attended on Monday last the inaugural exercises of Hon. Harry C. Foster, recently elected mayor of the city of Gloucester. Mayor Foster furnished an orchestra for the occasion. The inauguration was largely attended.

Mrs. Alpheus B. Robbins who has been making an extended visit to her daughter Mrs. Louis S. Cleaves of Beach street left Thursday for her home in Medford, Oregon.

New developments bearing upon the split in the ranks of the members of the Park and Downs Congregational Church of Wollaston, when the pastor, the Rev. William B. Ayers, was accused by a member of the church, Chester A. Boynton, of alienating the affections of the latter's wife, became known Monday and promise further agitation if not a renewal of the controversy between the two factions of the congregation. The case was called in the Superior court and continued until Feb. 5.

ATLANTIC

Miss Julia Annis of Camden, Maine was the guest this week of her cousin Mrs. George Stenzel of Botolph street. Mrs. J. P. Davidson is confined to her home on Newbury avenue with an attack of the grip.

Little Eleanor Holt of Botolph street gave a party to some of her little friends Wednesday afternoon. A most enjoyable time was spent, games being played and refreshments served.

A generous, Santa Claus had donated gifts for all the guests. These presents were: Barbara Wells, Elizabeth Burdett, Barbara Burdett, Phoebe Buckley, Ruth Beeman and Earl Beeman.

Herbert Burch of East Squantum street who suffered with the pleurisy some six weeks ago is convalescent and left Friday for Jeffrey, N. H. where he will remain several weeks to recuperate.

Miss Elsie Wohl of Walker street left last week for New Hampshire where she has accepted a position as supervisor of drainage in the town of Hillsboro and Peterboro.

Mrs. C. F. Letteney has been confined to her home on Webster street with the grip.

Mrs. Vogler who has been ill for several weeks was pleased to receive a number of her friends Thursday afternoon for a short time, the guests being Mrs. William Barnes, Mrs. E. Sherwin, Mrs. S. Apollonio, Mrs. E. Stocker and Mrs. John Fuller. Refreshments were served.

It is reported that E. Gallagher who now lives on Hunt street is to build a new two house on Appleton street near his brother, E. J. Gallagher.

The Billiken club will entertain Tuesday evening, by Miss Ethel Robinson, at her home in Montclair. A pleasant evening was enjoyed.

Mrs. H. W. Webster of Wollaston, is spending the winter with her sister, Mrs. Harry Wells of Webster street. Mrs. E. E. Wiley of Walker street is confined to her home with the grip.

This week was observed as the day of prayer by Methodist church, Atlantic, Wednesday evening. Rev. T. W. Davidson conducted the service and Thursday Rev. Mr. Bryant of Winthrop. Friday, the service was held in the auditorium. The choir sang two selections and Dr. Emerick of the First Methodist church, preached the sermon.

Mrs. Joseph W. Ferguson, of Hollis avenue has been confined to her home since the first of the month, with the grip.

Leslie Arthur of Hollis avenue is visiting friends in Maine.

Mrs. Ella Ann Horton of Newbury street gave a children's party, Thursday afternoon, entertaining the children who worked with her for the fair of Memorial church in November.

The people of Atlantic who attended the beautiful service at St. Paul's church, Monday evening, Jan. 6, were more than repaid for the walk home at midnight from Neponset. Surely the prayers and helpful words at that service will help make better men and women through this year, and in the years to come.

Miss Ella Ann Horton of Newbury street gave a children's party, Thursday afternoon, entertaining the children who worked with her for the fair of Memorial church in November.

Much sympathy is expressed for Mr. and Mrs. Louis A. Twitchell of Newbury avenue in the loss of their little daughter who died Thursday, Jan. 2.

Leonard Vaughn died in his 82nd year at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Ella C. Ellis, 29 Newbury avenue, Friday, Jan. 4.

The funeral of Joshua E. Drew, who died Monday morning, was held from his home, 16 Hampden circle, Thursday morning. Services were conducted by Rev. Frederick Steensma of St. Chrysostom church. Burial was at St. Duxbury.

SOUTH QUINCY

Miss Mary Manhire of Albertina street is the guest of her sister in New Jersey.

Congratulations are being extended to Sargent and Mrs. Ernest Bishop, who are the parents of a daughter, born Wednesday.

A pleasing and instructive stereopticon lecture was given Wednesday afternoon and evening at St. John's Parochial school hall on "Historic Quincy," by Charles H. Johnson

The Quincy Patriot

SATURDAY, JANUARY 18, 1913

QUINCY BOY HONORED.

Richard Tappenden, a Quincy boy for eleven years, and now living at Cleveland is evidently making good in his new home. He carried the Ledger for several years, was active in his school and so well liked that he was generally regretted when the family moved to Cleveland.

Richard is a senior in the Technical High school, plays in the school orchestra, also the orchestra of St. Paul's Sunday school. He has been a member of the Cleveland Boy Scouts for a little over a year, making many friends.

The Cleveland Plain Dealer of Jan. 13 tells of the annual meeting of the Boy Scouts in that city, in which Richard Tappenden was called forward and presented with the first class badge in reward for his work with the scouts; the first Cleveland boy to receive this rank.

Although he knew he had passed all the required examinations for a first class scout, the presentation of the badge before a big rally of 1000 boys was a great surprise to him. He however accepted the badge and saluted Horatio Ford, vice president of the Cleveland District Council, Boy Scouts of America, who made the presentation. The gallant old scout Capt. Jack Crawford who was present and addressed the boys, also shook hands with him and congratulated him before he left the platform. Three cheers for Dick.

THE ASSOCIATED CHARITIES.

The Associated Charities, wish to acknowledge with thanks, many generous gifts of money, food and clothing, to be used in relief work. Donors, whose gifts have not been acknowledged are:—Mrs. N. S. Hunting, Miss Steele, Mrs. Underwood, Mrs. Baxter and Miss Bumpus—clothing.

Mrs. Lacey, Mrs. Seville, Wollaston, Lend-A-Hand Club, Mrs. F. B. Tracy, Mrs. Herbert Pinkham, Mrs. Walter Pinkham, Mrs. George Pinkham, Mrs. Soule, Girls Alliance First Church, Needle Women's Guild, Fragrant Society and King's Daughters, several donations.

Voluntarily Sunday school, Wollaston, money.

The Young Woman's Club, supplies. Miss Hatch and Mrs. Wilson Marsh, clothing.

Mrs. Theophilus King, clothing and money.

Henry M. Paxson, clothing.

Wollaston Baptist church, money.

Miss Pearson, clothing.

Rev. Rufus B. Tobey, supplies.

Mrs. Francis Able and Mrs. Gustave Bates, supplies.

Ladies Aid, Wollaston Congregational church and Mrs. Emory I. Crane, clothing.

Kathryn Crane Memorial Club, money.

Several friends contributed whose names are not mentioned at their request.

The thanks of the Society and especially of those who use the office, are due to Chandler W. Smith, who gave six chairs, for office use, and to Welcoming Ten King's Daughters, for 1912 directory, an office clock and a type-writer table.

Jenny M. Purchase, Secretary.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S PROBLEMS.

R. E. Hawley, Boston School Committee, Assistant Supervisor of Evening Centres in Boston, will speak in the Council Chamber, City Hall, Tuesday afternoon, Jan. 21 at 3.30 o'clock. Mr. Hawley's subject is a timely one, and will be interesting to all who are interested in young people and their problems. Mr. Hawley comes under the invitation of the Philanthropic committee of the Quincy Women's club, Mrs. Chandler W. Smith, chairman, and a cordial invitation is extended to attend the meeting Tuesday afternoon.

WEDNESDAY'S FIRE.

The overturning of a hose wagon, injury to Driver John T. Callahan of Hose wagon three, and the rescue of two sleeping children and a baby from a burning building provided an abundance of excitement at Brewer's corner, on Wednesday shortly after 1.30 o'clock.

The fire was discovered in the two family dwelling house, at the corner of Granite and Centre streets. The lower tenement is vacant, but the upper tenement is occupied by Rev. John E. Lillback, pastor of the Finnish Congregational church.

Warren W. Nightingale who lives nearby looking out of his window saw smoke issuing from the roof of the tenement building and rushed there to see if the inmates knew of it and to warn them of their danger if they did not.

Arriving at the house, Mr. Nightingale found that the inmates, Mrs. Lillback and her children were aware of the fire in the house. Two of the children Gertrude and Beatrice who were asleep were taken to a place of safety by Mr. Nightingale, who also assisted Mrs. Lillback and the baby from the house. The other children, Edith, Agnes, Wilfred, Helen, Eleanor and Cyndia were assisted by Mrs. George P. Mead. The fire was in the upper part of the house which was used as a sleeping apartment.

The loss to the building is about $300,000, probably Mr. Lillback's loss will be several hundred dollars.

The fire apparatus made a quick run to the fire. As the machines reached Brewer's corner, the big hook and ladder truck, was just ahead of the Three Hose wagon, the latter driven by Richard T. Callahan. Some one at the corner shouted that the fire was up Granite street. The turn is a sharp one and the apparatus was going at a good clip. The ladder truck swung out and made the turn in safety. Not so with the hose wagon. As it swung round it tilted over and then turned over throwing the driver to the ground.

O. C. G. ASSOCIATION.

The Old Colony Grocers' Association at its 21st annual dinner Wednesday evening at the Quincy House instructed its legislative committee to oppose the bill to change the weights and measures law, enacted last year, back to the old law. Under the present law the use of measures is practically done away with, everything being sold by weight.

The officers elected were: President, A. W. Ames, Rockland; Vice President, Ellis Pitcher, South Weymouth; Secretary, H. W. Mansfield, Braintree; Treasurer, Oakes A. Bridgman, Braintree.

Work was commenced this week making some changes in the arrangement of the furnishings in the City Clerk's office at City Hall. Under a recent order of the City Council all of the surplus law books have been transferred to the law library at the court building. These books occupied much valuable space in the City Clerk's office, which is now available for other purposes.

Cases which were filled with these law books have been placed in some of the other offices at City Hall where they can be used to better advantage.

Work was commenced this week making some changes in the arrangement of the furnishings in the City Clerk's office at City Hall. Under a recent order of the City Council all of the surplus law books have been transferred to the law library at the court building. These books occupied much valuable space in the City Clerk's office, which is now available for other purposes.

Cases which were filled with these law books have been placed in some of the other offices at City Hall where they can be used to better advantage.

Work was commenced this week making some changes in the arrangement of the furnishings in the City Clerk's office at City Hall. Under a recent order of the City Council all of the surplus law books have been transferred to the law library at the court building. These books occupied much valuable space in the City Clerk's office, which is now available for other purposes.

Cases which were filled with these law books have been placed in some of the other offices at City Hall where they can be used to better advantage.

Work was commenced this week making some changes in the arrangement of the furnishings in the City Clerk's office at City Hall. Under a recent order of the City Council all of the surplus law books have been transferred to the law library at the court building. These books occupied much valuable space in the City Clerk's office, which is now available for other purposes.

Cases which were filled with these law books have been placed in some of the other offices at City Hall where they can be used to better advantage.

Work was commenced this week making some changes in the arrangement of the furnishings in the City Clerk's office at City Hall. Under a recent order of the City Council all of the surplus law books have been transferred to the law library at the court building. These books occupied much valuable space in the City Clerk's office, which is now available for other purposes.

Cases which were filled with these law books have been placed in some of the other offices at City Hall where they can be used to better advantage.

BRIEFS

Mrs. Jennie Dolan is ill at her home on Brackett street.

J. B. Sutherland of Whitwell street, the well-known oil man, is confined to his home with pneumonia.

Mrs. Theresa Grant of Granite street has recovered from her recent illness.

Mrs. Charles H. Pennington of Goffe street left on Monday for a two weeks' visit in White Plains, N. Y.

Frank A. Tirrell, Jr., of the University of Maine law college who has been at his home in Quincy over the holidays left for college on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Burgin of Presidents hill have returned from a visit to New London, Conn., where they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Doane, nee Mollie Rodgers.

In order to accommodate people who can not visit City Hall during the day to pay their water bills the office of the City Treasurer will be open Monday evenings from 7 to 8 o'clock.

County President Patrick J. Ferguson of Div. 5, A. O. H. Quincy, installed the officers of the Randolph Division Saturday evening and Div. 10 officers, Hyde Park, Sunday afternoon.

A meeting of the banquet committee of the Board of Trade was held at the rooms of the board Monday night when it was decided to give a dinner at Music hall on Thursday evening, Feb. 13.

Dr. Anna H. Shaw is to speak in North Adams Monday evening, Jan. 27 in favor of the Massachusetts Political Equality union, to give a forward movement in Quincy to securing the vote privilege for women.

Lawrence Peterson, 53 years of age of 55 River street, Mattapan died of January 10th after a few months' illness. The deceased was well known in Quincy and leaves a widow, two daughters, Walburg and Mabel and one son Fridolph.

About 45 members of St. Margaret's Guild have signed their intentions of assisting the vested choir during the Lenten services. On Good Friday evening they will sing St. Peter's "Crucifixion," under the direction of Prof. Frank Wrigley.

James D. Taber who for many years was a resident of Quincy was proprietor of the time proprietor of the Landon house at Houghs Neck, died Jan. 10 at the Chelsea Soldiers' Home after a short illness. Funeral services were held Tuesday at Stoughton.

J. M. Brady deputy of Commerce and Labor of the Board of census at Washington arrived in town Saturday for the purpose of making an inspection of the accounts of the city. He will remain in Quincy until he has inspected the finances of all departments of the city.

Mrs. William L. Newell (nee Zita Pitts) has been confined to her home the past week with a serious attack of appendicitis, but by the quick work of her doctor, was fortunate enough to escape an operation. Her many friends will be glad to see her out again by next week.

An appreciative and enthusiastic audience greeted Victor's Band of 20 instruments, under the direction of Signor Lawrence Portelli in the second of the Y. M. C. A. Lyceum events at Music hall, Monday evening. They dispensed high grade music, and two from the ever welcome operatic selections to popular waltz hits.

At a special meeting of Christ church on Monday, Harry C. Hollowell was unanimously elected clerk to fill the vacancy existing as Mr. Hollowell was not present at the meeting a committee was appointed to bring him before the assembly. His popularity was attested by the hearty applause which greeted his appearance.

An unusually large party participated in the weekly wheel tournament at the rooms of the Granite City club Wednesday evening. There were eleven tables in play and as usual the scores varied from the ever welcome operatic selections to popular waltz hits.

At a special meeting of Christ church on Monday, Harry C. Hollowell was unanimously elected clerk to fill the vacancy existing as Mr. Hollowell was not present at the meeting a committee was appointed to bring him before the assembly. His popularity was attested by the hearty applause which greeted his appearance.

An unusually large party participated in the weekly wheel tournament at the rooms of the Granite City club Wednesday evening. There were eleven tables in play and as usual the scores varied from the ever welcome operatic selections to popular waltz hits.

At a special meeting of Christ church on Monday, Harry C. Hollowell was unanimously elected clerk to fill the vacancy existing as Mr. Hollowell was not present at the meeting a committee was appointed to bring him before the assembly. His popularity was attested by the hearty applause which greeted his appearance.

An unusually large party participated in the weekly wheel tournament at the rooms of the Granite City club Wednesday evening. There were eleven tables in play and as usual the scores varied from the ever welcome operatic selections to popular waltz hits.

At a special meeting of Christ church on Monday, Harry C. Hollowell was unanimously elected clerk to fill the vacancy existing as Mr. Hollowell was not present at the meeting a committee was appointed to bring him before the assembly. His popularity was attested by the hearty applause which greeted his appearance.

An unusually large party participated in the weekly wheel tournament at the rooms of the Granite City club Wednesday evening. There were eleven tables in play and as usual the scores varied from the ever welcome operatic selections to popular waltz hits.

At a special meeting of Christ church on Monday, Harry C. Hollowell was unanimously elected clerk to fill the vacancy existing as Mr. Hollowell was not present at the meeting a committee was appointed to bring him before the assembly. His popularity was attested by the hearty applause which greeted his appearance.

An unusually large party participated in the weekly wheel tournament at the rooms of the Granite City club Wednesday evening. There were eleven tables in play and as usual the scores varied from the ever welcome operatic selections to popular waltz hits.

At a special meeting of Christ church on Monday, Harry C. Hollowell was unanimously elected clerk to fill the vacancy existing as Mr. Hollowell was not present at the meeting a committee was appointed to bring him before the assembly. His popularity was attested by the hearty applause which greeted his appearance.

An unusually large party participated in the weekly wheel tournament at the rooms of the Granite City club Wednesday evening. There were eleven tables in play and as usual the scores varied from the ever welcome operatic selections to popular waltz hits.

At a special meeting of Christ church on Monday, Harry C. Hollowell was unanimously elected clerk to fill the vacancy existing as Mr. Hollowell was not present at the meeting a committee was appointed to bring him before the assembly. His popularity was attested by the hearty applause which greeted his appearance.

An unusually large party participated in the weekly wheel tournament at the rooms of the Granite City club Wednesday evening. There were eleven tables in play and as usual the scores varied from the ever welcome operatic selections to popular waltz hits.

At a special meeting of Christ church on Monday, Harry C. Hollowell was unanimously elected clerk to fill the vacancy existing as Mr. Hollowell was not present at the meeting a committee was appointed to bring him before the assembly. His popularity was attested by the hearty applause which greeted his appearance.

An unusually large party participated in the weekly wheel tournament at the rooms of the Granite City club Wednesday evening. There were eleven tables in play and as usual the scores varied from the ever welcome operatic selections to popular waltz hits.

At a special meeting of Christ church on Monday, Harry C. Hollowell was unanimously elected clerk to fill the vacancy existing as Mr. Hollowell was not present at the meeting a committee was appointed to bring him before the assembly. His popularity was attested by the hearty applause which greeted his appearance.

An unusually large party participated in the weekly wheel tournament at the rooms of the Granite City club Wednesday evening. There were eleven tables in play and as usual the scores varied from the ever welcome operatic selections to popular waltz hits.

At a special meeting of Christ church on Monday, Harry C. Hollowell was unanimously elected clerk to fill the vacancy existing as Mr. Hollowell was not present at the meeting a committee was appointed to bring him before the assembly. His popularity was attested by the hearty applause which greeted his appearance.

An unusually large party participated in the weekly wheel tournament at the rooms of the Granite City club Wednesday evening. There were eleven tables in play and as usual the scores varied from the ever welcome operatic selections to popular waltz hits.

At a special meeting of Christ church on Monday, Harry C. Hollowell was unanimously elected clerk to fill the vacancy existing as Mr. Hollowell was not present at the meeting a committee was appointed to bring him before the assembly. His popularity was attested by the hearty applause which greeted his appearance.

BRIEFS

The annual meeting of the Granite Trust Co. is to be held Tuesday at 4 P. M. in the banking rooms.

Members of the Laymen's club of Christ church are to enjoy a social evening Monday in the parish house.

Rev. Benjamin A. Willmott of Bethany church exchanged Sunday morning with Rev. Charles Clark of North Weymouth.

About 20 members of Col. Abner Packard C. M. Sons of Veterans, visited Oliver W. Peabody Camp at Milton Wednesday evening.

The announcement has come east of the engagement of Rev. H. Houghton Schumacher, formerly of Quincy, now of Iowa City, Iowa, to Miss Edith Louise Mather.

The annual meeting of the Corporation of the City Hospital is to be held Monday night at 8 o'clock in Union hall. Any one interested in the Hospital is welcome to attend.

The Women's Guild of Christ church is to serve a supper to the parishioners of the church previous to the annual parish meeting called for Wednesday evening at eight o'clock.

Miss Elizabeth M. Brewer has been the guest of Mrs. H. G. Smith of Presidents hill, stopping over on route from Milford, N. H. where she passed the early winter, to New York and Philadelphia.

County Secretary Thomas J. Welsh of Div. 5, A. O. H. Quincy, installed the officers of the Chalmers division and Ladies Auxiliary Sunday afternoon. He was accompanied by a number of Quincy members.

In one of the hardest games played here for some time the Quincy High basketball team defeated the Weymouth team Wednesday night, 18 to 15. The second team beat a team of Y. M. C. A. boys 22 to 10.

Mrs. Rachel A. Joyce, widow of Noyah T. Joyce, died at her home 25 Quincy avenue, Tuesday afternoon. She lived to the ripe old age of 89 years and has made her home with her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Martha M. Joyce.

A regular meeting of the Quincy Council, Knights of Columbus, was held at Greenleaf hall, Thursday evening. A large attendance witnessed the first degree conferred on five candidates. Two new members were elected.

There is to be a union service of the Holy Name societies of Quincy and Braintree in the Sacred Heart church, Atlantic on Sunday afternoon at half past three. The society will attend communion in a body in the morning at half past seven.

Mrs. Mary Moore, wife of Edward Moore died at the Channing Hospital, Brookline, Monday. She was taken sick shortly after her marriage with tuberculosis. She was buried at Mt. Wollaston cemetery Friday, following a requiem mass at St. John's church.

At the dramatic and musical evening at Huntington chambers hall, Boston, next Monday evening, Mr. Enrico Barajas, accompanist, and two of his pupils, Mr. Barajas-Franco, tenor, and Mr. Leone Stropanoff, tenor, will take part. Eight artists will appear.

The Ladies Aid Society of the Swedish Methodist church held their meeting Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. John Johnson, 2 Goffe street. About 20 were present and after the business meeting a social hour was spent. Coffee and cake were served.

The quarterly meeting of Old Colony Association of Universalists will be held at Weymouth Landing in the Universalist church on Tuesday, Jan. 28. An interesting program is being arranged and as the church is easily reached there will be a large attendance.

Fred S. Gorham of this city and now occupying the position of editor of a Boston Shoe Trade magazine, has been appointed a delegate to represent the Boston Association of superintendents and foremen at a hearing before the Ways and Means Committee of Congress against the placing of boots and shoes upon the free list at Washington D. C., January 29.

The second half year for the admission of new pupils to school will begin Monday, January 27. At that time children who are six years of age or more before March 1st will be admitted to the new first grades to be opened at that time and half yearly promotions will take place in the first three grades where the new plan of promotion has already come into operation. In a number of the buildings, new classes much larger than usual are expected.

Roscoe R. Ricker, one of the Quincy students at the New England Conservatory of Music, Boston, has a prominent place on the programme of the student recitals last Saturday afternoon. With Miss Ella C. Nord of Jamestown, N. Y., he gave a spirited performance of Chopin's sonata for violin and piano. This work, by one of the most famous of Boston composers, was highly commended by an audience that completely filled the hall of the Conservatory building.

With only four of its regulars in the line up the Quincy Y. M. C. A. first team gave the Somerville team the worst defeat it has suffered for years, Wednesday as Somerville. "Jack" McVittie played one of the back positions in place of "Fitz" Johnson, who did not show up and his work was a revelation to all. Jack not only held the crack forward, Duggan down to one basket, but his work in passing was of great assistance to the other players. If he can continue his good work at this rate, he will win a regular first team suit from now on.

Announcements of interest to many friends, comes from Beverly of the engagement of Miss Esther W. Stickney, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. George A. Stickney, to Walter L. Alvey. An engagement luncheon was given last Saturday at the family home on Cabot street. The decorations were in yellow, with daffodils prettily arranged. The individual plate decorations were baskets of yellow flowers. After luncheon bridge whist was enjoyed followed by a delightful musical program. Miss Stickney is well known in younger society circles, is a graduate of Abbott academy and is a favorite with many young people. Mr. Alvey is employed in one of the Boston banks and is prominent in yachting circles, having commanded some of the fastest racing yachts along the North Shore.

A marriage return to the City Clerk's office records the marriage of Miss Emily Cousins of Malden to Simon Murchin Stewart of 178 Franklin street, Quincy. The ceremony was performed at Malden, Dec. 23, by Rev. Rupert C. Foster of Cambridge. The groom is an electrician by trade.

The Contractors Mutual Liability Insurance Co., held their annual meeting at their rooms No. 10 Tremont street, Boston, Wednesday afternoon. Their report shows the company to be in very prosperous condition with a large saving policy holders. Andrew Milne of this city was elected a member of the board of directors.

A new year dance was enjoyed by Norfolk lodge 178, A. O. U. W., at Poland hall Monday evening, about 50 couples participating. Music was furnished by Pinkham's orchestra. Committee in charge included Charles Kolstead, Arthur Stowers, James Flanagan, William Guin, Everett McMaster and R. J. Brice.

Officer Brown of the Metropolitan Police found the body of an unknown man on the marsh between Ruff's Hummock and Gull Island, near the National Sailors' Home cemetery, at 11.30 Monday morning. The body was viewed by medical examiner Fred R. Jones who said the body had been in the water about two weeks. He ordered it removed to Hall's Undertaking rooms.

A marriage return to the City Clerk's office records the marriage of Miss Emily Cousins of Malden to Simon Murchin Stewart of 178 Franklin street, Quincy. The ceremony was performed at Malden, Dec. 23, by Rev. Rupert C. Foster of Cambridge. The groom is an electrician by trade.

The Contractors Mutual Liability Insurance Co., held their annual meeting at their rooms No. 10 Tremont street, Boston, Wednesday afternoon. Their report shows the company to be in very prosperous condition with a large saving policy holders. Andrew Milne of this city was elected a member of the board of directors.

A new year dance was enjoyed by Norfolk lodge 178, A. O. U. W., at Poland hall Monday evening, about 50 couples participating. Music was furnished by Pinkham's orchestra. Committee in charge included Charles Kolstead, Arthur Stowers, James Flanagan, William Guin, Everett McMaster and R. J. Brice.

Officer Brown of the Metropolitan Police found the body of an unknown man on the marsh between Ruff's Hummock and Gull Island, near the National Sailors' Home cemetery, at 11.30 Monday morning. The body was viewed by medical examiner Fred R. Jones who said the body had been in the water about two weeks. He ordered it removed to Hall's Undertaking rooms.

A marriage return to the City Clerk's office records the marriage of Miss Emily Cousins of Malden to Simon Murchin Stewart of 178 Franklin street, Quincy. The ceremony was performed at Malden, Dec. 23, by Rev. Rupert C. Foster of Cambridge. The groom is an electrician by trade.

The Contractors Mutual Liability Insurance Co., held their annual meeting at their rooms No. 10 Tremont street, Boston, Wednesday afternoon. Their report shows the company to be in very prosperous condition with a large saving policy holders. Andrew Milne of this city was elected a member of the board of directors.

A new year dance was enjoyed by Norfolk lodge 178, A. O. U. W., at Poland hall Monday evening, about 50 couples participating. Music was furnished by Pinkham's orchestra. Committee in charge included Charles Kolstead, Arthur Stowers, James Flanagan, William Guin, Everett McMaster and R. J. Brice.

Officer Brown of the Metropolitan Police found the body of an unknown man on the marsh between Ruff's Hummock and Gull Island, near the National Sailors' Home cemetery, at 11.30 Monday morning. The body was viewed by medical examiner Fred R. Jones who said the body had been in the water about two weeks. He ordered it removed to Hall's Undertaking rooms.

A marriage return to the City Clerk's office records the marriage of Miss Emily Cousins of Malden to Simon Murchin Stewart of 178 Franklin street, Quincy. The ceremony was performed at Malden, Dec. 23, by Rev. Rupert C. Foster of Cambridge. The groom is an electrician by trade.

The Contractors Mutual Liability Insurance Co., held their annual meeting at their rooms No. 10 Tremont street, Boston, Wednesday afternoon. Their report shows the company to be in very prosperous condition with a large saving policy holders. Andrew Milne of this city was elected a member of the board of directors.

A new year dance was enjoyed by Norfolk lodge 178, A. O. U. W., at Poland hall Monday evening, about 50 couples participating. Music was furnished by Pinkham's orchestra. Committee in charge included Charles Kolstead, Arthur Stowers, James Flanagan, William Guin, Everett McMaster and R. J. Brice.

BRIEFS

Friends of Mrs. Mary Nichols will be glad to know that she is convalescing.

Miss Mary Ford of the Tax Collector's office was operated upon by Dr. Richardson of Boston at the Quincy City Hospital Thursday night, following an attack of appendicitis.

James L. McDonnell, assistant clerk at the district court is being showered with congratulations on the birth of a nine pound daughter which arrived at his home early Thursday morning.

Commissioner of Public Works Frederick E. Tupper was given the dedication of Rev. H. Houghton Schumacher, formerly of Quincy, now of Iowa City, Iowa, to Miss Edith Louise Mather.

The annual meeting of the Corporation of the City Hospital is to be held Monday night at 8 o'clock in Union hall. Any one interested in the Hospital is welcome to attend.

The Women's Guild of Christ church is to serve a supper to the parishioners of the church previous to the annual parish meeting called for Wednesday evening at eight o'clock.

Miss Elizabeth M. Brewer has been the guest of Mrs. H. G. Smith of Presidents hill, stopping over on route from Milford, N. H. where she passed the early winter, to New York and Philadelphia.

County Secretary Thomas J. Welsh of Div. 5, A. O. H. Quincy, installed the officers of the Chalmers division and Ladies Auxiliary Sunday afternoon. He was accompanied by a number of Quincy members.

In one of the hardest games played here for some time the Quincy High basketball team defeated the Weymouth team Wednesday night, 18 to 15. The second team beat a team of Y. M. C. A. boys 22 to 10.

Mrs. Rachel A. Joyce, widow of Noyah T. Joyce, died at her home 25 Quincy avenue, Tuesday afternoon. She lived to the ripe old age of 89 years and has made her home with her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Martha M. Joyce.

A regular meeting of the Quincy Council, Knights of Columbus, was held at Greenleaf hall, Thursday evening. A large attendance witnessed the first degree conferred on five candidates. Two new members were elected.

There is to be a union service of the Holy Name societies of Quincy and Braintree in the Sacred Heart church, Atlantic on Sunday afternoon at half past three. The society will attend communion in a body in the morning at half past seven.

Mrs. Mary Moore, wife of Edward Moore died at the Channing Hospital, Brookline, Monday. She was taken sick shortly after her marriage with tuberculosis. She was buried at Mt. Wollaston cemetery Friday, following a requiem mass at St. John's church.

At the dramatic and musical evening at Huntington chambers hall, Boston, next Monday evening, Mr. Enrico Barajas, accompanist, and two of his pupils, Mr. Barajas-Franco, tenor, and Mr. Leone Stropanoff, tenor, will take part. Eight artists will appear.

The Ladies Aid Society of the Swedish Methodist church held their meeting Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. John Johnson, 2 Goffe street. About 20 were present and after the business meeting a social hour was spent. Coffee and cake were served.

The quarterly meeting of Old Colony Association of Universalists will be held at Weymouth Landing in the Universalist church on Tuesday, Jan. 28. An interesting program is being arranged and as the church is easily reached there will be a large attendance.

Fred S. Gorham of this city and now occupying the position of editor of a Boston Shoe Trade magazine, has been appointed a delegate to represent the Boston Association of superintendents and foremen at a hearing before the Ways and Means Committee of Congress against the placing of boots and shoes upon the free list at Washington D. C., January 29.

The second half year for the admission of new pupils to school will begin Monday, January 27. At that time children who are six years of age or more before March 1st will be admitted to the new first grades to be opened at that time and half yearly promotions will take place in the first three grades where the new plan of promotion has already come into operation. In a number of the buildings, new classes much larger than usual are expected.

Roscoe R. Ricker, one of the Quincy students at the New England Conservatory of Music, Boston, has a prominent place on the programme of the student recitals last Saturday afternoon. With Miss Ella C. Nord of Jamestown, N. Y., he gave a spirited performance of Chopin's sonata for violin and piano. This work, by one of the most famous of Boston composers, was highly commended by an audience that completely filled the hall of the Conservatory building.

With only four of its regulars in the line up the Quincy Y. M. C. A. first team gave the Somerville team the worst defeat it has suffered for years, Wednesday as Somerville. "Jack" McVittie played one of the back positions in place of "Fitz" Johnson, who did not show up and his work was a revelation to all. Jack not only held the crack forward, Duggan down to one basket, but his work in passing was of great assistance to the other players. If he can continue his good work at this rate, he will win a regular first team suit from now on.

Announcements of interest to many friends, comes from Beverly of the engagement of Miss Esther W. Stickney, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. George A. Stickney, to Walter L. Alvey. An engagement luncheon was given last Saturday at the family home on Cabot street. The decorations were in yellow, with daffodils prettily arranged. The individual plate decorations were baskets of yellow flowers. After luncheon bridge whist was enjoyed followed by a delightful musical program. Miss Stickney is well known in younger society circles, is a graduate of Abbott academy and is a favorite with many young people. Mr. Alvey is employed in one of the Boston banks and is prominent in yachting circles, having commanded some of the fastest racing yachts along the North Shore.

A marriage return to the City Clerk's office records the marriage of Miss Emily Cousins of Malden to Simon Murchin Stewart of 178 Franklin street, Quincy. The ceremony was performed at Malden, Dec. 23, by Rev. Rupert C. Foster of Cambridge. The groom is an electrician by trade.

The Contractors Mutual Liability Insurance Co., held their annual meeting at their rooms No. 10 Tremont street, Boston, Wednesday afternoon. Their report shows the company to be in very prosperous condition with a large saving policy holders. Andrew Milne of this city was elected a member of the board of directors.

A new year dance was enjoyed by Norfolk lodge 178, A. O. U. W., at Poland hall Monday evening, about 50 couples participating. Music was furnished by Pinkham's orchestra. Committee in charge included Charles Kolstead, Arthur Stowers, James Flanagan, William Guin, Everett McMaster and R. J. Brice.

Officer Brown of the Metropolitan Police found the body of an unknown man on the marsh between Ruff's Hummock and Gull Island, near the National Sailors' Home cemetery, at 11.30 Monday morning. The body was viewed by medical examiner Fred R. Jones who said the body had been in the water about two weeks. He ordered it removed to Hall's Undertaking rooms.

A marriage return to the City Clerk's office records the marriage of Miss Emily Cousins of Malden to Simon Murchin Stewart of 178 Franklin street, Quincy. The ceremony was performed at Malden, Dec. 23, by Rev. Rupert C. Foster of Cambridge. The groom is an electrician by trade.

The Contractors Mutual Liability Insurance Co., held their annual meeting at their rooms No. 10 Tremont street, Boston, Wednesday afternoon. Their report shows the company to be in very prosperous condition with a large saving policy holders. Andrew Milne of this city was elected a member of the board of directors.

A new year dance was enjoyed by Norfolk lodge 178, A. O. U. W., at Poland hall Monday evening, about 50 couples participating. Music was furnished by Pinkham's orchestra. Committee in charge included Charles Kolstead, Arthur Stowers, James Flanagan, William Guin, Everett McMaster and R. J. Brice.

Officer Brown of the Metropolitan Police found the body of an unknown man on the marsh between Ruff's Hummock and Gull Island, near the National Sailors' Home cemetery, at 11.30 Monday morning. The body was viewed by medical examiner Fred R. Jones who said the body had been in the water about two weeks. He ordered it removed to Hall's Undertaking rooms.

A marriage return to the City Clerk's office records the marriage of Miss Emily Cousins of Malden to Simon Murchin Stewart of 178 Franklin street, Quincy. The ceremony was performed at Malden, Dec. 23, by Rev. Rupert C. Foster of Cambridge. The groom is an electrician by trade.

The Contractors Mutual Liability Insurance Co., held their annual meeting at their rooms No. 10 Tremont street, Boston, Wednesday afternoon. Their report shows the company to be in very prosperous condition with a large saving policy holders. Andrew Milne of this city was elected a member of the board

QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, JANUARY 25, 1913.

VOL. 77. NO. 4.

FIVE CENTS PER COPY; $2.50 PER YEAR.

The Quincy Patriot
Established in 1837.
PUBLISHED SATURDAY MORNING BY
GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUB. CO.
(INCORPORATED)
OFFICE, No. 1421 HANCOCK STREET
Telephone: Quincy 425.
Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass., as Second Class Matter.

Subscription Price, $2.50 per year.
A remission of fifty cents will be made when paid one year in advance.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
Established in 1889.
Subscription Price, $6.00 per Year.
A remission of $1 will be made when paid one year in advance.

ALSO PUBLISHERS OF THE
BRAINTREE OBSERVER
Weekly Established in 1878.

EDWARD J. FEGAN
Counselor at Law
8 Durgin & Merrill Block, Quincy
Mornings—9:30 to 10; Evenings—7 to 9.
914-916 Tremont Building, Boston
Rm. 3, N. to S. F. B.
Telephone—Quincy 484, Haymarket 240.

JOHN W. McANARNEY
Counselor at Law
Room 1, Durgin & Merrill's Block,
Hancock Street, Quincy.

H. T. WHITMAN
AGENT FOR THE
Adams Real Estate Trust
—AND—
Edison Park Land Associates
Real Estate, Mortgages, and Insurance
QUINCY, 21 Adams Building.
Tel. 106-3
BOSTON, 220 Devonshire Street
Tel. Fort Hill 591

INSURANCE AGENCY
Established in Quincy in the year 1849 by
and Mutual offices
By W. PORTER & CO.
At No. 50 Killy Street, Boston.
Residence, Hancock Street, Quincy

DORCHESTER
Mutual Fire Insurance Co.
BOSTON, MASS.
INCORPORATED 1851
statement from Report of Triennial Examination
of Company made by the Massachusetts
Insurance Dept., as of October 31, 1910.
Amount at Risk $7,951,423.00
Cash Assets 257,924.00
Re-insurance Reserve $1,294,266.00
Total Liabilities 9,503,613.00
Surplus October 31, 1910 868,260.00
This company now pays the following Dividends:
All on five-year Policies 40 per cent
On three-year Policies 30 " "
On one-year Policies 20 " "
Losses promptly adjusted and paid.
W. D. C. CUTLER, President.
WILLIAM A. MILLER, Vice Pres.
CLARENCE RUGGIE, Treasurer
FREDERICK W. PORTER, Secretary
Directors: W. D. C. Cutler, L. A. F. Felt, Henry Hornbower, Frederick W. Porter, Clarence Ruggie, William A. Miller, S. J. Willis, Frederick W. Porter, Jr.

Norfolk Fire Ins. Co.
DORHAM, MASS.
STATEMENT JANUARY 1, 1912.
Amount at Risk, $2,174,047.47
Cash Assets, 190,234.26
Total Liabilities, including re-insurance, 188,804.00
Amount of Cash Surplus, $495,424.20
Contingent Assets, $424,122.50
Total Available Assets, 1,919,546.70
Dividends are now being paid on five-year policies 20 per cent, on three-year policies 15 per cent, on one-year policies 10 per cent.
JAMES V. NOYES, Pres. and Treas.

Dedham Mutual Fire Ins. Co.
Dedham, Mass.
STATEMENT JANUARY 1, 1912.
Amount at Risk, $8,982,621.93
Cash Assets, 57,400.20
Total Liabilities, including re-insurance, 108,207.23
Amount of Cash Surplus, 129,056.63
Contingent Assets, 135,009.16
Total Available Assets, 264,065.79
Dividends are now being paid on five-year policies 20 per cent, on three-year policies 15 per cent, on one-year policies 10 per cent.
JAMES V. NOYES, Pres. and Treas.

Sanborn & Damon Heating & Plumbing
—AND—
Sheet Metal Work ACENTS FOR YAGEE RANGES AND HEATERS
AND Kelsey Warm Air Generators Kitchen Furnishings.
HARDWARE
Paints, Oils and Varnishes
Reliable Goods at Low Prices
1430 Hancock Street,
Quincy, Mass.

ATNA Insurance Co.,
HARTFORD, CONN.
Incorporated 1810. Charter Perpetual.
Losses Paid in 90 Years, $115,798,170.31
JANUARY 1, 1909.
Paid Capital, $4,000,000.00
Reserve for Re-insurance, 1,250,000.18
Reserve for Unpaid Losses, 57,400.20
Reserve for Other Claims, 466,086.64
Total Assets, 5,753,486.92
—of which—
Surplus, 2,280,625.00
Net Surplus, 9,297,872.93
John Hardwick & Co.,
AGENTS FOR QUINCY

CASTORIA
900 DROPS
ALCOHOL 2 PER CENT.
Vegetable Preparation for Simulating the Food and Regulating the Stomach and Bowels of INFANTS & CHILDREN
Promotes Digestion, Cheerfulness, and Rest. Contains neither Opium, Morphine, nor Mineral.
NOT NARCOTIC.
Beware of cheap imitations.
Signature of
Dr. J. C. Felt
Perfect Remedy for Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhea, Haymarket Square, Boston.
FACSIMILE SIGNATURE OF
Dr. J. C. Felt
46 months old
35 DROPS—35 CENTS
Guaranteed under the Food and Drug Act.
Exact Copy of Wrapper

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought Bears the Signature of
Dr. J. C. Felt
In Use
For Over Thirty Years
CASTORIA
THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

Frost Coal Co.
SUCCESSOR TO
GEORGE E. FROST & CO.
488 Neponset Avenue,
Neponset. Telephone
1500 Dorchester

SHINGLES
CYPRESS, EASTERN AND WESTERN CEDAR
ALSO, OTHER ROOFING MATERIAL
LUMBER
OF ALL KINDS
THE A. T. STEARNS LUMBER COMPANY
[ESTABLISHED 1849]
Main Office, Mills and Wharves at Neponset
Branch Office and Exhibit, 140 Devonshire Street, and 19 Federal St.
HAYMARKET SQUARE, BOSTON, 1 South Street, corner Merrimac St.
BOSTON

A. M. JAMESON
Real Estate and Insurance
OFFICE—RESIDENCE
157 WARREN AVE., COR. WINTHROP AVE.
WOLLASTON
Houses and Apartments for sale,
rents and Apartments to let.
Tel. 24-2 Quincy Mar 2 (Opp.)

McGrath Bros.
Large stock of Finished Monuments and Tablets constantly on hand.
Works at Quincy Adams Station.
Established 1854.

Quincy Savings Bank
ESTABLISHED 1848.
New Savings Bank Building.
1273 Hancock Street.
President—JOHN A. FIELD
Vice-President—JOHN F. WELCH
Treasurer—CLARENCE BURGIN BOARD OF INVESTMENT.
JOHN A. FIELD, RUFUS F. CLARK
JOHN F. WELCH, R. D. CHASE BANK HOURS
Every Business Day except Saturdays,
8:30 A. M. to 3 P. M.
SATURDAYS—9:30 A. M. to 12 M.
Deposits placed on interest on the first Tuesday of January, April, July and October years.
Connected by Telephone.
Quincy, March 22, 1912

DAY NURSERY DANCE.
A pretty dancing party in the New Colonial hall Saturday evening in aid of the Quincy Day Nursery was attended by about 75 couples. The hall was tastefully decorated the stage being linked with wisteria in a series of original designs by Maurice Blackburn.

The matrons were Mrs. George E.
Pfaffmann, Mrs. Henry M. Faxon and Mrs. Russell A. Sears.
The ushers were Howard Johnson,
Henry M. Faxon, Thomas Barstow,
John Doble, Joseph Dasha, Willard
Crocker, Richard Blackburn, Henry Hall, Edmund Whitmore, Rogers
Burgin, Carl Pfaffmann, Harold Seavey, Franklin Peter, Alton Page,
Ralph Alden, Fred Rawlins, Robert Stone.

The affair was in charge of Mrs.
John H. Johnson and Mrs. Paul H.
Blackburn.

"A thousand pardons for my tardiness," Mrs. Craig said. "I can offer no excuses, but must explain that I was so

SPECIES OF THE FEMALE.
Sidney Low.

When the Soul of Man awakened, when the Woman that God gave Stood revealed as wife and sister, not his chattel or his slave,
Then he formed his own conception of what Woman ought to be,
And he made a Plaster Image, and he told her it was she.

For the Woman as God made her wasn't good enough for Man.
He invented large improvements upon Nature's crude plan.
And he washed that image into being and set it on the shelf,
Where he kept assorted virtues that he did not want himself.

Man might govern, fight and reason to his perfect satisfaction; Soothed by woman at the season when his mind was out of action;
Woman, good and kind and clinging,
timid, soft, anaemic, pale,
For the female of the species was an adjunct to the male.

But the Woman as Man made her scarcely suited to modern notions.
With her regulated instincts and her neatly trimmed emotions;
We have dropped the Plaster Image,
and the tame domestic pet,
And our taste finds something lacking in that samitile state-ette.

So our literary gentlemen have modelled it afresh;
And the terra cotta fairy is a Demon of the Flesh.
Half Mother-Plend, half Maena;
she's wolf's tooth and wildcat's claw,
"Armed and equipped," fanged and poisoned, for the hunting of the male.

With the morals of the hen coop, with the Jungle's code of law,
With the mercy of the tigress when
she tips her head at you,
Such the bard's vivacious vision; but the woman who can judge Knows that much of it is fiction, and a good deal simply false.

And Man knows it, Mr. Poet! Knows your singular idea.
Does not bear the least resemblance to the Woman that is real;
For Woman ain't no Plaster saint,
she ain't no tigress, too,
But an average human being," most remarkable like you.

THE NEW ACCOMPANIST.

"Do you know, Alice, I am beginning to think that we shall be obliged to accept your Uncle Peter's kind offer and make our home on the farm with him. Our little bank account is dwindling very rapidly, my dear girl."

"Oh, mother, please give me two more weeks to find something that will make it possible for us to live in the city. I am so happy to be here, where I can enjoy the best concerts and lectures. Of course, if it must be Uncle Peter's and the farm, I'll do what he wants. But I really believe there's a little niche here in Stanton waiting for me to fill it."

Alice Richards and her widowed mother were doing what is vaguely known as "light housekeeping," in a large rooming house.

Directly beneath them Alice could hear the brilliant voice of a young woman, who was singing and laboriously picking out an intricate accompaniment.

"Just listen to Miss Rendall, mother.
Isn't that a gorgeous voice? But what a hard time she is having with that accompaniment. It almost makes my fingers tingle. I want to help her some. I wonder if she would let me play for her?"

"She might be as pleased with it as the girls at home."

"Well, I'll go down and offer my services, anyway. She met me in the hall a few days ago, and apologized for not calling on me, but said that she was spending all her time on her singing lessons."

Alice Richards' knock at the door was answered by Edith Rendall, whose cordial greeting betrayed no surprise.

"Pardon me for disturbing your morning practice, but I came down to place my fingers at your disposal. I couldn't resist asking you to let me try that accompaniment—I mean the song I just heard you singing. It's new to me, and I am very fond of new music."

"That's exceedingly kind of you," responded Miss Rendall, but without enthusiasm. She had suffered too much from the playing of blundering accompanists to be over sanguine.

Alice gave the opening bars a firm and intelligent reading, and Miss Rendall began to sing. She was supported, instead of being submerged by the piano part, and sang with more than her usual brilliancy. As she sang she was conscious of an almost overpowering curiosity. This young girl with her old-fashioned manner and gown, where had she learned to play like this?

"How delightful to meet a true musician," said Miss Rendall, grasping her caller's hand in a warm clasp and looking searchingly into the soft eyes.

"Just what I was about to say," laughed Alice.

"How can you read new music so rapidly?"

"I don't know, but it's as easy as print to me. Instead of practicing my lesson I used to spend most of the time in trying to learn the new music I could borrow or buy."

"No wonder it seems so natural for you, then. Are you willing to play some of these oratorio accompaniments for me? I am studying the soprano arias in the 'Messiah,' 'Elijah'
and the 'Creation.'"

"Yes, indeed, this is a real treat to me, and I have more time than anything else," said the happy young girl.
Before Miss Rendall realized it, the hour for her vocal lesson was very near. Hastily excusing herself to Alice she hurried down town to the studio of her teacher, out of breath and extremely apologetic in mood.

Instead of the usual medley of pupils and visitors in the reception-room, and the sounds of the lesson-hours, Miss Rendall found Stuart Craig alone, pacing up and down the long music-room.

delighted with the accompanying of a young girl who is rooming in the same house with me, that the time slipped away before I realized it."

"It's just as well. Probably you would not have had a lesson if you had been here. I am not exactly in the mood for teaching. The fact is I have displeased Miss North. I can only have Mrs. Sessions a portion of each day, so I am without a regular accompanist this morning. About this young lady you mentioned just now,
—can she really accompany the voice?
"Yes, indeed. Her soul is full of music, and her playing is of a kind to really help a singer. She is sympathetic, and seems to follow one's voice with such perfect ease," said Miss Rendall with more than her usual enthusiasm.

"Do you think she would be a musical position, or is her time taken up?"

"From one or two remarks she made this morning I think she is looking for something to do that will bring in some money for herself and her widowed mother."

Well, you bring her with you tomorrow morning, if it suits her convenience. It may be that I can help her to something that I have in mind."

Miss Rendall had more than a suspicion that her teacher hoped to find in the young stranger a substitute for the erratic Miss North. But she knew that so much depended on the fact as well as the ability of the studio accompanist that it was a difficult place to fill acceptably.

Alice Richards was surprised to receive during the afternoon a call from the young singer, and still more to be invited to visit the studio of the famous Stuart Craig.

"I will confide in you, Miss Richards, and tell you that Mr. Craig has never been willing to take a cent for my lessons. He knows that my people find it hard enough to pay my board in the city, and he says that the time he puts in on my voice training is his investment. I have every reason to hope that with a few years of this thorough work I will be able to begin to pay my debts."

"I believe that you will be a famous concert singer some day," said Alice with real admiration.

"If I am, I shall owe it all to my careful teacher. I never can hear to hear him called 'mercenary' and
'snobbish,' as some of his less successful rivals are so fond of doing."

The next morning found the two girls entering Stuart Craig's reception room. It was artistically arranged in Moorish style, with oriental hangings, rare rugs and shaded lights. Several young persons were grouped and discussing in cozy corners chatting in low tones. They all spoke familiarly to Miss Rendall, and seemed to be completely at home in the place and with each other. The half-drawn portieres on one side of the apartment revealed a long music room. This was a striking contrast in style and treatment. The large windows were either partially hidden by Venetian blinds, and the floor of light polished wood,
the cream-colored walls, wicker furniture and plaster casts combined to make an ideal room for showing the beauties or exposing the defects of the human voice.

Standing by the grand piano was an expensively dressed young lady, emitting sounds which were probably her idea of vocal melody. A plain, pleasant woman was seated at the piano, and the deep voice of Stuart Craig could occasionally be heard in kindly, critical comments.

In a few moments the embodiment of fashion was bowed politely out to pass. Many a dashing, brilliant player has found a Waterloo when I do my worst with that song. But you have come off the field with flying colors, and I must congratulate you.
If you care to accept an engagement here which may be permanent, I am ready to make arrangements with you now. As far as the notes and the fingers are concerned there is no question about your ability, but whether you can endure the daily routine is another matter. The musical temperament is most susceptible to fatigue and nervous excitement."

During the weeks that followed Alice realized the truth of Mr. Craig's words.
The earnest, anxious desire to do her best, and to make herself a help to every pupil, caused her to go home at the end of each day with a tired, throbbing head.

Mr. Craig's observant eyes saw that the girl's cheeks were losing their country bloom, and he gave her a little good advice. He told her to walk for at least a mile; every day to slip out of the studio when he did not need her, instead of curling up over a book in the reception-room.

Alice found that these changes brought strength and self-poise while her fascinating work stimulated her mind as well as her finger-tips.

Stuart Craig was a past master in the study of human nature, and he understood how to bring the best possible results from both pupils and accompanist.

After Alice had finished her first month in the studio, one of his most critical pupils said to Mr. Craig:

"I want to tell you how much pleased I am with the work of your new accompanist. She makes one feel that the teacher is interested not with certain favorite singers, but with every one who needs her services."

"She is a conscientious girl. But, Kennedy, what do you see in her work to criticize?"

"There is a slight tendency to efface herself. She plays as though her part was of small importance, though I judge her to be a girl of much musical taste."

"That's it, exactly. Thank you for your frankness," said his teacher.

At the end of the day, Alice was asked to remain for a little talk. She had learned not to dread these interviews, and to realize that Stuart Craig's keen eyes saw her efforts and appreciated them. After a few words of discriminating praise, Mr. Craig said:

"I look on you, Miss Richards, as a student. You are developing your sensitive musical nature, and are quickly learning to adapt yourself to your new conditions. Just here, a word of warning. In the studio voice training is emphasized but the piano has no less an important, because a lesser part. The accompaniment is to the song what the setting is to the jewel, or the background to the picture. Be strong; be creative.
My former accompanist needed to be continually repressed, where you need to be encouraged. Another thing; much depends on your discretion.
Pupils will try to find out from you my private opinion of their voices and abilities. You will hear many things within these walls that would cause serious trouble if repeated to outsiders. Talk frankly with me if you please, and always make a confidante of your mother. Beyond that, beware."

"Have you been satisfied with me in that respect, up to the present time?"

"Perfectly. But you were a stranger, and the time of temptation had not come. Learn to take your work easily, to do your best without anxiety, and you will save yourself much nervous exhaustion."

While Alice enjoyed her long walk that afternoon, she thought about Mr. Craig's words. It was easy to hear the truth when it came straight from a strong, sincere heart.

In talking over the past few weeks with her mother, she said:

"Just think what came from a simple little action. I might have let Miss Rendall stumble along with her accompaniment as well as she could.
Then I never should have had this lovely position, where I can learn and enjoy so much."

"Yes, dear, but there is seldom in a whole life time such a reward for a kindly deed. Hundreds of times our best endeavors seem to be almost unappreciated by human eyes."

Nearly five years passed rapidly away, and Alice Richards was still a familiar figure at the piano in Mr.
Craig's studio, though no longer known as "the new accompanist."

She had become broadened by daily contact with eager, studious minds, receiving their stimulating lessons from a great master in the art of teaching.
Miss Rendall had joined a concert company two years before, and her bright letters often came to the studio telling of her successes and amusing experiences.

As Alice was putting on her hat and jacket at the end of the usual day's work, Mr. Craig stopped her by saying:
"Sit down a few minutes, Miss Richards. It is almost five years, is it not, since you first came into the studio?"

"It will be five years next month."

"How quickly the years have gone!
I realize that my teaching days are over, but before I retire to the quiet of old age, I have decided to revisit Germany and Italy. This month will end my work with my pupils."

Alice was almost stunned by the news. Stuart Craig was still full of fire and energy that she had imagined him as a teacher for many years more. Her expressive face must have betrayed her dismay, for Mr. Craig hastened to take a letter from his pocket, and unfold its closely written sheets.

"I will read you a portion of my latest work from Miss Rendall:

"As soon as you wrote me that you had decided to give up teaching, and close the studio, it left me free to try to secure Miss Richards, if my powers of persuasion could induce her to join me in my wandering life. Our concert company have never been able to engage an efficient accompanist, and all I need to make my singing a pleasure to myself, is to have Alice Richards at the piano. I have long wanted her, but, of course, I would not hint at such a thing when she was so indispensable to you. I can feel her a good salary."

"It was all so strange, so unlike anything she had ever dreamed of, that Alice scarcely knew what she said,
in the talk that followed.

For the ardent young girl, this was the opening chapter of an entirely new life, brimming with experiences which could not be told in several volumes—
Mary Peabody Bowditch.

BIRTHDAY PARTY.
Miss Dorothy Green, the young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred P.
Green of Hancock street, entertained friends Monday afternoon in observance of her thirteenth birthday.
The table, daintily decorated with pink crepe paper, was bountifully laden with good things to eat, sandwiches, delicious cakes, confectionery, frappe, and in the centre was a very handsome birthday cake, beautifully frosted, adorned with thirteen candles and inscribed by the hostess.

The guests departed for their homes with expressions of delight for being so happily entertained, and wishing their hostess many happy returns of the day.

Uncle Sam is beginning to wonder already how he ever got along without the parcel post.

S. OF V. INSTALLATION.

The officers of Col. Abner B. Packard Camp 95, Sons of Veterans, were installed at Faxon hall, Friday, Jan. 17
by Past Division Commander Frank E. Warren of Camp 67, Abington, assisted by Guide Percy R. Shaw.

Speeches were delivered by Past Commander George S. Phillips of Post
S. G. A. R. Frank Sampson of Div.
S. S. of V. of East Weymouth; President Cylander Richardson of W. R. C., President Mrs. Abbie Our of S. of V., auxiliary 3 of Quincy Junior Vice President, Mrs. Clara Maynard of D. of V. Weymouth; President, Miss Keefe of D. of V. of Dorchester.

A drill during which Col. A. Sons of Veterans Reserves, guarded the colors, around the camp numerals and went through the manual, was given fine applause. It was under the direction of Commander Ernest Elavitt and Capt. Frank Chubbuck.

Refreshments were served and dancing enjoyed. Music was by Pinkham's orchestra. The officers installed were:

Commander—Harry G. Ford.
Senior Vice Commander—Edward C.
Prouty.
Junior Vice Commander—William R. French.
Camp Council—Harry E. D. Gould, Frank H. Stoddard, Frank M. Chub-buck.

Secretary—Lester A. Porter.
Treasurer—Charles F. Stratford.
Chaplain—Parker Souther.
Advance Instructor—Frank M.
Chubbuck.
Guide—Guy T. Baker.
Inside Guard—Irving T. Berry.
Outside Guard—Lewis A. French.
Musician—Walter M. Packard.
Color Bearer—Albert G. Farnham.

N. E. O. P. OFFICERS.

An installation of officers, social hour and refreshments contributed Friday Jan. 17, to the pleasure of the members of Quincy lodge, N. E. O. P. in Protection hall.

The installation was under the direction of District Deputy Grand Warden
Miss Susan Merrill, of the Peckwood lodge of Hobbart, accompanied by Grand Guide Mrs. Pike and suite.

A jewel was presented to Warden
Mrs. Mary A. McNeil by the visiting deputy. Speeches were given by the visitors. Guests were present from Weymouth, Peckwood, Mayflower and Banner of Brockton.

The committee in charge were Mrs.
Mary A. McNeil and Mrs. James Mc-Cormack. Music was furnished by Mrs. Gus White and Miss Marion White.

The officers installed were:
Past Warden—Mrs. Isabelle V.
Sawin.
Warden—Mrs. Mary A. McNeil.
Vice Warden—Mrs. Louise Larfair.
Secretary—Mrs. Laura Holt.
Financial Secretary—Miss Lois J.
Dawson.

Treasurer—Edwin C. Sawin.
Guide—Chester B. Brown.
Guardian—Mrs. Jennie Marland.
Sentinel—James M. Allison.
Trustees—Mrs. Mary Spooner, Mrs.
Mary Lord, Mrs. Isabelle V. Sawin.
Pianist—Mrs. Gus White.

FOUNDRY ASSOCIATION.

The annual session of the Wollas-ton Foundry Relief Association was held Thursday, January 16, in Poland hall, when officers were elected for the year. Cornelius M. Duggan, being elected president. Much important business was also transacted, including action on reports of various officers.

The auditor's report showed a disbursement of over $2,500 paid in sick benefits, since the institution of the society, with a cash balance on hand
of $250.

The following officers were elected for ensuing year:
President—Cornelius M. Duggan.
Vice president—Henry W. Sprague.
Recording secretary—George H.
Broadbent.
Financial secretary—William A.
Beattie.

Treasurer—John Golden.
After the business a social hour was enjoyed and a light luncheon served, many members contributing to the program, under the direction of Daniel A. Golden chairman of the entertainment committee.

Cornelius M. Duggan, feelingly read one of his poems, treating in long connection with the concern, entitled "Thirty Years in a Foundry."

MANET COUNCIL.

The officers of Manet Council, Royal Arcanum, were installed at Chan-McGregor hall Monday evening, January 14, by Past Division Commander E. Young and suite from Brockton directed the installation.

Refreshments were served and speeches were made by the officers and members the visiting suite.

The officers installed were:
Regent—James Birnie.
Vice Regent—Hugh McLean.
Treasurer—Alexander Smart.
Collector—

Sundays, 7.35. A. M. every 60 minutes to 10.35 P. M. Return, leave Squam-
m, 6.00, 6.30, 7.00, 7.30, 8.00, 8.30, 9.00
A. M. every 60 minutes to 5.00 P. M. en 5.30, 6.00, 6.30, 7.00, 8.00, 9.00, 10.00, 11.00 P. M. Wednesdays and aturdays, 11.50 P. M. Sundays, 15, 8.00 A. M. every 60 minutes to 10.00 P. M.

THOMAS GAMMON,
Superintendent.

[illegible]

The Quincy Patriot

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 1, 1913

LIBRARY BILL.

Several trustees of the Thomas Crane Public Library, together with Representatives Sullivan and Leslie appeared Thursday before the committee on Mercantile Affairs at the State House in favor of the bill which allows the library to hold more personal and real estate. The petitioners Morton Smith, George E. Adams, Geo. A. Sidelinger and Rev. Rufus B. Tooley were all recorded as being favorable to the bill. It was told to the committee that by its present charter the library is allowed to hold $200,000 worth of property. By the result of a recent inventory it was found that actually the library owns something over a quarter million dollars' worth, so that the permission for the right to hold more property must be forthcoming or the library will have to dispose of some of its holdings. To allow for future additions, which may come in the form of gifts or bequests, the trustees ask that the right to hold $750,000 worth of real and personal estate be granted them. There was no opposition to the bill, and the committee, in executive session, voted to report the bill to the House. It was entered for its first readings in the House Friday.

AGAINST STREET RAILWAY.

The verdicts amounting to $4500 obtained last May by Martin H. MacConnell against the Old Colony Street Railway company for the death of his little boy must stand according to a ruling made by Judge Brown in the Superior court Thursday on the motions of the defendant for new trials. The accident occurred on a Sunday afternoon in October 1909 on Sea Street opposite the Adams ferry when the little boy was struck by a trolley car.

The child, which was about a year and a half old, was at the door of the barn while the father stepped into the stable to tie a horse which had got loose. The little fellow ran across the lawn and street and onto the reservation, where it was run over by a street car on which a new motorman was being driven in.

When Mr. MacConnell found the child it was under the wheels, pinned down and mangled. The passengers were vainly and frantically trying to lift the car. They finally backed the car off the child's body and the boy was picked up in his arms and rushed to the child to the city hospital where amputations were performed, but the life could not be saved and the little fellow died next morning.

The company denied liability and refused to pay anything. Mr. MacConnell brought suit alleging due care on his own part and carelessness on the part of the company. The company put in evidence several photographs and the plaintiff asked that the jury be allowed to come to Quincy and view the place where the accident was done. The medical examiner's testimony showed that the shock to the child's nervous system was so great that he did not suffer much consciously. The jury awarded $500 for the suffering and $4000 for the death.

NEW PRESIDENT.

The unanimous election of Councilman John R. Richards as president and the instruction of the executive committee to appear in opposition to the bill calling for the elimination of party designations on the Municipal ballot which will be given a hearing at the State House in the near future were the principal points in the organization of the Republican City Committee Wednesday evening.

The officers elected were: President—John R. Richards. Vice President—Albert L. Whitman. Secretary—Harry G. Studley. Treasurer—Mrs. M. Whittemore. Louis F. R. Langelier was given a hearty vote of thanks for his good work while president and it was the sense of the meeting that they regretted his not accepting re-election.

HOSPITAL AID.

The annual meeting of the Hospital Aid Association was held Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. William R. Rice, Adams street. The following were elected officers for the ensuing year:

President—Mrs. Paul R. Blackman. First Vice President—Mrs. Frank S. Page.

Second Vice President—Mrs. George MacFarlane.

Secretary—Mrs. Elbert G. Olney. Treasurer—Miss Eta M. Prescott.

PUNCH BOWL PRESENTED.

A cut glass punch bowl was presented to Past Chief Diack at Clan McGregor Hall, Wednesday evening by Past Chief Oliver in behalf of the members of Clan McGregor. The presentation was attended with all the jollification ever present at one of the Clan's evenings. The gift was in appreciation of the accomplishments of Past Chief Diack who as head of the clan brought it to a more firm and substantial basis than heretofore.

A supper followed, John C. Murray being the toastmaster. Songs were rendered and the celebration closed by all uniting in singing Auld Lang Syne. Chief Angus Martin was unable to be present because of illness. The committee consisted of Thomas Johnston, William Erick, Norman Ross, Alex. Mayer, Charles Nicoll, David McIntosh and Angus Kerr.

BUILDING PERMITS.

Inspector of Buildings Warren S. Parker reports that the total number of building permits issued in January was 37 involving an expenditure of $59,927.65 as follows:

|              |           |                    |
|--------------|-----------|--------------------|
| Dwellings    | 15        | $48,080           |
| Cottages     | 5         | 3,900              |
| Storage      | 2         | 222.65             |
| Auto houses  | 4         | 405                |
| Alterations  | 9         | 7,320              |
| Removals     | 1         |                    |
| Total | 37 | $59,927.65 |

If the above is to be taken as an indication for the coming year it will show a considerable increase over last year, for in January 1912 the total number of permits was but 21 and the value $50,850.

The hat pin dimensions are still claiming considerable time and attention.

BRIEFS.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Rapoport entertained friends Sunday night at their home on Newcomb street.

His Honor Mayor Stone paid a short visit to the new headquarters of the Quincy Young Men's Hebrew Association Sunday night.

Rupert F. Claffin who was appointed member of the Board of Managers of the Adams Academy has declined to serve. Mayor Stone has not as yet filled the vacancy.

Miss Mary A. Lennon died Tuesday at her home 110 Brackett street, aged 56 years. She was a sister of John Lennon, a former superintendent of the old Quincy Gas Light Co.

Work has commenced on the cellar of the house to be erected for Mr. Loomis on Presidents hill at the corner of Dimmock street and Monroe road, opposite the Herbert Lawton estate.

Newton Y. M. C. A. had all of the luck in the games at the local association gym on Saturday night, winning out in the big game by the score of 21 to 19 and the second team game by 13 to 12.

The many friends of Mr. J. A. Sutherland of the well known firm, the Quincy Oil Co. will be glad to know that he is much improved in health and will soon be able to resume business again.

At a regular meeting of the John Adams Commandery, Knights of Malta, Monday evening at Elm hall, the members voted to put into effect on Feb. 24. The cast will be shown from the members.

Mr. William T. Donnelly of New York, the consulting engineer of the Grand Trunk Pacific R. R. and his daughter Gladys were the guests of Water Front Commissioner, Frank F. Crane for the week-end.

Mrs. Mary (Baker), widow of John Magee, died at her home in Dorchester, Tuesday, aged 79 years. The funeral was from Christ Church, Quincy, Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock and the burial was in Mt. Wollaston cemetery.

Ex-Mayor John O. Hall of this city appeared before the legislative committee in Boston, Wednesday to have the red flag in Massachusetts. He said that "every public spirited citizen in Massachusetts would welcome the abolition of the red flag."

James Robble of the Quincy Coal Co. had his right eye removed at the Quincy City Hospital Tuesday by Dr. Ryder. The eye was injured by the head of a screw driver which slipped off the head of a screw which he was setting in an electric light fixture in the garage.

John C. Smith of Stoughton, Me., formerly of Quincy in town, old, a few days vacation trip. Mr. Smith says that they have had very little snow in Maine and that it has been but little colder than in Massachusetts and little ice has been housed as yet.

Mayor Stone and City Solicitor McAnaney appeared before the committee on cities at the State House, Wednesday to advocate the passage of the bill which allows the Mayor to approve of width of new street before the construction. The committee will act favorably on the bill and report it into the House in a short while.

The annual mid winter chowder party of the Washington M. French hose association will be held at G. A. R. hall Saturday evening, February 15. The festivities will start with one of Asa Pope's famous chowders. This will be followed by brief addresses by some of the old veterans. A good time is assured the members and friends who attend.

T. Archie Leverage of this city was one of a considerable party entertained last week Wednesday afternoon at Battle Creek, Mich., by the Postum Cereal Co., on a tour of inspection through its factories. The collection of Mr. Post was an attractive feature of the visit, the collection including many notable paintings, statues and rare relics.

Past Grand Knight Edward Darrat of Quincy Council, Knights of Columbus, was chosen as a delegate from the Bishop Cheverus Fourth Degree Assembly to the district convention at Faneuil Hall on Washington's birthday. The assembly comprises 1200 fourth degree knights.

A substantial addition to the monthly trophies for January went to Rollin H. Newcomb, William R. Dimmock and Henry F. Tilden.

Although they filed their marriage intention last December, Miss Nellie Alnolda Loddengard, the 18 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nils Delander, 24 Deland street, and Albert, the 19 years old son of Mrs. Albert A. Whitney of Lynn, were not married until Wednesday. The ceremony was performed by City Clerk Emory L. Crane at City Hall. The consent of Mrs. Whitney to the marriage because of the son being a minor was easily obtained. The groom is a piano tuner by trade.

City Messenger Harry W. Tirrell, vice president of the Massachusetts City Messengers' club and Ezekiel C. Sargent, City Engineer attended a fifteenth semi-annual dinner of the City Messengers' club in Boston Saturday afternoon. It was voted that the silver anniversary of the club should be celebrated in Quincy Saturday June 28. Plans for this celebration are not as yet complete but it is planned that a supper dinner at Norton's, Hough Neck will be one of the attractions of the afternoon.

Building Inspector Warren S. Parker has records kept by his father and his ancestors tending to show the present winter is the mildest ever. "It was unusually warm," January of 1864 was unusually mild and there was no frost in the ground in January, 1870. The mercury stood at 76 in the shade in January, 1876. The diaries show that remarkably cool summers followed these mild winters.

BRIEFS.

St. Stephens chapter R. A. M. is to hold a smoke talk in the Masonic apartments Wednesday evening, Feb. 12.

A delegation from Abigail Adams Circle, No. 11, I. C. of A. Wednesday night attended the installation of the officers of the Somerville Circle.

Mrs. Dexter E. Wadsworth and her father, Col. Edward Anderson of Presidents hill are to pass the month of February and March at Hotel Thorndike, Boston.

The many friends of Mr. Herbert Seldon will be glad to hear that he is improving rapidly from an operation which was performed at the Carney Hospital last week.

A delegation of members of the Quincy Young Men's Hebrew Association attended the concert and ball given by the Taunton Y. M. H. A. on Wednesday night.

The annual ball of the Galway Men's Club Association at Mechanics hall, Boston, Thursday evening was attended by 25 delegates from Quincy, including Vice President Thomas F. Flaherty.

Faxon Loyal Temperance Legion held their next regular meeting in Protection hall on Thursday afternoon, Feb. 6 at 4:15 to which all school children were invited. Mrs. Isabelle Davis is the Leader.

At the third degree held under the auspices of the Westmoreland Council, Knights of Columbus at Westmoreland, Wednesday evening, 50 members of Quincy and Ave Maria Councils attended. The work was conducted by District Deputies O'Brien and Gately.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Hersey of Medford were in town this week visiting old friends, not having been here since November. After many years residence here they enjoy frequent visits to their old home, although very happy in their new location, being near their only son Walter Hersey and family.

The next regular meeting of the Quincy Women's Christian Temperance Union will be held in Bethany church Thursday Feb. 6 at 2:30 P. M. Miss Phebe Clifford of Plymouth will give an eloquent lecture on the success of the general work of temperance being done all over the country. As it is free to the public, one cannot afford to lose this opportunity to hear Miss Clifford.

Miss Annie Hayward, daughter of Mr. William V. Hayward died at her home 55 Chestnut street, Friday afternoon aged about 55 years. Miss Hayward has been ill for a long time and during the past few days had been rallied so much so that she could not survive long.

A temporary organization of the Democratic city committee was effected at a meeting in the Johnson building Thursday evening. It was voted that those present were opposed to the abolition of party designations and that an effort should be made to form a solid opposition. Another meeting will be held on Feb. 11. William Kelly was chosen chairman and William J. Sullivan, secretary.

The entering classes varied very much in the different schools but a sufficient number entered to necessitate sending additional assistants to the different schools. In the Johnson building Thursday evening. It was voted that those present were opposed to the abolition of party designations and that an effort should be made to form a solid opposition. Another meeting will be held on Feb. 11. William Kelly was chosen chairman and William J. Sullivan, secretary.

The funeral of Miss Mary A. Lennon who died Tuesday took place Friday morning from her home 110 Brackett street, at 10 o'clock. The service was celebrated at St. John's church, by Rev. Fr. John J. Casey. Solos were sung by Mrs. Mary Burns King and Miss Eva Rice, under the direction of John Mahon, organist. Burial was in St. Mary's cemetery. The deceased was 56 years of age and was a former Superintendent John Lennon of the Quincy Gas Light Co.

The entertainment committee of Mt. Wollaston lodge, No. 89, I. O. O. F. is busy making arrangements for their annual ball to be held in Music hall, February 27. There will be promenade concert followed by dancing till 2 A. M. when special cars will be waiting. The committee is Charles Baron, chairman; Frank L. Carlton, treasurer; A. H. Dunstan, secretary; W. A. Richards, C. H. Wood, M. Swanson, William S. Esau, C. S. Jones, A. S. Gomez and Edward McDonald.

Secretary Hall of the Board of Trade reports that the arrangements for the annual banquet of the Board on Feb. 13, are progressing favorably. The committee have been unable to get Senator Weeks as he has a previous engagement. It has however secured Lieut. Gov. Walsh and Mrs. Norton of Cambridge, President of the Women's City League. Secretary Hall has also communicated with Congressman Gilmore of Brockton and he is in hopes that he may be secured.

Officer Avery recovered two overcoats Wednesday in a pawn shop on Pleasant street, Boston that had been stolen from the High school, Monday. The coats recovered belonged to Thomas Thompson and Richard Ash. On the same day two raincoats owned by Edward Foy and Thomas Moran were also stolen at the High school. These have not been recovered. The description of the two men who pawned the overcoats answers the description of two men seen prowling about the school shortly before the school closed on Monday.

Mrs. Henry L. Kincaide, Mrs. Charles Alden, Mrs. Jesse I. Litchfield and Mrs. Frederick E. Jones are to matron the young peoples German on Saturday afternoon in aid of the Quincy Day Nursery and the following will act as ushers: Karl Pfaffmann, Henry H. Faxon, Richard Blackmar, Joseph Dasha, Jr., Otto McDonald, Mrs. James Hennessey, Earl Richardson, Paul Combs, Stanley Cummings, Horton Page, Richard De Normandie, Fred Rollins, Ralph Alden, Sherman Brokaw, Stanley Richards, Russell Sanborn, Dunford Bruce, Franklin Street, Robert Park, Joseph Barber, Bravton Blake, Thomas Barstow, Jack Doble, Wilard Alveker, Roger Burgin, Edmund Whitteford, Frederic Schenckler, Robert McAnaney, Donald Parker, William B. Rice, Robert Wetmore, Alton Newcomb and Malcolm Alton.

SOUTH QUINCY.

The Ladies Aid of the First Presbyterian church is to give an entertainment and tea in the lecture room, Wednesday evening.

Thomas Nicholson, of Bath, Maine, formerly of this city is spending a week with his parents, on Franklin street.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Berman, of Franklin street spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Bieger, of Dorchester.

Friends of W. N. Spencer will be glad to know that he has recovered to the extent of being able to get about on crutches.

Henry F. Prario, a former resident of South Quincy has recently been elected superintendent of the First Baptist church in Lexington.

Miss Beatrice Rothwell, teacher at the Adams school and Miss Mary McConnell, last week visited Miss Lucy Mitchell who is teaching in Newton.

Miss Lillian Deacon who was taken to the hospital at 21 o'clock on Feb. 6 at 4:15 to which all school children were invited. Mrs. Isabelle Davis is the Leader.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Christensen of 312 Quincy avenue are receiving congratulations on the arrival of a young son. The little stranger arrived Sunday. Mother and child are doing well.

A whist party was given Monday by Mrs. M. O'Neill at her home on Franklin street. Souvenirs were awarded as follows: Mrs. Denton, 42 points; Mrs. Joseph Dasha, 42 points; Mrs. Joseph Dasha, 38 points; Mrs. Louis Berman, 37 points; and Mrs. McIntosh, 30 points and consolations to Mrs. W. T. Lillie, 18 points and Mrs. Newcombe, 14 points.

With an inward bound express train in sight Joseph Dasha, age 22, of 25 Penn street, tried to cross under the gates at Quincy Adams crossing Sunday evening, was struck by the advancing engine and tossed clear over the gates. He landed in a heap on the ground and witnesses hurried to the spot. He died at the Quincy City Hospital at 11:15 o'clock Sunday night.

Miss Emmina Caruso, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carmine Caruso of 32 Water street and Vincenzo DeCarlo son of Mr. and Mrs. Antonio DeCarlo of 10 Payne street were married at Boston, Jan. 26 by Rev. Fr. Francis Bert.

Vincenzo Stangio of 42 Water street and Rosa Purpora of 168 Water street were married at the office of the city clerk, Wednesday by Emory L. Crane.

The date for the play "Mr. Bob" at the C. E. Society of the First Presbyterian church has been set for Wednesday evening, February 19 and promises a very enjoyable evening for all who attend.

A meeting of the C. A. A. girls was held at the home of Miss A. Labarsky on Wednesday night. The subject was "The C. A. A. girls in the future." The election will be held next Sunday. A social hour followed the meeting.

Rev. Carl Abrahamson, a Finnish preacher, 61 years old who is touring the country, preached at the morning service of the Finnish Congregational church, Wednesday evening.

Miss Ada Bloomfield, of Dover N. H. is spending a few days with Miss Sadie Berman of Franklin street.

William Bogorod, of Franklin street left Thursday for New York city and an extended trip to Columbus O. and other cities.

Edward Berman, of Franklin street was best man at the wedding of his cousin, Miss R. Berger, to Morris Seashul at the Brunswick Hall, Roxbury, Thursday night.

QUINCY POINT.

One of the largest contracting firms in Boston has this week secured an option on quite a large tract of land on Quincy Town river, consisting of upland and beach and running to the channel.

Friends of William Wolf of Cyril street will be pleased to learn that the condition of his broken arm is much better.

Miss Helen M. Lincoln of Quincy Point played a Schubert impromptu in A flat major, at a recital in Boston Saturday afternoon by the choir of the New England Conservatory of Music which was received with appreciative applause.

Monday evening the Town River Yacht club held its weekly whist party at the clubhouse, Edison park. An enjoyable evening was spent by the winners of souveniers were Stewart Foster and Commodore Thompson B. Crane. Dancing followed the whist.

The alarm from Box 723 at 9:45 Monday was for a slight fire in the pump house of the Quincy Gas Light Co. at 475 South street and was caused by Francis Wade, his four year old son playing with matches.

The members of the Quincy Point church Men's Club have planned to give their friends a merry evening at their third annual entertainment, Monday evening at the Adams school, which is to take the form of a "minstrel musicale," will be a black face affair, with the circle in full evening dress and the ends in fancy costume. Under the able direction of Henry W. French the show has been ready to go on for some time at the recent rehearsals and the committee in charge headed by the versatile Jack Johnston, who by the way is to purvey the local tidbits are looking forward to a bumper show.

The program will be a continuous one, with music in play. The choir and soloists will have an opening at 7:30 South street and was caused by Francis Wade, his four year old son playing with matches.

The members of the Quincy Point church Men's Club have planned to give their friends a merry evening at their third annual entertainment, Monday evening at the Adams school, which is to take the form of a "minstrel musicale," will be a black face affair, with the circle in full evening dress and the ends in fancy costume. Under the able direction of Henry W. French the show has been ready to go on for some time at the recent rehearsals and the committee in charge headed by the versatile Jack Johnston, who by the way is to purvey the local tidbits are looking forward to a bumper show.

The program will be a continuous one, with music in play. The choir and soloists will have an opening at 7:30 South street and was caused by Francis Wade, his four year old son playing with matches.

The members of the Quincy Point church Men's Club have planned to give their friends a merry evening at their third annual entertainment, Monday evening at the Adams school, which is to take the form of a "minstrel musicale," will be a black face affair, with the circle in full evening dress and the ends in fancy costume. Under the able direction of Henry W. French the show has been ready to go on for some time at the recent rehearsals and the committee in charge headed by the versatile Jack Johnston, who by the way is to purvey the local tidbits are looking forward to a bumper show.

The program will be a continuous one, with music in play. The choir and soloists will have an opening at 7:30 South street and was caused by Francis Wade, his four year old son playing with matches.

The members of the Quincy Point church Men's Club have planned to give their friends a merry evening at their third annual entertainment, Monday evening at the Adams school, which is to take the form of a "minstrel musicale," will be a black face affair, with the circle in full evening dress and the ends in fancy costume. Under the able direction of Henry W. French the show has been ready to go on for some time at the recent rehearsals and the committee in charge headed by the versatile Jack Johnston, who by the way is to purvey the local tidbits are looking forward to a bumper show.

The program will be a continuous one, with music in play. The choir and soloists will have an opening at 7:30 South street and was caused by Francis Wade, his four year old son playing with matches.

The members of the Quincy Point church Men's Club have planned to give their friends a merry evening at their third annual entertainment, Monday evening at the Adams school, which is to take the form of a "minstrel musicale," will be a black face affair, with the circle in full evening dress and the ends in fancy costume. Under the able direction of Henry W. French the show has been ready to go on for some time at the recent rehearsals and the committee in charge headed by the versatile Jack Johnston, who by the way is to purvey the local tidbits are looking forward to a bumper show.

The program will be a continuous one, with music in play. The choir and soloists will have an opening at 7:30 South street and was caused by Francis Wade, his four year old son playing with matches.

The members of the Quincy Point church Men's Club have planned to give their friends a merry evening at their third annual entertainment, Monday evening at the Adams school, which is to take the form of a "minstrel musicale," will be a black face affair, with the circle in full evening dress and the ends in fancy costume. Under the able direction of Henry W. French the show has been ready to go on for some time at the recent rehearsals and the committee in charge headed by the versatile Jack Johnston, who by the way is to purvey the local tidbits are looking forward to a bumper show.

The program will be a continuous one, with music in play. The choir and soloists will have an opening at 7:30 South street and was caused by Francis Wade, his four year old son playing with matches.

The members of the Quincy Point church Men's Club have planned to give their friends a merry evening at their third annual entertainment, Monday evening at the Adams school, which is to take the form of a "minstrel musicale," will be a black face affair, with the circle in full evening dress and the ends in fancy costume. Under the able direction of Henry W. French the show has been ready to go on for some time at the recent rehearsals and the committee in charge headed by the versatile Jack Johnston, who by the way is to purvey the local tidbits are looking forward to a bumper show.

The program will be a continuous one, with music in play. The choir and soloists will have an opening at 7:30 South street and was caused by Francis Wade, his four year old son playing with matches.

The members of the Quincy Point church Men's Club have planned to give their friends a merry evening at their third annual entertainment, Monday evening at the Adams school, which is to take the form of a "minstrel musicale," will be a black face affair, with the circle in full evening dress and the ends in fancy costume. Under the able direction of Henry W. French the show has been ready to go on for some time at the recent rehearsals and the committee in charge headed by the versatile Jack Johnston, who by the way is to purvey the local tidbits are looking forward to a bumper show.

WEST QUINCY.

S. H. Wentworth, local preacher, occupied the pulpit of the Hall Place M. E. church, Sunday in the absence of Rev. T. C. Martin. In the morning he preached from the text: "Who's Who in Boston?" in the evening he preached from the text: "Acts 10:38."

Next Sunday at the devotional service of Epworth league the second vice-president, J. L. Martin will continue the study of Mormonism.

Lucius Longendyke formerly of West Quincy and the oldest member of Paul Revere Post G. A. R. died at the home of his daughter Mrs. Eastman on Holbrook street, Neponset, Jan. 24, aged 83 years. During the civil war Mr. Longendyke served his country in the 18th Mass. infantry. He resided for many years in West Quincy, but on the death of his wife several years ago he made his home with his daughter. His death was due to infirmities incident to old age. Funeral services were held from the home of his daughter, Mrs. Eastman on Holbrook street, Neponset, Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock and were attended by members of Paul Revere Post in a body.

Rev. John E. Lillback, has moved from the house which was visited by some two weeks ago and has now taken his abode at night club, Deacon John Zugala's house, 48 Albernata street. His daughters, Edith, Ellen and Gertrude are still seriously ill and Ellen had a period of delirium last week, which was quite alarming.

Mrs. John A. Matson, 38 years old, died here Monday night. Her husband had come to Quincy to secure work, and while he was here, she was taken with pneumonia. Telephone communication was made with Rev. John E. Lillback early Sunday night and the latter was told in slight detail of the death and trying to locate the husband. Finally word came that the wife was dead and a short time afterwards the husband was located and made all haste home to arrange for the funeral.

John Joseph Drohan, a conductor employed by the Bay State Street Railway and Miss Annie Aznes Powers of Worcester were married at that city, Jan. 26 by Rev. William H. Goggin. The groom is the son of Mrs. John Drohan of 13 Common street, West Quincy, and is well and favored. He has been throughout the city, the West Products Refining Co., New York has very kindly presented to the Willard school a corn exhibit containing thirty five specimens illustrating the various products and by-products derived from corn.

Miss Jessie McDonnell of Willard street, returned Tuesday from a trip to Jamaica in fine health and spirit. Miss McDonnell is a trained nurse and well known in this city.

Pearl Rummells of Common street, one of West Quincy's best known residents, is in Florida.

PARK AND DOWNS.

Rev. and Mrs. Leander C. Manchester and Miss Alice W. Manchester of Davis street at Southern Pines, North Carolina for the rest of the season.

Mrs. Elsie D. Atkins of Bromfield street returned the first of the week from the hospital and is convalescing most favorably considering the serious operation which she underwent though she will be up stairs for another week. Mrs. Atkins has friends who are keeping her room bright with bouquets and flowering plants and she appreciates very much these tokens of affectionate thought.

Mrs. E. E. Whittle of Westley, R. I. is the guest of Mrs. Joseph K. Barber of Elm avenue.

One of the most interesting patriotic meetings held in this city in a long time was enjoyed Friday, Jan. 24, at the Quincy Mansion school where by the faculty, pupils and friends, when Charles H. Johnson gave his illustrated lecture on "The American Flag." The fine pictures shown by the skillful hand of W. F. Perry, who operated the lantern and the earnest stirring words of the lecturer coupled with the singing of patriotic songs, illustrating the lecture, filled in an evening enjoyed by all. The enthusiasm of the pupils in joining in the chorus of the spirit of patriotism seemed contagious.

Mrs. Arthur P. Ropes of Wollaston gave a very interesting talk on her trip to Venice and through Italy at a regular meeting of Current Events Club Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Joseph K. Barber, Elm avenue.

ATLANTIC.

H. O. Cassidy of Atlantic is to take a month's vacation which he will spend partly in New York.

Ex-Councilman Frank E. Badger of Civic street is in Philadelphia on a business trip.

Miss Belle Moseley of Atlantic street is expected to be given by the Wollaston Methodist church beginning Feb. 5, when Bishop John W. Hamilton will lecture on "Who's Who in Boston." This deals largely with early Quincy history and its people.

An entertainment and lecture course of six evenings is to be given by the Wollaston Methodist church beginning Feb. 5, when Bishop John W. Hamilton will lecture on "Who's Who in Boston." This deals largely with early Quincy history and its people.

An unusual musical treat has been prepared for Sunday morning at Memorial church. The choir will sing the Hallelujah chorus from "The Messiah," and "Gloria" and Mrs. W. C. Hill, Mendelssohn's "O Rest in the Lord." The choir will be assisted by four violinists, Miss Anne Dahl, Miss Mary Beal, Miss Emma Walker, and Miss Emma Crockett, John C. Ward is the director of the chorus.

Frederick Purdy of Atlantic street, has added another valuable French bulldog to his kennel. This new dog he expects will win over some of the best dogs in the country.

Mrs. Sanford Small of Billings street who was operated on at the Women's Charity Club Hospital Monday for appendicitis is reported as improving rapidly. Dr. Maria Drew was with Mrs. Small at the Hospital the three days succeeding the operation.

Mrs. John A. Murray of Faxon road has been confined to her home several days this week with a grip cold.

The boys of Atlantic are happy because a Knights of King Arthur Chapter is to be started in connection with Memorial church. It is expected that early next week, one of the leaders from Bethany church will tell of its success in Quincy. The club will include most of the boys of the Sunday school and W. F. Cummings, superintendent will be in charge of the club.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Harding of Botolph street, are spending the week end with their daughter, Mrs. Coyle Allan, of Worcester.

WARM JANUARY.

Some idea of what a mild month January has been can be realized by the mercury reading. The lowest point the thermometer reached at noon, Jan. 13, was 23 above zero. The warmest day at noon during the month was on Jan. 19, when the temperature was 69 above. The average noon temperature for January was 43 plus.

Mrs. Joseph Gill, who has been staying with her sister, Mrs. Alva Beede of Appletton street for some time on account of illness has almost recovered and was able to go to her home in Dorchester this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas M. Cunningham of Clinton were week end guests of Mrs. William E. Elmer E. Gray of Newton street.

The Criterion whist club of Atlantic has postponed its meeting to have been held with Mrs. Lily of Newbury avenue, on account of Mrs. Lily's illness. The meeting on Feb. 2, will be with Mrs. Lillian Ferguson of Atlantic street.

Mr. and Mrs. Alva Beede, of Appletton street are at Billerica, to attend the wedding of Mr. Beede's cousin, Roy Spaulding.

Mrs. Joseph Gill, who has been staying with her sister, Mrs. Alva Beede of Appletton street for some time on account of illness has almost recovered and was able to go to her home in Dorchester this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas M. Cunningham of Clinton were week end guests of Mrs. William E. Elmer E. Gray of Newton street.

WOLLASTON.

Bishop

The Quincy Patriot

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 8, 1913

YESTER SERVICE.

A vesper service is to be held in the Wollaston Unitarian church Sunday at 4.30 with the following order of service:

Organ Prelude
Call to Worship
The Lord's Prayer chanted by the Quartet
Anthem: Though I speak with the tongues of men and angels—Klein Responsive Reading from the Psalms
Chant: Now unto the King eternal
Hymn
Anthem: Will there be any Stars in my Crown—Arranged
Scripture Reading
Tenor Solo: Repentance—Gounod
Prayer
Response: Lead us, O Father—Atkinson
Hymn
Offertory
Anthem: He leadeth me—Arranged
Sermon
Hymn
Benediction
Congregation sings:
Let the words of my mouth
And the meditation of my heart
Be acceptable in Thy sight,
O Lord, my Strength and my Redeemer. Amen.

Organ Postlude
Music by the Standish Male quartet of Boston.

ANTI-SUFFRAGE LUNCHEON.

The Massachusetts Anti-Suffrage Association is to hold a large luncheon at Hotel Somerset, Boston Tuesday, at one o'clock, when over 500 women will be present and nearly every one of the 52 branches of the Association in all parts of the State will be represented. After luncheon speeches will be made by Miss Alice Hill Chittenden, of New York, who will talk on the condition of affairs in New York State, the work of the New York State Association, and the work of the newly formed National Association. Ex-Senator George L. Barnes the new senior counsel of the Massachusetts Association will speak about the work in this Commonwealth. Mrs. James M. Codman of Brookline, who is acting president during the absence of Miss Mary E. Ames in Europe will preside. A reception will precede the luncheon, and in the receiving line will be Mrs. Codman, Mrs. Charles P. Strong, Mrs. J. Randolph Coolidge, Mrs. Henry M. Whitney, Mrs. C. D. Homans, Mrs. Richard M. Saltonstall, Miss Evelyn Sears and Mrs. Henry P. White.

LENTEN SERVICES.

Special mid-week services for the deepening of the moral and religious life will be held in the Wollaston Unitarian church Wednesday evenings during Lent. All the services will be conducted by prominent out-of-town clergymen.

The preachers and dates are as follows:
Feb. 12—Rev. Chester A. Drummond, First Congregational Church, Somerville.
Feb. 19—Rev. Henry C. Parker, First Unitarian Parish, Woburn.
Feb. 26—Rev. Thomas Van Ness, Second Unitarian Church, Brookline.
March 5—Rev. Sydney Snow, King's Chapel, Boston.

March 12—Rev. Roger S. Forbes, First Parish, Dorchester.
March 19—Rev. Dudley H. Ferrell, Unity Church, Brookline.
The hour of service is 7.45. The public is cordially invited.

MEMORIAL LIBRARY.

At the recent graduation of the grammar grade class of thirty-five, School 57, Indianapolis, Indiana, with which Allen Fay Spear, late son of Mrs. W. R. Spear, formerly of Randolph, was having a reunion, he had lived so to do, Mr. and Mrs. Spear presented to the school a beautiful "Allen Fay Spear Memorial Library." A mahogany case with a capacity of four hundred volumes and containing one hundred and thirty-two volumes, embracing many choice reference books suited to the eight grades; a set of seventeen volumes of Nature Study, also twenty volumes of International Encyclopedia (partly the gift of the class) all carefully selected as the best by the school board and teachers, and accepted in behalf of the city by one of its school commissioners as the first gift of its kind to the city, and by speeches of acceptance by the president of the Mothers club, and by the president of Butler college, supplemented by dedicatory exercises by the graduating class. Mrs. Spear will be remembered by Quincy residents as Hattie Maude Fay, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Fay who resided for many years on Greenleaf street, during Mr. Fay's connection with the Quincy Mutual Fire Insurance Co.

ANTI-SUFFRAGE MEETING.

The Massachusetts Anti-Suffrage Association held a public rally Tuesday evening, at eight o'clock in the Faneuil Hall, Boston. It is of interest to note that this is the first public rally this Association has ever held in Boston, although it now numbers nearly 18,000 members in all parts of the state. The presiding officer will be the Honorable John A. Sullivan, Chairman of the Finance Committee of Boston and the speakers Miss Minnie Bronson, formerly special agent of the Department of Commerce and Labor, Wollaston, D. C. and Frederick P. Fish, Chairman of the State Board of Education.

QUINCY MINISTERS' ASSOCIATION.

The Ministerial Association of Quincy holds its regular monthly meeting in the Y. M. C. A. parlors Tuesday morning, at 10.30 o'clock, and will listen to an address by Harry Phillips, one of England's most brilliant and popular speakers on social and industrial questions and eugenics. His solution of the way out of the present labor unrest is the principle of co-operation and co-partnership in the fullest and fairest sense.

All interested in lighting fixtures for their homes and public buildings, should not fail to see the display of McKenney & Waterbury Co., 181 Franklin street, corner Congress, Boston, practical installers of electric and gas lighting fixtures, showing the latest eye saving lighting fixtures, including the new Equilux and Ray line.

BRIEFS.

The Quincy Women's club has been incorporated under the laws of Massachusetts.
Miss Ella Wheeler of Nantucket, formerly of this city, is the guest of friends here for a short visit.
Ex-Commander John of Greenleaf street, left Saturday afternoon en route for Georgia, where he will engage in a tour of study with friends.
Mayor Stone announced on Monday morning the appointment of Mr. E. B. Plummer as a member of the Board of Managers of the Adams Academy in place of Rupert F. Clavin resigned.

Abraham Tolpin of Jackson street, entertained a large number of friends Sunday afternoon, the occasion being the celebration of his twentieth birthday. Friends were present from Boston and Lynn.

The funeral of Victor Gustafson of Cranch street was held Sunday afternoon from the Swedish Congregational church, services being conducted by Rev. George W. Palmgren. The burial was at Mt. Wollaston cemetery.

Sealer of Weights and Measures James M. Cantill is getting after peddlers who are violating the law relative to the use of scales in the selling of vegetables and by using scales which have not been promptly sealed.

Holliston High school, championship basketball ball claimants in the state, followed up the acceptance of their challenge by Quincy High school by defeating the local team in the high school gym Friday, Jan. 31, 21 to 15.

The alarm from box 29 Wednesday morning was for a slight fire in the basement of the house of John Swinton at 47 Butler road. The fire was caused by a nut that had been placed over the furnace catching fire. There was no loss.

The regular monthly meeting of the Quincy School Masters' club was held in the library of the high school Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. Ivan J. Smith, sub-master of the high school led the discussion. There was the usual large attendance at the meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Hutchinson Mitchell came over from Brooklyn, N.Y. Sunday, where they have made their home for three months. Mrs. Mitchell is to spend the winter with her parents as Mr. Mitchell has been assigned to duty at Panama leaving directly for that port.

The funeral of Miss Annie L. Hayward of Chestnut street was held from the high school church Wednesday evening. The services were conducted by Rev. A. L. Hudson, pastor of the First church. During the services Mrs. Emma S. Moore sang. There was a profusion of beautiful flowers. The burial was at Scituate.

Osborne Rogers of 1072 Hancock street entertained a few friends at a card party, Saturday evening when the guests enjoyed a spirited game of hearts. The prizes being awarded to Miss Laurence Penman and William Edwards. This was followed by games, music and dancing. Refreshments were also served.

One of the social events of mid February each year is the Valentine dance in aid of the Quincy Day Nursery. It will be particularly appropriate this year because of being held St. Valentine's night. Mrs. E. E. Jameson and committee are planning to make much of the event and it promises to be a large social affair.

The alarm from Box 24 at 10.14 P. M. Jan. 31 was for a fire on the awning in front of the Ladies' store on Maple street. There was a high wind blowing at the time and it is thought that this caused the awning in swinging to come in contact with the gas lamp. A chemical stream extinguished the fire. The damage was slight.

The bronze statue of Roger Conant by Henry H. Kistner was unveiled Jan. 31 at the Art Museum at the residence of the Conant family. The monument is to be permanently set up on Washington street in June and is erected by the Conant family in the memory of Roger Conant the founder of Salem and the first Governor of the Massachusetts Bay colony.

The first grasshopper of the season was reported Saturday. It was found by Mrs. John T. Cavanaugh of Houghton street as she was walking in the yard. The grasshopper is being shown with all the attention due an unusual visitor and it will be liberated. Its present abode is behind the kitchen stove.

Miss Catherine Gertrude Kennedy of 12 Beacon street, Cranch Hill and Patrick Joseph Connolly were married in marriage, Tuesday evening, by Napoleon B. Farnall, J. P. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Kennedy and is chief night operator at the Quincy exchange of the Telephone Company. The groom is employed as conductor by the Bay State Street Railway Company.

Mrs. Henrietta Files conducted her first initiation since she assumed the duties of worthy matron of Quincy chapter, O. E. S. at the regular meeting in Electa hall Monday evening. Two candidates were accepted. Plans for a ball after the close of the Lenten season were talked over and William E. Tarbox was chosen as chairman of the committee. The new chapter was secured through the efforts of the Dramatic Club was used for the first time. Refreshments were served.

Several from Quincy were present Saturday night at the joint banquet of the Old Colony and Salpatriat Rod and Gun clubs at the South station, Boston. President Arthur P. Russell of the Salpatriat club presided and among those at the head table were from Quincy: George W. Holden, the retiring president of the Old Colony club. Others present from Quincy were Louis E. Crosscup, Sidney F. Hardwick, William C. Sealey, Harry L. Rice, Walter H. Sturgess and Dr. George M. Sheahan.

A good time and a boom for Bro. A. R. Mackay were the objects Monday night of the Heptastochs and other speakers were made to the Washington trip in the Daily Ledger conference. Now it is evident where Mr. Mackay gets his great strength in a contest, for the New Colonial hall was crowded with friends. Not only were Granite convales, Improved Order Heptastochs and employees of the Tabular Relief and Stud Co., well represented with ladies, but several members of out-of-town conclaves were present, crowding the hall.

BRIEFS.

Jack Kadets of Malden has become associated with the Norfolk Clothing Co.
Mrs. Max Abramson of Woonsocket, R. I. has been guest for a few days of Mrs. L. Berman.
Although Feb. 12 is not a public holiday all the schools of the city will observe it with some form of special exercises.
Mrs. E. I. Wood left this week for Newark, New Jersey, for a month's visit to her daughter Mrs. Cecil Blanchard.

A delegation from the Quincy Y. M. H. A. attended the reception and dance given by the Boston Y. M. H. A. Thursday night.
The lunch room at the high school is having a very successful year, its receipts averaging from $15 to $18 per day, easily covering all expenses.

The W. C. T. U. met in the parlors of Bethany church Tuesday afternoon to hear Mrs. Phoebe Clifford of Lowell, president of the Massachusetts W. C. T. U. speak on temperance.

Dogs which have been licensed this year will be required to wear a tag with their official number as the City Clerk has decided this year to use the tag system on licensed dogs.

Miss Marguerite S. Lyons of the City Clerks office was sworn in by the Secretary of State on Friday as a special commissioner. This gives her the power to accept acknowledgments, etc., in the absence of City Clerk Crane.

Capt. Daniel R. McKay of the police department was discharged Thursday from the Quincy City Hospital where he had been operated on for gall stones. He is in good condition and expects to resume his duties within a short time.

Appropriate services were held in all Catholic churches Wednesday evening with benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament. Music was furnished by the regular choirs, Friday evening there were the Stations of the Cross devotions.

A new motor boat muffling will be before the legislature and another provision calls for the expenditure of $18,000 for the construction of a boat to enable the state police to enforce the law against those who do not have mufflers on their boats.

There was a good attendance at the weekly tournament of the Quincy City club, Wednesday evening. Nine tables being in play. The two best scores were made by Harry Fennell and John Curtis. After the play Dr. H. Almon Jones served a Venetian rabbit.

The last dance before Lent was given by the Manet Social Club at Music Hall, Tuesday evening. The members, most of whom are numbered among the most popular young men of the city, were unusually engaged in assisting the large number that attended.

The Trustees of the Thomas Crane Public Library met at the library Wednesday evening and organized for the year with Charles R. Safford as Chairman, Morton Smith as secretary, and Henry McGraith as treasurer. The resignation of the Junior Michael Guess was accepted to take effect March 1.

Members of Quincy Teachers' Association which some time ago joined Massachusetts Teachers' Federation, are being asked to interest themselves in hearings at the State House, Boston, on proposed teachers' retirement and tenure of office acts. These two bills represent the Federation's first important legislative work.

The speaker at the Saturday morning meeting in the Y. M. C. A. gym this week is to be Rev. A. L. Hudson, pastor of First church. Admission to the meeting and to the Boys rooms is by ticket only. Special Saturday morning tickets have been issued and may be procured from members of the Boys department or at the Y. M. C. A. building.

Dock and Water Front Commissioners Frank Fessenden Crane and delegates from the Board of Trade have been invited to attend an informal dinner to be given by the Boston Chamber of Commerce Feb. 15, for a conference on inland waterways development, several ladies affecting Mass. and the water front is now being before the legislature.

Officer Robert E. Stewart of the Metropolitan police who was injured in this Blue Hill Reservation Thursday afternoon was taken from the central station, Mattapan, to the Massachusetts General Hospital in the Quincy police ambulance. The request was made shortly after six o'clock and immediately granted by Chief of Police Burrell.

Representative Leslie was piloting Officer Wedger of the state police about town Wednesday. The main object of the visit of the state officer was to inspect the air tank at the yard of Reed & Vander, which blew up several weeks ago. Representative Leslie has a bill before the Legislature regarding the care of compressed air tanks and is looking up pointers.

Mr. and Mrs. Nils R. Herdelin and two children of Euclid avenue, are to sail from Boston, Tuesday for Sweden. Mr. Herdelin has been employed as a draftsman at the Fore River shipyard, but has accepted a good offer from the shipyard at Bofors in his native Sweden. The family is en route to Gothenburg was secured through the agency of C. F. Carlson.

Word has been received in Quincy this week of the death at Philadelphia, Feb. 1, of Hon. Frank D. Lanne a member of the Atlantic Deep-sea Waterways Association, who was quite well known in Quincy. Mr. Lanne was appointed by President Taft as a member of the peace conference in the Hague and was one of the members of the International Navigation Congress, that visited Quincy last summer.

George B. Munroe who has been the manager of Woolworth's Five and Ten cent store since its establishment in Quincy has been transferred by the company to their store in Burlington, Vt., for which place he will leave in a few days. Since his residence in Quincy Mr. Munroe has made many friends among the business men of the city. He is a man who devotes his time strictly to business and has entered but little into the social life of the city. His business friends wish him all success in his new location.

BRIEFS.

The Wollaston Forum meets in the Wollaston Unitarian church tomorrow noon, subject: The Widowed Mothers' Pension bill, leader: Mrs. Robert E. Park. All are welcome.

W. L. Hubbard publicity manager of the Boston Opera Company is to address the Quincy Women's club. As all the club dates are full a special meeting will be held and an enjoyable afternoon is sure to result.

Lysander S. Richards gave an address at Marshfield Farmers' Institute upon "How to grow a handsome profitable apple." Mr. Richards' apple orchard has the reputation of being the only modern orchard in this part of the state. It is right up to date in every particular.

The parish committee of the First church announce an interesting series of sermons by Rev. Adolph Leithrup Hudson at Stone Temple on Sunday mornings during Lent. The subject for Sunday will be "The Present Significance and Practical Value of Lent."

Subscriptions to the Quincy Daily Ledger are going to play an important part in the Washington contest trip the next two weeks. A thousand votes more or less will count big when the polls close. Ten subscriptions means 10,000 votes, 25 means 25,000 votes and so on. A canvass of the city is being made by some of the contestants and the ultimate result of the votes cannot even be predicted.

A regular meeting of the Scandia Lodge, Order of Vasa at Protection hall Thursday evening was followed by dancing and an entertainment. Refreshments were served. The ladies planned to hold a dancing party at the New Colonial Hall, Feb. 22 under the direction of the refreshment committee consisting of Miss Hilma Johnson, Mrs. Hilma O'Brien, Miss Alfrida Carlson, Oscar Johnson, Wilfred Anderson and Carl Boenervia.

SOUTH QUINCY.

A whist party was given by Mrs. M. O'Neill, of Franklin street at her home Monday evening and souvenirs were given as follows: Mrs. W. T. Little, 42 points; Mrs. M. Hall, 42 points; Mrs. McIntosh, 44 points; Mrs. Jane Denton, 43 points; consolation souvenirs were captured by Mrs. Wylie, with 25 points and by Mrs. Kennedy 23 points.

Miss Ruth Kemp and Miss Sarah Howes entertained a party of young lady friends on Friday, Jan. 31, at the home of Miss Kemp on Bennington street in honor of their guest Miss Madeline Sears of South Carver. A delicious luncheon was served with Miss Kemp presiding at the charming dinner. Those who enjoyed the pleasant evening were: Misses Madeline Sears, Bessie Roberts, Annabelle Troupe, Margaret Michael, Sarah Howes, George Michael and Ruth Kemp.

Mrs. Annie Goldberg and son of Boston, spent the week end with Mrs. M. O'Neill, of Franklin street. Mr. and Mrs. M. Leventhal of Dorchester, spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Louis Berman of Franklin street.

John J. Clare died at his home, 39 Quincy street Saturday morning after a long illness. He was 56 years of age and well known in the city. He leaves four daughters three of whom are Mrs. Daniel Flannagan, Mrs. Jas. O'Connell and Fred Hayden, and three sons James, John and Bernard all of Quincy and a widow, Mrs. Mary Clare.

Friends regret to learn that John A. Stewart, of 11 Branch street, South Quincy was stricken with paralysis on Sunday, which is particularly unfortunate at this time as Mr. Stewart only returned to work late in October after five months' illness of malaria.

Rev. A. M. Thompson, the dean of Quincy Ministers and pastor of the United Presbyterian church, has received official acceptance of his resignation. He acquainted the members of the church with his desire to resign. The resignation was accepted. The principal reason for resigning is that the salary is too small.

Luigi Culberrra, 52 years of age, a formerly well known South Quincy resident, was instantly killed Wednesday afternoon when he was struck by an out-of-control car on the South Quincy street. He was residing at 1084 North St. He was a quarryman for many years.

A supper and dance in honor of Robert Burns was held Wednesday evening in the hall of the Quincy City club. The affair was attended by the whole membership. President George W. McKenney delivered a short address. The following committee had charge: George W. McKenney, chairman, John H. Thomas, Riley, Charles McKenney, H. Sturges, George W. McKenney, C. McDonald, M. McDonald, William Elrick and James Watson.

SCHOOL HALLS.

In a speech before the Norfolk Downs Improvement Association in Poland Mass. Feb. 1, of Hon. Frank D. Lanne Herbert G. Beaman, formerly of the school committee for the last of his term, was elected to the school committee. The speaker of the act for public school halls he said "that was the spirit of the act in paying the expenses of lighting and janitor service. It was with this idea that it passed the Legislature and was accepted by the City Council."

Councilman Beaman declared a $15 rental about prohibitive. He read a letter that he had written as secretary of the Ward Six Patriotic Association to the school committee and the reply he had received.

"Of what use is the school hall unless it is used?" he asked. "Is the school committee in touch with the needs of the community? We should watch the school halls. The evening Councilman Beaman also criticized the school committee because it would not allow six pupils of the Quincy school to be dismissed ten minutes early once a week in order to attend dancing school on time."

The street committee of the association urged the repairing and resurfacing of Billings road and the provision for one good sidewalk the entire length.

An overhead traffic bridge at the Norfolk Downs depot and the depression of the railroad tracks were other points discussed. The evening closed with the serving of refreshments.

For a starving ready to surrender place, Adriano is putting up quite a battle against the allies.

ATLANTIC.

Mr. and Mrs. V. J. Beede of Billings street spent the week end at North Billerica where they attended the marriage of Mr. Beede's cousin, Roy Scambling who was best man at his wedding a short time ago.

The Pythian whist club, met at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Harry H. Hill at their new home Washington street, Dorchester, Friday evening. Whist was enjoyed for two hours, souvenirs were awarded to Mrs. Blanche Richardson, Fred Chapman and Mrs. Carrie Stoddard. Games and music entertained until midnight. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Stoddard, Mr. Walter Ricker, Mrs. Bond, Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Stockford, Mr. and Mrs. Gardner, Mr. Fred Chapman, Mrs. Blanche Richardson and Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Hill.

Mr. Hendrie has built his business on East Squantum street to Mrs. Harrington of Boston and has moved to Pemberton where he will engage in business.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Shaw and son, Wilfred of New York sailed on the Kron Prinzessin Cecilie for Germany Tuesday for a three months trip. Mr. Shaw's business takes him to Germany, but his wife and son will spend most of the time in Meran, Switzerland. Mrs. Shaw is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Stoppel of Hottel, and has many friends in this vicinity.

Mrs. Edgar Chandler of Dorchester, entertained Mrs. David Hamilton, Mrs. Albert Hall, Mrs. W. H. Hersey of Faxon road and Mrs. Harvey Hill of Hottel street at a luncheon on Monday at the home of Mrs. Chandler on Friday at Georgia hotel, Boston.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Goddard and son Kenneth, formerly of Billings street, moved to Lincoln, Nebraska Monday.

Over 50 citizens of Atlantic have signed a petition for the annexation of Atlantic to Boston, between the 6.14 and the 7.29. The first is too early for the theatre and the other too late.

Miss May Buckley of Walnut street, entertained the Billiken club at her home Tuesday evening. The evening was spent in playing games. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

Rev. Seelye Bryant of the Union Congregational church of Wintthrop is to preach at Memorial church Sunday in exchange with the pastor. Mr. Bryant preached the sermon of dedication of the Memorial windows when the church was dedicated.

The evangelistic services held at Memorial church the last two Sunday evenings were well attended, and the music appropriate. The usual call for expressions in such meetings has been omitted and in its place the closing appeal of the sermon has been made to make a right decision.

The first of a series of social theme parties, was given by Mrs. Herbert Gearwar and Mrs. Henry VonEden Thursday afternoon. Unique literary games of interest were introduced to which the party adjourned to the dining room where a most tempting collation was served.

The one round from Box 64 at 8.40 Sunday morning was for a fire on the roof of the house of William Briggs, 97 Appleton street, Atlantic caused by sparks from the chimney. When the fire broke out the word was sent to the Atlantic fire station and the auto chemical responded on a still alarm. The central station was notified by telephone and one round of the box was snapped in from there. The central station auto chemical responded but was not needed. The fire was quickly extinguished with the loss of a few shingles.

Mrs. Sarah Butler of Atlantic street is spending several days this week with Mrs. J. H. Anderson of South Braintree, formerly of Atlantic.

Debbie Miller of F. B. Walker street had his field ploughed for a garden last week Friday and would have planted peas this week if the cold weather hadn't come.

Mrs. Charles Safford, of Clive street entertained the young ladies of the Wollaston club, Tuesday afternoon, when games and music were enjoyed after which a luncheon was served. Those present were the Misses Viola Jackson, Bertha Fuller, Jordine Buckley, Gertrude Buckley, Marion Green, Augustus Green, Dorothy Buckley, Clara Lester, Reginald Lester, Helen Cherrington, Ruth Beaman and Mrs. Josiah Fuller, Mrs. H. Beaman, Mrs. David Hamilton and Mrs. John Fuller.

The last whist and dancing party before Lent of St. Kevin's court, M. C. O. F. was held at Poland hall Monday evening. The whist ladies were Miss Elizabeth Flanagan of Brockton, Miss Helen Hughes, George Gillis, Herbert Lawry. The booby prizes were awarded to Miss Helen Welsh and Arthur Smith. The committee was in charge of "Ted" Keohane.

Mrs. Mary Young, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Michael Donovan, at Atlantic, Thursday in her 82d year. She was born in the Isle of Wight, but came to this country 30 years ago and for the last 15 years has lived in Quincy. She has been sick for a long time. She was the widow of James Young. She leaves three daughters, Mrs. George Brunell, Mrs. Needham, Mrs. Harry Williams of the Isle of Wight and Mrs. Donahy, mother of Officer Michael Donovan of Atlantic. The funeral will be held from St. Chrysostom's church Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock and the burial at Mt. Wollaston cemetery.

E. A. Barber of Webster street spent Sunday with his parents in Lakewood, R. I.

Herbert Burch of East Squantum street has gone to the Rutland Sanatorium where he will remain several months.

SOUTH QUINCY.

Officer Jeremiah Dinneen of the police department, who covers a South Quincy beat at night and plays on the department baseball team in the summer, is one of the men who were appointed to make up the schedule of the Massachusetts police league. The meeting was held at the Chelsea station Thursday. A souvenir book will be issued by the officials.

A turkey supper, entertainment and dancing was given Thursday night by the committee of the Clan McGregor and Loyal Ladies who had charge of the Robert Burns anniversary celebration. The affair was held at the Clan McGregor hall and almost the entire membership of both organizations turned out. Vocal solos were sung by Alfred O. Dickey, J. Clark and Mr. Cantley and Provost's orchestra furnished the music for the dancing. Angus Martin was in charge of the affair.

WOLLASTON.

Mrs. William O. Phelps of Prospect avenue left Thursday for Rochester, New York, where she will visit her daughter, Mrs. George Geddes, Jr., for six weeks.

The Rev. Alexander H. Kennedy, rector of St. Thomas' church, Somerville is the preacher at St. Chrysostom's church, Thursday evening Lenten service.

Mr. Ralph Stanwood Foss and children Jean and Anne of Wyoming, New Jersey are visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. Robert Joselyn of Hancock street.

The Kindergarten dramatics in Wollaston school hall on Thursday and Friday evenings promise to be a great success. "Our Mutual Friend," by Dickens will be given. The cast is a good one and every attention has been given to scenery and costumes so that the presentation is sure to please a most critical audience.

Mrs. W. F. C. Stoppel of Wollaston was a guest Monday afternoon at the winter home of Miss Floretta Vilning, 81 Myrtle street, West End, Boston. Miss Vilning being hostess at luncheon for the Founders Society of D. A. R. Mrs. Jones is a member of a committee to arrange a subscription which to be held at Miss Vilning's on Saturday afternoon the fifteenth.

A new chapter of the Junior Sons and Daughters of the Revolution was organized Friday in Wollaston, through the efforts of Mrs. Francis W. Dana of Malden and Miss Louise Emery of Wollaston, formerly of Malden. Miss Emery has recently come to Wollaston to reside, her home being at 22 Wintthrop avenue.

The regular meeting of the Wollaston Parent-Teachers' Association will be held in the Wollaston school, Monday evening, Feb. 11, at 7.30. Rev. H. W. Stobins, chaplain of the state prison, Charlestown, will take for his subject "The Good in Everybody." There will be solos by Miss Victoria M. H. Zeller, contralto. Candy on sale by Miss 1913.

The tea given by Rev. and Mrs. Carleton Putnam Mills of Winchester at the Country club last Saturday from 4 to 6.30 to announce the engagement of Mr. Mill's daughter to Mr. Paul Bradford Badger, Yale '11, was a delightful affair, several from Wollaston and Atlantic attended.

Miss Helen B. Jones, a very attractive young woman, who is most effective in white silk, chamoisee, with duchess lace and crystal trimmings; her sister Miss Dorothy Mills was in pale blue crepe de chine. Mrs. Mills was gown in black lace. The flowers sent Miss Mills decorated the tables and large bouquets of pink Killarney roses were placed on the table. Pink shaded candles added to the effectiveness of the room. The pourers were Mrs. Higgins and Mrs. Silas Mills and the servers were a bevy of young ladies, including Miss Mills, Wollaston. Miss Helen B. Jones, Wollaston served punch. An orchestra of three pieces furnished music.

James Hickey, formerly of Wollaston, died at the Massachusetts General hospital Thursday, Jan. 30, where he had been under treatment, and underwent an operation for two weeks ago for ulcerated colitis, but acute peritonitis set in. The body was brought to Hall's undertaking establishments and the funeral was held Sunday afternoon at St. John's church at 1.45 o'clock. Burial was in the cemetery.

Little Miss Florence A. Ferguson of Clay street who was ill with pneumonia is convalescing favorably.

Harold Morgan of Standish avenue who has been having the measles is convalescing and will be out in a few days.

Mrs. Mary E. Ferguson of 207 Newport avenue died Tuesday at her home. The deceased was 62 years of age. She leaves a husband, John W. Ferguson and several children.

The funeral of Mr. William Tilton who died Saturday was held Tuesday afternoon from his home 442 Beale street. Services were conducted by Rev. Carl G. Horst of the Wollaston Unitarian church. Burial was in Cedar Grove cemetery, Dorchester. The deceased was 65 years of age and had resided at Wollaston about one year.

A very pleasant social hour followed the regular communication of Wollaston Masonic lodge, Tuesday evening. Several candidates were advanced to the Fellowship degree by V. Master Charles E. Cherrington before the regular officers of Wollaston lodge.

The regular meeting of the Parents' Teachers' Association will be held in the Assembly hall, Monday evening at 8 o'clock. By request, Rev. H. W. Stobins, Chaplain State Prison, Charlestown will speak. The subject of the evening will be "The Good in Everybody." There is good enough in the worst boy to make a good man."

Mrs. Blanche P. Bagley, widow of the late Rev. E. Bagley, who came on to Wollaston, accompanied by her son, for the 25th anniversary exercises in the Wollaston church, who since her return from abroad three or four years ago, has been living in Toronto, Canada to be near her aged father, is still in Wollaston, renewing acquaintance with her numerous friends there.

The lecture "Whose who in Boston" at the Wollaston school, the first in a lecture course of four entertainments, proved a great attraction at the Wollaston Methodist church, Wednesday evening.

Wednesday night was Wollaston Yacht Club night at the Motor boat house. About 50 of the members of the club were there with their ladies and looked over the new devices for boating.

TO LET.

Upper flat of 5 rooms and bath, modern, all improvements. Finished room on third floor. Ready for occupancy Feb. 15. Apply to Miss Prescott, Ledger Office, Quincy.

TO LET.

Upper flat of 5 rooms and bath, modern, all improvements. Finished room on third floor. Ready for occupancy Feb. 15. Apply to Miss Prescott, Ledger Office, Quincy.

The Quincy Patriot

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 15, 1913

| WEEKLY    | Rate     | Full Rate | Month    |
|-----------|----------|-----------|----------|
| ALMANAC   | 15 Cents | 50 Cents  | 50 Cents |
| Sunday    | 15 Cents | 50 Cents  | 50 Cents |
| Monday    | 15 Cents | 50 Cents  | 50 Cents |
| Tuesday   | 15 Cents | 50 Cents  | 50 Cents |
| Wednesday | 15 Cents | 50 Cents  | 50 Cents |
| Thursday  | 15 Cents | 50 Cents  | 50 Cents |
| Friday    | 15 Cents | 50 Cents  | 50 Cents |
| Saturday  | 15 Cents | 50 Cents  | 50 Cents |

For variety, February takes the place of the present winter.

The ice men are cutting on the principal that half a cake is better than no ice.

Of all the pole discoveries to date, take it whatever you look at it, Capt. Amundsen's discovery of the South pole is the only one that is verified, but at an awful cost.

LAYING OUT STREETS.

It was rather a disappointment to many that the Attorney General ruled that the bill presented to the legislature by Mayor Stone relative to the laying out of streets was unconstitutional. It seemed as though the bill was reasonable enough and was only a means of protecting the city. It likewise afforded protection to property owners. It has been the custom in many places to develop and improve property by laying out streets and then selling the abutting land for house lots. A commendable enterprise and one that should be encouraged as such public spirit means an increase in the taxable property and the building up of the city. It has infrequently happened that without a proper check on future persons have laid those streets out narrower than the law provides for public highways. The people building have not thought of this and build closer to the line than they would otherwise have done. Later comes a demand for the widening of the street as a public highway, with the result that the street has to be widened and many buildings changed and moved, walls rebuilt and the like at great expense. The mayor's plan was to have those roads laid out at the legal width at the very start, so that all this expense to the city, and later annoyance with possible litigation to the abutters would be avoided, if proper supervision of the construction of such streets was guaranteed. A reasonable measure and one worthy of consideration. Yet the Attorney General says it is not constitutional and so the bill has to go over. There is always a chance of a question being put to the law department in such a way that an answer directly contrary to that desired may be obtained and yet all the parties concerned are correct and clearly within the law. The framing of a question with regard to its legal standing in many instances, makes or breaks a proposition.

GREEK ART.

"Tableaux of Greek Art" were presented at the Valentine social of the Park and Downs church, Wednesday evening by members of the Ladies Library Association of Randolph. The tableaux included "The Three Fates," "Victory of Venus" and other well known masterpieces of Greek art. The part were: Mrs. Herbert F. Reynolds, Mrs. N. Irving Tolman, Mrs. Harold S. Howard, Mrs. Herbert French and Miss Sara Holmes.

LADIES NIGHT.

The Wollaston Park Improvement Association will observe Ladies Night Monday evening when a fine entertainment will be given in the hall of the Wollaston Dramatic Club. The association's present membership numbers 100 and a movement is on foot to double this in the next three months. The association has as its aim the aim of the directors to have an organization of 300.

The association has adopted the slogan "One for all! All for one!" in a communication to the members the directors declare the association to be no longer an experiment but a success.

During the coming year the following are among the important projects that will be considered: "The suggested change in our form of city government: The formation of the Federation of Men's clubs: The celebration of the centennial of the birth of our city: The proposition of a general community house or a separate meeting place of our own: The public bath house at Wollaston beach: The advisability of a ladies' auxiliary: childrens department.

Composing the governing board are: President, Edward O. Woodward; vice-president, Professor J. H. Marceau; secretary, Russell T. Anthony; treasurer, F. H. Chase; directors, Benjamin F. Chase, Louis S. Cleaves, W. J. Gaffney, William E. Hingston, Dr. Philip Kelly, D. W. Wade, Harry M. Watts.

ALL WANT INCREASES.

Mayor Stone is busy preparing the annual Mayor's and Treasurers budget to be sent to the City Council next Monday. Every department desires an increase over what was given them last year and he is finding it quite a hard problem to keep the budget within the $12 limit. It would require at least a $15 or more limit to give all departments the amount they desire.

EAGLES ON THE WING.

John Adams Aerie of Eagles is planning a class initiation Feb. 19, at which over 100 candidates will be accepted. Final arrangements were made at a regular meeting in Eleta hall, Wednesday evening. Feb. 22 the degree team will exemplify the Eagles degree on about 100 candidates at the Somerville Aerie class initiation. Many Quincy members are planning to attend the affair.

TRADE BANQUET.

The twentieth annual banquet and ladies' night of the Quincy Board of Trade was held Thursday evening at Music hall and while the attendance was not as large perhaps as in some other years, it was an unequalled success. The speaking was exceptionally good, especially the address of Lieut. Gov. David I. Walsh. John L. Hamilton, President of the Board of Trade presided and during the banquet music was furnished by Proven orchestra.

From 6.30 to 7 o'clock there was an informal reception during which time those who were to participate in the banquet were arriving. Those who were immediately taken in charge by the reception committee who included President Hamilton, Charles C. Hean, Deleware King, Col. Henry L. Kincaid, H. Everett Crane, Frank Fessenden Crane, George T. Magee, J. Winthrop Pratt, Walter E. Piper, Harry G. Studley, Arthur W. Stetson, Thomas L. Williams, and Joseph A. Sedgwick. The ladies reception committee was headed by Miss Mildred Gray Huston and Miss Ernestine Shores, and they were assisted by the wives of the members of the reception committee.

The committee in charge of the banquet included Albert L. Whitman, William H. Teasdale, John R. Richards and Deleware King.

The tables looked particularly attractive. At each cover in addition to a carnation there was a small valentine, the menu card and a card which briefly set forth why every tax-paying citizen, business or professional man in Quincy should be a member of the Quincy Board of Trade. This card read as follows:

"It is necessary at times for the Quincy Board of Trade to take action which fails of universal approval. Such however, is the history of all human achievements. Nothing was ever done upon earth that did not excite criticism, and it is far better to be up and doing—even making a mistake now and then—than to die of dry rot."

Don't focus your memory on the mistakes failed or real, that the Quincy Board of Trade may make. Its leaders are, after all, only human—like yourself. Men, err collectively, as well as singly—but not so often."

"Judge the Quincy Board of Trade by the big aggregation of good things it does and seeks to do for the common welfare of Quincy and the South Shore district."

A part of the card was an application for membership blank. In addition to this Deleware King appeared with a box of buttons one of which was given to each guest. These buttons bore the mysterious figure of 239. This he later explained to mean that the goal of the Board for the year 1913 was 239 members. That the Board had 239 members, Jan. 1, 1913 and the aim was to have 239 on January 1, 1914.

The only reserved table was that across the front of the platform. Those seated at this table were as follows: Mr. and Mrs. John R. Richards, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Whitman, Secretary and Mrs. John O. Hall, Joseph A. Sedgwick, Miss Edith Stone, John H. Corcoran, President, and Mrs. John L. Hamilton, Miss Therese Norton of the Woman's Missionary League, Lt. Gov. David I. Walsh, Mayor and Mrs. Eugene R. Stone, Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Hean, Representative and Mrs. William J. Leslie, Dock Commissioner and Mrs. Frank R. Gray and Mrs. H. G. Studley, Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Williams, Charles H. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Sandberg, Representative and Mrs. Michael T. Sullivan, Rev. Frederick H. Steenstra, Deleware King, Frank Stone, Col. and Mrs. Henry L. Kincaid, and Mrs. J. Winthrop Pratt, Fred Williams, Miss Florence Pratt, Miss Marion Teasdale, William H. Teasdale, Miss Mildred Gray Huston, Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Piper and County Commissioner and Mrs. John F. Merrill.

The banquet was served by Burleigh & Martin. It was of good variety, well cooked and well served. The menu was as follows:

- Escalloped Oysters
- Chicken Salad
- Croquettes with peas
- Small Patties
- Crabapple Sauce
- Delmonico Potatoes
- Radishes
- Queen Fritters, Sauce
- Assorted Light and Fancy Home Made Cakes
- Lady Fingers
- Macaroons
- Frozen Pudding
- Disque Glace
- Pistachio Macaroons
- Harlequin Sherberts
- Vanilla Strawberry Chocolate Rolls
- Neapolitan Sherberts

It was few minutes past 7 o'clock when everybody were in their places at the tables and the exercises opened with the singing of America followed by prayer by Rev. Mr. Steenstra. Then the dinner was served.

The post prandial exercises commenced about 8 o'clock when President Hamilton briefly welcomed those present to the twentieth annual banquet. Next year he said another would be held but while it could not be more enthusiastic he hoped to see more members present. He then spoke of the buttons Mr. King had distributed at each cover and asked the guests to explain their object which he did.

Continuing President Hamilton spoke of what the Board could do with a large membership, and he believed that eventually the Board would number 1000 members. He introduced

AMONG THE CLUBS.

Mrs. Louis LaRose and Mrs. Edwin L. Beal attended the conference of Women's Auxiliaries of the Y. M. C. A., held in the Y. M. C. A. rooms in Cambridge, Wednesday.

Mrs. Walter S. Pihlak of Wollaston was the speaker before the Parents and Teachers association of the Vose school in Milton, Wednesday afternoon. Her subject was the Formation of Habit.

The Charitable Ten Circle of Kings Daughters meets on Monday afternoon with Mrs. Thomas Penno of 583 Hancock street, Wollaston.

Junior Friday club will be entertained on Monday afternoon at the home of Miss Etta M. Prescott, President's hill, Ireland in 18th and 19th centuries will be the subject of study under the chairmanship of Mrs. Arthur W. Hall.

Mrs. Everett C. Bumpus gave her successful and most interesting paper on "Noted Women of Noted Eras" before a packed house in Newark, N. J., last week Wednesday, and was warmly made to promise to come again next winter. The following day Mrs. Bumpus left for Annapolis to give the same course of morning talks. Later she is to be heard at Laurel-in-the-Pines, Lakewood, and at the Marlborough-Blenheim, Atlantic City. At Mrs. Bumpus's talk at the Waldorf Astoria in New York just before leaving New York, a fine representative company of women were among her hearers. Mrs. Bumpus when in New York makes her home with her cousins at 969 Fifth avenue.

Hon. Roger Wolcott of Milton is to speak on "The Initiative and Referendum" at the meeting of the Milton Woman's club on Monday afternoon at the Vose school.

Mrs. John L. Gow of Revere road was the hostess this week for the meeting of the Friday club and Mrs. John F. Welch, chairman of the program.

Rev. Benjamin A. Willnot of Bethany church was the speaker this week at the February meeting of the Women's Auxiliary to the Quincy Y. M. C. A.

Abigail Phillips Quincy Chapter, D. A. R. of Wollaston is to hold a social on Wednesday, Feb. 13, at the home of Mrs. Walter P. Jones, 78 Winthrop avenue.

Mrs. Walter A. Jackson is to be the chairman for the 20th meeting of the Atlantic Shakespeare society. Act two, scene I from the entrance of Act 1 to act three of The Tempest will be taken up. The duet "Full Fathom Five Thy Father Lies" will be sung by Mrs. N. G. Nickerson and Mrs. William F. Cummings.

D. A. R. MEETING.

The February meeting of the Abigail Phillips Quincy Chapter D. A. R. of Wollaston was held, Monday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. Walter E. Simmons. A very interesting program on Nancy Hanks, mother of Abraham Lincoln, was read by Mrs. Seth S. Crocker. Mrs. Walter F. Jones read a delightful story written by Daniel Hanks, describing the childhood and home of Lincoln. Mrs. Antoinette Paige gave reminiscences of her life in the west when it was her good fortune to both see and hear Abraham Lincoln and Stephen Douglas.

WARD SIX ASSOCIATION.

A meeting of Ward Six Patriotic Association was held Wednesday evening at the home of the president, Frank E. Badger, Clive street. There was a good attendance, several new members joining. Several matters were brought up for discussion one of which was the question of a Fourth of July Celebration in Ward 6. It was unanimously voted to celebrate this year. There will be another meeting held in the near future at which the chairman of all committees will be elected and as complete arrangements made as possible for carrying on the celebration. The Association took up the question of train service which is very unsatisfactory as it is no train for Boston stopping at Atlantic between 6.14 and 7.29 p. m., which makes it very inconvenient for theatre goers.

The matter of school halls came up for discussion, and it was the opinion of all present that the school committee ought to make the school night for use of the hall when $5 would more than cover all expense to the city. Especially is this true as this organization of men is working for the best interests of the community.

OUR MUTUAL FRIEND.

"Our Mutual Friend," presented in the Wollaston school hall, by the Wollaston Dramatic club, Thursday evening, for the benefit of the Wollaston Free Kindergarten was enjoyed by a large and appreciative audience.

This comedy adopted from the book of Charles Dickens was presented by the club in quaint costumes and eccentric actions of the Dickens characters adding much to the charm of the production.

The cast of characters was: John Rokesmith, "Our Mutual Friend," Robert B. Locke, Mr. Boffin, "The Golden Dismal," George Sampson, "The Friend of the Family," Ernest W. Arnold, Bella Wilfer, "The Lovey Woman," Mrs. Wilfer, "Majestic Ma," Mrs. Lavinia Wilfer, "The Irrepressible Lavinia," Mrs. Charles E. Sweet, Mrs. Boffin, "A Dear, a Dear, the Best of Dears," Theodore A. Luard, Mrs. Rokesmith, "The Friend of the Family," Dorothy Sayward and Ernest Pletsch played popular selections.

Candy was sold by the ushers who were Miss Helen Jones, Miss Frances Jones, Miss Caroline Sprague and Miss Lucille Smalley.

The comedy was produced under the direction of Mrs. Herbert J. Gurney. This evening will see its second performance.

Every reader who has not a practical reading lamp for electric, gas or oil, should not fail to see the four acts of the McKimney & Waterbury Co., 181 Franklin street, corner Congress, Boston, over three thousand styles of lamps, to meet all decorations, from their own manufacture and products of the world, at prices unequalled in our market for goods of quality.

A protest had been drafted by the Board which was endorsed by the club.

Miss Almira Simmons put in a plea for a forestry committee in the club, which will be discussed by the Board later, as it is an important work.

The musical program which preceded the lecture was a suite by MacDowell for the piano the selections, A Haunted Forest, Summer Idyll, Shepherd Song and Forest Spirits, being beautifully interpreted by Mrs. Walter P. Emery and Mrs. Turletot, receiving frequent encores.

Mrs. Murray in introducing the speaker announced that her committee had arranged to have a speaker along the line of Visiting Nursing but that Rev. W. H. VanAllen was unable to come and the committee had been fortunate in securing Rev. Alan A. Stockdale who would lecture on the "Message of James Whitcomb Riley."

Dr. Stockdale paid a tribute to the speaker for his good work. Before giving the message of the Hoosier poet he thought there would be a better appreciation if he told something of the man.

In the old days of the log cabin back in Indiana the latching hand upon the inmates being glad to welcome any guest that chose to come. If by chance the latching was not out and the guest knocked for entrance the response was "Who's there?" This spoken rapidly or carelessly had gradually become Hoosier hence the term as applied now to the native of Indiana.

As a boy young Riley did not care for schooling being a dreamer. As a young man he traveled with a patent medicine man and saw many odd characters in the groups about the man when he lectured and sold his medicine. When he began to write poetry under school ages, for Riley never cared to go to school. His is a natural child, Dr. Stockdale read "Little Billy and his base drum," "Making faces," and "Fool Young-uns," showing by his interpretation how Riley really loved and understood children. The little going to school was a scene, also the "23rd child," Riley had the power that knows how to put the real child into poetry.

Riley's message was to interpret nature after he saw it, to put it into words that others might see, as told in "South Wind and the Apple," "A Prophet of a Shower," and "Katie Deane in June" one of the latest bits of poetry ever written. People in this world of life need the poetry of life.

Riley's is a message of hospitality. When the latching was out and all gathered about the big fireplace, he had to be good natured or freeze as there was no other place to go. In our heated house when we have a grover we can go to our rooms and get over it. The dialect poem "Grigsby Stew" was a fine illustration of country life.

Riley finds the heart and soul of things, his characters have heart-sincerity is the fine art of living. Loud and prolonged applause at the close of Mr. Stockdale's lecture testified to the appreciation and enjoyment of his "message from James Whitcomb Riley" surely no poet ever had a more sympathetic interpreter.

QUINCY ALLIANCE.

Quincy Alliance held its regular meeting in First church parlor, Monday evening, Feb. 11, when the program of George G. Saville, who has been quite ill, presiding. After the reading of the reports and discussion of business, Mrs. Saville introduced the speaker of the afternoon, Mrs. Claude U. Gilson of Wellesley Hills. Mrs. Gilson, who took for her subject, "A Look Forward."

QUINCY WOMEN'S CLUB.

Tuesday's meeting of the Quincy Women's club at the clubhouse was under the auspices of the Visiting Nurses committee, Mrs. A. V. Murray, chairman and guest, Mrs. E. M. Hingston.

The first part of the evening was devoted to a concert given by well known local artists. Following an overture by orchestra, B. E. Meurk, violin solos. Mrs. Robert Grant sang, J. J. Crowley gave a cornet solo, Miss J. J. Crowley gave a violin solo, and Charles Higgs played a violin solo and Charles Moyle who made such a decided hit in the minstrel of the Washington Street Congregational church Men's Club sang several songs and introduced blues and waltz steps. Edward Schell's xylophone solo was followed by the orchestra finale. Miss Carruthers was the accompanist.

Dancing was enjoyed until midnight and Frank A. Drake was floor director. The aids were on the committee of arrangements and were Jennie Drake, Mrs. Alice Peterson, Mrs. Carolyn Mellen, Mrs. Sarah D. Blanchard, Mrs. Gertrude Stone, Mrs. Sarah Roache, Mrs. Annie Betts, Mrs. Leora Gibb and Mrs. Rosilla Carter.

UNIVERSALIST MISSIONARY.

The Universalist Missionary circle held its regular meeting at the residence of Mrs. Eliza Holart, Pearl street, Monday afternoon. A large number being present. At roll call each member gave a quotation or read from Emerson.

A sum of money was voted to the Relief Corps in Japan, and Rev. Fanny Austin gave an interesting talk on missionary work in Japan. Much attention is given to the moral and religious training of the boys and girls, and an interest in education is rapidly increasing.

At the close, the hostess served refreshments, her daughter Miss Ann Holart presiding at the tea urn. A social informal hour was enjoyed, after which the meeting adjourned, to March 10 when the circle will be entertained by its president, Mrs. T. A. Addison.

The standing committees for next year are to remain the same with the exception of the Hospitality and Reception, which will be combined.

Information having come to the executive board that the building of the Quincy Mutual Fire Insurance Co. was to be moved across Coddington street side of the new court house, members were asked to protest as it would be detrimental to civic beauty.

CITIZENS' Gas Light Company

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO CONSUMERS

NEW SYSTEM OF METER READING AND BILLING

It is the aim of the Citizens' Gas Light Company to give to the Public a service as excellent in every detail as possible and to improve the service as opportunity offers.

To this end the Company will on March 1st, 1913, put into effect a new system of Meter Reading and Billing which has been adopted after careful study of the many systems in use in other cities.

REGULAR METER READERS

Instead of hiring a large number of special men to read all the meters on the last few days of the month (as will still be done up to February 28th, 1913) the Company will in March create a permanent force of regular meter readers, who will be easily identified by the Company's badge conspicuously worn.

CONSTANT SYSTEM

These men will on each working day throughout the month read all the meters in one of the sections into which the accounts have been grouped and, having covered the City, will periodically read the same meters once in about every thirty calendar days, all bills rendered covering gas used during the preceding thirty days.

BILLS PAYABLE WITHIN FIFTEEN DAYS OF DATE

Two days after the reading of the meters of any section, the corresponding bills will be delivered. Each bill must be paid within fifteen days of its date and should a bill become overdue by not being paid within fifteen days, the supply may be discontinued without further notice.

EXAMPLES

The following examples are given on typical cases:

| METER IN SECTION NO. 2                                  | METER IN SECTION NO. 7                                           |
|---------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Monday, Mar. 10                                         | Monday, Mar. 10                                                  |
| Bill delivered                                          | Bill delivered                                                   |
| Bill becomes overdue (if not paid on or before) Tuesday | Bill becomes overdue (if not paid on or before) Thursday, Apr. 3 |

METHOD OF CHANGE FROM OLD TO NEW SYSTEM

As all meters will be read in the last days of February and as the new system will go into active operation about March 10th, it is evident that the first bills received after this latter date will cover periods ranging from two to six weeks. But in future the date of the last state of the meter and the date of the preceding state of the meter will appear on all bills; the period covered by each bill will therefore be evident in the bill and should be considered in connection with the amount of gas used.

For instance, bills rendered March 14th, will cover a period of about three weeks, while bills rendered April 2nd, will cover a period of about six weeks. After the first six weeks of change, customers will find that each month they will receive their bills on or about the same date, and that each bill will invariably cover the preceding thirty days.

LEARN TO READ METERS

We would again urge our customers to learn how to read meters; instruction as to this will be found on the back of the gas bills and will enable customers to check bills rendered.

REMITTANCES BY MAIL

Remittances sent through the mails should be addressed only in the name of the Company to its office, No. 11 Granite Street, Quincy.

We desire in conclusion, to assure our customers that the installation of the system outlined above is to secure uniformity and accuracy in handling their accounts.

CITIZENS' GAS LIGHT COMPANY.

By W. B. NICHOLS, Asst. General Manager.

February 1st, 1913.

WOLLASTON SCHOOL.

A large number of parents attended the Lincoln day exercises at the Wollaston Grammar school, Wednesday afternoon. The Ladies Aid Alliance which lent the speaker attended the meeting in a body. Principal David H. Goodspeed presided and the six upper grades of the school participated. The program opened with the singing of the "Star Spangled Banner" and the salute to the flag by the pupils.

Principal David H. Goodspeed read the governor's proclamation and Lincoln's Gettysburg address was recited by the pupils of Grade Eight. The school sang the "Battle Hymn of the Republic." A strong picture of Lincoln's character by Frank E. Parlin, ex-superintendent of the Quincy schools was read by Mr. Goodspeed.

In his address on "Lincoln," Rev. Edward A. Horton, chaplain of the Massachusetts Senate told many anecdotes of this great man. Mr. Horton was one of those who responded to the first call for volunteers in the Civil War. He heard Lincoln speak several times.

"Lincoln," he said, "bridged the gap from obscurity to fame. He was the most abused president by people of his day, and was even slandered by members of his own cabinet. He was the least understood of all our presidents."

"His success lay in his big heartedness and his love for humanity and the common people. During the war he often stole away to visit the sick and wounded. He often prayed that the war would speedily close. Lincoln was blamed."

Mr. Horton reviewed the writing of the Gettysburg address. "England," he said "first recognized its beauty and consciousness of expression. It is a fine specimen of literature and will be ranked among the classic. Lincoln is loved by the world today and is our greatest American."

IN CLOSING, "AMERICA" WAS SUNG.

The music was directed by Principal Goodspeed and Miss Beulah Sturtevant was the pianist.

LINCOLN ANNIVERSARY.

The birthday of President Abraham Lincoln was fittingly observed Wednesday evening by members of Paul Revere Post and Paul Revere Women's Relief corps at a gathering held at the residence of Past Commander Francis P. Loud. The room in which the exercises were held was prettily decorated with flags and bunting, a large portrait of the martyred President occupying a prominent place.

Words of welcome by Past Commander Loud were followed by reading of the scriptures and repeating the Lord's prayer in unison. Mrs. Loud was the pianist and Mr. Loud was the violinist. The rendering of "The Star Spangled Banner."

The exercises were in charge of Mrs. Eliza A. Penniman. Patriotic Instructor of Paul Revere Women's Relief corps who introduced Mayor Stone.

His Honor said that it always gave him great pleasure to attend meetings of this kind and that he thought the time was not far distant when Lincoln's birthday would become a national holiday and that it would be as generally observed as that of Washington.

Past Commander James H. Webb gave a short talk on the life of Lincoln and other brief remarks were made by Past Commander George I. Phillips, Patriotic Instructor of Post 88 and Mrs. Cyndia C. Richardson of the Relief Corps.

The address of the evening was by Austin W. Green, master of the Montclair school, and a Son of Veteran. He gave a brief outline of the life and work of Lincoln and said he would always be a hero and an ideal to the American youth, for only this country could have produced him. The evening winds of the prairies and the vastness of the primeval forests went to the making of his nature, which was as simple as are all things which we call great.

The exercises closed with a salute to the flag and all rising and singing "America."

(Continued on Page Four.)

AMUSEMENTS.

HOLLIS ST. THEATRE.

A new comedy by Pincro, the most dramatic in England today, and Miss Billie Burke, one of the most charming actresses on the American stage, are both potent attractions in the theatre world and combined—well, they're irresistible. To anyone who has observed the audience—their size and their enthusiasm, too—at the Hollis Street theatre, Boston, since Miss Burke has been appearing there in "The Mind the Paint Girl," Pincro's latest comedy, the pretty actress scored a big hit on her opening night and ever since the theatre has been crowded. It was perhaps the most genuine success Miss Burke has ever won in Boston, although she has always been a favorite there and her opening nights have always been gala events. This time the audience applauded her every word and her opening night was a triumph. The big scene of the play in the third act she proved herself an actress of real power—an actress capable of exciting and holding the audience's feet and deep emotions of several different kinds. The engagement will close on Saturday night, her birthday.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE.

Without question the most notable capture ever made by Mr. B. F. Keith for his vaudeville circuit, is the arrangement to exhibit the new comedy by the "Father of Vaudeville," which he has contracted to place in all the B. F. Keith theatres throughout the United States the latest and most wonderful invention of the celebrated wizard, Thomas A. Edison. This is Mr. Edison's latest and in many respects his greatest invention. The Kinetophone, or talking motion pictures, is a perfect combination of the two former triumphs—the moving picture and the talking machine. The two functions of the wonderful invention are so perfectly synchronized that the talking moving picture is the new mechanical world, as well as a source of amusement to the amusement-seeking public. Just as Mr. Edison has been a pioneer in the possibilities of his own talent, and the first to exploit it in New England, so has he been the first to exhibit his latest marvel. The wonderful talking pictures will be shown for the first time in Boston on Saturday night, Feb. 15, and the next few weeks. The electricians are hard at work installing the machines, and the new date will be announced shortly in the papers.

CASTLE SQUARE THEATRE.

The coming week of "Believe Me, Xanthippe" at the Castle Square will be its fifth, this being sufficient to show to its continuing and increasing popularity. This play is a genuine comedy, mingled with farce and melodrama, and is a genuine masterpiece. The audience are in a continuous laughing mood at every performance, and they are unkindly to the appreciation and praise of this latest Harvard Play. Its plot is extremely clever, its characters are original and its dialogue is life-like and brilliant. The acting by Mr. Craig and his company is no small factor in the success of "Believe Me, Xanthippe." Mary Young is delicious as the heroine. Mr. Craig makes a lively hero, and Donald McKee's acting as Slim Calloway is especially fine. Others in the cast are Wilson Melrose, George Henry Trader and Mabel Cord.

SUFFRAGE ADDRESS.

At the regular meeting of the Ladies Benevolent society of Memorial church, Wednesday afternoon, Mrs. Sarah Butler president urged the ladies to enter into the Easter sale on a large scale and try to emulate the success of the fall fair. Chairmen of the different tables were chosen and the women hope to see a big slice taken off the church mortgage this year.

After the business Mrs. Florence Rich Nichols sang two solos—"Singing of You," and "The Skipper of St. Ives." The speaker was Mrs. Mary Thorton Howe, State organizer of the Massachusetts Political Equality Union, and her subject was "Woman Suffrage."

After the speech lunch was served by Mrs. Isabel Smith, Mrs. Charles A. Stearns, Mrs. Frederick Osgood and Mrs. John H. Welsh.

QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 22, 1913.

VOL. 77. NO. 8.

FIVE CENTS PER COPY; $2.50 PER YEAR.

The Quincy Patriot

Established in 1827.
PUBLISHED SATURDAY MORNING BY
GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUB. CO.
(INCORPORATED)
OFFICE, No. 121 HANCOCK STREET
Telephone, Quincy 425.
Entered at Post Office, Quincy, Mass., as Second Class Matter.

Subscription Price, $2.50 per year.
A reduction of fifty cents will be made
when paid one year in advance.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Established in 1889.
Subscription Price, $6.00 per Year.
A reduction of $1 will be made when
paid one year in advance.

ALSO PUBLISHERS OF THE
BRAINTREE OBSERVER
Weekly Established in 1878.

EDWARD J. FEGAN

Counselor at Law
8 Durgin & Merrill Block, Quincy
Mornings, 8:30 to 10; Evenings, 7 to 9.
914-916 Tremont Building, Boston
P. O. Box 1000, Boston
Telephone—Quincy 484; Haymarket 210.

JOHN W. McANARNEY

Counselor at Law
Room 1, Durgin & Merrill's Block,
Hancock Street, Quincy.

H. T. WHITMAN

AGENT FOR THE
Adams Real Estate Trust
AND
Edison Park Land Associates

Real Estate, Mortgages, and Insurance
QUINCY, 21 Adams Building.
Tel. 105-3
BOSTON, 220 Devonshire Street
Tel. Fort Hill 591

INSURANCE AGENCY

Established in Quincy in the year 1849 by
W. PORTER
Life Insurance office in reliable and safe
stock and mutual offices.

By W. PORTER & CO.
At No. 20 Kilby Street, Boston.
Residence, Hancock Street, Quincy

DORCHESTER

Mutual Fire Insurance Co.

Organized 1855
Statement of Report of Triennial Examination
of Company made by the Massachusetts
Insurance Dept., as of October 31, 1910.
Amount at Risk $9,033,130.00
Cash Assets 257,249.00
R Insurance Reserve $1,829,246.00
Other Liabilities 9,904.83
Total 10,299,625.83
Cash Surplus October 31, 1910 $80,063.40
This Company now pays the following Dividends:
All on five-year Policies 40 per cent
On three-year Policies 30 " "
On one-year Policies 20 " "
Losses promptly adjusted and paid.
W. D. C. CURTIS, President.
WILLIAM A. MULLER, Vice Pres.
CLARENCE BURGIN, Treasurer
FREDERICK W. PORTER, Secretary.
Directors: W. D. C. Curtis, Lahan Pratt,
Henry Hornblower, Frederick W. Porter,
Clarence Burgin, William A. Muller, Sarel
J. Willis, Frederic H. Curtis.
Home Office, Neponset, Boston, Mass.

ETNA Insurance Co.,

HARTFORD, CONN.
Incorporated 1819. Charter Perpetual
Losses Paid in 90 Years, $115,798,170.31

JANUARY 1, 1909.

* Cash Capital $4,000,000.00
Reserve for Re-insurance, 6,250,820.18
Reserve for Unpaid Losses, 527,100.00
Reserve for Other Claims, 446,286.04
Total Assets, 10,900,226.22
- Liabilities, 7,263,652.22
Net Surplus, 3,636,574.00
- Policy Holders 9,267,673.33

John Hardwick & Co.,
AGENTS FOR QUINCY

Incorporated 1837

Dedham Mutual Fire Ins. Co.

DEDHAM, MASS.

STATEMENT JANUARY 1, 1913.

Amount at Risk, $9,552,164.00
Cash Assets, 6,250,820.18
Total Liabilities (including re-insurance), 7,218,226.22
Amount of Cash Surplus, 129,727.50
Contingent Assets, 128,651.65
Total Available Assets, 258,379.15

Dividends are now being paid on five-year policies, 20 per cent; on three-year policies, 10 per cent; on one-year policies, 25 per cent.

JAMES J. NOYES, President.

THEODORE T. MARSH, Secretary and Treasurer

DIRECTORS—Don Gleason Hill, Dedham; Frederick H. Mansfield, Dedham; Frederick D. Ely, Dedham; Samuel G. Bennett, Milton; Charles M. Farnon, Boston; James J. Noyes, Dedham; James H. Sullivan, Dedham; Samuel H. Capen, Dedham; Andrew H. Hodgdon, Dedham.

GEORGE H. FIELD, Agent for Quincy

Incorporated 1823

Norfolk Mutual Fire Ins. Co.

DEDHAM, MASS.

STATEMENT JANUARY 1, 1913.

Amount at Risk, $20,918,901.18
Cash Assets, 182,210.24
Total Liabilities, including re-insurance, 1,371,414.49
Amount of Cash Surplus, 848,268.75
Contingent Assets, 159,845.25
Total Available Assets, 1,008,114.00

Dividends are now being paid on five-year policies, 20 per cent; on three-year policies, 10 per cent; on one-year policies, 25 per cent.

JAMES J. NOYES, Pres. and Treas.

THEODORE T. MARSH, Secretary

DIRECTORS—Samuel G. Bennett, Dedham; Stephen M. Wild, Dedham; Thomas H. Draper, Canton; William E. Linnell, Brockton; James J. Noyes, Dedham; George W. Wagon, Franklin; Asa P. French, Rockport; Herbert M. Flinn, New Bedford; Clifford F. Baker, Dedham.

GEORGE H. FIELD, Agent for Quincy

CASTORIA
900 DROPS
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of
Dr. J. C. Ayer
In Use For Over Thirty Years
CASTORIA
ALCOHOL 3 PER CENT
Vegetable Preparation for Simulating the Food and Regulating the Stomach and Bowels PROMOTES DIGESTION, CHERISHES HEALTH AND RESISTANCE TO OPPIUM, MORPHINE, AND ALL NARCOTICS.
Drops of 100 in each bottle.
Perfect Remedy for Constipation and Resistant to Opium, Morphine, and All Narcotics.
Pac-Single Signature of
J. C. Ayer
NEW YORK
At 6 months old
35 DROPS—35 CENTS
Guaranteed under the Food and Drug Act of 1906.
Exact Copy of Wrapper
THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

SHINGLES
CYPRESS, EASTERN AND WESTERN CEDAR
ALSO, OTHER ROOFING MATERIAL
LUMBER
OF ALL KINDS
THE A. T. STEARNS LUMBER COMPANY
(ESTABLISHED 1849)
Main Office, Mills and Wharves at Neponset.
Branch Office and Exhibit, 160 Devonshire Street, and 19 Federal St., Haymarket Square Salesroom, 1 Sadbury Street, corner Merrimac St., BOSTON

COAL
SPECIAL NUT
The Best and Cheapest
RANGE COAL
Sold in this Market
Only $8.00 Per Ton
BUY NOW
G. PATCH & SON, Inc.
1422 Hancock Street
Feb. 1.

PLEASE SHUT THE DOOR.

Judson Bisco.
In winter time in Northern homes,
Cold drafts of chill you to the core,
Because some neighbor, when he comes,
Forgets to shut the outside door.
To him of course you are polite,
Extending welcomes o'er and o'er,
But in your mind you feel like 1-2-3,
Because he does not shut the door.
While riding to and from your work,
You're chilled way through, same as before;
You know some lumber or a shirt
Entered, and did not shut the door.
All through the day it had been thus,
Your patient would not strain much more;
Your hair a mass from nervous fuss,
And negligence to suit some door.
But you held your tongue and temper;
Such silence no one could deplore;
You were winner—an exemplar
Of patience with an open door.

BETTINA'S ANGEL.

Bettina's voice rose above the voices of the rest of the chorus. The Diva came to the wings. "Who is that girl," she asked.
The tenor, who five minutes before
had declared that he died of his passion, was slaking his fire in a quart
pot of beer.
"Who that girl is?" he interpreted
to the stage manager.
"That's Bettina Helling," answered
that gentleman. "She's only twenty-one now, and yet her stepfather married
her to a scamp five years ago.
The husband's dead. Her little boy is back there on the stage. He comes every evening with her stepfather,
who spends all her earnings.
The Diva listened to the voice swelling above the others. A scarf around her bare shoulders she waited for Bettina to come off with the rest of the chorus.
But Bettina seeing her there ignored the stage directions and made her exit at the side, where her stepfather stood with the stage carpenter, and where Fritz, perched on a carara marble pedestal composed of charred canvas, regarded his nightingale
with his nightingale's sight.
Bettina's son, aged four, made a cripple
of a manly fist, by a misdirected blow
on the part of his father, who believed in castigating Bettina until his first drop forever, and was now six feet away from
the troubles of this world.
But though Bettina for half a year had been unacquainted with the world, she had not been ignorant of the power of a man's will, for her stepfather had informed her two days back that by tonight he would have the sum of fifty dollars, in lieu of which he would raise Cain in the theatre
and have her dismissed from the chorus.
Fifty dollars! and her salary was margined to nearly its full amount for a month to come, and to all meet his rapacious
demands!
"Mamma Betty!" cried Fritz, holding out his arms. She tenderly embraced him, being careful that he did not disarrange her complexion. Her stepfather also called to her.
"I'll give you to the end of the third act," he said. "I must have your promise
of the money then."
What else could she do but sing? For three years, ever since the hump had come between Fritz's shoulders, she had striven her son to her work, taking abuse from her husband and her stepfather, letting them use her earnings as they would, resolving to atone to Fritz for the injury he had received
and to care for him with redoubled kindness.
"Promise," urged her stepfather.
"or I'll do more to I said. How should you like to lose the boy?"
"Lose Fritz?" Bettina gasped.
"Lose Fritz?" Her stepfather was a man
of his word, she knew only too well.
"Mamma Betty sings for Fritz," the child
laughed. "She had always told him that she sang for him, and many a night after the opera she had sat with him till the sun came up, soothing the pain in the hump between his shoulders by singing to him. Often she did not have to use any cosmetic to dash her eyes for the night's performance, nature
taking care of that part of her make up.
"Promise," urged her stepfather.
"Wait! Wait!" she said. Yet there was a way of getting the money without further efforts at borrowing from the chorus, who regarded her solely on account of past favors
they had conferred. Under a board, there near her feet, was a hidden brilliance which
had caused no end of confusion last night.
The Diva had dropped it as she made a tragic exit from the stage, and there it lay nobody but she could have taken it last night, picked the stone from its setting and sold it for the money her stepfather demanded, but she had found it impossible to do so. Little Fritz had run up to her at the end of the performance
and kissed her hand as he had a way of doing,
and she could not use her hand for a notorious
purpose with that kiss upon it.

THE HUMP.

But to be free of her incubus, to see her stepfather sail for the Fatherland where he decided he should get away from his debts contracted here, to keep Fritz from being stolen from her, to retain her place in the chorus. "I promise," she said, and glanced up at a card pinned at the paste-board castle describing the missing jewel.
Then the chorus must go on again.
To keep Fritz, to educate him, to give him a means of making his way in a world that is not always too kind to cripples such as he! She would possess herself of the shining ornament and give it to her stepfather. He would then reject it, she would stand at and at once leave her, fearing she might claim the value of the thing over and above the fifty dollars he demanded. He would ever be afraid to see her, remembering his collision in her act, and she should be free, she and Fritz. The sin of it! The prima donna would not care for so paltry a thing, she who blazed in jewels night after night, diamonds, rubies, emeralds, the gifts of kings and princes.
Bettina did not stop to think that a wealthy woman may have sentimentalities like the poorest of her sex. She was determined to before had been the first ornament bought with her earnings by a young singer who little dreamed that she was destined to electrify the world with her voice. Hidden among the gifts of kings and princes, the little pin, like a tiny violet among gorgeous orchids, glimmered out after night, a talisman precious to the heart of
its owner.
But her stepfather must have the money.
And afterwards? Ah, afterwards, Bettina should never again look into Fritz's eyes as she looked into them now, she should no longer be a hunchback, by a misdirected blow on the part of his father, who believed in castigating Bettina until his first drop forever, and was now six feet away from the troubles of this world.
But though Bettina for half a year had been unacquainted with the world, she had not been ignorant of the power of a man's will, for her stepfather had informed her two days back that
by tonight he would have the sum of fifty dollars, in lieu of which he would raise Cain in the theatre and have her dismissed from the chorus. Fifty dollars! and her salary was margined to nearly its full amount for a month to come, and to all meet his rapacious
demands!
"Mamma Betty!" cried Fritz, holding out his arms. She tenderly embraced him, being careful that he did not disarrange her complexion.
Her stepfather also called to her.
"I'll give you to the end of the third act,"
he said. "I must have your promise of the money then."
What else could she do but sing? For three years, ever since the hump had come between Fritz's shoulders, she had striven her son to her work, taking abuse from her husband and her stepfather, letting them use her earnings as they would, resolving to atone to Fritz for the injury he had received and to care for him with redoubled kindness.
"Promise," urged her stepfather.
"or I'll do more to I said. How should you
like to lose the boy?"
"Lose Fritz?" Bettina gasped.
"Lose Fritz?" Her stepfather was a man of his word, she knew only too well.
"Mamma Betty sings for Fritz," the child
laughed. "She had always told him that she sang for him, and many a night after the opera she had sat with him till the sun came up, soothing the pain in the hump between his shoulders by singing to him. Often she did not have to use any cosmetic to dash her eyes for the night's performance, nature taking care of
that part of her make up.
"Promise," urged her stepfather.
"Wait! Wait!" she said. Yet there was a way of getting the money without further efforts at borrowing from the chorus, who regarded her solely on account of past favors they had conferred. Under a board, there near her feet, was a hidden brilliance which had caused no end of confusion last night. The Diva had dropped it as she made a tragic exit from the stage, and there it lay nobody but she could have taken it last night, picked the stone from its setting and sold it for the money her stepfather demanded, but she had found it impossible to do so. Little Fritz had run up to her at the end of the performance and kissed her hand as he had a way of doing,
and she could not use her hand for a notorious
purpose with that kiss upon it.

THE HUMP.

But to be free of her incubus, to see her stepfather sail for the Fatherland where he decided he should get away from his debts
contracted here, to keep Fritz from being stolen from her, to retain her place in the chorus. "I promise," she said, and glanced up at a card pinned at the paste-board castle
describing the missing jewel.
Then the chorus must go on again. To keep Fritz, to educate him, to give him a means of making his way in a world that is not always too kind to cripples such as he! She would possess herself of the shining ornament and give it to her stepfather. He would then reject
it, she would stand at and at once leave her,
fearing she might claim the value of the thing
over and above the fifty dollars he demanded.
He would ever be afraid to see her, remembering
his collision in her act, and she should be free,
she and Fritz. The sin of it! The prima donna would not care for so paltry a thing, she who blazed in jewels night after night, diamonds, rubies, emeralds, the gifts of kings and princes. Bettina did not stop to think that a wealthy woman may have sentimentalities like the poorest of her sex. She was determined to before had been the first ornament bought with her earnings by a young singer who little dreamed that she was destined to electrify the world with her voice. Hidden among the gifts
of kings and princes, the little pin, like a tiny
violet among gorgeous orchids, glimmered out after night, a talisman precious to the heart of
its owner.
But her stepfather must have the money.
And afterwards? Ah, afterwards, Bettina
should never again look into Fritz's eyes as she looked into them now, she should no longer be a hunchback, by a misdirected blow on the part of his father, who believed in castigating Bettina until his first drop forever, and was now six feet away from the troubles of this world.
But though Bettina for half a year had been unacquainted with the world, she had not been
ignorant of the power of a man's will, for her stepfather had informed her two days back that
by tonight he would have the sum of fifty dollars, in lieu of which he would raise Cain in
the theatre and have her dismissed from the chorus. Fifty dollars! and her salary was margined to nearly its full amount for a month
to come, and to all meet his rapacious demands!
"Mamma Betty!" cried Fritz, holding out his arms. She tenderly embraced him, being careful that he did not disarrange her complexion.
Her stepfather also called to her.
"I'll give you to the end of the third act," he said. "I must have your promise of the money
then."
What else could she do but sing? For three years, ever since the hump had come between Fritz's shoulders, she had striven her son to her work, taking abuse from her husband and her stepfather, letting them use her earnings as they would, resolving to atone to Fritz for the injury
he had received and to care for him with
redoubled kindness.
"Promise," urged her stepfather.
"or I'll do more to I said. How should you like to lose the boy?"
"Lose Fritz?" Bettina gasped.
"Lose Fritz?" Her stepfather was a man of his word, she knew only too well.
"Mamma Betty sings for Fritz," the child
laughed. "She had always told him that she sang for him, and many a night after the opera
she had sat with him till the sun came up, soothing the pain in the hump between his shoulders by singing to him. Often she did not have to use any cosmetic to dash her eyes for
the night's performance, nature taking care of
that part of her make up.
"Promise," urged her stepfather.
"Wait! Wait!" she said. Yet there was a way
of getting the money without further efforts at borrowing from the chorus, who regarded her solely on account of past favors they had conferred. Under a board, there near her feet,
was a hidden brilliance which had caused no
end of confusion last night. The Diva had dropped it as she made a tragic exit from the stage, and there it lay nobody but she could have taken it last night, picked the stone from
its setting and sold it for the money her
stepfather demanded, but she had found it impossible to do so. Little Fritz had run up to her at the end of the performance and
kissed her hand as he had a way of doing,
and she could not use her hand for a notorious
purpose with that kiss upon it.

THE HUMP.

But to be free of her incubus, to see her stepfather sail for the Fatherland where he decided he should get away from his debts
contracted here, to keep Fritz from being stolen from her, to retain her place in the chorus. "I promise," she said, and glanced
up at a card pinned at the paste-board castle
describing the missing jewel.
Then the chorus must go on again. To keep Fritz, to educate him, to give him a means of making his way in a world that is not always too kind to cripples such as he! She would possess herself of the shining ornament and
give it to her stepfather. He would then reject
it, she would stand at and at once leave her,
fearing she might claim the value of the thing
over and above the fifty dollars he demanded.
He would ever be afraid to see her, remembering
his collision in her act, and she should be free,
she and Fritz. The sin of it! The prima donna
would not care for so paltry a thing, she who blazed in jewels night after night, diamonds,
rubies, emeralds, the gifts of kings and princes. Bettina did not stop to think that a wealthy woman may have sentimentalities like
the poorest of her sex. She was determined to before had been the first ornament bought with
her earnings by a young singer who little dreamed that she was destined to electrify the world with her voice. Hidden among the gifts
of kings and princes, the little pin, like a tiny
violet among gorgeous orchids, glimmered out after night, a talisman precious to the heart of
its owner.
But her stepfather must have the money.
And afterwards? Ah, afterwards, Bettina
should never again look into Fritz's eyes as she looked into them now, she should no longer be
a hunchback, by a misdirected blow on the part of his father, who believed in castigating Bettina until his first drop forever, and was now six feet away from the troubles of this world.
But though Bettina for half a year had been unacquainted with the world, she had not been
ignorant of the power of a man's will, for her stepfather had informed her two days back that
by tonight he would have the sum of fifty dollars, in lieu of which he would raise Cain in
the theatre and have her dismissed from the chorus. Fifty dollars! and her salary was margined to nearly its full amount for a month
to come, and to all meet his rapacious demands!
"Mamma Betty!" cried Fritz, holding out his arms. She tenderly embraced him, being careful that he did not disarrange her complexion.
Her stepfather also called to her.
"I'll give you to the end of the third act," he said. "I must have your promise of the money
then."
What else could she do but sing? For three years, ever since the hump had come between Fritz's shoulders, she had striven her son to her work, taking abuse from her husband and her
stepfather, letting them use her earnings as they would, resolving to atone to Fritz for the injury
he had received and to care for him with
redoubled kindness.
"Promise," urged her stepfather.
"or I'll do more to I said. How should you like to lose the boy?"
"Lose Fritz?" Bettina gasped.
"Lose Fritz?" Her stepfather was a man of his word, she knew only too well.
"Mamma Betty sings for Fritz," the child
laughed. "She had always told him that she sang for him, and many a night after the opera
she had sat with him till the sun came up,
soothing the pain in the hump between his shoulders by singing to him. Often she did not have to use any cosmetic to dash her eyes for
the night's performance, nature taking care of
that part of her make up.
"Promise," urged her stepfather.
"Wait! Wait!" she said. Yet there was a way
of getting the money without further efforts at borrowing from the chorus, who regarded her solely on account of past favors they had conferred. Under a board, there near her feet,
was a hidden brilliance which had caused no
end of confusion last night. The Diva had dropped it as she made a tragic exit from the stage, and there it lay nobody but she could have taken it last night, picked the stone from
its setting and sold it for the money her
stepfather demanded, but she had found it impossible to do so. Little Fritz had run up to her at the end of the performance and
kissed her hand as he had a way of doing,
and she could not use her hand for a notorious
purpose with that kiss upon it.

BETTINA'S ANGEL.

Bettina's voice rose above the voices
of the rest of the chorus. The Diva
came to the wings. "Who is that girl," she asked.
The tenor, who five minutes before
had declared that he died of his passion,
was slaking his fire in a quart
pot of beer.
"Who that girl is?" he interpreted
to the stage manager.
"That's Bettina Helling," answered
that gentleman. "She's only twenty-one
now, and yet her stepfather married
her to a scamp five years ago.
The husband's dead. Her little boy is back there on the stage. He comes every evening with her stepfather,
who spends all her earnings.
The Diva listened to the voice swelling
above the others. A scarf around her bare shoulders she waited for Bettina to
come off with the rest of the chorus.
But Bettina seeing her there ignored the
stage directions and made her exit at the side, where her stepfather stood with the stage carpenter, and where Fritz, perched
on a carara marble pedestal composed of charred canvas, regarded his nightingale
with his nightingale's sight.
Bettina's son, aged four, made a cripple
of a manly fist, by a misdirected blow
on the part of his father, who believed
in castigating Bettina until his first drop forever, and was now six feet away from
the troubles of this world.
But though Bettina for half a year had
been unacquainted with the world, she
had not been ignorant of the power of a man's will, for her stepfather had informed
her two days back that by tonight he would have the sum of fifty dollars, in lieu
of which he would raise Cain in the theatre
and have her dismissed from the chorus.
Fifty dollars! and her salary was
margined to nearly its full amount for a month to come, and to all meet his rapacious
demands!
"Mamma Betty!" cried Fritz, holding out his arms. She tenderly embraced him,
being careful that he did not disarrange her complexion. Her stepfather also called to her.
"I'll give you to the end of the third
act," he said. "I must have your promise
of the money then."
What else could she do but sing? For three years, ever since the hump had come
between Fritz's shoulders, she had striven
her son to her work, taking abuse from her husband and her stepfather, letting them use
her earnings as they would, resolving to atone to Fritz for the injury he had received
and to care for him with redoubled kindness.
"Promise," urged her stepfather.
"or I'll do more to I said. How should you
like to lose the boy?"
"Lose Fritz?" Bettina gasped.
"Lose Fritz?" Her stepfather was a man
of his word, she knew only too well.
"Mamma Betty sings for Fritz," the child
laughed. "She had always told him that she sang for him, and many a night after the opera she had sat with him till the sun came up, soothing the pain in the hump between his shoulders by singing to him. Often she did not have to use any cosmetic to dash her
eyes for the night's performance, nature
taking care of that part of her make up.
"Promise," urged her stepfather.
"Wait! Wait!" she said. Yet there was a way of getting the money without further efforts at borrowing from the chorus, who
regarded her solely on account of past favors
they had conferred. Under a board, there near her feet, was a hidden brilliance which
had caused no end of confusion last night.
The Diva had dropped it as she made a tragic exit from the stage, and there it lay nobody
but she could have taken it last night, picked
the stone from its setting and sold it for the money her stepfather demanded, but she had found it impossible to do so. Little Fritz had run up to her at the end of the performance
and kissed her hand as he had a way of doing,
and she could not use her hand for a notorious
purpose with that kiss upon it.

THE HUMP.

But to be free of her incubus, to see her stepfather sail for the Fatherland where he decided he should get away from his debts
contracted here, to keep Fritz from being stolen from her, to retain her place in the chorus. "I promise," she said, and glanced
up at a card pinned at the paste-board castle
describing the missing jewel.
Then the chorus must go on again. To keep Fritz, to educate him, to give him a means of making his way in a world that is not always too kind to cripples such as he! She would possess herself of the shining ornament and
give it to her stepfather. He would then reject
it, she would stand at and at once leave her,
fearing she might claim the value of the thing
over and above the fifty dollars he demanded.
He would ever be afraid to see her, remembering
his collision in her act, and she should be free,
she and Fritz. The sin of it! The prima donna
would not care for so paltry a thing, she who blazed in jewels night after night, diamonds,
rubies, emeralds, the gifts of kings and princes. Bettina did not stop to think that a wealthy woman may have sentimentalities like
the poorest of her sex. She was determined to before had been the first ornament bought with
her earnings by a young singer who little dreamed that she was destined to electrify the world with her voice. Hidden among the gifts
of kings and princes, the little pin, like a tiny
violet among gorgeous orchids, glimmered out after night, a talisman precious to the heart of
its owner.
But her stepfather must have the money.
And afterwards? Ah, afterwards, Bettina
should never again look into Fritz's eyes as she looked into them now, she should no longer be
a hunchback, by a misdirected blow on the part
of his father, who believed in castigating Bettina until his first drop forever, and was now six feet away from the troubles of this world.
But though Bettina for half a year had been unacquainted with the world, she had not been
ignorant of the power of a man's will, for her stepfather had informed her two days back that
by tonight he would have the sum of fifty dollars, in lieu of which he would raise Cain in
the theatre and have her dismissed from the chorus. Fifty dollars! and her salary was margined to nearly its full amount for a month
to come, and to all meet his rapacious demands!
"Mamma Betty!" cried Fritz, holding out
his arms. She tenderly embraced him, being careful that he did not disarrange her complexion. Her stepfather also called to her.
"I'll give you to the end of the third act,"
he said. "I must have your promise of the
money then."
What else could she do but sing? For three years, ever since the hump had come between Fritz's shoulders, she had striven her son to
her work, taking abuse from her husband and
her stepfather, letting them use her earnings as
they would, resolving to atone to Fritz for the injury he had received and to care for him with
redoubled kindness.
"Promise," urged her stepfather.
"or I'll do more to I said. How should you
like to lose the boy?"
"Lose Fritz?" Bettina gasped.
"Lose Fritz?" Her stepfather was a man of his word, she knew only too well.
"Mamma Betty sings for Fritz," the child
laughed. "She had always told him that she sang for him, and many a night after the opera she had sat with him till the sun came up, soothing the pain in the hump between his shoulders by singing to him. Often she did not have to use any cosmetic to dash her eyes for
the night's performance, nature taking care of
that part of her make up.
"Promise," urged her stepfather.
"Wait! Wait!" she said. Yet there was a way
of getting the money without further efforts at borrowing from the chorus, who regarded her solely on account of past favors they had conferred. Under a board, there near her feet,
was a hidden brilliance which had caused no
end of confusion last night. The Diva had dropped it as she made a tragic exit from the stage, and there it lay nobody but she could have taken it last night, picked the stone from
its setting and sold it for the money her
stepfather demanded, but she had found it impossible to do so. Little Fritz had run up to her at the end of the performance and
kissed her hand as he had a way of doing,
and she could not use her hand for a notorious
purpose with that kiss upon it.

THE HUMP.

But to be free of her incubus, to see her stepfather sail for the Fatherland where he decided he should get away from his debts
contracted here, to keep Fritz from being stolen from her, to retain her place in the chorus. "I promise," she said, and glanced
up at a card pinned at the paste-board castle
describing the missing jewel.
Then the chorus must go on again. To keep Fritz, to educate him, to give him a means of making his way in a world that is not always too kind to cripples such as he! She would possess herself of the shining ornament and
give it to her stepfather. He would then reject
it, she would stand at and at once leave her,
fearing she might claim the value of the thing
over and above the fifty dollars he demanded.
He would ever be afraid to see her, remembering
his collision in her act, and she should be free,
she and Fritz. The sin of it! The prima donna
would not care for so paltry a thing, she who blazed in jewels night after night, diamonds,
rubies, emeralds, the gifts of kings and princes. Bettina did not stop to think that a wealthy woman may have sentimentalities like
the poorest of her sex. She was determined to before had been the first ornament bought with
her earnings by a young singer who little dreamed that she was destined to electrify the world with her voice. Hidden among the gifts
of kings and princes, the little pin, like a tiny
violet among gorgeous orchids, glimmered out after night, a talisman precious to the heart of
its owner.
But her stepfather must have the money.
And afterwards? Ah, afterwards, Bettina
should never again look into Fritz's eyes as she looked into them now, she should no longer be
a hunchback, by a misdirected blow on the part
of his father, who believed in castigating Bettina until his first drop forever, and was now six feet away from the troubles of this world.
But though Bettina for half a year had been unacquainted with the world, she had not been
ignorant of the power of a man's will, for her stepfather had informed her two days back that
by tonight he would have the sum of fifty dollars, in lieu of which he would raise Cain in
the theatre and have her dismissed from the chorus. Fifty dollars! and her salary was margined to nearly its full amount for a month
to come, and to all meet his rapacious demands!
"Mamma Betty!" cried Fritz, holding out his arms. She tenderly embraced him, being careful that he did not disarrange her complexion.
Her stepfather also called to her.
"I'll give you to the end of the third act," he said. "I must have your promise of the money
then."
What else could she do but sing? For three years, ever since the hump had come between Fritz's shoulders, she had striven her son to her work, taking abuse from her husband and her stepfather, letting them use her

The Quincy Patriot

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 22, 1913

HONORED HIS MEMORY.

The George Washington festival given by the Ladies' Aid Society of the Atlantic Methodist church, paid due respect to Washington's birthday. The following program was excellently rendered:

Washington's Grand March, Miss Dickey, Songs of the Nation's—piano and drum, Mrs. Kimball and son, Tableau—Washington and hatchet, Wentworth Sanborn, Overture, Mrs. Goyette, "When Johnny comes Marching Home," Mr. Cassidy and chorus.

Tableau—Giving up the Navy, Miss Marion Green and Mr. Roy Nelson, Duet, Violin, piano, Miss Edna Crockett and Miss Ethel Dickey, Chorus, "Red, White and Blue," Tableau, "Betsey Ross and flag," Miss Ethel Dickey with chorus, "Star Spangled Banner," Bay State Commandery, piano and drum, Mrs. Kimball and son.

Solo, Just Before the Battle, Mother, Wentworth Sanborn, Tableau, George and Martha Washington, Miss Alice Beal and Mr. Roy Nelson.

Duet, Violin and piano, Misses Crockett and Dickey, III Traviata, solo with guitar accompaniment, Mrs. Goyette, Tableau, Goddess of Liberty, Miss Mabel Crockett.

America, piano and mandolin with chorus, Washington pies and George Washington's instant coffee were served. The vestry was prettily decorated with flags and bunting suitable for the occasion. No Paris gown could have eclipsed the one worn by Miss Alice Beal as Martha Washington, or of Miss Marion Green as the nation's tableau, "Giving up the Navy," and anyone comparing Roy Nelson with a picture of George Washington would find a perfect likeness.

The entertainment committee were Mrs. Arthur Thayer, Mrs. A. N. Whitman and Mrs. Sanborn assisted by the ladies of the Aid Society.

IMPROVEMENT SOCIETY.

The annual meeting of the West Quincy Improvement association was held Thursday evening. President Stephen B. Little presiding. The election of officers resulted as follows:

President—Stephen B. Little, Secretary—J. H. McPherson, Treasurer—Neil McDonald.

The report of the various officers for the past year showed that considerable work had been done by the association during that time in the way of improvements. A statement showing just what has been accomplished will be drawn up and given to the press for publication at an early date.

The report of the treasurer also showed the association to be in good condition financially.

William H. Teasdale, J. H. McPherson, Peter T. Fallon, Robert Newcomb and Neil McDonald were appointed a committee to arrange for a public meeting to organize a co-operative bank, an institution that is very much needed in this section of the city.

William H. Teasdale, chairman of the committee on transportation of the Board of Trade told what had been accomplished in the way of improved train service. Among these things was the one fare for workingmen and women between the corner and Milton Lower Mills, a car for West Quincy from the 12:25 train from Boston. He also told of the change that is to go into effect by the new timetable on the steam railroad between West Quincy and Boston.

The most important item on the train service and one that the residents of West Quincy have long wanted is the train now leaving Boston for West Quincy at 5:22 and running accommodation to West Quincy. Under the new time table a train will leave Boston ten minutes later at 5:32 and will run express to Neponset and arrive in West Quincy about the same time as the 5:22 now arrives.

Several members of the association spoke of plans for the coming year.

PARENTS ASSOCIATION.

Meeting of Parents-Teachers Association of Adams school was held Thursday evening. Principal A. S. Townsend gave an address on "Environment and Your Child." Miss Phyllis Smith of Atlantic, a pupil at the Quincy High school gave two readings and responded to an encore. Miss Smith's delivery made a fine impression.

Among the speakers was Miss Nellie Tilston of the State Board of Children who told of her work. She was well received.

Mr. Townsend's lecture was interspersed with incidents of his early experience as a principal. He spoke of the inadvisability of parents boasting of their school day pranks before their children.

He cited many cases showing that of the two great forces shaping the individual and the race heredity and environment, by far the most powerful is environment. He said modern psychology has many suggestions to offer parents regarding the importance of environmental influences on children which all parents ought to know.

President Fay said he regretted that more members did not attend. A business meeting was held at which pertinent school topics were discussed.

The entertainments at these meetings are in charge of Mrs. William Wilson. Refreshments were served by Miss Bessie Roberts of Grade Five, assisted by Mrs. Charles Hobart, Mrs. Charles E. Hunt and Mrs. Harold Hanson.

HOSPITAL NURSES.

The Alumnae Association of the City Hospital of Quincy held its February meeting at the home of Miss Margaret Carey, South street, Wednesday.

Reports of the last meeting which was held with the president, Miss Eliza Y. Meyer, were read by Miss Jean Russell, secretary and Miss Carey, treasurer. It was voted to hold meetings every six months. The next meeting falling on Aug. 20.

After the business meeting a most interesting paper on the "Housing of Nurses before and after graduation" was read by Miss Blanche M. Thayer, former Superintendent of the City Hospital of Quincy and honorary member of the Alumnae association.

After the reading refreshments were served and the meeting adjourned at 5:30.

BRIEFS.

Plavel Beal of Springfield was the guest of the first of the week of his nephew Edwin L. Beal.

Charles H. Johnson, will give his lecture on George Washington six times this week.

Miss Grace M. Isaac of West Newton has been the guest for a few days this week of Miss Etta M. Prescott of Presidents hill.

The next meeting of the Hospital Aid Association will be held at the home of Paul R. Blackmur, 27 Elm street, Thursday, Feb. 27.

William T. Isaac of West Newton left this week on a voyage to Panama. He is with a party of friends and will be away for a month.

Charles L. Hanford who was arrested in Quincy for forgery at Richmond, Va., was sentenced to one year Monday by a Richmond court judge.

Lyndon Hardwick of Philadelphia has been a guest this week at the home of his parents Mr. and Mrs. C. Theodore Hardwick of Chestnut street.

Mrs. Helen Well is to read three of Lady Gregory's Irish plays at the meeting of the Quincy Women's club on Tuesday afternoon at Alpha hall, Nelson.

The many friends of Mrs. Catherine E. Pitts of Hancock street will be glad to hear that she is recovering from a very serious attack of the grip.

Henry C. Low, Jr., of New York and his fiancée Miss Katharine Westervelt, are holiday and week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Russell C. Low of Presidents hill.

The pupils of the Quincy High school are making preparations for the annual indoor interclass meet which will be held in the gym March 5.

The funeral of Michael R. Histon, father of ex-councilman Edward P. Histon, who died Tuesday in his 55th year, took place Thursday from his home, 22 Dyar street.

Friends of Mrs. Mary Flowers of Newcomb place, are sorry to hear she has returned to the Massachusetts General Hospital, where she has to undergo another operation.

Mrs. John O. Holden, Mrs. Wilson Tisdale, Miss Ellen Fottler and Mrs. Marie E. Pettie all of Adams street, are leaving next week for Florida for a month's stay.

Mr. and Mrs. James H. Stetson of School street have given up their annual trip to Augusta, Georgia this winter because of the prolonged illness of Mrs. Stetson.

William E. Cooper of Miller street sailed from New York Friday on the new steamship of the United Fruit Co. for a month's trip to the Panama canal and other southern ports.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Francis Adams, 2d were among the guests of President and Mrs. Taft on Monday evening at the dinner for the French ambassador and Mme. Jusserand.

Union Chapel beat the Wollaston M. E. 23 to 1 and the First Presbyterian beat the Wollaston Congregational 4 to 5 in the Sunday School league basketball game played at the Y. M. C. A. gym Saturday afternoon.

Miss Nellie M. Buleva, well known here as a train maid is spending the winter with relatives at Gage-ton, N. B. Miss Buleva was acting matron at the Quincy City Hospital on several occasions.

The annual budget presented to the City Council Monday night will furnish much material for debate at the next meeting as it must be cut something to $25,000 to get within the limit that can be raised for current expenses.

Rev. Richard E. Armstrong, rector of Christ church will address the members of St. Margaret's Guild, Feb. 28, instead of Feb. 21 as first planned. The talk will be given as a Lenten service for the members.

The attendance averages of the High school pupils has been up to the standard. The classes of 1912 and 1913 are in first place with 94.8, third place is filled by 1914 with 93.4 and 1915 a fourth with 93.

Beginning, Feb. 19, the Bay State street railway will run cars on Wednesday and Saturday nights to Quincy street, at 109½ Intervale street. The first started from one unknown cause on a rug beneath a piano in the parlor and before discovered had communicated to the instrument, the front of which was burning briskly when the firemen entered the house.

Three Democrats including a club of 200 members and the ward committee have permanently organized with Michael Donahue as chairman and David J. Warner as secretary. James Faircloth is vice chairman and James Doherty is treasurer.

The observance of Washington's birthday by the Y. M. C. A. has been cancelled because of the fire in the association rooms Wednesday afternoon.

The fire Wednesday afternoon in the club room of the Young Men's Hebrew association in the Grossman block on Water street did damage of about $600. It all took $100 to the club and the balance to the building. It is thought that the fire caught from an overheated stove. The rooms had recently been fitted up and were dedicated last week. John Hackett, a fireman was quickly badly burned while trying to extinguish the flames.

The fire Wednesday afternoon in the club room of the Young Men's Hebrew association in the Grossman block on Water street did damage of about $600. It all took $100 to the club and the balance to the building. It is thought that the fire caught from an overheated stove. The rooms had recently been fitted up and were dedicated last week. John Hackett, a fireman was quickly badly burned while trying to extinguish the flames.

The Quincy Gym Girls lost to the Oliver Ames High basketball team at North Easton Wednesday by a score of 28 to 1. The local girls played a fast, clean game, but had considerable hard luck in shooting. The only score made was from a free try by Isadora Beal. The result was not bad when the fact is recalled that the winners defeated the fast Randolph Stetson high team 64 to 3.

Owing to the permanent change in the law, going into effect March 1st, regulating the hours of Postal employees to eight hours within ten hours, the mail will close for the last local delivery at 1:30 P. M. Mail will close at 1:30 A. M., to connect with the last delivery for Atlantic, 12 M. for Braintree and South Braintree and 1:30 for Wollaston.

Mrs. G. B. Bates entertained Devotional Night at King's Daughters at her home on Dimmock street, Wednesday afternoon, a good number being present. Plans were discussed for raising money for charitable work. Mrs. Bates proved a most hospitable hostess giving her guests a cordial welcome and good time. Mrs. Louis La Rose is to entertain the Ten at her home, 124 Upland road on March 20th.

BRIEFS.

The public schools closed Friday for a week's vacation, the second term beginning Monday, March 3.

The Women's Relief Corps will meet next Tuesday afternoon and hold a white party in the evening.

Mrs. James W. Pierce of Granite street is confined to her home with a severe attack of the grippe.

Mrs. Thomas Gammon of Gilmore street who has been ill since the first of the week with a severe attack of tonsillitis is convalescing but will not be out for another week.

Mrs. Amelia Higgins, widow of the late Warren D. Higgins, who was a well known carpenter and builder 25 years ago, died this morning from a cancer at West Quincy. She was in her 60's.

"Religion as exemplified in the lives of Washington and Lincoln" is the subject on which Rev. Adelbert Lathrop Hudson will preach Sunday morning at First church, this being the third in his series of Sunday morning Lenten sermons.

Inauguration Day will be celebrated in Quincy by a grand auto show at the Wollaston Centre Garage. In fact Quincy will be one day ahead of Washington, as this second annual exhibition will open, Monday, March 3 and continue through Tuesday, March 4, from 10 A. M. to 10 P. M. each day.

Rev. G. W. Palmgren, will preach his last sermon as pastor of the Swedish Congregational church, Sunday as he enters upon his duties at the Swedish church in Hartford, Sunday, March 2. His Quincy parishioners will tender him a farewell reception, Thursday evening.

A meeting of the Quincy Council, Knights of Columbus was held in Colonial hall Thursday evening. It was voted to attend Holy Communion in a body at St. John's church, March 2. In a talk on "Our Chief Concern" William J. Shanahan of Somerville, speaker, outlined a comparison of early and present day educational systems. Several amendments were made to the constitution.

One of the happiest boys of the city is Sturgis H. Hunt, who won the beautiful diamond ring in the Daily Ledger popularity contest. He also will take a trip and one which he will enjoy quite as much as the Washington trip. He left on Friday with other Quincy boys for the State conference of the Y. M. C. A. at Pittsfield which will continue until Monday.

Others in the party are Alden H. Blanchard, the boys' work director, and his brother Fred Blanchard, Charles M. Johnson, George Macdonald and Bernard Gouterman.

SQUANTUM.

Mr. and Mrs. John Jepson, Bayville road entertained a number of friends at a toboggan party Saturday evening.

A splendid slide was prepared during the day and a generous supply of toboggans and sleds was readied for the guests who enjoyed this sport until 10:00 P. M.

Mr. and Mrs. Jepson then opened their bungalow and served refreshments. Pool and whist was enjoyed until a late hour.

Mrs. Jane Foster and Mr. James Hagan were the winners of a whist tournament. Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Carlson, Mrs. Joseph Uppling, Joseph Uppling, Jr., Mrs. Matthew McGrain, Mrs. L. B. Tjos, Mr. Bowen, Mrs. Charles W. Watts, Hazel Watts, Earl Watts, Mrs. James Foster, Edna Carlson, Thelma Holt, Mrs. Louise Holt, Mr. and Mrs. James Hagan, Mrs. Joseph Allen, Mrs. T. Aldrich, Russell Rich, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Young, Francis Callahan, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Olson.

Master Richard Nelson celebrated the first anniversary of his birth Tuesday at the home of his parents Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Nelson, Brunswick street. He entertained his little friends from two to five o'clock.

On a table in the living room was a pretty display of gifts including toys, silkworm and money.

Mrs. Nelson served a dainty lunch. The dining room was prettily decorated with cut flowers and at Master Richard's place at the table were four birthday cakes properly inscribed and in the center of each was a candle.

The older guests were pleasantly entertained by the popular musical selections played on a graphophone.

Among those present were Master Myles Goldbrum, Master George Chester Young, Joe Uppling, Madeline Nelson, Mrs. B. Goldbrum, Mrs. Albert Nelson, Mrs. Joseph Uppling, Mrs. Edgar Porter, Boston, Mrs. Chester Young, Mrs. Margaret Adams, Mrs. C. O. Landgrave, Mrs. Louise Holt and Mrs. Herbert Smith.

George Jones is confined to his home, Bellevue road with an attack of lumbago.

President C. E. Carlson of the Squantum Improvement Association has been elected secretary of the club. Mr. Nelson served a dainty lunch. The dining room was prettily decorated with cut flowers and at Master Richard's place at the table were four birthday cakes properly inscribed and in the center of each was a candle.

The older guests were pleasantly entertained by the popular musical selections played on a graphophone.

Among those present were Master Myles Goldbrum, Master George Chester Young, Joe Uppling, Madeline Nelson, Mrs. B. Goldbrum, Mrs. Albert Nelson, Mrs. Joseph Uppling, Mrs. Edgar Porter, Boston, Mrs. Chester Young, Mrs. Margaret Adams, Mrs. C. O. Landgrave, Mrs. Louise Holt and Mrs. Herbert Smith.

George Jones is confined to his home, Bellevue road with an attack of lumbago.

President C. E. Carlson of the Squantum Improvement Association has been elected secretary of the club. Mr. Nelson served a dainty lunch. The dining room was prettily decorated with cut flowers and at Master Richard's place at the table were four birthday cakes properly inscribed and in the center of each was a candle.

The older guests were pleasantly entertained by the popular musical selections played on a graphophone.

Among those present were Master Myles Goldbrum, Master George Chester Young, Joe Uppling, Madeline Nelson, Mrs. B. Goldbrum, Mrs. Albert Nelson, Mrs. Joseph Uppling, Mrs. Edgar Porter, Boston, Mrs. Chester Young, Mrs. Margaret Adams, Mrs. C. O. Landgrave, Mrs. Louise Holt and Mrs. Herbert Smith.

George Jones is confined to his home, Bellevue road with an attack of lumbago.

President C. E. Carlson of the Squantum Improvement Association has been elected secretary of the club. Mr. Nelson served a dainty lunch. The dining room was prettily decorated with cut flowers and at Master Richard's place at the table were four birthday cakes properly inscribed and in the center of each was a candle.

The older guests were pleasantly entertained by the popular musical selections played on a graphophone.

WEST QUINCY.

Joseph Duan of West Quincy, has returned from a hunting trip in Nova Scotia during which he shot one of the biggest moose ever brought down in the section where he visited.

Miss Mabel Reardon of Reardon street, is confined to her home by illness.

"Diddle" the four-year-old son of Dr. and Mrs. John T. Reynolds of the boulevard, is ill at their home.

The funeral of John Williams took place from his home on Barry street Wednesday. Services were conducted by Rev. T. C. Martin of the Hall Place M. E. church, of which the deceased was an active member. Nearly the total membership of the Sons of St. George attended the funeral. Burial was in the Hall cemetery.

An anniversary requiem for the repose of soul of Mrs. Harriet DeCombe who died a year ago was celebrated Wednesday at St. Mary's church by Rev. William J. Duffy. DeCombe was one of West Quincy's best known old time settlers.

The fifth in the course of lectures given at the Hall Place M. E. church this winter was held Wednesday evening by the Davis Ensemble orchestra of the Copley Square School of Music. Prof. Frank W. Davis, director, assisted by Miss Helen E. Martin, soloist.

A splendid program was given, every selection being finely rendered. Sunday morning at 9:30 Dr. Dillon Bronson will conduct the fourth quarterly conference at the Hall Place M. E. church and will preach at 10:30.

The parish of the Swedish Congregational church has arranged a reception for the farewell reception to Rev. G. W. Palmgren for Thursday evening, Feb. 27th. Mr. Palmgren preaches his farewell sermons Sunday at the 14:45 A. M. and 7 P. M. services.

SQUANTUM.

Mr. and Mrs. John Jepson, Bayville road entertained a number of friends at a toboggan party Saturday evening.

A splendid slide was prepared during the day and a generous supply of toboggans and sleds was readied for the guests who enjoyed this sport until 10:00 P. M.

Mr. and Mrs. Jepson then opened their bungalow and served refreshments. Pool and whist was enjoyed until a late hour.

Mrs. Jane Foster and Mr. James Hagan were the winners of a whist tournament. Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Carlson, Mrs. Joseph Uppling, Joseph Uppling, Jr., Mrs. Matthew McGrain, Mrs. L. B. Tjos, Mr. Bowen, Mrs. Charles W. Watts, Hazel Watts, Earl Watts, Mrs. James Foster, Edna Carlson, Thelma Holt, Mrs. Louise Holt, Mr. and Mrs. James Hagan, Mrs. Joseph Allen, Mrs. T. Aldrich, Russell Rich, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Young, Francis Callahan, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Olson.

Master Richard Nelson celebrated the first anniversary of his birth Tuesday at the home of his parents Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Nelson, Brunswick street. He entertained his little friends from two to five o'clock.

On a table in the living room was a pretty display of gifts including toys, silkworm and money.

Mrs. Nelson served a dainty lunch. The dining room was prettily decorated with cut flowers and at Master Richard's place at the table were four birthday cakes properly inscribed and in the center of each was a candle.

The older guests were pleasantly entertained by the popular musical selections played on a graphophone.

Among those present were Master Myles Goldbrum, Master George Chester Young, Joe Uppling, Madeline Nelson, Mrs. B. Goldbrum, Mrs. Albert Nelson, Mrs. Joseph Uppling, Mrs. Edgar Porter, Boston, Mrs. Chester Young, Mrs. Margaret Adams, Mrs. C. O. Landgrave, Mrs. Louise Holt and Mrs. Herbert Smith.

George Jones is confined to his home, Bellevue road with an attack of lumbago.

President C. E. Carlson of the Squantum Improvement Association has been elected secretary of the club. Mr. Nelson served a dainty lunch. The dining room was prettily decorated with cut flowers and at Master Richard's place at the table were four birthday cakes properly inscribed and in the center of each was a candle.

The older guests were pleasantly entertained by the popular musical selections played on a graphophone.

Among those present were Master Myles Goldbrum, Master George Chester Young, Joe Uppling, Madeline Nelson, Mrs. B. Goldbrum, Mrs. Albert Nelson, Mrs. Joseph Uppling, Mrs. Edgar Porter, Boston, Mrs. Chester Young, Mrs. Margaret Adams, Mrs. C. O. Landgrave, Mrs. Louise Holt and Mrs. Herbert Smith.

George Jones is confined to his home, Bellevue road with an attack of lumbago.

President C. E. Carlson of the Squantum Improvement Association has been elected secretary of the club. Mr. Nelson served a dainty lunch. The dining room was prettily decorated with cut flowers and at Master Richard's place at the table were four birthday cakes properly inscribed and in the center of each was a candle.

The older guests were pleasantly entertained by the popular musical selections played on a graphophone.

Among those present were Master Myles Goldbrum, Master George Chester Young, Joe Uppling, Madeline Nelson, Mrs. B. Goldbrum, Mrs. Albert Nelson, Mrs. Joseph Uppling, Mrs. Edgar Porter, Boston, Mrs. Chester Young, Mrs. Margaret Adams, Mrs. C. O. Landgrave, Mrs. Louise Holt and Mrs. Herbert Smith.

George Jones is confined to his home, Bellevue road with an attack of lumbago.

President C. E. Carlson of the Squantum Improvement Association has been elected secretary of the club. Mr. Nelson served a dainty lunch. The dining room was prettily decorated with cut flowers and at Master Richard's place at the table were four birthday cakes properly inscribed and in the center of each was a candle.

The older guests were pleasantly entertained by the popular musical selections played on a graphophone.

Among those present were Master Myles Goldbrum, Master George Chester Young, Joe Uppling, Madeline Nelson, Mrs. B. Goldbrum, Mrs. Albert Nelson, Mrs. Joseph Uppling, Mrs. Edgar Porter, Boston, Mrs. Chester Young, Mrs. Margaret Adams, Mrs. C. O. Landgrave, Mrs. Louise Holt and Mrs. Herbert Smith.

George Jones is confined to his home, Bellevue road with an attack of lumbago.

QUINCY POINT.

At a meeting of the Washington Street Congregational church, Feb. 14, it was voted to elect Rev. Sherman Goodwin of Brookfield to the vacancy caused by the resignation of Rev. Charles P. Marshall which took effect Nov. 1. This action will come before a meeting of the parish Friday evening at which time the choice of the church will probably be ratified.

Rev. Mr. Goodwin has appeared here twice and has made a good impression on the congregation.

The boat house of Marcus M. Wright at the foot of Howard street was broken into early Sunday morning by two boys of 15 years of age. The boys were seen to enter the boat house and were telephoned the police but before the auto patrol arrived the boys ran away. Nothing was taken from the boat house.

The trans steamer Nelson came in Tuesday from Cuban ports, with 1,500,000 gallons of molasses, loaded at Matanzas and Havana. Since leaving the latter port she had encountered boisterous weather. It is the Nelson's first visit to Boston.

The steamer Nelson was reported to have found on a cake of ice in Haywards' Nantucket Monday on account of dense fog. One of the crew, because of illness was left in the hospital at Matanzas. The Nelson was launched at Fore River, last summer.

Mrs. William Huber, nee Violet, have gone to Kittery, Maine to visit Mrs. Huber's father for two weeks.

Mrs. Edwin L. Beal of Washington street, was the guest of this week of friends in Hingham.

The frozen body of a female baby, found on a cake of ice in Haywards' Nantucket Monday on account of dense fog. One of the crew, because of illness was left in the hospital at Matanzas. The Nelson was launched at Fore River, last summer.

Mrs. William Huber, nee Violet, have gone to Kittery, Maine to visit Mrs. Huber's father for two weeks.

Mrs. Edwin L. Beal of Washington street, was the guest of this week of friends in Hingham.

The frozen body of a female baby, found on a cake of ice in Haywards' Nantucket Monday on account of dense fog. One of the crew, because of illness was left in the hospital at Matanzas. The Nelson was launched at Fore River, last summer.

Mrs. William Huber, nee Violet, have gone to Kittery, Maine to visit Mrs. Huber's father for two weeks.

Mrs. Edwin L. Beal of Washington street, was the guest of this week of friends in Hingham.

The frozen body of a female baby, found on a cake of ice in Haywards' Nantucket Monday on account of dense fog. One of the crew, because of illness was left in the hospital at Matanzas. The Nelson was launched at Fore River, last summer.

Mrs. William Huber, nee Violet, have gone to Kittery, Maine to visit Mrs. Huber's father for two weeks.

Mrs. Edwin L. Beal of Washington street, was the guest of this week of friends in Hingham.

The frozen body of a female baby, found on a cake of ice in Haywards' Nantucket Monday on account of dense fog. One of the crew, because of illness was left in the hospital at Matanzas. The Nelson was launched at Fore River, last summer.

Mrs. William Huber, nee Violet, have gone to Kittery, Maine to visit Mrs. Huber's father for two weeks.

Mrs. Edwin L. Beal of Washington street, was the guest of this week of friends in Hingham.

The frozen body of a female baby, found on a cake of ice in Haywards' Nantucket Monday on account of dense fog. One of the crew, because of illness was left in the hospital at Matanzas. The Nelson was launched at Fore River, last summer.

Mrs. William Huber, nee Violet, have gone to Kittery, Maine to visit Mrs. Huber's father for two weeks.

Mrs. Edwin L. Beal of Washington street, was the guest of this week of friends in Hingham.

The frozen body of a female baby, found on a cake of ice in Haywards' Nantucket Monday on account of dense fog. One of the crew, because of illness was left in the hospital at Matanzas. The Nelson was launched at Fore River, last summer.

Mrs. William Huber, nee Violet, have gone to Kittery, Maine to visit Mrs. Huber's father for two weeks.

Mrs. Edwin L. Beal of Washington street, was the guest of this week of friends in Hingham.

The frozen body of a female baby, found on a cake of ice in Haywards' Nantucket Monday on account of dense fog. One of the crew, because of illness was left in the hospital at Matanzas. The Nelson was launched at Fore River, last summer.

Mrs. William Huber, nee Violet, have gone to Kittery, Maine to visit Mrs. Huber's father for two weeks.

Mrs. Edwin L. Beal of Washington street, was the guest of this week of friends in Hingham.

The frozen body of a female baby, found on a cake of ice in Haywards' Nantucket Monday on account of dense fog. One of the crew, because of illness was left in the hospital at Matanzas. The Nelson was launched at Fore River, last summer.

Mrs. William Huber, nee Violet, have gone to Kittery, Maine to visit Mrs. Huber's father for two weeks.

Mrs. Edwin L. Beal of Washington street, was the guest of this week of friends in Hingham.

ATLANTIC.

Mrs. A. Stevens of Edwin street, entertained several of her friends at a musical party Tuesday evening. Refreshments were served by the hostess. Those present were Mrs. Albert Hall, Mrs. John Murray, Mrs. Alva Beede, Mrs. David Hamilton, Mrs. M. C. McCloud and Mrs. Stevens, Mr. and Mrs. John Murray of Faxon road, entertained the Fortnightly club Wednesday evening. What was enjoyed until ten o'clock, when a Dutch supper was served. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hall, Mr. and Mrs. John Murray, Mr. and Mrs. David Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. William Hersey, Mr. and Mrs. E. Chandler and Mr. and Mrs. H. Holt.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Safford of Clive street entertained several of their friends at a party Wednesday evening. What was enjoyed until ten o'clock, when a Dutch supper was served. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hall, Mr. and Mrs. John Murray, Mr. and Mrs. David Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. William Hersey, Mr. and Mrs. E. Chandler and Mr. and Mrs. H. Holt.

Mrs. A. E. Goyette of Botolph street entertained several friends at a Valentine party Thursday evening. Hearts, cupid and arrows were in prominence everywhere. What was enjoyed for two hours after which refreshments were served. Each lady was given a souvenir of the occasion.

Those present were, Mrs. L. Furber, Mrs. Charles Stocker, Mrs. Henry V. Emden, Mrs. F. A. Dame, Mrs. William Johnson, Mrs. Rednor Combs, Mrs. Henry V. Emden, Mrs. George Richardson, Mrs. Charles Safford, Mrs. Alfred Golenick, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce and Mrs. Goyette.

Miss Marion Gurney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lyndon Gurney, entertained several friends at a Valentine party February fourteenth. Hearts cupid and arrows were

The Quincy Patriot

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 22, 1913

| WEEKLY       | Sun                    | Full Sun        | Mon |
|--------------|------------------------|-----------------|-----|
| ALMANAC      | Rises Sets             | Morn. Eve Rises |     |
| Sat. Feb. 22 | 5:21 12:10 12:15 7:41  |                 |     |
| Sunday       | 5:22 12:11 12:16 7:42  |                 |     |
| Monday       | 5:23 12:12 12:17 7:43  |                 |     |
| Tuesday      | 5:24 12:13 12:18 7:44  |                 |     |
| Wednesday    | 5:25 12:14 12:19 7:45  |                 |     |
| Thursday     | 5:26 12:15 12:20 7:46  |                 |     |
| Friday       | 5:27 12:16 12:21 7:47  |                 |     |
| Sat. Feb. 23 | 5:28 12:17 12:22 7:48  |                 |     |
| Sunday       | 5:29 12:18 12:23 7:49  |                 |     |
| Monday       | 5:30 12:19 12:24 7:50  |                 |     |
| Tuesday      | 5:31 12:20 12:25 7:51  |                 |     |
| Wednesday    | 5:32 12:21 12:26 7:52  |                 |     |
| Thursday     | 5:33 12:22 12:27 7:53  |                 |     |
| Friday       | 5:34 12:23 12:28 7:54  |                 |     |
| Sat. Feb. 24 | 5:35 12:24 12:29 7:55  |                 |     |
| Sunday       | 5:36 12:25 12:30 7:56  |                 |     |
| Monday       | 5:37 12:26 12:31 7:57  |                 |     |
| Tuesday      | 5:38 12:27 12:32 7:58  |                 |     |
| Wednesday    | 5:39 12:28 12:33 7:59  |                 |     |
| Thursday     | 5:40 12:29 12:34 8:00  |                 |     |
| Friday       | 5:41 12:30 12:35 8:01  |                 |     |
| Sat. Feb. 25 | 5:42 12:31 12:36 8:02  |                 |     |
| Sunday       | 5:43 12:32 12:37 8:03  |                 |     |
| Monday       | 5:44 12:33 12:38 8:04  |                 |     |
| Tuesday      | 5:45 12:34 12:39 8:05  |                 |     |
| Wednesday    | 5:46 12:35 12:40 8:06  |                 |     |
| Thursday     | 5:47 12:36 12:41 8:07  |                 |     |
| Friday       | 5:48 12:37 12:42 8:08  |                 |     |
| Sat. Feb. 26 | 5:49 12:38 12:43 8:09  |                 |     |
| Sunday       | 5:50 12:39 12:44 8:10  |                 |     |
| Monday       | 5:51 12:40 12:45 8:11  |                 |     |
| Tuesday      | 5:52 12:41 12:46 8:12  |                 |     |
| Wednesday    | 5:53 12:42 12:47 8:13  |                 |     |
| Thursday     | 5:54 12:43 12:48 8:14  |                 |     |
| Friday       | 5:55 12:44 12:49 8:15  |                 |     |
| Sat. Feb. 27 | 5:56 12:45 12:50 8:16  |                 |     |
| Sunday       | 5:57 12:46 12:51 8:17  |                 |     |
| Monday       | 5:58 12:47 12:52 8:18  |                 |     |
| Tuesday      | 5:59 12:48 12:53 8:19  |                 |     |
| Wednesday    | 6:00 12:49 12:54 8:20  |                 |     |
| Thursday     | 6:01 12:50 12:55 8:21  |                 |     |
| Friday       | 6:02 12:51 12:56 8:22  |                 |     |
| Sat. Feb. 28 | 6:03 12:52 12:57 8:23  |                 |     |
| Sunday       | 6:04 12:53 12:58 8:24  |                 |     |
| Monday       | 6:05 12:54 12:59 8:25  |                 |     |
| Tuesday      | 6:06 12:55 13:00 8:26  |                 |     |
| Wednesday    | 6:07 12:56 13:01 8:27  |                 |     |
| Thursday     | 6:08 12:57 13:02 8:28  |                 |     |
| Friday       | 6:09 12:58 13:03 8:29  |                 |     |
| Sat. Feb. 29 | 6:10 12:59 13:04 8:30  |                 |     |
| Sunday       | 6:11 13:00 13:05 8:31  |                 |     |
| Monday       | 6:12 13:01 13:06 8:32  |                 |     |
| Tuesday      | 6:13 13:02 13:07 8:33  |                 |     |
| Wednesday    | 6:14 13:03 13:08 8:34  |                 |     |
| Thursday     | 6:15 13:04 13:09 8:35  |                 |     |
| Friday       | 6:16 13:05 13:10 8:36  |                 |     |
| Sat. Feb. 30 | 6:17 13:06 13:11 8:37  |                 |     |
| Sunday       | 6:18 13:07 13:12 8:38  |                 |     |
| Monday       | 6:19 13:08 13:13 8:39  |                 |     |
| Tuesday      | 6:20 13:09 13:14 8:40  |                 |     |
| Wednesday    | 6:21 13:10 13:15 8:41  |                 |     |
| Thursday     | 6:22 13:11 13:16 8:42  |                 |     |
| Friday       | 6:23 13:12 13:17 8:43  |                 |     |
| Sat. Feb. 1  | 6:24 13:13 13:18 8:44  |                 |     |
| Sunday       | 6:25 13:14 13:19 8:45  |                 |     |
| Monday       | 6:26 13:15 13:20 8:46  |                 |     |
| Tuesday      | 6:27 13:16 13:21 8:47  |                 |     |
| Wednesday    | 6:28 13:17 13:22 8:48  |                 |     |
| Thursday     | 6:29 13:18 13:23 8:49  |                 |     |
| Friday       | 6:30 13:19 13:24 8:50  |                 |     |
| Sat. Feb. 2  | 6:31 13:20 13:25 8:51  |                 |     |
| Sunday       | 6:32 13:21 13:26 8:52  |                 |     |
| Monday       | 6:33 13:22 13:27 8:53  |                 |     |
| Tuesday      | 6:34 13:23 13:28 8:54  |                 |     |
| Wednesday    | 6:35 13:24 13:29 8:55  |                 |     |
| Thursday     | 6:36 13:25 13:30 8:56  |                 |     |
| Friday       | 6:37 13:26 13:31 8:57  |                 |     |
| Sat. Feb. 3  | 6:38 13:27 13:32 8:58  |                 |     |
| Sunday       | 6:39 13:28 13:33 8:59  |                 |     |
| Monday       | 6:40 13:29 13:34 9:00  |                 |     |
| Tuesday      | 6:41 13:30 13:35 9:01  |                 |     |
| Wednesday    | 6:42 13:31 13:36 9:02  |                 |     |
| Thursday     | 6:43 13:32 13:37 9:03  |                 |     |
| Friday       | 6:44 13:33 13:38 9:04  |                 |     |
| Sat. Feb. 4  | 6:45 13:34 13:39 9:05  |                 |     |
| Sunday       | 6:46 13:35 13:40 9:06  |                 |     |
| Monday       | 6:47 13:36 13:41 9:07  |                 |     |
| Tuesday      | 6:48 13:37 13:42 9:08  |                 |     |
| Wednesday    | 6:49 13:38 13:43 9:09  |                 |     |
| Thursday     | 6:50 13:39 13:44 9:10  |                 |     |
| Friday       | 6:51 13:40 13:45 9:11  |                 |     |
| Sat. Feb. 5  | 6:52 13:41 13:46 9:12  |                 |     |
| Sunday       | 6:53 13:42 13:47 9:13  |                 |     |
| Monday       | 6:54 13:43 13:48 9:14  |                 |     |
| Tuesday      | 6:55 13:44 13:49 9:15  |                 |     |
| Wednesday    | 6:56 13:45 13:50 9:16  |                 |     |
| Thursday     | 6:57 13:46 13:51 9:17  |                 |     |
| Friday       | 6:58 13:47 13:52 9:18  |                 |     |
| Sat. Feb. 6  | 6:59 13:48 13:53 9:19  |                 |     |
| Sunday       | 7:00 13:49 13:54 9:20  |                 |     |
| Monday       | 7:01 13:50 13:55 9:21  |                 |     |
| Tuesday      | 7:02 13:51 13:56 9:22  |                 |     |
| Wednesday    | 7:03 13:52 13:57 9:23  |                 |     |
| Thursday     | 7:04 13:53 13:58 9:24  |                 |     |
| Friday       | 7:05 13:54 13:59 9:25  |                 |     |
| Sat. Feb. 7  | 7:06 13:55 14:00 9:26  |                 |     |
| Sunday       | 7:07 13:56 14:01 9:27  |                 |     |
| Monday       | 7:08 13:57 14:02 9:28  |                 |     |
| Tuesday      | 7:09 13:58 14:03 9:29  |                 |     |
| Wednesday    | 7:10 13:59 14:04 9:30  |                 |     |
| Thursday     | 7:11 14:00 14:05 9:31  |                 |     |
| Friday       | 7:12 14:01 14:06 9:32  |                 |     |
| Sat. Feb. 8  | 7:13 14:02 14:07 9:33  |                 |     |
| Sunday       | 7:14 14:03 14:08 9:34  |                 |     |
| Monday       | 7:15 14:04 14:09 9:35  |                 |     |
| Tuesday      | 7:16 14:05 14:10 9:36  |                 |     |
| Wednesday    | 7:17 14:06 14:11 9:37  |                 |     |
| Thursday     | 7:18 14:07 14:12 9:38  |                 |     |
| Friday       | 7:19 14:08 14:13 9:39  |                 |     |
| Sat. Feb. 9  | 7:20 14:09 14:14 9:40  |                 |     |
| Sunday       | 7:21 14:10 14:15 9:41  |                 |     |
| Monday       | 7:22 14:11 14:16 9:42  |                 |     |
| Tuesday      | 7:23 14:12 14:17 9:43  |                 |     |
| Wednesday    | 7:24 14:13 14:18 9:44  |                 |     |
| Thursday     | 7:25 14:14 14:19 9:45  |                 |     |
| Friday       | 7:26 14:15 14:20 9:46  |                 |     |
| Sat. Feb. 10 | 7:27 14:16 14:21 9:47  |                 |     |
| Sunday       | 7:28 14:17 14:22 9:48  |                 |     |
| Monday       | 7:29 14:18 14:23 9:49  |                 |     |
| Tuesday      | 7:30 14:19 14:24 9:50  |                 |     |
| Wednesday    | 7:31 14:20 14:25 9:51  |                 |     |
| Thursday     | 7:32 14:21 14:26 9:52  |                 |     |
| Friday       | 7:33 14:22 14:27 9:53  |                 |     |
| Sat. Feb. 11 | 7:34 14:23 14:28 9:54  |                 |     |
| Sunday       | 7:35 14:24 14:29 9:55  |                 |     |
| Monday       | 7:36 14:25 14:30 9:56  |                 |     |
| Tuesday      | 7:37 14:26 14:31 9:57  |                 |     |
| Wednesday    | 7:38 14:27 14:32 9:58  |                 |     |
| Thursday     | 7:39 14:28 14:33 9:59  |                 |     |
| Friday       | 7:40 14:29 14:34 10:00 |                 |     |
| Sat. Feb. 12 | 7:41 14:30 14:35 10:01 |                 |     |
| Sunday       | 7:42 14:31 14:36 10:02 |                 |     |
| Monday       | 7:43 14:32 14:37 10:03 |                 |     |
| Tuesday      | 7:44 14:33 14:38 10:04 |                 |     |
| Wednesday    | 7:45 14:34 14:39 10:05 |                 |     |
| Thursday     | 7:46 14:35 14:40 10:06 |                 |     |
| Friday       | 7:47 14:36 14:41 10:07 |                 |     |
| Sat. Feb. 13 | 7:48 14:37 14:42 10:08 |                 |     |
| Sunday       | 7:49 14:38 14:43 10:09 |                 |     |
| Monday       | 7:50 14:39 14:44 10:10 |                 |     |
| Tuesday      | 7:51 14:40 14:45 10:11 |                 |     |
| Wednesday    | 7:52 14:41 14:46 10:12 |                 |     |
| Thursday     | 7:53 14:42 14:47 10:13 |                 |     |
| Friday       | 7:54 14:43 14:48 10:14 |                 |     |
| Sat. Feb. 14 | 7:55 14:44 14:49 10:15 |                 |     |
| Sunday       | 7:56 14:45 14:50 10:16 |                 |     |
| Monday       | 7:57 14:46 14:51 10:17 |                 |     |
| Tuesday      | 7:58 14:47 14:52 10:18 |                 |     |
| Wednesday    | 7:59 14:48 14:53 10:19 |                 |     |
| Thursday     | 8:00 14:49 14:54 10:20 |                 |     |
| Friday       | 8:01 14:50 14:55 10:21 |                 |     |
| Sat. Feb. 15 | 8:02 14:51 14:56 10:22 |                 |     |
| Sunday       | 8:03 14:52 14:57 10:23 |                 |     |
| Monday       | 8:04 14:53 14:58 10:24 |                 |     |
| Tuesday      | 8:05 14:54 14:59 10:25 |                 |     |
| Wednesday    | 8:06 14:55 15:00 10:26 |                 |     |
| Thursday     | 8:07 14:56 15:01 10:27 |                 |     |
| Friday       | 8:08 14:57 15:02 10:28 |                 |     |
| Sat. Feb. 16 | 8:09 14:58 15:03 10:29 |                 |     |
| Sunday       | 8:10 14:59 15:04 10:30 |                 |     |
| Monday       | 8:11 15:00 15:05 10:31 |                 |     |
| Tuesday      | 8:12 15:01 15:06 10:32 |                 |     |
| Wednesday    | 8:13 15:02 15:07 10:33 |                 |     |
| Thursday     | 8:14 15:03 15:08 10:34 |                 |     |
| Friday       | 8:15 15:04 15:09 10:35 |                 |     |
| Sat. Feb. 17 | 8:16 15:05 15:10 10:36 |                 |     |
| Sunday       | 8:17 15:06 15:11 10:37 |                 |     |
| Monday       | 8:18 15:07 15:12 10:38 |                 |     |
| Tuesday      | 8:19 15:08 15:13 10:39 |                 |     |
| Wednesday    | 8:20 15:09 15:14 10:40 |                 |     |
| Thursday     | 8:21 15:10 15:15 10:41 |                 |     |
| Friday       | 8:22 15:11 15:16 10:42 |                 |     |
| Sat. Feb. 18 | 8:23 15:12 15:17 10:43 |                 |     |
| Sunday       | 8:24 15:13 15:18 10:44 |                 |     |
| Monday       | 8:25 15:14 15:19 10:45 |                 |     |
| Tuesday      | 8:26 15:15 15:20 10:46 |                 |     |
| Wednesday    | 8:27 15:16 15:21 10:47 |                 |     |
| Thursday     | 8:28 15:17 15:22 10:48 |                 |     |
| Friday       | 8:29 15:18 15:23 10:49 |                 |     |
| Sat. Feb. 19 | 8:30 15:19 15:24 10:50 |                 |     |
| Sunday       | 8:31 15:20 15:25 10:51 |                 |     |
| Monday       | 8:32 15:21 15:26 10:52 |                 |     |
| Tuesday      | 8:33 15:22 15:27 10:53 |                 |     |
| Wednesday    | 8:34 15:23 15:28 10:54 |                 |     |
| Thursday     | 8:35 15:24 15:29 10:55 |                 |     |
| Friday       | 8:36 15:25 15:30 10:56 |                 |     |
| Sat. Feb. 20 | 8:37 15:26 15:31 10:57 |                 |     |
| Sunday       | 8:38 15:27 15:32 10:58 |                 |     |
| Monday       | 8:39 15:28 15:33 10:59 |                 |     |
| Tuesday      | 8:40 15:29 15:34 11:00 |                 |     |
| Wednesday    | 8:41 15:30 15:35 11:01 |                 |     |
| Thursday     | 8:42 15:31 15:36 11:02 |                 |     |
| Friday       | 8:43 15:32 15:37 11:03 |                 |     |
| Sat. Feb. 21 | 8:44 15:33 15:38 11:04 |                 |     |
| Sunday       | 8:45 15:34 15:39 11:05 |                 |     |
| Monday       | 8:46 15:35 15:40 11:06 |                 |     |
| Tuesday      | 8:47 15:36 15:41 11:07 |                 |     |
| Wednesday    | 8:48 15:37 15:42 11:08 |                 |     |
| Thursday     | 8:49 15:38 15:43 11:09 |                 |     |
| Friday       | 8:50 15:39 15:44 11:10 |                 |     |
| Sat. Feb. 22 | 8:51 15:40 15:45 11:11 |                 |     |
| Sunday       | 8:52 15:41 15:46 11:12 |                 |     |
| Monday       | 8:53 15:42 15:47 11:13 |                 |     |
| Tuesday      | 8:54 15:43 15:48 11:14 |                 |     |
| Wednesday    | 8:55 15:44 15:49 11:15 |                 |     |
| Thursday     | 8:56 15:45 15:50 11:16 |                 |     |
| Friday       | 8:57 15:46 15:51 11:17 |                 |     |
| Sat. Feb. 23 | 8:58 15:47 15:52 11:18 |                 |     |
| Sunday       | 8:59 15:48 15:53 11:19 |                 |     |
| Monday       | 9:00 15:49 15:54 11:20 |                 |     |
| Tuesday      | 9:01 15:50 15:55 11:21 |                 |     |
| Wednesday    | 9:02 15:51 15:56 11:22 |                 |     |
| Thursday     | 9:03 15:52 15:57 11:23 |                 |     |
| Friday       | 9:04 15:53 15:58 11:24 |                 |     |
| Sat. Feb. 24 | 9:05 15:54 15:59 11:25 |                 |     |
| Sunday       | 9:06 15:55 16:00 11:26 |                 |     |
| Monday       | 9:07 15:56 16:01 11:27 |                 |     |
| Tuesday      | 9:08 15:57 16:02 11:28 |                 |     |
| Wednesday    | 9:09 15:58 16:03 11:29 |                 |     |
| Thursday     | 9:10 15:59 16:04 11:30 |                 |     |
| Friday       | 9:11 16:00 16:05 11:31 |                 |     |
| Sat. Feb. 25 | 9:12 16:01 16:06 11:32 |                 |     |
| Sunday       | 9:13 16:02 16:07 11:33 |                 |     |
| Monday       | 9:14 16:03 16:08 11:34 |                 |     |
| Tuesday      | 9:15 16:04 16:09 11:35 |                 |     |
| Wednesday    | 9:16 16:05 16:10 11:36 |                 |     |
| Thursday     | 9:17 16:06 16:11 11:37 |                 |     |
| Friday       | 9:18 16:07 16:12 11:38 |                 |     |
| Sat. Feb. 26 | 9:19 16:08 16:13 11:39 |                 |     |
| Sunday       | 9:20 16:09 16:14 11:40 |                 |     |
| Monday       | 9:21 16:10 16:15 11:41 |                 |     |
| Tuesday      | 9:22 16:11 16:16 11:42 |                 |     |
| Wednesday    | 9:23 16:12 16:17 11:43 |                 |     |
| Thursday     | 9:24 16:13 16:18 11:44 |                 |     |
| Friday       | 9:25 16:14 16:19 11:45 |                 |     |
| Sat. Feb. 27 | 9:26 16:15 16:20 11:46 |                 |     |
| Sunday       | 9:27 16:16 16:21 11:47 |                 |     |
| Monday       | 9:28 16:17 16:22 11:48 |                 |     |
| Tuesday      | 9:29 16:18 16:23 11:49 |                 |     |
| Wednesday    | 9:30 16:19 16:24 11:50 |                 |     |
| Thursday     | 9:31 16:20 16:25 11:51 |                 |     |
| Friday       | 9:32 16:21 16:26 11:52 |                 |     |
| Sat. Feb. 28 | 9:33 16:22 16:27 11:53 |                 |     |
| Sunday       | 9:34 16:23 16:28 11:54 |                 |     |
| Monday       | 9:35 16:24 16:29 11:55 |                 |     |
| Tuesday      | 9:36 16:25 16:30 11:56 |                 |     |
| Wednesday    | 9:37 16:26 16:31 11:57 |                 |     |
| Thursday     | 9:38 16:27 16:32 11:58 |                 |     |

The Quincy Patriot

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 22, 1913

SINGLE COPIES 5 CENTS.
FOR SALE AT

The Patriot Office,
W. E. Brown & Co.,
H. P. Kittredge,
J. P. O'Brien,
C. F. Carlson,
H. H. Smith,
Sprague & Hobart,
Sparks' Periodical Store,
Thomas Gurney,
Atlantic Branches & Martens,
Atlantic Branches & Martens,
Norfolk Downs,
Peter L. Litchfield,
E. H. Doble & Co.,
West Quincy,
Frank A. Skinner,
Mrs. Lark's Store,
J. J. Hammers,
East Milton,
South Terminal Station, Boston.

Notes and Comments.

—Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, who is worrying for fear that her husband will break down from over-work, ought to be reminded that the most frequent cause of breakdowns is not over-work, but worry.—Somerville Journal.

—All hail to Brewster, this state, for the smallest tax rate, only $1.50 on the thousand, that is to say, if income in the degree now expected finally materializes. At that, Brewster's rate last year was fairly low, $1.11, with no extraordinary payment coming in.—Salem News.

—A new Montreal morning newspaper just about to start is said to be the first Canadian newspaper that will be independent in politics. They take their politics very seriously, and want to keep them separate from all for one side or the other.—Brookline Enterprise.

—We have seen no good reason given, says the Athol Chronicle, for the proposed change in the presidential term of office. The bill now in the House of Representatives at Washington to make the term six years instead of four, and to prohibit re-election, should be well "threshed out" before action is taken.

—The record made by 200 Columbia university students in earning $75,000 during the last summer vacation—an average of about $20 a week—should be some encouragement to the young man who hesitates a financial risk in going through college. Working a way through is getting more popular, as it ought to.—Milford Gazette.

—One of America's ablest writers on economic questions recently stated that at twenty years of age, coercion was his program for social and economic progress; but coercion with life has taught him that coercion must be done gradually. A strong man may knock another down, and yet lack the strength to lift himself up. Not progress, but the prevention of it, has to follow when man substitutes revolution for nature's method of evolution.—Rockland Independent.

—Five new newspapers a day were started in the United States and Canada, on an average, in 1912, and nearly as many were discontinued or suspended, making a net gain of only 32 papers during the year. It is easy enough to start a paper in most any place, for there are usually enough "discouraged" and "sore" people in the world who have axes to grind, etc., to warrant these ventures. In fact all lines of trade are obliged to compete against fly-by-night competitors. Usually the old established concerns who continue to pay their bills, and are not put out of business, are the "level" win out in the end.—Wakefield Item.

—William C. Morris, the well known cartoonist for the Spokesman-Review, started something which somebody else finished when he put out a cartoon suggesting that girls wear spiked belts to prevent "ragging" at dances. Two days later Mrs. Elia T. Hunt, gave a dancing party providing a number of leather belts, pierced with 20-penny nails. To show that she meant business Mrs. Hunt ordered the orchestra to play "The Rag" and the "level" piece in question, announcing that girls who insisted on dancing after the too-popular fashion must don the belts. The announcement proved to be as the rag to the bull. The outland dancing became general, and Mrs. Hunt fired every girl in the party with a belt. An enterprising newspaper photographer arrived on the scene and the Morris anti-ragging device is now the topic of the hour.

HUNDREDS OF HATS OFF.

Editors Quincy Patriot: Last night at Botham Church, Sunday evening when that great audience sat together as a great family in a church home, reverent and attentive, listening, with unobstructed view, to the fine life-stirring message of Pastor Willmot. If the women and girls tolerated in the appreciation of the men and boys for a clear view of the preacher we are sure that they would at every church service—morning, as well as evening—forget the wearing of head-gear which keeps an audience dodging, jerking, scowling and frowning in vain effort to get a peep at the minister.

Sister! Your hat is a wonderful and costly creation, but just think for a minute what it costs one who sits behind you. It may cost him his attention in the service and loss of attention to some words which would otherwise have put him on the path where the Master trod and to which he is being urged.

In these days when the uncovered hair out of doors, is so popular—why should women and misses put on a monstrous head-gear which tolerated in theatres and enter pews where people have come to worship in spirit and in truth! Stop a minute and think it out. Will you distract by the millinery and selfishly screen the pulpit and choir from those who have rights equal to yours and the temptation to some words which would otherwise have put him on the path where the Master trod and to which he is being urged.

Sister, don't forget how handsome you look in the adornment which nature has given you. It is your glory. If the head-gear which tolerated in theatres and enter pews where people have come to worship in spirit and in truth! Stop a minute and think it out. Will you distract by the millinery and selfishly screen the pulpit and choir from those who have rights equal to yours and the temptation to some words which would otherwise have put him on the path where the Master trod and to which he is being urged.

The health experts are still sparing diligently and people go on eating the same old things just the same.

CITY COUNCIL.

Another midnight session of the City Council was held Monday evening the length being due to several public hearings coupled with debates on questions that came up, principally on the substitute order reported by the special committee on street matters relative to Penn street. The original order called for $9,000 to pave the street and the substitute order cut that amount to $2,000 for rebuilding, it being the idea of the committee that the street should be repaved.

After considerable discussion, the report of the committee was accepted and the order ordered to a second reading. Communications were received from the Mayor appointing W. L. Hickson, Daniel G. Butters, George A. Wardman and John McNeil as special constables. Confirmed.

The Auditor forwarded a communication stating that bills in excess of the appropriation for 1912 had been filed as follows: Overseer of the Poor outside poor, $14,112. Board of Health Miscellaneous, $1,411.21. Board of Health Miscellaneous, $1,411.21. Board of Health Miscellaneous, $1,411.21.

From the Mayor returning Order No. 55 for retaining wall and rail on Kent street laid on table.

From the Mayor inclosing petition for granite sidewalk on Kent street, westerly side, from Saville street to School street. Referred to Special Committee on Street Matters.

From the Mayor inclosing communication from Chief Engineer of the fire department asking for the following transfers, $98.47 from horse shoe to miscellaneous, $78 from fire alarm to miscellaneous.

From the Mayor with inclosure from the assessors asking for an appropriation of $75 to complete the vaults in the assessors' offices. Later orders were offered and adopted for the above.

From Mayor with inclosure from P. J. McNeil asking for hearing relative to his land on West Squantum street. Referred back to Executive to find out what the petitioner wanted.

A petition was received from the Electric Light Co. for a location for poles on Hill street. Hearing ordered for March 3.

A petition for street lights at Atlantic street was referred to the Executive. Licenses were granted as follows: Georgia L. Oakes, private detective, G. Klingler, bowling alley, Nathan Ames to sell firearms.

The Chief of Police recommended that a hearing be given on the petition of Konstant Hill to run a bowling alley. Hearing ordered for March 2.

Councilman Cunningham offered a petition for a granite sidewalk on Hancock street from Harmon block to Squantum street. Laid on the table.

Applications for appointment of betterment assessors were granted and the betterments appointed.

A petition for lights on Conant road was referred to the Executive. On petitions to accept Ocean street and from the abutters on Ballou street for reduction in betterment assessment orders for a hearing March 2, were adopted.

Petitions for sidewalks on Billings road and for lights on Conant road were referred to the special committee on Street matters.

Councilman Griffin presented a petition for a hall in the Washington school. Laid on the table to be referred later.

A hearing was held at 8 o'clock on petitions of the Electric Light Co. and of the Street railway company for location for poles. After the hearing the petition was laid on the table.

The Special Committee on Street Matters reported as follows: Leave to withdraw on the petitions for extension of Nelson street to Copeland street, acceptance of Cherry avenue, acceptance of part of Norfolk street, sidewalk on Whitney road and repairs of Franklin street. Report accepted.

An order for a public hearing March 17 on the acceptance of Morton street, Staunton street, Mulholland street, Curtis avenue, Vernon street, widening Sea street and changing the grade of Elm avenue and accepting a new street in front of the new Adams school building.

A substitute order for $2,000 for rebuilding of Penn street from Liberty street to Columbia street.

tion of the streets named, Hunkins avenue, Dorchester street and Bellevue avenue was very much needed. They were very much used and were necessary in order to give access to property. Last year we paid $16,000 in taxes and we should have a share of that. There are over 200 of 400 families living in Squantum this year and if we had good streets there would be many more. He believed that the streets named could be accepted and built for $2,000 each.

Mr. Hogan felt justified in asking for the acceptance of the streets, first on account of their condition and second on account of the growth of the section. The valuation of real and personal property in Squantum had increased from $480,375 in 1910 to $730,225 in 1912. He spoke about the muddy condition of the streets and of the well known McNeil as special constables. Confirmed.

The Auditor forwarded a communication stating that bills in excess of the appropriation for 1912 had been filed as follows: Overseer of the Poor outside poor, $14,112. Board of Health Miscellaneous, $1,411.21. Board of Health Miscellaneous, $1,411.21. Board of Health Miscellaneous, $1,411.21.

From the Mayor returning Order No. 55 for retaining wall and rail on Kent street laid on table.

From the Mayor inclosing petition for granite sidewalk on Kent street, westerly side, from Saville street to School street. Referred to Special Committee on Street Matters.

From the Mayor inclosing communication from Chief Engineer of the fire department asking for the following transfers, $98.47 from horse shoe to miscellaneous, $78 from fire alarm to miscellaneous.

From the Mayor with inclosure from the assessors asking for an appropriation of $75 to complete the vaults in the assessors' offices. Later orders were offered and adopted for the above.

From Mayor with inclosure from P. J. McNeil asking for hearing relative to his land on West Squantum street. Referred back to Executive to find out what the petitioner wanted.

A petition was received from the Electric Light Co. for a location for poles on Hill street. Hearing ordered for March 3.

A petition for street lights at Atlantic street was referred to the Executive. Licenses were granted as follows: Georgia L. Oakes, private detective, G. Klingler, bowling alley, Nathan Ames to sell firearms.

The Chief of Police recommended that a hearing be given on the petition of Konstant Hill to run a bowling alley. Hearing ordered for March 2.

Councilman Cunningham offered a petition for a granite sidewalk on Hancock street from Harmon block to Squantum street. Laid on the table.

Applications for appointment of betterment assessors were granted and the betterments appointed.

A petition for lights on Conant road was referred to the Executive. On petitions to accept Ocean street and from the abutters on Ballou street for reduction in betterment assessment orders for a hearing March 2, were adopted.

Petitions for sidewalks on Billings road and for lights on Conant road were referred to the special committee on Street matters.

Councilman Griffin presented a petition for a hall in the Washington school. Laid on the table to be referred later.

A hearing was held at 8 o'clock on petitions of the Electric Light Co. and of the Street railway company for location for poles. After the hearing the petition was laid on the table.

The Special Committee on Street Matters reported as follows: Leave to withdraw on the petitions for extension of Nelson street to Copeland street, acceptance of Cherry avenue, acceptance of part of Norfolk street, sidewalk on Whitney road and repairs of Franklin street. Report accepted.

An order for a public hearing March 17 on the acceptance of Morton street, Staunton street, Mulholland street, Curtis avenue, Vernon street, widening Sea street and changing the grade of Elm avenue and accepting a new street in front of the new Adams school building.

A substitute order for $2,000 for rebuilding of Penn street from Liberty street to Columbia street.

tion of the streets named, Hunkins avenue, Dorchester street and Bellevue avenue was very much needed. They were very much used and were necessary in order to give access to property. Last year we paid $16,000 in taxes and we should have a share of that. There are over 200 of 400 families living in Squantum this year and if we had good streets there would be many more. He believed that the streets named could be accepted and built for $2,000 each.

Mr. Hogan felt justified in asking for the acceptance of the streets, first on account of their condition and second on account of the growth of the section. The valuation of real and personal property in Squantum had increased from $480,375 in 1910 to $730,225 in 1912. He spoke about the muddy condition of the streets and of the well known McNeil as special constables. Confirmed.

A brief debate followed after which the order was rejected on roll call 11 voting no and 10 yes.

Councilman Ericson offered an order for $2,500 for paved gutters and rebuilding Cranch street. Referred to special committee on street matters.

In the calendar the order amending the auditors ordinance which provided that the Auditor shall approve all bills was passed.

The order granting the Electric Light Co. a location for poles was adopted. That granting a location on Dixwell avenue was rejected. The others on the order were granted.

Adjourned at 11:28 o'clock until March 3.

C. H. SOCIETY.

Friday, Feb. 14, at the residence of Mrs. George A. Smith, Berlin street, the C. H. society held an entertainment and social which was greatly enjoyed by many friends of the society. The program was well planned and presented by the members which secured a "hit" with the audience. Later refreshments were served at small cost by which a good time was realized. The remainder of the evening was devoted to games, tricks and singing by all who seemed reluctant to depart.

WHIST AND DANCE.

An enjoyable whist and dancing party was conducted in Eleta and Protection halls Tuesday evening by the Daughters of Viking, Foresters of America. Whist was played at 20 tables until 10 o'clock.

Four trophies were awarded the highest scores as follows: Mrs. A. G. Ericson and Miss Florence Tobin a golf pillow and china tea set respectively.

An umbrella to Anton Nelson and a tie rack to George Ericson. The consolation souvenirs were secured by Mrs. Edith Gelato and Carl Anderson.

Dancing filled the program, the balance of the evening, music being furnished by the Colonial orchestra. Refreshments, consisting of home made sweets and ice cream were served.

The affair was attended by one of the largest numbers that ever gathered at the Viking social.

The committee in charge was Mrs. Edward J. Sandberg, Mrs. Hilda Johnson, Mrs. Maria Thompson, Mrs. Thelma Olsen, Mrs. Ida Peterson, Mrs. Selma Herman and Mrs. Emma Johnson.

DEMOCRATS ORGANIZE.

The Democratic City Committee permanently organized at a meeting Tuesday evening in the Johnson building. Several topics of current interest were discussed, principally the elimination of party designation in municipal elections. It was voted to oppose the proposed elimination.

These officers chosen were: President—William Kelly. Vice President—Thomas Griffin. Secretary—William J. Sullivan. Treasurer—Edward M. Bryan.

CHORAL SOCIETY.

The annual meeting of the Quincy Choral Society was held at the New Hancock hall Tuesday evening. After the reports were accepted the election of officers took place. The meeting was the close of the fifth season of the society, which has been successful in all respects.

After the meeting "Ted" Corey entertained with violin selections and Miss Gertrude Allen rendered a group of songs. A duet by Mrs. Ella Maywood and Mrs. Edith Cary passed the program. Dancing followed and refreshments were served to the large number who attended.

The officers chosen were: President—Thomas B. Pollard. Vice President—Wendell H. Luce. Secretary—Mrs. Edith Cary Page. Treasurer—Lawrence H. Allen.

Directors—Mrs. Walter Rice, Mrs. E. V. Pitts, Miss Sarah Thomas, J. Howard, Louis Weston.

VETERANS BIRTHDAY.

A. R. and others assisted Post 88, G. M. C. Baker of Germantown observed his 65th anniversary on Sunday. The party were Commander C. M. Martin, Charles Costa, William Bird, Warren Dunbar, Asa Pope, Luther Parrott and others. Among the guests were Miss Ethel Norman of Newfoundland, Mrs. Smith served an oyster supper and refreshments. Music was furnished by including selections by Warren Dunbar, Mrs. E. C. Baker and Mrs. A. F. Baker. Mr. Baker has six sons and two daughters, and there are fifteen grandchildren. The singing of "America" closed the festivities.

McMILLAN-McGILVERAY.

Tuesday afternoon at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Morgan, 16 Pope street, Montclair, Mr. John A. McMILLAN of Columbia, New Jersey, and Miss Catherine E. McGILVERAY of Boston, were united in marriage by Rev. Frederick H. Steenstra, rector of St. Chrysostom's church, Wollaston.

The ceremony was witnessed by relatives and a few intimate friends of the bride and groom. After the ceremony a large breakfast was served at the Morgan residence.

Mr. and Mrs. McMILLAN after an extended tour will leave for their future home in Celia, where the groom has a large and prosperous farm in the great northwest.

FIRST PARISH CLUB.

Nearly 200 were present Tuesday evening at the monthly dinner and meeting of the First Parish club. As usual there was an informal reception from 6 to 6:30, dinner being served at 6:30. The menu was: Clucked roast beef, mashed potato, cabbage salad, string beans, rolls, coffee, ice cream and jumbles.

At the head table beside the speaker of the evening D. Chauncey Brewer, were Rev. Dr. Adelbert L. Hudson, the president, Rev. M. Thompson, Col. Edward Anderson, John Q. A. Field, James H. Stetson, A. F. Bromley, J. P. Perkins and the secretary Henry W. Porter.

After dinner the secretary read the report of the January meeting. Dr. Hudson in introduced the speaker of the evening, Mr. Thompson, who presented a paper on "The serious problems confronting serious minded men none was more confusing than that of immigration. There was a great reluctance to make any restrictions on immigration, yet it was a difficult problem. We have the railroad men, the lumber men, the coal men, the great democracy. If we get too much of one kind of ingredient the whole must suffer. Is it not therefore a dangerous condition that confronts us? While many differ in the matter of the bill just passed by congress and vetoed, and also to replenish the treasury. Several selections on the piano preceded a very pleasing as well as conical sketch presented by the members which secured a "hit" with the audience. Later refreshments were served at small cost by which a good time was realized. The remainder of the evening was devoted to games, tricks and singing by all who seemed reluctant to depart.

Labor interests are seeking to restrict immigration while manufacturers are looking to it for help. You and I are interested because it affects American citizenship.

Mr. Brewer on being introduced said that while we are not to be carried against the dangers that are confronting us. There is a sense of responsibility on our part to take the immigrants that come to this country and make good citizens of them. Until we come to realize that this is our problem, but when we realize that we are to be carried against the dangers that are confronting us. There is a sense of responsibility on our part to take the immigrants that come to this country and make good citizens of them. Until we come to realize that this is our problem, but when we realize that we are to be carried against the dangers that are confronting us. There is a sense of responsibility on our part to take the immigrants that come to this country and make good citizens of them. Until we come to realize that this is our problem, but when we realize that we are to be carried against the dangers that are confronting us. There is a sense of responsibility on our part to take the immigrants that come to this country and make good citizens of them. Until we come to realize that this is our problem, but when we realize that we are to be carried against the dangers that are confronting us. There is a sense of responsibility on our part to take the immigrants that come to this country and make good citizens of them. Until we come to realize that this is our problem, but when we realize that we are to be carried against the dangers that are confronting us. There is a sense of responsibility on our part to take the immigrants that come to this country and make good citizens of them. Until we come to realize that this is our problem, but when we realize that we are to be carried against the dangers that are confronting us. There is a sense of responsibility on our part to take the immigrants that come to this country and make good citizens of them. Until we come to realize that this is our problem, but when we realize that we are to be carried against the dangers that are confronting us. There is a sense of responsibility on our part to take the immigrants that come to this country and make good citizens of them. Until we come to realize that this is our problem, but when we realize that we are to be carried against the dangers that are confronting us. There is a sense of responsibility on our part to take the immigrants that come to this country and make good citizens of them. Until we come to realize that this is our problem, but when we realize that we are to be carried against the dangers that are confronting us. There is a sense of responsibility on our part to take the immigrants that come to this country and make good citizens of them. Until we come to realize that this is our problem, but when we realize that we are to be carried against the dangers that are confronting us. There is a sense of responsibility on our part to take the immigrants that come to this country and make good citizens of them. Until we come to realize that this is our problem, but when we realize that we are to be carried against the dangers that are confronting us. There is a sense of responsibility on our part to take the immigrants that come to this country and make good citizens of them. Until we come to realize that this is our problem, but when we realize that we are to be carried against the dangers that are confronting us. There is a sense of responsibility on our part to take the immigrants that come to this country and make good citizens of them. Until we come to realize that this is our problem, but when we realize that we are to be carried against the dangers that are confronting us. There is a sense of responsibility on our part to take the immigrants that come to this country and make good citizens of them. Until we come to realize that this is our problem, but when we realize that we are to be carried against the dangers that are confronting us. There is a sense of responsibility on our part to take the immigrants that come to this country and make good citizens of them. Until we come to realize that this is our problem, but when we realize that we are to be carried against the dangers that are confronting us. There is a sense of responsibility on our part to take the immigrants that come to this country and make good citizens of them. Until we come to realize that this is our problem, but when we realize that we are to be carried against the dangers that are confronting us. There is a sense of responsibility on our part to take the immigrants that come to this country and make good citizens of them. Until we come to realize that this is our problem, but when we realize that we are to be carried against the dangers that are confronting us. There is a sense of responsibility on our part to take the immigrants that come to this country and make good citizens of them. Until we come to realize that this is our problem, but when we realize that we are to be carried against the dangers that are confronting us. There is a sense of responsibility on our part to take the immigrants that come to this country and make good citizens of them. Until we come to realize that this is our problem, but when we realize that we are to be carried against the dangers that are confronting us. There is a sense of responsibility on our part to take the immigrants that come to this country and make good citizens of them. Until we come to realize that this is our problem, but when we realize that we are to be carried against the dangers that are confronting us. There is a sense of responsibility on our part to take the immigrants that come to this country and make good citizens of them. Until we come to realize that this is our problem, but when we realize that we are to be carried against the dangers that are confronting us. There is a sense of responsibility on our part to take the immigrants that come to this country and make good citizens of them. Until we come to realize that this is our problem, but when we realize that we are to be carried against the dangers that are confronting us. There is a sense of responsibility on our part to take the immigrants that come to this country and make good citizens of them. Until we come to realize that this is our problem, but when we realize that we are to be carried against the dangers that are confronting us. There is a sense of responsibility on our part to take the immigrants that come to this country and make good citizens of them. Until we come to realize that this is our problem, but when we realize that we are to be carried against the dangers that are confronting us. There is a sense of responsibility on our part to take the immigrants that come to this country and make good citizens of them. Until we come to realize that this is our problem, but when we realize that we are to be carried against the dangers that are confronting us. There is a sense of responsibility on our part to take the immigrants that come to this country and make good citizens of them. Until we come to realize that this is our problem, but when we realize that we are to be carried against the dangers that are confronting us. There is a sense of responsibility on our part to take the immigrants that come to this country and make good citizens of them. Until we come to realize that this is our problem, but when we realize that we are to be carried against the dangers that are confronting us. There is a sense of responsibility on our part to take the immigrants that come to this country and make good citizens of them. Until we come to realize that this is our problem, but when we realize that we are to be carried against the dangers that are confronting us. There is a sense of responsibility on our part to take the immigrants that come to this country and make good citizens of them. Until we come to realize that this is our problem, but when we realize that we are to be carried against the dangers that are confronting us. There is a sense of responsibility on our part to take the immigrants that come to this country and make good citizens of them. Until we come to realize that this is our problem, but when we realize that we are to be carried against the dangers that are confronting us. There is a sense of responsibility on our part to take the immigrants that come to this country and make good citizens of them. Until we come to realize that this is our problem, but when we realize that we are to be carried against the dangers that are confronting us. There is a sense of responsibility on our part to take the immigrants that come to this country and make good citizens of them. Until we come to realize that this is our problem, but when we realize that we are to be carried against the dangers that are confronting us. There is a sense of responsibility on our part to take the immigrants that come to this country and make good citizens of them. Until we come to realize that this is our problem, but when we realize that we are to be carried against the dangers that are confronting us. There is a sense of responsibility on our part to take the immigrants that come to this country and make good citizens of them. Until we come to realize that this is our problem, but when we realize that we are to be carried against the dangers that are confronting us. There is a sense of responsibility on our part to take the immigrants that come to this country and make good citizens of them. Until we come to realize that this is our problem, but when we realize that we are to be carried against the dangers that are confronting us. There is a sense of responsibility on our part to take the immigrants that come to this country and make good citizens of them. Until we come to realize that this is our problem, but when we realize that we are to be carried against the dangers that are confronting us. There is a sense of responsibility on our part to take the immigrants that come to this country and make good citizens of them. Until we come to realize that this is our problem, but when we realize that we are to be carried against the dangers that are confronting us. There is a sense of responsibility on our part to take the immigrants that come to this country and make good citizens of them. Until we come to realize that this is our problem, but when we realize that we are to be carried against the dangers that are confronting us. There is a sense of responsibility on our part to take the immigrants that come to this country and make good citizens of them. Until we come to realize that this is our problem, but when we realize that we are to be carried against the dangers that are confronting us. There is a sense of responsibility on our part to take the immigrants that come to this country and make good citizens of them. Until we come to realize that this is our problem, but when we realize that we are to be carried against the dangers that are confronting us. There is a sense of responsibility on our part to take the immigrants that come to this country and make good citizens of them. Until we come to realize that this is our problem, but when we realize that we are to be carried against the dangers that are confronting us. There is a sense of responsibility on our part to take the immigrants that come to this country and make good citizens of them. Until we come to realize that this is our problem, but when we realize that we are to be carried against the dangers that are confronting us. There is a sense of responsibility on our part to take the immigrants that come to this country and make good citizens of them. Until we come to realize that this is our problem, but when we realize that we are to be carried against the dangers that are confronting us. There is a sense of responsibility on our part to take the immigrants that come to this country and make good citizens of them. Until we come to realize that this is our problem, but when we realize that we are to be carried against the dangers that are confronting us. There is a sense of responsibility on our part to take the immigrants that come to this country and make good citizens of them. Until we come to realize that this is our problem, but when we realize that we are to be carried against the dangers that are confronting us. There is a sense of responsibility on our part to take the immigrants that come to this country and make good citizens of them. Until we come to realize that this is our problem, but when we realize that we are to be carried against the dangers that are confronting us. There is a sense of responsibility on our part to take the immigrants that come to this country and make good citizens of them. Until we come to realize that this is our problem, but when we realize that we are to be carried against the dangers that are confronting us. There is a sense of responsibility on our part to take the immigrants that come to this country and make good citizens of them. Until we come to realize that this is our problem, but when we realize that we are to be carried against the dangers that are confronting us. There is a sense of responsibility on our part to take the immigrants that come to this country and make good citizens of them. Until we come to realize that this is our problem, but when we realize that we are to be carried against the dangers that are confronting us. There is a sense of responsibility on our part to take the immigrants that come to this country and make good citizens of them. Until we come to realize that this is our problem, but when we realize that we are to be carried against the dangers that are confronting us. There is a sense of responsibility on our part to take the immigrants that come to this country and make good citizens of them. Until we come to realize that this is our problem, but when we realize that we are to be carried against the dangers that are confronting us. There is a sense of responsibility on our part to take the immigrants that come to this country and make good citizens of them. Until we come to realize that this is our problem, but when we realize that we are to be carried against the dangers that are confronting us. There is a sense of responsibility on our part to take the immigrants that come to this country and make good citizens of them. Until we come to realize that this is our problem, but when we realize that we are to be carried against the dangers that are confronting us. There is a sense of responsibility on our part to take the immigrants that come to this country and make good citizens of them. Until we come to realize that this is our problem, but when we realize that we are to be carried against the dangers that are confronting us. There is a sense of responsibility on our part to take the immigrants that come to this country and make good citizens of them. Until we come to realize that this is our problem, but when we realize that we are to be carried against the dangers that are confronting us. There is a sense of responsibility on our part to take the immigrants that come to this country and make good citizens of them. Until we come to realize that this is our problem, but when we realize that we are to be carried against the dangers that are confronting us. There is a sense of responsibility on our part to take the immigrants that come to this country and make good citizens of them. Until we come to realize that this is our problem, but when we realize that we are to be carried against the dangers that are confronting us. There is a sense of responsibility on our part to take the immigrants that come to this country and make good citizens of them. Until we come to realize that this is our problem, but when we realize that we are to be carried against the dangers that are confronting us. There is a sense of responsibility on our part to take the immigrants that come to this country and make good citizens of them. Until we come to realize that this is our problem, but when we realize that we are to be carried against the dangers that are confronting us. There is a sense of responsibility on our part to take the immigrants that come to this country and make good citizens of them. Until we come to realize that this is our problem, but when we realize that we are to be carried against the dangers that are confronting us. There is a sense of responsibility on our part to take the immigrants that come to this country and make good citizens of them. Until we come to realize that this is our problem, but when we realize that we are to be carried against the dangers that are confronting us. There is a sense of responsibility on our part to take the immigrants that come to this country and make good citizens of them. Until we come to realize that this is our problem, but when we realize that we are to be carried against the dangers that are confronting us. There is a sense of responsibility on our part to take the immigrants that come to this country and make good citizens of them. Until we come to realize that this is our problem, but when we realize that we are to be carried against the dangers that are confronting us. There is a sense of responsibility on our part to take the immigrants that come to this country and make good citizens of them. Until we come to realize that this is our problem, but when we realize that we are to be carried against the dangers that are confronting us. There is a sense of responsibility on our part to take the immigrants that come to this country and make good citizens of them. Until we come to realize that this is our problem, but when we realize that we are to be carried against the dangers that are confronting us. There is a sense of responsibility on our part to take the immigrants that come to this country and make good citizens of them. Until we come to realize that this is our problem, but when we realize that we are to be carried against the dangers that are confronting us. There is a sense of responsibility on our part to take the immigrants that come to this country and make good citizens of them. Until we come to realize that this is our problem, but when we realize that we are to be carried against the dangers that are confronting us. There is a sense of responsibility on our part to take the immigrants that come to this country and make good citizens of them. Until we come to realize that this is our problem, but when we realize that we are to be carried against the dangers that are confronting us. There is a sense of responsibility on our part to take the immigrants that come to this country and make good citizens of them. Until we come to realize that this is our problem, but when we realize that we are to be carried against the dangers that are confronting us. There is a sense of responsibility on our part to take the immigrants that come to this country and make good citizens of them. Until we come to realize that this is our problem, but when we realize that we are to be carried against the dangers that are confronting us. There is a sense of responsibility on our part to take the immigrants that come to this country and make good citizens of them. Until we come to realize that this is our problem, but when we realize that we are to be carried against the dangers that are confronting us. There is a sense of responsibility on our part to take the immigrants that come to this country and make good citizens of them. Until we come to realize that this is our problem, but when we realize that we are to be carried against the dangers that are confronting us. There is a sense of responsibility on our part to take the immigrants that come to this country and make good citizens of them. Until we come to realize that this is our problem, but when we realize that we are to be carried against the dangers that are confronting us. There is a sense of responsibility on our part to take the immigrants that come to this country and make good citizens of them. Until we come to realize that this is our problem, but when we realize that we are to be carried against the dangers that are confronting us. There is a sense of responsibility on our part to take the immigrants that come to this country and make good citizens of them. Until we come to realize that this is our problem, but when we realize that we are to be carried against the dangers that are confronting us. There is a sense of responsibility on our part to take the immigrants that come to this country and make good citizens of them. Until we come to realize that this is our problem, but when we realize that we are to be carried against the dangers that are confronting us. There is a sense of responsibility on our part to take the immigrants that come to this country and make good citizens of them. Until we come to realize that this is our problem, but when we realize that we are to be carried against the dangers that are confronting us. There is a sense of responsibility on our part to take the immigrants that come to this country and make good citizens of them. Until we come to realize that this is our problem, but when we realize that we are to be carried against the dangers that are confronting us. There is a sense of responsibility on our part to take the immigrants that come to this country and make good citizens of them. Until we come to realize that this is our problem, but when we realize that we are to be carried against the dangers that are confronting us. There is a sense of responsibility on our part to take the immigrants that come to this country and make good citizens of them. Until we come to realize that this is our problem, but when we realize that we are to be carried against the dangers that are confronting us. There is a sense of responsibility on our part to take the immigrants that come to this country and make good citizens of them. Until we come to realize that this is our problem, but when we realize that we are to be carried against the dangers that are confronting us. There is a sense of responsibility on our part to take the immigrants that come to this country and make good citizens of them. Until we come to realize that this is our problem, but when we realize that we are to be carried against the dangers that are confronting us. There is a sense of responsibility on our part to take the immigrants that come to this country and make good citizens of them. Until we come to realize that this is our problem, but when we realize that we are to be carried against the dangers that are confronting us. There is a sense of responsibility on our part to take the immigrants that come to this country and make good citizens of them. Until we come to realize that this is our problem, but when we realize that we are to be carried against the dangers that are confronting us. There is a sense of responsibility on our part to take the immigrants that come to this country and make good citizens of them. Until we come to realize that this is our problem, but when we realize that we are to be carried against the dangers that are confronting us. There is a sense of responsibility on our part to take the immigrants that come to this country and make good citizens of them. Until we come to realize that this is our problem, but when we realize that

The Quincy Patriot

SATURDAY, MARCH 1, 1913

"A KINDERGARTEN SCHOOL"

The Park and Downs vestry was the scene of much merriment Wednesday night when 20 adults in juvenile costume presented "A kindergarten school."

The occasion was the monthly supper of the Ladies Missionary society and the vestry was crowded to the doors by the members and their friends who greatly enjoyed the sparkling antics of the romping kindergartners.

The trouping in of the children while singing the "Good morning" song opened the entertainment. Mrs. Breen in a mixed Scotch costume made a hit with her recitation "A Ship at Sea," Mrs. A. S. Wain sang "The City Song," Mrs. E. L. Blaisdell the Dolly song and William J. Colby dressed in a sailor suit sang "My Rubber Dolly."

There were also readings by Mrs. W. J. Colby, a recitation, "Little Jack," by Alonzo Bissette and a dialogue by Clarence E. Fuller, Mrs. Knowlton and Mrs. Podbury, and reading, "Chubby Little Sister," C. E. Fuller.

And Mrs. Crane sang a duet the "Work Day Song" while Mrs. Charles A. Richardson brought down the house with "Thurstona Thru." With the costume and face of a Southern belle, Mrs. Baxter recited a piece called "Snowball."

The entertainment concluded with a "Good bye" song and march. Several chorus selections were rendered. The costumes were many and novel and at the close of the evening several flash-light pictures were taken.

In the cast were: Mrs. J. L. Blaisdell, as teacher, Miss Henrietta Gram as accompanist and the following school children: Messrs. Thomas Breen, Victor Harris, William J. Colby, Alonzo V. Bissette, E. L. Blaisdell, C. E. Fuller, Mr. Crane, Leland James D. Willson and Mrs. E. L. Blaisdell.

Mrs. C. E. Fuller, Mrs. Crane, Mrs. William J. Colby, Mrs. Baxter, Mrs. A. J. Podbury, Mrs. F. E. Knowlton, Mrs. Charles A. Richardson, Mrs. A. S. Waite and Mrs. J. A. Boone.

The committee included: Mrs. E. L. Blaisdell, Mrs. Baxter, Mrs. J. A. Boone, Mrs. Crane and Mrs. Fuller.

In charge of the supper were Mrs. F. J. Brown, Mrs. F. E. Knowlton, Mrs. A. J. Podbury, Mrs. Alonzo V. Bissette and Mrs. L. I. Mossman.

STATE W. C. T. U.

Mrs. H. E. C. Burns of Granite street and Mrs. Laura Tirrell of Upland road attended Monday afternoon the reception given at the auspices of the W. C. T. U. at their rooms on Massachusetts avenue, Boston. Prominent speakers were present from Washington, D. C., and other parts of the country, who spoke eloquently of the W. C. T. U. work.

A unanimous vote was taken on the Kenyon Red Light bill, and a telegram sent to Washington, D. C. The bill was passed that evening. Mrs. Deborah Knox Livingstone and other prominent women were present at the meeting which was well represented by the Wollaston unions.

A life-size portrait was exhibited of Miss Frances Willard. It was painted by A. M. Hazard a native of Brockton, but now of Boston. It will be on exhibition for some time at the state W. C. T. U. rooms on Massachusetts avenue, Boston. The portrait was painted at the expense of the Wollaston W. C. T. U. and is to be presented to the Brockton Public Library, as a gift from the local union.

FAREWELL RECEPTION.

Friends of all denominations attended the farewell reception tendered to Rev. Gerhard W. Palmgren at the Swedish Congregational church Thursday evening where he recently closed a five year pastorate. He will now go to Hartford, Conn.

On the list of speakers who gathered to tell him of the appreciation of his efforts since coming here were the ministers of the various Swedish churches in the city.

The opening was scripture reading by Carl Osterlund, moderator of the church, who presided at the meeting.

Among the speakers were Rev. Leander M. Hokenson of the Swedish Lutheran church, Rev. Carl A. Rydström of the Swedish S. Paul's Methodist church, Rev. J. A. Johnson of the Swedish Congregational church in Lynn, Rev. K. I. Olson of the Swedish Congregational church at Cambridge, William Williamson, representing the Finnish Congregational church and Rev. Paul Hallon of the Swedish Baptist church.

Rev. M. Palmgren was the last speaker. He reviewed John's work among his parishioners and spoke of the hearty loyalty always recorded him in all matters. Intaking leave of his congregation he said he could not express his feelings but he assured his dear friends, members and non-members of the church that his memory of their friendship would always abide in his heart.

Rev. M. Hokenson presented Rev. M. Palmgren with purse of money and Mrs. Palmgren with a bouquet of flowers.

During the evening selections were rendered by the choir under the direction of John S. Anderson. Miss Signa Wilbas was the soloist of the evening.

Refreshments were served by Miss Ruth Johnson, Miss Hazel Johnson and Esther Danielson.

DORCHESTER MUTUAL.

At the annual meeting Wednesday of the Worcester Mutual Fire Insurance Company at 18 Central street, the following named directors were elected: Paul R. Blackmar and Clarence Burdick of Quincy, W. D. Curtis, Frederick H. Curtis, T. J. Falvey, Henry Hornblower, Louis K. Liggett, William J. McGaffee, Edward C. Mason, William A. Muller, Henry J. Nichols, P. P. Sullivan, W. H. Squire, Benjamin F. Wild, and Sarel J. Willis.

These are the officers: William A. Muller, president; W. D. C. Curtis, vice president; Edward C. Mason, secretary and Clarence Burdick, treasurer.

Gasoline supplying a compressed air tank took fire at the Old Colony Gas Co. plant at Weymouth, Monday afternoon and Charles Fegan who has charge of its construction was badly burned about the face and hands. He was treated by Dr. Cook of East Braintree and removed to his home, 1553 Hancock street, Quincy. Mr. Fegan has been here for a few months and is well known. He is doing well this morning.

BRIEFS

Newman Savage who has been ill for some time is still confined to his home.

Mrs. Elizabeth Merrill of Putnam street, is visiting relatives in Bath, Maine.

A. R. MacKay is convalescing at the City Hospital from an attack of pneumonia.

Michael O'Hara of Newcomb place is doing well following an operation at the Quincy City Hospital Monday.

Miss Hortense Andrews, a pupil at the Woodward Institute, has gone to her home in Lovell, Maine, for her vacation.

Miss Josephine Bailey of the Thompson Cafe, City Square is confined to her home, Upland road with a severe attack of the grip. She is doing well.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest W. Branch, who have passed the winter in Florida are expected home the first of April. Their many friends will be glad to greet them.

Superintendent of Schools Albert L. Barbour and Mrs. Barbour and Miss Agnes Gilson all of Linden place, left Sunday for New York on a week's outing.

Many Quincy Shriners were lowered among the 3,000 in attendance at the meeting of Alepo Temple Tuesday evening in the Mechanics building.

Mrs. Arthur L. Mitchell, a well known resident of Quincy, but now of Beacon street, Boston, leaves the last of the week for Washington, D. C. to visit her sons, Arthur and John and to witness the inauguration.

A regular meeting of Quincy lodge of Elks was held Tuesday evening in Hancock hall and several candidates were initiated into the mysteries of Elksdom. Lunch was served at the clubhouse after the meeting.

William Minagou of the Thompson cafe is rapidly recovering from a severe operation performed at the Carney hospital three weeks ago. He is expected to be at his home, Codding street within two weeks.

The funeral of Amelia, widow of Warren Higgins, who died Thursday took place Sunday afternoon from the Hall Undertaking rooms. Services were conducted by Rev. A. M. Thompson of the United Presbyterian church. Burial was in Mt. Wollaston cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. George Swartz of Winthrop Park, are receiving the sympathies of many friends in the death of their ten-year-old son, George, who died the child dying of scarlet fever in a Boston hospital. The funeral took place Monday afternoon, and the body was interred in the Hebrew cemetery at Dedham.

The Lathier League of the Swedish Lutheran church held a basket party in Eleeta and Protection halls, Saturday evening at which games were played, and an entertainment and refreshment provided. The members however did not indulge in dancing as the church and organization are opposed to this form of amusement.

Mrs. Walter E. Blanchard of Sherburne, closely identified with the Quincy Women's club and King's Daughters until her removal from the city received a warm greeting Tuesday afternoon at the club meeting. She is the guest this week of Mrs. Herbert Lawton and Mrs. Theophilus King.

At the district assembly of Fourth degree rank, Knights of Columbus, which convened in Faneuil hall, Washington's Birthday, three members of the Quincy Council, No. 96, participated in the degree work which was conferred on 200 candidates. They were Deputy Grand Knight, William A. Carey, George W. Berry and Henry W. McGee.

Michael O'Hara was operated upon Monday at the Quincy City Hospital by Dr. Arthur Chute of Boston, assisted by Dr. N. S. Hunting of the hospital staff. Every day O'Hara was coming out of the ether and apparently well. He is a widely known young man of the city and is a head bookkeeper for the United States Machinery Co.

Stan Bates will leave here April 8 and will report to the New York Giants April 10. He received a telegram to that effect a few days ago. Considerable interest is manifested in this offer from the troupe. Bates has been a member of every team that has performed here, usually with the Makaria, when he hung up a couple of city records.

A special meeting of the Quincy Young Men's Hebrew Association was held Sunday morning at the home of Joseph Szathmari, Hancock street. Final preparations were made for the lecture to be held in Hibernian hall, Sunday evening. The rooms of the association which were destroyed by fire last week are being rebuilt and will be completed in a short time.

After lingering a few days at the Quincy City hospital where he was taken suffering with pneumonia, Michael J. Walsh, aged 34, of 120 Woodward avenue, died February 21st. He was formerly baggage master at the Quincy Railroad Station, and his presence of mind was responsible for many people avoiding injury. He leaves a wife and three small children.

The annual dancing party of the officers of the 1st and 3d regiments, Boston School Cadets, was held in the armory of the English High school Saturday afternoon, from 2 until 6 o'clock. The young officers appeared in their full dress uniforms. Frappe and light refreshments were served. Albert D. Parker, of this district, member of Company F, third regiment, attended.

The New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad announces that important changes in its train service will go into effect at 12:01 A. M. Sunday, March 2. Among those changes will be a number of improvements in the service, Brockton and Bridgewater branches. Timetables containing the new schedules will be in the hands of the ticket agents prior to the above date.

Gasoline supplying a compressed air tank took fire at the Old Colony Gas Co. plant at Weymouth, Monday afternoon and Charles Fegan who has charge of its construction was badly burned about the face and hands. He was treated by Dr. Cook of East Braintree and removed to his home, 1553 Hancock street, Quincy. Mr. Fegan has been here for a few months and is well known. He is doing well this morning.

BRIEFS

Miss Avah Gilson of Linden place, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Rutledge P. Gray, nee Helen Barnes, of Elizabeth, New Jersey.

Faxon Loyal Temperance Legion hold their next regular meeting in Protection hall March 4 at 4:15 P. M. Mrs. A. Isabelle Davis leader.

Congratulations are extended Mr. and Mrs. Henry H. Schulze of Park lane, on the birth of a little son, who was welcomed to their home Thursday, the 27th.

Miss Margaret Carney of Melrose, division of the Sons of Veterans Auxiliaries of Massachusetts was the guest of Col. Abner B. Packard camp, G. A. R. Hall, Wednesday evening.

A large bunch of letters went out from the Tax Collector's office Thursday. In each letter was a summons calling upon the receiver to come forward and pay up his or her taxes.

The W. C. T. U. holds its next regular meeting in Protection hall Thursday at 2:30 P. M. It is hoped all members will attend and each invite one to join the Union and help in this good cause of temperance.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Mathew of Iowa City, Iowa, have sent out invitations to the marriage of their daughter, Edith Louise, and Rev. Henry Houghton Schurmer on Monday afternoon, March 10 at four o'clock in the Unitarian church, Iowa City.

Isidore, the two-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Ben of Washington street, Weymouth, formerly of this city, died Monday afternoon of pneumonia from which he had been suffering for almost a month. The burial took place at Dedham.

John Adams Aerie, Fraternal Order of Eagles, held another overflow meeting in Eleeta hall, Wednesday evening. President John J. Peoley presided. Additional matters other than the regular routine business were discussed.

New members were proposed and applications received at a regular meeting of the Junior Order of Moose at Protection hall, Monday night. Dictator Albert J. Williams, of the senior lodge of Moose, who has recently been appointed governor of the order was present.

Word has been received of the death of Danvers, Tuesday of Mrs. Louise F. widow of Mr. Charles A. Sevenson. Her husband was well known in Quincy before he died having been employed for a number of years as a motorman on the street railway.

The whist party of the Woman's Relief Corps at Grand Army hall, Tuesday afternoon, brought eight tables in play. The high scores were made by Mrs. Emma Marnock, Mrs. James Starr, Joseph McKinnon, John Barron, Joseph Latham and Mrs. Sarah Willson, while the low score went to John Welsh.

The Quincy Loyal Orange Lodge will hold a ball in April, the date to be decided later. The committee which will decide details Friday evening consist of Andrew Stewart, Murdock Gillis, John Whiting, John Arbuckle, John Irwin, George Littlewood, George Lyons, Herbert Sprout, H. E. Sinnberg and Joseph Harro.

The entertainment committee of the Granite City club is making arrangements for the annual banquet of the club. The date for the affair will be Tuesday, April 1. This does not mean however that it will be a joke. The banquet will be held in Alpha hall and will be served by Besse. As usual the banquet will be followed by a pleasing entertainment.

It is rumored that the business course, and the course in Domestic Science are both to be dropped at the Woodward Institute. As Dr. Woodward presides, the committee which will not approve of the "higher education" for women and did wish them taught "house work and sewing," it seems a pity, if not a mistake to divert the fund entirely from the object for which it was given.

There was a good attendance Wednesday evening at the regular whist party of the Granite City club. The two best scores of the evening were made by Rollin H. Newcomb and Horace E. Spear. The best scores for the month were made by Warren H. Rideout and John Curtis while the consolation prize went to George P. Meade. After the tournament Henry Fernald served a hot oyster chowder.

The seventh annual banquet of the Makaria Fraternity, young men of the Bethany Congregational church will be held at the vestry next Wednesday evening. Homer Albers, dean of the Boston University Law school will be the speaker. Supper will be served at 6:30 o'clock to be preceded by a reception. The committee includes, Albert G. Coffin, Jr., Harry E. Glover, Matthew Nicholl, Richard Jones and Charles W. Gazzell.

Miss Jenny M. Purchase, secretary of the Quincy Associated Charities, was present at the first meeting of the Worcester Child Welfare League, in the High school, Wednesday evening. The League hopes to do preventive work similar to that of the Roxbury Association, for the children and youths of the district. The committee in charge of the preliminary investigation was composed of members of the Associated Charities conferences of Dorchester and Mattapan.

The Neighboring club was delightfully entertained Tuesday school by Mrs. Osborne Rogers, at her home, 1072 Hancock street. Mrs. Rogers was assisted in receiving by her sister, Miss Lizzie Rogers. The diversion of the evening was bridge, and play was kept from beginning to end. During the evening a dainty lunch of ice cream, was served by the hostess, after which there was vocal and instrumental music by some of the guests. The souvenirs of the evening were received by Mrs. C. H. Penman and Mrs. Fred Simpson.

Such is the demand for space at the Auto show at the Wollaston Center garage, Monday and Tuesday, that many were too late to be accommodated. The large floor space of the garage will be carpeted for the occasion, and the decorations are on an elaborate scale. It will be worth while for all auto owners of the city and prospective owners, to visit this show. At the same time they will be entertained by a ladies' orchestra, speakers and refreshments. Like the big shows, there will be samples and souvenirs. Catalogues will soon be issued with the announcements of the exhibitors and the musical programs.

BRIEFS

Miss Ruth Gardner of Edwards street is ill at her home with la grippe.

A delegation from the local Y. M. H. A. attended the reception and ball given by the Lynn Y. M. H. A. Wednesday evening.

Edward Farmer who has been confined to his home the past week with the grip is getting better and expects to be out attending to business the first of next week.

Mrs. Harry Brooks of Upland road left on the twentieth for an extended visit to Baltimore and Washington stopping off at New York and Philadelphia. At Philadelphia she will be the guest of Mrs. Wesley Rhodes formerly of Wollaston. Mrs. Brooks will arrive in Washington in time to witness the inauguration of President-elect Woodrow Wilson.

The seventh anniversary of the Finnish Athletic club, Hurta was celebrated at the Finnish Temperance hall Thursday evening. Music was by the Finnish National Band and the principal speaker of the evening was Rev. John E. Lillback. An exhibition by the team called forth loud applause from a very large audience. Their demonstrations included all the modern and ancient athletic sports that are related directly to a uniform development of the human body.

The weather did not affect the attendance at the concert given in the Finnish Congregational church Thursday evening. The opening speech was by the pastor, Rev. John E. Lillback. Miss Katri Tikka and Samuel Valkama led in prayer and scripture reading. Selections were rendered by the choir and those who took part in the extensive program were Miss Immi Ketone, Miss Helmi E. Kalki, Miss Caroline Salenius, Mrs. H. Hurvonen and Edward Likander.

WEST QUINCY

The regular business meeting of the Epworth league was held in the vestry of the Hall Place M. E. church Tuesday evening. Reports were received from the various officers and accepted. After the business session a social hour was enjoyed in charge of the fourth vice president of the league.

Saturday evening, February twenty-second, twenty friends of the Misses Thayer were entertained at their home 127 Crescent street. Games and stunts in variety were indulged in, prizes being awarded to the most successful and to the one producing the most artistic drawing of "George cutting down the cherry tree." The prettily decorated dining-room was revealed to the guests at ten o'clock by the drawing of the American flag where refreshments were served. Fred E. Bowen of Central Falls, R. I. was among the guests.

Henry L. Upton, principal of the Willard School was chosen a member of the advisory committee of the Boston alumni and alumnae association. Mrs. Upton is a member of the Eastern State Normal School of Castine, Me., at the annual reunion held Saturday at the Twentieth Century Club.

At the weekly whist party of the Ave Maria Council, Knights of Columbus, held in their rooms, Tuesday evening, John L. McLaughlin took first place, Ambrose Higgins second, and Thomas J. Shortle brought up the rear.

The committee on the annual ball of the Ave Maria Council, Knights of Columbus, which will take place in St. Joseph's hall, April 16 is in charge of Edward Monahan, one of the committee. Mrs. Sherwin was formerly Helen Troupe of this city.

William McQueen and John Reynolds, well known South Quincy young men are at their homes suffering from severe burns about the face and head following the flareup of gasoline at the Rice & Hutchins South Braintree factory Friday morning.

A whist party by the Odd Ladies, Thursday evening in Clan McGregor Hall was successful. 14 tables were being played. The souvenirs were awarded to Mrs. Jane Denton, James Gorman, Miss Mary Smith, Mrs. Carron, Mr. Nichols and Mr. Clemens. Consolations went to Miss Agnes Smith and Mr. Smith.

At a meeting of the Order of the Sons of St. George Wednesday evening in Clan McGregor Hall, a report of the committee in charge of the 27th anniversary minstrel show and ball, was received. It was reported that the affair was an immense success and that the financial success of the show was beyond all expectations. John Andrews was in the chair.

SOUTH QUINCY

Rowland Hughes, 94 Goddard street Quincy, is an officer in the Welsh Associates of Greater Boston who are making plans to honor their patron, Saint David, Saturday. They will also exhibit their love for the mother-land and its associations. The affair will take place in Tremont Temple, Boston. Mr. Hughes is a member-at-large.

The funeral of Edwin E. Pierce, who died Saturday in his 75th year, took place on Tuesday from his home 180 Franklin street. Services were conducted by Rev. Benjamin A. Willmot. Burial was in Mt. Wollaston cemetery. He is survived by a wife and one child.

Mr. and Mrs. William Bogorod, who have been living on Franklin street for almost a year, left Monday for New York City and from there go to Columbus, Ohio to live. Mr. Bogorod is to enter the wholesale grocery business in partnership with his brother, Henry, in her 31st year. The friends who regret their departure.

The regular monthly meeting of the C. E. Society of the First Presbyterian church was held Wednesday in the vestry of the church. Reports were read by the different committees and all the business was over a social hour was enjoyed. Refreshments were served by the Missionary committee.

Friends of Mrs. David Twomey of Payne street are glad to see her back again after spending the winter with her parents in Ireland. During her stay there she visited many places of importance and had the pleasure of kissing the Blarney stone which few women have done before.

Miss Helen Gates of Franklin street is spending a week with friends in Ware, Mass.

After the business of Franklin street is spending a few days with her cousin, Mrs. M. K. Leventha of Dorchester.

Fr. Listner, a missionary among the Georgia negroes, is visiting his long time friend, Rev. Fr. John J. Coan of St. John's church. Father Listner has been stationed in previous years at Dahomey, Africa where he was engaged in preaching the gospel to the natives.

The committee in charge of the reception and ball to be given April 1st at Music hall by the Quincy Young Men's Hebrew Association, met Tuesday evening. After the business session, a social hour was enjoyed in charge of the fourth vice president of the league.

Saturday evening, February twenty-second, twenty friends of the Misses Thayer were entertained at their home 127 Crescent street. Games and stunts in variety were indulged in, prizes being awarded to the most successful and to the one producing the most artistic drawing of "George cutting down the cherry tree." The prettily decorated dining-room was revealed to the guests at ten o'clock by the drawing of the American flag where refreshments were served. Fred E. Bowen of Central Falls, R. I. was among the guests.

Henry L. Upton, principal of the Willard School was chosen a member of the advisory committee of the Boston alumni and alumnae association. Mrs. Upton is a member of the Eastern State Normal School of Castine, Me., at the annual reunion held Saturday at the Twentieth Century Club.

At the weekly whist party of the Ave Maria Council, Knights of Columbus, held in their rooms, Tuesday evening, John L. McLaughlin took first place, Ambrose Higgins second, and Thomas J. Shortle brought up the rear.

The committee on the annual ball of the Ave Maria Council, Knights of Columbus, which will take place in St. Joseph's hall, April 16 is in charge of Edward Monahan, one of the committee. Mrs. Sherwin was formerly Helen Troupe of this city.

William McQueen and John Reynolds, well known South Quincy young men are at their homes suffering from severe burns about the face and head following the flareup of gasoline at the Rice & Hutchins South Braintree factory Friday morning.

A whist party by the Odd Ladies, Thursday evening in Clan McGregor Hall was successful. 14 tables were being played. The souvenirs were awarded to Mrs. Jane Denton, James Gorman, Miss Mary Smith, Mrs. Carron, Mr. Nichols and Mr. Clemens. Consolations went to Miss Agnes Smith and Mr. Smith.

At a meeting of the Order of the Sons of St. George Wednesday evening in Clan McGregor Hall, a report of the committee in charge of the 27th anniversary minstrel show and ball, was received. It was reported that the affair was an immense success and that the financial success of the show was beyond all expectations. John Andrews was in the chair.

CHARTER REVISION.

A regular meeting of the board of directors of the Board of Trade together with the board of directors of the committees met Thursday evening. Thompson's restaurant where they had supper after which the business was transacted at the dinner table. The object of the meeting was to arrange for the meeting next Wednesday evening and as outlined in Thursday's edition the meeting dealt with the question of the revision of the City Charter, a bill for which is now pending before the legislature.

The secretary was instructed to obtain copies of the bill that the hearing on the question of revision of the City Charter will be held at the meeting of the Board of Trade held on Wednesday evening. The object of the meeting was to arrange for the meeting next Wednesday evening and as outlined in Thursday's edition the meeting dealt with the question of the revision of the City Charter, a bill for which is now pending before the legislature.

The secretary was instructed to obtain copies of the bill that the hearing on the question of revision of the City Charter will be held at the meeting of the Board of Trade held on Wednesday evening. The object of the meeting was to arrange for the meeting next Wednesday evening and as outlined in Thursday's edition the meeting dealt with the question of the revision of the City Charter, a bill for which is now pending before the legislature.

The secretary was instructed to obtain copies of the bill that the hearing on the question of revision of the City Charter will be held at the meeting of the Board of Trade held on Wednesday evening. The object of the meeting was to arrange for the meeting next Wednesday evening and as outlined in Thursday's edition the meeting dealt with the question of the revision of the City Charter, a bill for which is now pending before the legislature.

The secretary was instructed to obtain copies of the bill that the hearing on the question of revision of the City Charter will be held at the meeting of the Board of Trade held on Wednesday evening. The object of the meeting was to arrange for the meeting next Wednesday evening and as outlined in Thursday's edition the meeting dealt with the question of the revision of the City Charter, a bill for which is now pending before the legislature.

The secretary was instructed to obtain copies of the bill that the hearing on the question of revision of the City Charter will be held at the meeting of the Board of Trade held on Wednesday evening. The object of the meeting was to arrange for the meeting next Wednesday evening and as outlined in Thursday's edition the meeting dealt with the question of the revision of the City Charter, a bill for which is now pending before the legislature.

The secretary was instructed to obtain copies of the bill that the hearing on the question of revision of the City Charter will be held at the meeting of the Board of Trade held on Wednesday evening. The object of the meeting was to arrange for the meeting next Wednesday evening and as outlined in Thursday's edition the meeting dealt with the question of the revision of the City Charter, a bill for which is now pending before the legislature.

The secretary was instructed to obtain copies of the bill that the hearing on the question of revision of the City Charter will be held at the meeting of the Board of Trade held on Wednesday evening. The object of the meeting was to arrange for the meeting next Wednesday evening and as outlined in Thursday's edition the meeting dealt with the question of the revision of the City Charter, a bill for which is now pending before the legislature.

The secretary was instructed to obtain copies of the bill that the hearing on the question of revision of the City Charter will be held at the meeting of the Board of Trade held on Wednesday evening. The object of the meeting was to arrange for the meeting next Wednesday evening and as outlined in Thursday's edition the meeting dealt with the question of the revision of the City Charter, a bill for which is now pending before the legislature.

The secretary was instructed to obtain copies of the bill that the hearing on the question of revision of the City Charter will be held at the meeting of the Board of Trade held on Wednesday evening. The object of the meeting was to arrange for the meeting next Wednesday evening and as outlined in Thursday's edition the meeting dealt with the question of the revision of the City Charter, a bill for which is now pending before the legislature.

WOLLASTON

Rev. George S. Fiske rector of St. John's church, East Boston will preach Thursday evening at the Wollaston weekly service at St. Christopher's church.

W. F. Baldwin of Simuk, Alaska will speak in the Wollaston Methodist church at 7:00 o'clock Sunday evening. Everybody invited.

Wednesday the Woman's Guild of St. Christopher's church will hold the fourth all-day sewing meeting in the Parish rooms. A clam chowder will be served by Mrs. Daniel C. Miller and Mrs. Herbert H. Albee.

George E. Thomas is building a two-family house on Standish avenue near Warren avenue.

Mrs. Anna K. Lee of Prospect avenue is leaving Nice, France, next week for Rome where she will stay until after Easter.

Mrs. Delphine K. widow of John D. and mother of the late Dr. Wellington Record of Wollaston died in Medford, Mass. in her 81st year. The funeral was held there and burial was at Mt. Wollaston cemetery.

Mrs. George M. Sneath, of Chapel Hill, North Carolina, is visiting her husband's parents, Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Sneath, at the parsonage, 20 Marion street.

Mr. and Mrs. Chandler W. Smith of Wollaston, left Sunday for California, and intervening cities. Mr. Smith's business interests calling him west at this time. They will be away two months.

Mrs. and Mrs. Chester E. Rogers and his sister Miss Mary Rogers all of Plymouth, were week end guests of Mrs. Rogers's father, Mr. Edward Miller of Old Colony avenue.

Monday afternoon the Junior Auxiliary of St. Christopher's church met before the usual hour and enjoyed an hour of games and refreshments. Refreshments were served, which is a feature of the last meeting of the month. Mrs. Charles T. Kelley of Standish avenue is leader.

At Palm Beach, Fla., Tuesday, Michael Brady of the Wollaston Golf club, secured first money in the 18-hole best-ball foursome with a score of 65. His partner was W. R. Simmons of Garden City.

Ray Stannard Baker has made Mrs. Robert E. Park of Wollaston the subject of an interesting sketch in the group of "Interesting People" in the March issue of The American magazine just issued.

The C. A. A. Girls met Sunday afternoon at the home of Miss Etta Litchman. A social hour followed the meeting, during which tea was served by the hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Titts of Boston were among the three selected by the United States Golf Association to compete in the international match at Paris, in June.

HOUGHES NECK

Mrs. Harriett E. Turner died suddenly while eating dinner at the home of George Bell, Sea Avenue, Saturday. She had recently recovered from a nervous breakdown which undoubtedly left its effects. The cause of death was given as heart failure by Medical Examiner F. E. Jones, who viewed the body. Mrs. Turner was acting as nurse for Mrs. B. H. Jacobsen of Kendrick avenue are spending the week end at Hollis, New Hampshire.

Michael J. Brady of Wollaston, Thomas L. McNamara and Alex Smith of Boston were among the three selected by the United States Golf Association to compete in the international match at Paris, in June.

The annual ladies night of the Houghes Neck Associates was held Saturday evening at their headquarters. A supper supper was served by 50 ladies and a social hour followed. The speakers were

The Quincy Patriot

SATURDAY, MARCH 1, 1913

| WEEKLY         | Year | Full Year | Month |
|----------------|------|-----------|-------|
| ALMANAC        | 1913 | 1913      | 1913  |
| March 1, 1913  | 5.25 | 5.25      | 5.25  |
| March 2, 1913  | 5.25 | 5.25      | 5.25  |
| March 3, 1913  | 5.25 | 5.25      | 5.25  |
| March 4, 1913  | 5.25 | 5.25      | 5.25  |
| March 5, 1913  | 5.25 | 5.25      | 5.25  |
| March 6, 1913  | 5.25 | 5.25      | 5.25  |
| March 7, 1913  | 5.25 | 5.25      | 5.25  |
| March 8, 1913  | 5.25 | 5.25      | 5.25  |
| March 9, 1913  | 5.25 | 5.25      | 5.25  |
| March 10, 1913 | 5.25 | 5.25      | 5.25  |
| March 11, 1913 | 5.25 | 5.25      | 5.25  |
| March 12, 1913 | 5.25 | 5.25      | 5.25  |
| March 13, 1913 | 5.25 | 5.25      | 5.25  |
| March 14, 1913 | 5.25 | 5.25      | 5.25  |
| March 15, 1913 | 5.25 | 5.25      | 5.25  |
| March 16, 1913 | 5.25 | 5.25      | 5.25  |
| March 17, 1913 | 5.25 | 5.25      | 5.25  |
| March 18, 1913 | 5.25 | 5.25      | 5.25  |
| March 19, 1913 | 5.25 | 5.25      | 5.25  |
| March 20, 1913 | 5.25 | 5.25      | 5.25  |
| March 21, 1913 | 5.25 | 5.25      | 5.25  |
| March 22, 1913 | 5.25 | 5.25      | 5.25  |
| March 23, 1913 | 5.25 | 5.25      | 5.25  |
| March 24, 1913 | 5.25 | 5.25      | 5.25  |
| March 25, 1913 | 5.25 | 5.25      | 5.25  |
| March 26, 1913 | 5.25 | 5.25      | 5.25  |
| March 27, 1913 | 5.25 | 5.25      | 5.25  |
| March 28, 1913 | 5.25 | 5.25      | 5.25  |
| March 29, 1913 | 5.25 | 5.25      | 5.25  |
| March 30, 1913 | 5.25 | 5.25      | 5.25  |
| March 31, 1913 | 5.25 | 5.25      | 5.25  |

The original Concord dam bill was lost in the senate. This of course refers to waterways.

It will soon be "having your talking taken," as well as "having your picture taken."

The new nickel will have "The Indian sign" all right, with its Red man and buffalo designs.

Harvard only made $60,000 at hockey this winter which was a record for the football class as a money getter.

Washington will not be isolated as it was four years ago even if a blizzard should happen along inauguration day, as the wires are now under constant and able to cope with such an emergency.

Nourishing the human body by electricity is the latest and no doubt many people would be better off if they had a little electricity injected into their systems.

Senator Root says women rule the world today by reason of their supremacy but he probably does not include the London suffragettes in that grand summing up.

Letter carriers will have their work cut out for them when the milliners get using the parcels post if the late retain their present enormous proportions.

The powers took the right stand when they refused to recognize the government of Mexico until the people of that country have put their stamp of approval on it or selected other masters.

LOCAL POSTAL SERVICE.

Postally it may be claimed that collectors are crying before they are hurt in the proposed local postal service, which goes into effect Saturday, but the hours which are given out from the post office, give cause for apprehension. The people sending mail from the city proper to Wollaston, Atlantic and local points, and those in the post office quite early in the afternoon or they will not be able to have their mail delivered until the next day. The change is wrought by the letter carriers going under the eight to ten hour schedule. There is no objection to the letter carriers coming under their legal rights, but where does the public come in when the inconvenience which is bound to come, becomes noticeable. In private business if a concern did not have enough men to perform the work with justice to its standards and customers it is quite certain that the same would be made to the force. The post office department will undoubtedly find this condition to exist and should take steps to remedy the defect. If more letter carriers are needed to accommodate the public let them be more letter carriers.

THE G. A. R. MEMORIAL.

As has been some months since a committee of gentlemen, were appointed to take charge of the memorial building towards the establishment of a memorial hall for the veterans of Paul Revere Post, G. A. R. of this city. The Adams Academy building was suggested. Many favored this project, others opposed but all were honest in their opinion and all were moved by any bias or prejudice. The committee mentioned, it was understood, was to look into the Academy building proposition, but if this was unavailable they were still pledged to the Memorial building of some kind. It has been some time since a meeting of the general committee has been held. Probably some of the sub-committees have been active along the lines mapped out for them. In the meantime, the Adams Academy building is lying idle. Whether it is finally used for a Grand Army building or not it seems to be too valuable a piece of property to be permitted to go to waste and no building was ever improved by permitting it to be untenanted for so long, a prey to rats and mice and other animals which may find a home within or between its walls. Something should be done to reclaim the building for some other use before it reaches a hopeless stage of decay and ruin.

PUBLIC LIBRARY NOTES.

On Monday, March 3rd, a guessing contest will be started in the Children's Room of the Public Library. A picture representing the characters or scenes from some book will be placed on the bulletin board every Monday and Thursday evening. From any child who desires to, may have a good guess at the name of the book which the picture represents. Each child will write the title of the book guessed, on a slip of paper, sign his name and drop it into the box provided for the purpose. Every Saturday morning all pictures previously shown will be exhibited for the benefit of those who missed them the first time. A first and second prize will be awarded the two guessing the largest number of titles and a list will be posted containing the names of those deserving honorary mention.

On Friday afternoon, March 14th, Miss Hubbard will conduct a story hour in the Children's Room. All children who wish to hear the stories must be in the room promptly at four o'clock.

ELIZABETH W. PINEL.

Miss Elizabeth W. Pinel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Pinel of 71 Franklin street died Wednesday night at the home of her parents, 71 Franklin street, in her 22nd year.

Miss Pinel graduated from the Adams school in 1905. She entered Woodward institute, class of 1909 and attended about one year. Since that time she has lived at home.

Miss Pinel was very popular in South Quincy. She has been ill for some time.

HELP! RACE SUICIDE.

During the year 1912, the births in the city reached 955 against 977 for 1911. The complete statistics have not as yet been compiled.

MT. WOLLASTON LODGE BALL.

The extremely inclement weather, seemed in no way to interfere with the attendance at the annual concert and ball of Mt. Wollaston lodge, 1, O. F. F. Thursday evening, at Music hall, for it was the largest gathering for some years. Brothers of the three links, with their ladies and friends, were present in large numbers, other lodges in the immediate vicinity being largely represented. The officers of the ball were assiduous in their attention to the participants and nothing that would lead to the enjoyment of the evening was omitted.

The decorations of the hall were of a simple nature, being wholly confined to the platform. Along the front of the platform were many beautiful ferns, between which were small potted plants. The decorations were to brighten the effect. These decorations came from the conservatories of William Patterson at Wollaston.

Behind this embankment was Monk's orchestra and from 8 to 9 o'clock they gave a promenade concert, the program including the following numbers:

Introductory March
Overture, Jolly Robbers
Supper
Selection, Opera, Midnight Sons
by Hubbell
Waltz Song, from Faust
Gonard
Selection, from Dollar Princess,
by Geo. Fall
Finale.

While this was in progress the active dancers were arriving and their dancing took place. The dancing, preceding holy communion, Mr. Willmott took his text, "The Washing of the Disciples' feet," which teaches humility, and the desire to serve. Mr. Willmott said in part: "The penalty of great souls is what they have to bear in loneliness and solitude that which the world is incapable of understanding. Jesus knew what was coming and he felt it keenly. He was trying to teach the disciples but their minds could not grasp the situation. When they questioned, 'Who is to be greatest, who is to be the head?' He said, 'In my kingdom it is not to be greatest, but to be servant. Not he who governs but he who serves is the greatest in my kingdom. Is it not well we understand again the story of his life and class? A great man is great because his soul is great. A small soul is hurt because his dignity for we have not that view-point that Jesus took symbol of service, symbol of love. I do not know of any truth more sacred than the truth of that upper room. It convinces beyond all power and doubt. We are grateful for what took place there. Let us go to that room for inspiration, that we may derive stronger faith and closer fellowship with Jesus. Many we are in this gentleness and be made great in humility."

There were quite a few guests present but many prominent in Odd Fellows circles who had been here before the dancing was over. The dancing continued until 9 o'clock the announcement went forth to form for the grand march which was to open the ball. Over eighty couples participated in the march, while a large number from preference elected to watch the game. The dancing continued until 11 o'clock. The ball was a very pretty affair, the many handsome creations worn by the ladies making a scene long to be remembered, especially as the line of sixteen front came down the center of the hall. The alignment was almost perfect and it called for deserved applause from the hundreds of spectators in the balcony and on the sides of the hall.

The march was led by Noble Grand Matthew Swanson and Mrs. Swanson, who wore a handsome pink gown with net overlays. Following immediately behind them were Mayor Stone and Mrs. Stone, Col. Henry L. Kincaide, the Floor Director and Mrs. Kincaide, District Deputy Harry Collett and Miss Collett, Assistant Floor Director, Charles Barron and Mrs. Barron, Assistant Floor Director James Moore, Jr. and Mrs. Moore, George P. Spooner, Ernest R. McConnell, Gilbert A. Booth, E. Frank Mitchell, Howard C. Andrews, John R. Richards, Frank W. Flowers, John H. Gillis, John D. Maska, Charles W. Hodgkinson, Abel S. Gomez, D. Edward Macdonald, Charles H. Wood, Sanford J. Clark, Maynard C. King, Edward J. Sandberg.

The committee of arrangements were Charles Barron, chairman, Frank L. Carleton, treasurer, William S. Egan, Abel S. Gomez, Charles H. Wood, William A. Richards, Matthew Swanson, Charles S. Jones and D. Edward Macdonald.

GEORGE L. BILLINGS.

The body of George L. Billings arrived here Thursday evening from New Mexico where he died Feb. 22. His mother Mrs. Mary L. Billings, who was with him when he passed away, accompanied the remains. This morning the funeral will take place from the home of his mother, 837 Hancock street. A religious service will be held at St. John's church and burial will be in St. Francis Xavier cemetery, South Weymouth.

George L. Billings was born in East Braintree 25 years ago. He was the son of Mary L. and the late John L. Billings. He came here six years ago. At the Bureau Commercial College he became an expert stenographer and bookkeeper and after graduating taught a class there for some time. He entered the government employ four years ago in the Bureau of the Interior. He was soon after assigned to the land office at Clayton, New Mexico.

Of an ambitious turn of mind, in an effort to gain promotion he undermined his health. He was sick four weeks when he died.

The body was taken charge of by Undertaker Edward L. Bean. It was taken to his home and later to the mother's home. The deceased was the nephew of Rev. P. H. Billings of the Church of St. Bridget, Abington.

He leaves a mother, Mrs. Mary L. Billings, a sister, Miss Alice, and four brothers, Frank H., Ralph E., William M. and John E. who resides at Stratton, N. H.

He was candidate for initiation in the Clayton lodge of Elks but did not live to become a member.

BETHANY CHURCH SUPPER.

The second in the series of alphabetical suppers, given under the auspices of the Ladies' circle of Bethany church, was held Thursday evening with about 200 present who partook of the very bountiful supper, consisting of cold meats, mashed potatoes, rolls, coffee, salmon salad, all varieties of delicious pies and cakes.

Mrs. Everett Crane, chairman, was ably assisted by the following ladies: Mrs. A. J. Gilson, Mrs. C. W. Guy, Mrs. E. V. Pitts, Mrs. Grace Fisher, Mrs. Charles Ford, Mrs. John Hunt, Mrs. Edward Goodridge, Mrs. L. Goddard, Mrs. Charles Hayden, Mrs. W. C. Hart, Those presiding at the chafing dishes were: Mrs. J. L. Swingle, Mrs. Walter Emery, Miss Addie J. Park, Mrs. George McFarlane, Mrs. Mattie Bell, Mrs. T. H. Horton, Miss Marjorie Welch, Miss Emma Stewart, Mrs. Edna Hallives, Mrs. Eva Gragg, Mrs. Marian Miller, Miss Helen Bromley, Mrs. H. England, Mrs. Albert Hayden, Miss Emma Spaulding, Mrs. John Keast, Gertrude Shaw.

The young ladies who served were: Helen Dungan, Evelyn Steward, Ester Beckwith, William Wilson, Bertha Boker, Gladys Moorhouse, Flora McPherson, Alice Parker, Louise Pratt, Mary Stewart, Florence Sabean, Annie Jones Dorothy Love.

After supper, the company repaired to the vestry where the pastor, Mr. Willmott, gave a preparatory lecture, preceding holy communion. Mr. Willmott took his text, "The Washing of the Disciples' feet," which teaches humility, and the desire to serve. Mr. Willmott said in part: "The penalty of great souls is what they have to bear in loneliness and solitude that which the world is incapable of understanding. Jesus knew what was coming and he felt it keenly. He was trying to teach the disciples but their minds could not grasp the situation. When they questioned, 'Who is to be greatest, who is to be the head?' He said, 'In my kingdom it is not to be greatest, but to be servant. Not he who governs but he who serves is the greatest in my kingdom. Is it not well we understand again the story of his life and class? A great man is great because his soul is great. A small soul is hurt because his dignity for we have not that view-point that Jesus took symbol of service, symbol of love. I do not know of any truth more sacred than the truth of that upper room. It convinces beyond all power and doubt. We are grateful for what took place there. Let us go to that room for inspiration, that we may derive stronger faith and closer fellowship with Jesus. Many we are in this gentleness and be made great in humility."

There were quite a few guests present but many prominent in Odd Fellows circles who had been here before the dancing was over. The dancing continued until 9 o'clock the announcement went forth to form for the grand march which was to open the ball. Over eighty couples participated in the march, while a large number from preference elected to watch the game. The dancing continued until 11 o'clock. The ball was a very pretty affair, the many handsome creations worn by the ladies making a scene long to be remembered, especially as the line of sixteen front came down the center of the hall. The alignment was almost perfect and it called for deserved applause from the hundreds of spectators in the balcony and on the sides of the hall.

The march was led by Noble Grand Matthew Swanson and Mrs. Swanson, who wore a handsome pink gown with net overlays. Following immediately behind them were Mayor Stone and Mrs. Stone, Col. Henry L. Kincaide, the Floor Director and Mrs. Kincaide, District Deputy Harry Collett and Miss Collett, Assistant Floor Director, Charles Barron and Mrs. Barron, Assistant Floor Director James Moore, Jr. and Mrs. Moore, George P. Spooner, Ernest R. McConnell, Gilbert A. Booth, E. Frank Mitchell, Howard C. Andrews, John R. Richards, Frank W. Flowers, John H. Gillis, John D. Maska, Charles W. Hodgkinson, Abel S. Gomez, D. Edward Macdonald, Charles H. Wood, Sanford J. Clark, Maynard C. King, Edward J. Sandberg.

The committee of arrangements were Charles Barron, chairman, Frank L. Carleton, treasurer, William S. Egan, Abel S. Gomez, Charles H. Wood, William A. Richards, Matthew Swanson, Charles S. Jones and D. Edward Macdonald.

The body of George L. Billings arrived here Thursday evening from New Mexico where he died Feb. 22. His mother Mrs. Mary L. Billings, who was with him when he passed away, accompanied the remains. This morning the funeral will take place from the home of his mother, 837 Hancock street. A religious service will be held at St. John's church and burial will be in St. Francis Xavier cemetery, South Weymouth.

George L. Billings was born in East Braintree 25 years ago. He was the son of Mary L. and the late John L. Billings. He came here six years ago. At the Bureau Commercial College he became an expert stenographer and bookkeeper and after graduating taught a class there for some time. He entered the government employ four years ago in the Bureau of the Interior. He was soon after assigned to the land office at Clayton, New Mexico.

Of an ambitious turn of mind, in an effort to gain promotion he undermined his health. He was sick four weeks when he died.

The body was taken charge of by Undertaker Edward L. Bean. It was taken to his home and later to the mother's home. The deceased was the nephew of Rev. P. H. Billings of the Church of St. Bridget, Abington.

He leaves a mother, Mrs. Mary L. Billings, a sister, Miss Alice, and four brothers, Frank H., Ralph E., William M. and John E. who resides at Stratton, N. H.

He was candidate for initiation in the Clayton lodge of Elks but did not live to become a member.

ENJOYABLE PROGRAM.

A pleasing musical and dramatic program was given at the monthly meeting of the Norfolk Downs Improvement Association, Thursday evening at Poland hall.

The entertainment which was under the able management of the ladies, witnessed by a large audience of members and friends which nearly filled the hall.

A business session with President H. A. Dunmore in the chair opened the meeting.

An auditing committee of N. S. Sanford, A. S. Robinson and B. L. Sanford and a nominating committee of A. S. Robinson, James A. Kell and N. S. Sanford were appointed.

A. S. Robinson reported for the committee on streets and H. E. Gould for the committee on mail service.

The first number of the entertainment was contributed by an orchestra of nine pieces including some of Mrs. Sutherland's pupils.

Piano selections by Cecil and Cyril Brigham were enjoyed.

"Hagan's Matrimonial Bureau," a one act farce was given by Frank Dorgan and Arthur Asberg, the former as Hagan and the latter in female garb. The two young men were good and received thunderous applause.

Mr. Wallace sang a solo, "Beauty's eyes" accompanied by Miss Edna Robinson as accompanist rendered a fine violin solo. The final number was by the orchestra which was composed of Pit Robinson, Joseph Emery, Carl Schroeder, Miss Danna Walker, Miss Frances Hubbard, Miss Beatrice Costello, Roger Bates Mr. Littlefield and Edward Wallace.

Light refreshments were served in the social hour that followed and the evening concluded with general dancing by the young people.

Composing the committee in charge were: Mrs. S. Robinson, Mrs. John Thomas, Mrs. N. S. Sanford, Mrs. C. E. Franklin, Mrs. C. J. Asberg, Mrs. H. W. Howard, assisted by Misses Ethel and Annie Thomas and Miss Ethel Asberg.

JANUARY DEATHS.

According to the mortality statement of the Board of Health issued today the death rate for Quincy for the year 1912 was 11.04 and the death rate for January based on the population of 44,750 was 11.75. There were 41 deaths in January, the causes of the same reported with the contagious diseases together and deaths by ages being as follows:

CAUSES OF DEATH.

| Accidents                | 2  |
|--------------------------|----|
| Arterio Sclerosis        | 2  |
| Bronchitis               | 2  |
| Cerebral Hemorrhage      | 2  |
| Chronic valvular disease | 2  |
| Chronic myocarditis      | 2  |
| Erysipelas               | 1  |
| Cancer                   | 6  |
| Diabetes Mellitus        | 1  |
| Diphtheria               | 1  |
| Drowning, accidental?    | 1  |
| Hepatitis                | 1  |
| Influenza, Pneumonia     | 1  |
| La Grippe                | 1  |
| Locomotor Ataxia         | 1  |
| Measles                  | 1  |
| Meningitis               | 1  |
| Endocarditis             | 1  |
| Tubercular               | 1  |
| Obstruction of Bowels    | 1  |
| Pneumonia                | 1  |
| Broncho                  | 1  |
| Lobar                    | 1  |
| Potts Disease of Spine   | 1  |
| Septicemia               | 1  |
| Infected Wound           | 1  |
| Uterine Polypus          | 1  |
| Tuberculosis Pulmonary   | 1  |
| Stillborn                | 4  |
| Total                    | 44 |

CONTAGIOUS DISEASES.

| Diphtheria        | 9  |
|-------------------|----|
| Measles           | 10 |
| Tuberculosis      | 10 |
| Whooping Cough    | 8  |
| Chicken Pox       | 8  |
| Slight Ophthalmia | 1  |
| Total             | 44 |

DEATHS BY AGES.

| Under 1 year       | 4  |
|--------------------|----|
| Between 1 and 2    | 0  |
| Between 2 and 3    | 0  |
| Between 3 and 4    | 0  |
| Between 4 and 5    | 0  |
| Between 5 and 6    | 0  |
| Between 6 and 7    | 0  |
| Between 7 and 8    | 0  |
| Between 8 and 9    | 0  |
| Between 9 and 10   | 0  |
| Between 10 and 11  | 0  |
| Between 11 and 12  | 0  |
| Between 12 and 13  | 0  |
| Between 13 and 14  | 0  |
| Between 14 and 15  | 0  |
| Between 15 and 16  | 0  |
| Between 16 and 17  | 0  |
| Between 17 and 18  | 0  |
| Between 18 and 19  | 0  |
| Between 19 and 20  | 0  |
| Between 20 and 21  | 0  |
| Between 21 and 22  | 0  |
| Between 22 and 23  | 0  |
| Between 23 and 24  | 0  |
| Between 24 and 25  | 0  |
| Between 25 and 26  | 0  |
| Between 26 and 27  | 0  |
| Between 27 and 28  | 0  |
| Between 28 and 29  | 0  |
| Between 29 and 30  | 0  |
| Between 30 and 31  | 0  |
| Between 31 and 32  | 0  |
| Between 32 and 33  | 0  |
| Between 33 and 34  | 0  |
| Between 34 and 35  | 0  |
| Between 35 and 36  | 0  |
| Between 36 and 37  | 0  |
| Between 37 and 38  | 0  |
| Between 38 and 39  | 0  |
| Between 39 and 40  | 0  |
| Between 40 and 41  | 0  |
| Between 41 and 42  | 0  |
| Between 42 and 43  | 0  |
| Between 43 and 44  | 0  |
| Between 44 and 45  | 0  |
| Between 45 and 46  | 0  |
| Between 46 and 47  | 0  |
| Between 47 and 48  | 0  |
| Between 48 and 49  | 0  |
| Between 49 and 50  | 0  |
| Between 50 and 51  | 0  |
| Between 51 and 52  | 0  |
| Between 52 and 53  | 0  |
| Between 53 and 54  | 0  |
| Between 54 and 55  | 0  |
| Between 55 and 56  | 0  |
| Between 56 and 57  | 0  |
| Between 57 and 58  | 0  |
| Between 58 and 59  | 0  |
| Between 59 and 60  | 0  |
| Between 60 and 61  | 0  |
| Between 61 and 62  | 0  |
| Between 62 and 63  | 0  |
| Between 63 and 64  | 0  |
| Between 64 and 65  | 0  |
| Between 65 and 66  | 0  |
| Between 66 and 67  | 0  |
| Between 67 and 68  | 0  |
| Between 68 and 69  | 0  |
| Between 69 and 70  | 0  |
| Between 70 and 71  | 0  |
| Between 71 and 72  | 0  |
| Between 72 and 73  | 0  |
| Between 73 and 74  | 0  |
| Between 74 and 75  | 0  |
| Between 75 and 76  | 0  |
| Between 76 and 77  | 0  |
| Between 77 and 78  | 0  |
| Between 78 and 79  | 0  |
| Between 79 and 80  | 0  |
| Between 80 and 81  | 0  |
| Between 81 and 82  | 0  |
| Between 82 and 83  | 0  |
| Between 83 and 84  | 0  |
| Between 84 and 85  | 0  |
| Between 85 and 86  | 0  |
| Between 86 and 87  | 0  |
| Between 87 and 88  | 0  |
| Between 88 and 89  | 0  |
| Between 89 and 90  | 0  |
| Between 90 and 91  | 0  |
| Between 91 and 92  | 0  |
| Between 92 and 93  | 0  |
| Between 93 and 94  | 0  |
| Between 94 and 95  | 0  |
| Between 95 and 96  | 0  |
| Between 96 and 97  | 0  |
| Between 97 and 98  | 0  |
| Between 98 and 99  | 0  |
| Between 99 and 100 | 0  |
| Total              | 20 |

NATIONALITY.

American—24. Provincial; Foreign—8. Unknown—1.

The report also shows the following work to have been done by the department in January. Loads of ashes collected, single Franklin street 25; cubic feet of garbage collected 4,617; tank loads of cesspool matter removed 54; barrels of vault matter removed 3; clam permits issued 64; hawkers and peddlers licenses issued 32; plumbing permits issued 39; plumbing inspections 71; inspections by sanitary inspector 17.

In addition to this the Board paid for aid rendered for diphtheria and tuberculosis cases the following amounts, Diphtheria 3, patients, $67.50; Tuberculosis patients $39.95.

EDUCATIONAL LECTURE.

The second in a series of lectures given by the Young Men's Hebrew Association of Quincy will take place in Hibernian hall, 100 Franklin street, Sunday evening, at 7.15. The speakers will be Jacob DeKas, of Boston, and Dr. Nathan B. Finkelstein, also of Boston. Mr. DeKas is editor of the Jewish Advocate and is recognized as one of the best speakers in New England.

Dr. Finkelstein is the president of the Boston Young Men's Hebrew Association and as such he is very well acquainted with his subject, "The good of the Y. M. H. A." The lectures are held every month and are fast finding favor with the Jewish people of Quincy. They are free and are only taken charge of by the education work under the local Y. M. H. A. A musical entertainment will precede the speaking. The association extends a cordial invitation to all to be present at the lectures.

AMONG THE CLUBS.

The next meeting of the class in parliamentary law of the Quincy Women's club will meet Tuesday morning at the clubhouse at 10.

ANDING, 5.29, 8.00, 4.26
 A. M. then every 10
 and including 10.55 P.
 25, A. M. then same return, leave Wed-
 5.45, 7.15, 8.40, 9.15
 every 30 minutes on 11.15 P. M. Sunday
 same as week days

EPOSET for 25, 6.55, 7.25, 7.55,
 every 60 minutes to 10.25, 5.25, 6.25,
 10.35 P. M. Wednesdays, 11.30, P. M.
 M. every 60 minutes
 return, leave Squan-9.00, 7.50, 8.00, 8.30, 9.00 minutes to 5.00 P. M.
 6.30, 7.00, 8.00, 9.00,
 10.30, 11.30, 12.00,
 1.00, Wednesdays and Saturdays, every 60 minutes to

J. M. GARRON,
 Superintendent

The Quincy Patriot

SATURDAY, MARCH 8, 1913

WEEKLY...
 ALMANAC...
 SATURDAY, MARCH 8, 1913
 Sunday, March 9, 6.50
 Monday, March 10, 6.50
 Tuesday, March 11, 6.50
 Wednesday, March 12, 6.50
 Thursday, March 13, 6.50
 Friday, March 14, 6.50
 Saturday, March 15, 6.50
 Sunday, March 16, 6.50
 Monday, March 17, 6.50
 Tuesday, March 18, 6.50
 Wednesday, March 19, 6.50
 Thursday, March 20, 6.50
 Friday, March 21, 6.50
 Saturday, March 22, 6.50
 Sunday, March 23, 6.50
 Monday, March 24, 6.50
 Tuesday, March 25, 6.50
 Wednesday, March 26, 6.50
 Thursday, March 27, 6.50
 Friday, March 28, 6.50
 Saturday, March 29, 6.50
 Sunday, March 30, 6.50
 Monday, March 31, 6.50

The people who thought in January...
 The people who thought in January...
 The people who thought in January...

President Taft's secretary on retiring...
 President Taft's secretary on retiring...
 President Taft's secretary on retiring...

Good luck Professor Taft...
 Good luck Professor Taft...
 Good luck Professor Taft...

Honorable Neck is to be congratulated...
 Honorable Neck is to be congratulated...
 Honorable Neck is to be congratulated...

A GOOD MOVE...
 A GOOD MOVE...
 A GOOD MOVE...

Passengers on both the steam...
 Passengers on both the steam...
 Passengers on both the steam...

The enforcement of this regulation...
 The enforcement of this regulation...
 The enforcement of this regulation...

The Boston Advertiser in commenting...
 The Boston Advertiser in commenting...
 The Boston Advertiser in commenting...

"The mistakes of Senator McDevitt...
 "The mistakes of Senator McDevitt...
 "The mistakes of Senator McDevitt...

There is no doubt that Roger Wolcott...
 There is no doubt that Roger Wolcott...
 There is no doubt that Roger Wolcott...

There is no doubt that Roger Wolcott...
 There is no doubt that Roger Wolcott...
 There is no doubt that Roger Wolcott...

There is no doubt that Roger Wolcott...
 There is no doubt that Roger Wolcott...
 There is no doubt that Roger Wolcott...

There is no doubt that Roger Wolcott...
 There is no doubt that Roger Wolcott...
 There is no doubt that Roger Wolcott...

There is no doubt that Roger Wolcott...
 There is no doubt that Roger Wolcott...
 There is no doubt that Roger Wolcott...

There is no doubt that Roger Wolcott...
 There is no doubt that Roger Wolcott...
 There is no doubt that Roger Wolcott...

There is no doubt that Roger Wolcott...
 There is no doubt that Roger Wolcott...
 There is no doubt that Roger Wolcott...

There is no doubt that Roger Wolcott...
 There is no doubt that Roger Wolcott...
 There is no doubt that Roger Wolcott...

There is no doubt that Roger Wolcott...
 There is no doubt that Roger Wolcott...
 There is no doubt that Roger Wolcott...

There is no doubt that Roger Wolcott...
 There is no doubt that Roger Wolcott...
 There is no doubt that Roger Wolcott...

There is no doubt that Roger Wolcott...
 There is no doubt that Roger Wolcott...
 There is no doubt that Roger Wolcott...

There is no doubt that Roger Wolcott...
 There is no doubt that Roger Wolcott...
 There is no doubt that Roger Wolcott...

There is no doubt that Roger Wolcott...
 There is no doubt that Roger Wolcott...
 There is no doubt that Roger Wolcott...

There is no doubt that Roger Wolcott...
 There is no doubt that Roger Wolcott...
 There is no doubt that Roger Wolcott...

There is no doubt that Roger Wolcott...
 There is no doubt that Roger Wolcott...
 There is no doubt that Roger Wolcott...

There is no doubt that Roger Wolcott...
 There is no doubt that Roger Wolcott...
 There is no doubt that Roger Wolcott...

There is no doubt that Roger Wolcott...
 There is no doubt that Roger Wolcott...
 There is no doubt that Roger Wolcott...

There is no doubt that Roger Wolcott...
 There is no doubt that Roger Wolcott...
 There is no doubt that Roger Wolcott...

There is no doubt that Roger Wolcott...
 There is no doubt that Roger Wolcott...
 There is no doubt that Roger Wolcott...

There is no doubt that Roger Wolcott...
 There is no doubt that Roger Wolcott...
 There is no doubt that Roger Wolcott...

MAKARIA BANQUET.

"Wa-hu-hu! Happy greeting was the...
 "Wa-hu-hu! Happy greeting was the...
 "Wa-hu-hu! Happy greeting was the..."

The affair was an immense success...
 The affair was an immense success...
 The affair was an immense success...

It was a happy gathering it was...
 It was a happy gathering it was...
 It was a happy gathering it was...

The guests were very numerous...
 The guests were very numerous...
 The guests were very numerous...

The speakers included: Theophilus...
 The speakers included: Theophilus...
 The speakers included: Theophilus...

The success of the affair is due to...
 The success of the affair is due to...
 The success of the affair is due to...

Frank A. Skinner, of Upland road...
 Frank A. Skinner, of Upland road...
 Frank A. Skinner, of Upland road...

Mr. Skinner was about 57 years of...
 Mr. Skinner was about 57 years of...
 Mr. Skinner was about 57 years of...

For three years he was connected...
 For three years he was connected...
 For three years he was connected...

Word of his death came to Quincy...
 Word of his death came to Quincy...
 Word of his death came to Quincy...

He was a member of John Adams...
 He was a member of John Adams...
 He was a member of John Adams...

He was a member of John Adams...
 He was a member of John Adams...
 He was a member of John Adams...

He was a member of John Adams...
 He was a member of John Adams...
 He was a member of John Adams...

He was a member of John Adams...
 He was a member of John Adams...
 He was a member of John Adams...

He was a member of John Adams...
 He was a member of John Adams...
 He was a member of John Adams...

NEW CHARTER BILL.

Wednesday, March 12, 1913, at 10.30...
 Wednesday, March 12, 1913, at 10.30...
 Wednesday, March 12, 1913, at 10.30...

The bill will be finally submitted to...
 The bill will be finally submitted to...
 The bill will be finally submitted to...

"Shall the present charter of the...
 "Shall the present charter of the...
 "Shall the present charter of the..."

The church does not call men to...
 The church does not call men to...
 The church does not call men to...

The church must develop a God...
 The church must develop a God...
 The church must develop a God...

The church must develop a God...
 The church must develop a God...
 The church must develop a God...

The church must develop a God...
 The church must develop a God...
 The church must develop a God...

The church must develop a God...
 The church must develop a God...
 The church must develop a God...

The church must develop a God...
 The church must develop a God...
 The church must develop a God...

The church must develop a God...
 The church must develop a God...
 The church must develop a God...

The church must develop a God...
 The church must develop a God...
 The church must develop a God...

The church must develop a God...
 The church must develop a God...
 The church must develop a God...

The church must develop a God...
 The church must develop a God...
 The church must develop a God...

The church must develop a God...
 The church must develop a God...
 The church must develop a God...

The church must develop a God...
 The church must develop a God...
 The church must develop a God...

AMONG THE CLUBS.

Notices signed by Mrs. Frederick L...
 Notices signed by Mrs. Frederick L...
 Notices signed by Mrs. Frederick L...

The annual meeting of the Mass...
 The annual meeting of the Mass...
 The annual meeting of the Mass...

Miss Helen A. Whittier met the Ar...
 Miss Helen A. Whittier met the Ar...
 Miss Helen A. Whittier met the Ar...

The call has gone out for the annu...
 The call has gone out for the annu...
 The call has gone out for the annu...

The Brockton Woman's club observ...
 The Brockton Woman's club observ...
 The Brockton Woman's club observ...

The annual meeting of Adams Chap...
 The annual meeting of Adams Chap...
 The annual meeting of Adams Chap...

Donations to the Nursery for Febru...
 Donations to the Nursery for Febru...
 Donations to the Nursery for Febru...

Unity circle, King's daughters, held...
 Unity circle, King's daughters, held...
 Unity circle, King's daughters, held...

The meeting of the Abigail Phillips...
 The meeting of the Abigail Phillips...
 The meeting of the Abigail Phillips...

"An appreciation of Maeterlinck"...
 "An appreciation of Maeterlinck"...
 "An appreciation of Maeterlinck"...

Mrs. Emory L. Crane is to entertain...
 Mrs. Emory L. Crane is to entertain...
 Mrs. Emory L. Crane is to entertain...

The March 8 meeting of the New...
 The March 8 meeting of the New...
 The March 8 meeting of the New...

Mrs. Everett C. Bumpus first preside...
 Mrs. Everett C. Bumpus first preside...
 Mrs. Everett C. Bumpus first preside...

There bids fair to be the usual...
 There bids fair to be the usual...
 There bids fair to be the usual...

The next meeting of Dorothy G...
 The next meeting of Dorothy G...
 The next meeting of Dorothy G...

OPERA TALK.

W. L. Hubbard of the Boston Op...
 W. L. Hubbard of the Boston Op...
 W. L. Hubbard of the Boston Op...

Mr. Hubbard talked about grand...
 Mr. Hubbard talked about grand...
 Mr. Hubbard talked about grand...

"While the sending of a message is...
 "While the sending of a message is...
 "While the sending of a message is..."

"To enjoy music you do not need...
 "To enjoy music you do not need...
 "To enjoy music you do not need..."

"When we are honest with ourselv...
 "When we are honest with ourselv...
 "When we are honest with ourselv..."

"Opera in this country is presented...
 "Opera in this country is presented...
 "Opera in this country is presented..."

"When we are honest with ourselv...
 "When we are honest with ourselv...
 "When we are honest with ourselv..."

"Opera in this country is presented...
 "Opera in this country is presented...
 "Opera in this country is presented..."

"When we are honest with ourselv...
 "When we are honest with ourselv...
 "When we are honest with ourselv..."

"Opera in this country is presented...
 "Opera in this country is presented...
 "Opera in this country is presented..."

"When we are honest with ourselv...
 "When we are honest with ourselv...
 "When we are honest with ourselv..."

"Opera in this country is presented...
 "Opera in this country is presented...
 "Opera in this country is presented..."

"When we are honest with ourselv...
 "When we are honest with ourselv...
 "When we are honest with ourselv..."

"Opera in this country is presented...
 "Opera in this country is presented...
 "Opera in this country is presented..."

"When we are honest with ourselv...
 "When we are honest with ourselv...
 "When we are honest with ourselv..."

AMUSEMENTS.

HOLLY STREET THEATRE.
 Not in the recent theatrical history...
 Not in the recent theatrical history...

To transport the scenery and prop...
 To transport the scenery and prop...
 To transport the scenery and prop...

Mr. Hubbard talked about grand...
 Mr. Hubbard talked about grand...
 Mr. Hubbard talked about grand...

"While the sending of a message is...
 "While the sending of a message is...
 "While the sending of a message is..."

"To enjoy music you do not need...
 "To enjoy music you do not need...
 "To enjoy music you do not need..."

"When we are honest with ourselv...
 "When we are honest with ourselv...
 "When we are honest with ourselv..."

"Opera in this country is presented...
 "Opera in this country is presented...
 "Opera in this country is presented..."

"When we are honest with ourselv...
 "When we are honest with ourselv...
 "When we are honest with ourselv..."

"Opera in this country is presented...
 "Opera in this country is presented...
 "Opera in this country is presented..."

"When we are honest with ourselv...
 "When we are honest with ourselv...
 "When we are honest with ourselv..."

"Opera in this country is presented...
 "Opera in this country is presented...
 "Opera in this country is presented..."

"When we are honest with ourselv...
 "When we are honest with ourselv...
 "When we are honest with ourselv..."

"Opera in this country is presented...
 "Opera in this country is presented...
 "Opera in this country is presented..."

"When we are honest with ourselv...
 "When we are honest with ourselv...
 "When we are honest with ourselv..."

"Opera in this country is presented...
 "Opera in this country is presented...
 "Opera in this country is presented..."

The Quincy Patriot

SATURDAY, MARCH 8, 1913

SINGLE COPIES 6 CENTS.

FOR SALE AT

The Patriot Office,
W. E. Brown & Co.,
100 N. Main St.,
Quincy, Mass.
C. F. Carlson,
Quincy Depot,
L. A. Cook,
H. H. Smith,
Sprague & Hobart,
Shank's Periodical Store,
Wollaston,
Thomas Gurney,
Atlantic,
Branches & Martens,
Norfolk Downs,
Quincy Adams,
E. H. Doble & Co.,
West Quincy,
Frank A. Skinner,
Mrs. Lark's Store,
Brewer's Corner,
J. H. Hammers,
East Milton,
South Terminal Station,
Boston.

Notes and Comments.

It is announced that this year $25,000,000 may be spent on the Panama canal construction, but nobody seems to care how much the canal has cost.—Somerville Journal.

The waste that has gone on in the United States has been enough nearly to ruin any other country in the world. In the past 36 years, for instance, a trifle more than five billion dollars' worth of property has been destroyed by fire, and the Philadelphia Ledger notes that "our fire losses have been increasing at a faster rate than either our population or our national wealth."—Taunton Herald.

A Chicago woman has just received a letter from her husband, a taxicab driver, who had just robbed a jewelry store. After participating in a hot engagement without power to extricate herself, when the robbers got away she was confronted with a bill of $9 for the use of the taxicab, and on refusing to pay it was sent to jail. It looks as if she should be grateful that the robbers did not capture the vehicle and make off with it, in which case evidently the slant-eyed justice of Chicago would have made her pay for the loss of the taxicab.

—Eastern tourists who heretofore have been "doing" Europe will come west to the mountains and coast regions in large numbers this summer, is the opinion of W. Ralph Eggleston, a retired merchant of Philadelphia, who is in Spokane, Wash., on his return from California. "The See America First" movement is making rapid headway in the east," said Mr. Eggleston, "and this, together with the knowledge of the beauties of the mountains and lakes of the Pacific Northwest and the adventures that promise with exploration of the districts off the beaten path, is proving an irresistible lure to globe trotters. It is only in the last few years that people in the east and south have become aware of the wonderful beauty spots in the Spokane country, in Montana, on the coast and in Alaska." Mr. Eggleston and a number of his friends in Philadelphia are planning an automobile trip next summer through Yellowstone and Glacier National parks, in Montana, on west through the Spokane country and to Lake Chelan, in central Washington.

PRESENTATION.

Daniel J. Ring of Quincy who for a number of years has been connected with the mailing division of the Boston central office has been transferred to the Quincy office. Tuesday last before he was leaving his department he was called to the office of the mailing room and presented with a handsome memento by Mr. May, Mr. Charles Almeda in behalf of his fellow employees in the division. Mr. Ring briefly responded thanking his fellow employees with whom he had long been associated and said that while he should miss the work and his new office was in his home city and that he would be glad to be employed there among the pleasant surroundings which he knew to exist here in Quincy.

Mr. Ring is a well known resident of the Quincy Point district and is presently identified with Quincy lodge of Elks.

EASTER WEDDING.

Invitations have been issued for the marriage of Miss May Veal daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Veal of Vernon street and Arthur Newton, superintendent of the Sunday school of Christ Church. The ceremony will be performed by the rector, Rev. Richard E. Armstrong, at the church, Easter Saturday evening. The announcement of the engagement was made last Easter Sunday.

Miss Veal is an active member of St. Margaret's Guild, a teacher of the Sunday school and is well known throughout the city.

CIVIL SERVICE.

A hearing was given by the Public Service committee on the bill calling for the extension of the provisions of the Civil Service law to all appointive positions of authority in fire departments, at the State House, Tuesday. Representative Michael T. Sullivan was one of the opponents. He reviewed the referendum vote in Quincy on the same bill last fall and said it was a case of repeated legislation. The bill explained Boston and Representative Sullivan amended it to read the Boston and Quincy be excluded. A large delegation of Fire Chiefs of Massachusetts attended. The bill becomes a law only after its acceptance by the voters of the cities and towns and was narrowly defeated here.

BARRAJO RECAL.

The first of a series of recitals conducted by Enrico Barrajo and advanced pupils was given Friday evening. The audience was very enthusiastic and called for many encores. Max Lipman of the Boston Opera Co. was the guest of the evening. He sang, by request, "Queta o quella" from Rigoletto, and the "Celeste Aida" from Aida and was given tremendous applause.

Italian musical compositions of different periods comprised the selections. Arrangements are being made for another recital, at which German music of different periods will be interpreted. It is possible that another of the Boston Opera Co. stars will attend.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S
CASTORIA

CITY COUNCIL.

Although the City Council remained in session Monday night until the clock struck 11, the budget was not reached. Much valuable time was lost during the early part of the evening over a question raised by Councilman Cunningham, over the passage of the order at the last meeting transferring $27,414 from the Excess and Deficiency Fund to the appropriation for contagious diseases of the Board of Health, and it was 9.20 before this matter was disposed of.

The City Solicitor when called upon stated that this was a case where money once appropriated was being transferred and that it could be legally passed at one meeting. It was just the same as transferring a certain amount in the appropriation of one department to another appropriation in the same department. The records show that the order was adopted, it was signed by him and no matter what action is taken it can undo what has already been done.

FROM THE MAYOR.

Andrew Anderson was appointed and confirmed as constable. A communication from the Mayor returning the petition of Cordelia M. Clark for refund of half cost of sidewalk, which cost $194.19 was later in the evening the order was referred back to the Executive.

Amos L. Litchfield appointed Forest Warden was confirmed. A communication from the Board of Health enclosing a new plumbing ordinance to take the place of the present plumbing ordinance, was laid on the table.

A communication from the Commissioner of Public Works giving the cost of permanent sidewalks constructed under the betterment act. It was voted that half the cost of the sidewalks be assessed on the abutters.

The City Solicitor presented a new draft of an order assessing street betterments in the case where property had been transferred since the original assessment. Laid on the table.

From the Mayor a communication from the Commissioner giving a schedule of the work proposed under the orders for water extensions and sewer extensions. Placed on file and the clerk is to supply each member with a copy.

PUBLIC HEARINGS.

A hearing was held at 8 o'clock on the application of Konstant Hill for a pool table and bowling alley license. No one opposed and the license was granted.

At 8.15 a hearing was held on granting the Electric Light Co., a location for poles on Hill street. The petition was laid on the table until later when Councilman Corcoran offered an order granting the location which was read and ordered to a second reading.

At 8.30 a hearing was held on the petition to accept Ocean street, C. N. Land, W. N. Davidson, James H. Churchill and C. M. Baker offering in favor and no one against. Referred to the special committee on street matters.

At 8.49 a hearing was held on the petition for the abatement of street betterments on Ballou street. Mr. Land, W. N. Davidson, James H. Churchill and C. M. Baker offering in favor and no one against. Referred to the special committee on street matters.

At 8.49 a hearing was held on the petition for the abatement of street betterments on Ballou street. Mr. Land, W. N. Davidson, James H. Churchill and C. M. Baker offering in favor and no one against. Referred to the special committee on street matters.

George Scott also spoke of the waste of money on the street. He said the men who were in it were losing most of the time.

W. F. Lakin said he never saw such a waste of work as was done on this street. The men were asleep under the trees the most of the time. When the steam roller was on the street it could not work for the lack of water. It was a great waste of money. The street was built in 1911. Referred to the Executive for investigation.

COMMUNICATIONS.

A communication from the Woman's Relief Corps thanking the Council for the use of the Council chamber for Feb. 28, was placed on file.

A communication from the Overseer of the Poor asking to be excused from attending Council meetings and he was excused after the budget was disposed of.

A petition for lights on Upland road was referred to the Executive.

Applications for minor licenses were referred to the Chief of Police through the Mayor.

Petitions for the apportionment of street betterments were granted.

REPORTS.

The special committee to whom was referred the order appropriating $50,000 for water extensions reported that the order ought to pass. Read and placed on the table.

The special committee on various matters reported as follows:—Leave to withdraw on the petitions for the acceptance of Saville avenue; Chester street; Winthrop avenue, Hamilton street; Lunt street; Flynn street; Green street; Bromfield street; Davis street; for report on Stone street; rebuilding Billings road. Report accepted.

The same committee reported ought not to pass on the following orders:—Accepting a part of Glendale road; Baxter avenue; Winthrop street; Taber street; Herrington road; Doble street; Roseline street and the order for $2,500 for paved gutters and rebuilding Cranch street, and the communication from the Mayor relative to building a retaining wall on River road. Report accepted.

The same committee reported an order for a public hearing April 7 on the acceptance of Fairmount way. Adopted.

The same committee reported ought to pass on the order appropriating $20,000 for building a standpipe on Great Hill, Houghs Neck. Rules suspended and order passed.

The special committee on the communication from the Chief Engineer asking for three additional permanent firemen, reported an order increasing the permanent force by three men. They also reported an amendment to Section 2 of the fire ordinance reducing the number of call men by eighteen. The apparatus from which these eighteen men are to be dropped is as follows:

Combination Hose 1, and Combination Hook & Ladder 1, Central station one man each; Hose 2, Wollaston one man; Auto Combination Hose 2, Atlantic three men; Combination Hose 4, Quincy Point two men; Hose 3, West Quincy, two men; Combination Hook & Ladder 2, Wollaston, four men; Hook & Ladder 3, West Quincy, four men. Report accepted. Order read and ordered to a second reading.

ORDERS.

Councilman Cunningham offered an order for paved gutters on Birch street appropriating $500 for the same. Ordered to a second reading.

Councilman Whiton moved that the President appoint the committee on the order adopted at the last meeting relative to putting wires underground.

Councilman Hadlock offered an order for a light on Vane street. Referred to Executive.

Councilman Beaman offered an order for $1,500 for a tree sidewalk on Billings road, referred to the Special committee on street matters.

Councilman Beaman offered an order for seven lights in the Montclair district. Referred to Executive.

Councilman Cunningham offered an order amending the rules. The amendment strikes out the word "May" in Rule 2 and inserts therefor the word "shall" so that it shall read all orders involving an appropriation of money shall have two readings and shall be referred to a committee. Also the amendment provided for the appointment of standing committees on Finance, Streets, Public Buildings, Fire and Police, Ordinances, Legislative Matters and Health and Poor.

Read and placed in the calendar. Councilman Bailey offered an order revoking the apportionment of the street betterment of John C. Timmer as the same had been paid in full. Adopted.

Councilman Corcoran offered a resolution requesting the Mayor to confer with the officials of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad relative to having the sanitaries at the West Quincy depot open all day and that the depot be kept open all day until the arrival of the last train from Boston. Adopted.

Councilman Beaman offered an order for $200 for the July Fourth celebration at Ward Six, ordered to a second reading.

Councilman Cunningham offered a resolution for the appointment of a committee of three to attend the hearing and oppose the passage of the bill to amend the city charter. Voted 11 yeas and 10 no. The President appointed Councilmen Devaney, Bass, and Farquharson.

On motion of Councilman Whiton it was voted to suspend Rule 1, and after the council adjourned it be until Monday, March 10.

Councilman Cunningham moved that the budget be taken up at the next meeting at 8 o'clock the motion was amended to 8.30 and then both motion and amendment were defeated.

Under the head of calendar the order appropriating $2,000 for rebuilding Penn street came up and took its second reading.

Councilman Richards offered a substitute order for $5,000 for paving the street. He spoke at length in favor of his substitute order.

The substitute order was rejected and the original order for $2,000 placed in the calendar.

The order authorizing the Mayor to have the annual reports printed was read and passed under suspension of the rules.

The order transferring $1,141.41 for deficit bills of the Overseer of the Poor was read, the rules suspended and the order laid on the table.

The order amending the police ordinance fixing the salaries of the Captain and Inspector was read the rules suspended and the order passed.

The order appropriating $1,400 for finishing the hall in the Quincy school was passed under suspension of the rules.

The order appropriating $1,650 for the purchase of land in the rear of the City Stables for a public dump took its second reading and was placed in the calendar.

The order for $2,000 for sewer house connections was read and placed in the calendar.

The order for $40,000 for sewer extensions was read and placed in the calendar.

The order transferring receipts from sewer house connections to the sewer fund was read and placed in the calendar.

Adjourned at 11 o'clock until Monday, March 10.

CITY RECEIPTS.

City Auditor Fairbanks reports the receipts for water, sewer assessments, sewer house connections and taxes for the first two months of the year to have been as follows, the figures being given in comparison with the years 1912 and 1911.

WATER. 1911 $42,977.57 1912 $41,528.94 1913 $39,569.56

SEWER ASSESSMENTS. 1911 $2,984.29 1912 $3,489.92 1913 $3,186.82

SEWER HOUSE CONNECTIONS. 1911 $298.76 1912 $438.02 1913 $201.82

TAXES. 1911 $94,492.14 1912 $72,157.17 1913 $75,614.44

TOO LATE TO REGISTER.

Judge DeCourcy of the Supreme Court has sustained the views of the registrars of Milton to the effect that the statute which says that registration shall cease prior to 10 o'clock is to be strictly interpreted. As a result Mande D. Kirkland and about 80 others, mostly women, will not vote at the town election.

Judge DeCourcy ruled that the hour of closing the registration fixed by statute is mandatory, and that no other course was open to the registrars on Feb. 21 but to stop registration, even though people were waiting in line at the time. He said that if the Legislature intended to authorize registrars to register after the hour of closing all who were ready to be registered at that time, it would have made a provision for this as it did for the closing hour of the polls at a caucus.

The court dismissed the petition for a writ of mandamus brought against the registrars.

HIGHWAY VICTIMS.

Two suits of $25,000 have been filed in the superior court against the New York, New Haven, & Hartford Railroad, as a result of the wreck at South Boston August 8 when eight people lost their lives and others were injured.

HEALTH BOARD.

The mortality statement of the Board of Health for the month of February shows that the death rate of the city for that period based on the estimated population of 34,670 was 1.09. The total number of deaths recorded that month was 42 while the total number of contagious diseases reported was 74. The number of single loads of ashes collected during the month was 346; double loads, 237; cubic feet of garbage, 6,112; tank loads of cesspool matter, 19; vault matter, 35; public dumps cared for, 3; Billings road, referred to the Special committee on street matters.

Councilman Beaman offered an order for seven lights in the Montclair district. Referred to Executive.

Councilman Cunningham offered an order amending the rules. The amendment strikes out the word "May" in Rule 2 and inserts therefor the word "shall" so that it shall read all orders involving an appropriation of money shall have two readings and shall be referred to a committee. Also the amendment provided for the appointment of standing committees on Finance, Streets, Public Buildings, Fire and Police, Ordinances, Legislative Matters and Health and Poor.

Read and placed in the calendar. Councilman Bailey offered an order revoking the apportionment of the street betterment of John C. Timmer as the same had been paid in full. Adopted.

Councilman Corcoran offered a resolution requesting the Mayor to confer with the officials of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad relative to having the sanitaries at the West Quincy depot open all day and that the depot be kept open all day until the arrival of the last train from Boston. Adopted.

Councilman Beaman offered an order for $200 for the July Fourth celebration at Ward Six, ordered to a second reading.

Councilman Cunningham offered a resolution for the appointment of a committee of three to attend the hearing and oppose the passage of the bill to amend the city charter. Voted 11 yeas and 10 no. The President appointed Councilmen Devaney, Bass, and Farquharson.

On motion of Councilman Whiton it was voted to suspend Rule 1, and after the council adjourned it be until Monday, March 10.

Councilman Cunningham moved that the budget be taken up at the next meeting at 8 o'clock the motion was amended to 8.30 and then both motion and amendment were defeated.

Under the head of calendar the order appropriating $2,000 for rebuilding Penn street came up and took its second reading.

Councilman Richards offered a substitute order for $5,000 for paving the street. He spoke at length in favor of his substitute order.

The substitute order was rejected and the original order for $2,000 placed in the calendar.

The order authorizing the Mayor to have the annual reports printed was read and passed under suspension of the rules.

The order transferring $1,141.41 for deficit bills of the Overseer of the Poor was read, the rules suspended and the order laid on the table.

The order amending the police ordinance fixing the salaries of the Captain and Inspector was read the rules suspended and the order passed.

The order appropriating $1,400 for finishing the hall in the Quincy school was passed under suspension of the rules.

The order appropriating $1,650 for the purchase of land in the rear of the City Stables for a public dump took its second reading and was placed in the calendar.

The order for $2,000 for sewer house connections was read and placed in the calendar.

The order for $40,000 for sewer extensions was read and placed in the calendar.

The order transferring receipts from sewer house connections to the sewer fund was read and placed in the calendar.

Adjourned at 11 o'clock until Monday, March 10.

City Auditor Fairbanks reports the receipts for water, sewer assessments, sewer house connections and taxes for the first two months of the year to have been as follows, the figures being given in comparison with the years 1912 and 1911.

WATER. 1911 $42,977.57 1912 $41,528.94 1913 $39,569.56

SEWER ASSESSMENTS. 1911 $2,984.29 1912 $3,489.92 1913 $3,186.82

SEWER HOUSE CONNECTIONS. 1911 $298.76 1912 $438.02 1913 $201.82

TAXES. 1911 $94,492.14 1912 $72,157.17 1913 $75,614.44

TOO LATE TO REGISTER. Judge DeCourcy of the Supreme Court has sustained the views of the registrars of Milton to the effect that the statute which says that registration shall cease prior to 10 o'clock is to be strictly interpreted. As a result Mande D. Kirkland and about 80 others, mostly women, will not vote at the town election.

Judge DeCourcy ruled that the hour of closing the registration fixed by statute is mandatory, and that no other course was open to the registrars on Feb. 21 but to stop registration, even though people were waiting in line at the time. He said that if the Legislature intended to authorize registrars to register after the hour of closing all who were ready to be registered at that time, it would have made a provision for this as it did for the closing hour of the polls at a caucus.

The court dismissed the petition for a writ of mandamus brought against the registrars.

The court dismissed the petition for a writ of mandamus brought against the registrars.

The court dismissed the petition for a writ of mandamus brought against the registrars.

The court dismissed the petition for a writ of mandamus brought against the registrars.

The court dismissed the petition for a writ of mandamus brought against the registrars.

The court dismissed the petition for a writ of mandamus brought against the registrars.

The court dismissed the petition for a writ of mandamus brought against the registrars.

The court dismissed the petition for a writ of mandamus brought against the registrars.

NEW TIMETABLE.

A large number of important changes in the trains between Quincy and Boston took place when the new timetable went into effect Sunday at midnight. In the outward train service practically all of the present trains which are retained will leave Boston a minute earlier, and in the morning there will be a new train leaving Boston at 7.37 and arriving at 7.56. Other important changes in the outward train service are as follows:

There will be a new outward train leaving at 4.15 P. M. in addition to the regular train leaving at 4.12. The 4.15 train however, runs express to Wollaston and arrives in Quincy two minutes earlier than the 4.12.

There will be new trains leaving Boston at 5.19 P. M. and 5.28 P. M. taking the place of the train now leaving at 5.24 and 5.31.

New trains at 6.01 P. M. taking the place of the train now leaving at 6.14 and the train now leaving Boston at 6.14 will leave at 6.16.

New trains at 9.19, 9.34 and 9.59 will take the place of the train now leaving at 9.25.

The 9.19 P. M. outward train will leave at 11.09.

The changes in the inward service are more noticeable. In the morning there will be new trains at 7.28, 7.32, 7.42 and 7.55 taking place of the trains now leaving at 7.33, 7.42 and 7.57.

A new train at 8.14 in place of the train now leaving at 8.09.

A new train leaving at 8.33 A. M. The train now leaving Quincy at 1.29 p. m. will leave at 1.16 p. m.

A new train leaving at 6.04 p. m. The train now leaving at 7.05 p. m. will leave at 6.04.

The present 7.29 p. m. will leave at 7.32.

The present 8.09 p. m. will leave at 8.07.

A new train at 8 P. M. and a new train at 11.13.

SUNDAY. On Sundays there are but a few changes in the outward train service other than that all of the regular trains which are retained will leave a minute earlier than at present time. There are however two new trains for Quincy one leaving Boston at 2.44 P. M. and the other at 6.09 P. M.

On the Sunday inward service there are but two changes. The present 2.44 A. M. train will leave Quincy at 10.25.

The trains now leaving Quincy at 9.13 P. M. will leave at 9.12.

There are also a number of changes in the time of the trains to and from the West Quincy station. Under the new timetable all of the present trains which leave Boston for West Quincy will leave about a minute earlier.

The first morning outward train however will leave at 6.32, instead of 6.35, and the present 8.23 train will leave at 8.19. The 5.22 and 5.47 outward trains are taken off and in their place is an express train leaving at 5.31 P. M. with accommodations for 5.46. The train now leaving at 6.18 will not leave until 6.22.

On the inward train service there are also many changes. The first train in the morning under the new timetable will leave West Quincy at 6.56, instead of 6.53, and the second train will leave at 6.54, instead of 6.56.

The present 7.17 train will leave at 7.14 and the present 8 train will leave at 8.17, the 1.23 train will leave at 1.19, and the 1.14 train will leave at 1.15.

Several of the other inward trains will leave a minute later. In order however to fully understand the new timetable one should possess themselves with the official pamphlet issued by the railroad.

PERSONAL. Miss Minnie Packard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Packard of Chestnut street, who is teaching at Danvers, Mass., is publicly commended in the report of the school committee for her activities in promoting out of door sports among the girls.

Miss Packard is a graduate of the Coddington and Quincy High school. She received her degrees at Wellesley College and is a prominent alumnae. Recently taking part in a production for the benefit of a building fund for the college. She is well known and favorably known here having a large acquaintance throughout the city.

The report reads as follows: The Committee cannot speak too strongly of its appreciation of the labor of Miss Minnie Packard in the promotion of out of door sports in out of door sports among the girls.

Miss Packard has devoted a great deal of time outside of her regular school hours, for this important work which besides being of great and general advantage to the school, means more than we can estimate to the health and character of the pupils.

LOVING FRIENDS MOURNED. Many friends and relatives of Miss Elizabeth W. Pinel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter P. Pinel gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Pinel, (cousins of the deceased), and Messrs. Carl and William Cranshaw of Quincy. The interment was in the family lot at Mt. Wollaston cemetery.

Among the floral tributes were a wreath of carnations, roses and lilies from the "Carpenters' Local Union," a wreath of roses from the Quincy Firemen's Relief Association, basket of roses and carnations from the Wollaston Firemen's Relief Association, and a basket of carnations from Peter J. Williams and Co.

Burial was in the family lot in St. Mary's cemetery.

MANY FLORAL TRIBUTES. The funeral of Mrs. Emily Higgins, wife of James T. Higgins of 50 Gilbert street, South Quincy who passed away Sunday morning, was held at her late home Tuesday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock. Rev. Mr. Tilley of Calvary Baptist Church officiating. The funeral services were largely attended by her numerous friends also by members of English Ivy Lodge, No. 116, Order Daughters of St. George and Abigail Adams Lodge No. 11, I. C. of America, who also held their services at the house. There were many beautiful floral

QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, MARCH 15, 1913.

VOL. 77. NO. 11.

FIVE CENTS PER COPY; $2.50 PER YEAR.

The Quincy Patriot

Established in 1852.
PUBLISHED SATURDAY MORNING BY GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBL. CO.
(INCORPORATED)
OFFICE, No. 1421 HANCOCK STREET
Telephone, Quincy 125.
Entered as Second Class Matter, May 1, 1879, at Post Office, Boston, Mass., as Post Office No. 125.

Subscription Price, $2.50 per year.
A reduction of fifty cents will be made
when paid one year in advance.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
Established in 1880.
Subscription Price, $5.00 per year.
A reduction of $1.00 will be made when
paid one year in advance.

ALSO PUBLISHERS OF THE
BRAINTREE OBSERVER
Weekly. Established in 1878.

EDWARD J. FEGAN
Counsellor at Law
8 Durgin & Merrill Block, Quincy
Mornings 8:30 to 10:30. Evenings 7 to 9.
914-916 Tremont Building, Boston
Box A. M. to 5 P. M.
Telephone—Quincy 418-4. Haymarket 240.

JOHN W. McANARNEY
Counsellor at Law
Room 1, Durgin & Merrill Block,
Hancock Street, Quincy.

H. T. WHITMAN
AGENT FOR THE
Adams Real Estate Trust

Edison Park Land Associates
Real Estate, Mortgages, and Insurance
QUINCY, 21 Adams Building.
Tel. 105-3.
BOSTON, 220 Devonshire Street.
Tel. Fort Hill 591.

INSURANCE AGENCY
Established in Quincy in the year 1849 by
W. PORTER
Insurance carried in reliable and safe
stock and Mutual offices.

By W. PORTER & CO.
At No. 20 Kilby Street, Boston.
Residence, Hancock Street, Quincy.

DORCHESTER
Mutual Fire Insurance Co.
ORGANIZED 1855.
Home Office, 25 Central Street,
Boston, Mass.

Statement from Report of Triennial Examination
of Company made by the Massachusetts
Insurance Dept., as of October 31, 1910.
Amount at Risk $7,915,123.00
Cash Assets 252,924.48
Re-insurance Reserve $1,894,250.00
Other Liabilities 215,841.00

288,210.00
Cash Surplus October 31, 1910 $80,001.40
This Company now pays the following Dividends:
On five-year Policies 40 per cent
On three-year Policies 30 " "
On one-year Policies 20 " "
Losses promptly adjusted and paid.
We reduce our insurance rate one-fifth.

WILLIAM A. MULLER, President.
W. D. C. CURTIS, Vice Pres.
EDWARD C. MASON, Secretary.
CLARENCE BURRIS, Treasurer.

Directors: Paul R. Blackman, Clarence
Burgin, W. D. C. Curtis, Frederic H. Currier,
J. F. Feltner, Henry Hornbush, Louis K.
Liggett, William J. McFarlane, Edward C.
Mason, William A. Muller, Henry J. Nichols,
P. F. Sullivan, John F. Sydnor, Benjamin F.
Sexton, W. J. Smith.

ETNA INSURANCE CO.,
HARTFORD, CONN.
Incorporated 1819. Charter Perpetual.

Losses Paid in 90 Years, $115,798,170.31

JANUARY 1, 1909.
Cash Capital $4,000,000.00
Reserve for Re-insurance 6,250,000.00
Reserve for Unpaid Losses 22,100,000.00
Reserve for Other Claims 466,000.00
Total Assets 13,000,000.00
Total Liabilities 12,999,999.99
Net Surplus 1,000.01
Surplus for Policy-Holders 9,207,077.93

John Hardwick & Co.,
AGENTS FOR QUINCY

Incorporated 1837
Dedham Mutual Fire Ins. Co.
DEDHAM, MASS.

STATEMENT JANUARY 1, 1913.
Amount at Risk $9,232,100.00
Cash Assets 152,871.38
Total Liabilities (including
Re-insurance) 72,118.79
Amount of Cash Surplus 196,729.59
Contingent Assets 120,001.00
Total Available Assets 316,730.59

Dividends are now being paid on five-year
policies 70 per cent, on three-year policies
40 per cent, on one-year policies 25 per cent.
JAMES V. NOYES, President.

THEODORE T. MARSH,
Secretary and Treasurer

DIRECTORS:—Don Gleason, H. Dedham,
Frederic H. Currier, Dedham, Frederick H.
Currier, Dedham, Samuel Gannett, Milton
H. Feltner, Dedham, James J. Nichols,
Dedham, Joseph H. Soladay, Dedham, Samuel
H. Cullen, Dedham, Andrew H. Hodgdon, Dedham.

GEORGE H. FIELD, Agent for Quincy

Incorporated 1825
Norfolk Mutual Fire Ins. Co.
DEDHAM, MASS.

STATEMENT JANUARY 1, 1913.
Amount at Risk $3,218,011.78
Cash Assets 152,871.38
Total Liabilities (including
Re-insurance) 17,711.49
Amount of Cash Surplus 488,508.75
Contingent Assets 120,001.00
Total Available Assets 1,000,000.00

Dividends are now being paid on five-year
policies 70 per cent, on three-year policies
40 per cent, on one-year policies 25 per cent.
JAMES V. NOYES, Pres. and Treas.

TH. ODORE T. MARSH, Secretary

DIRECTORS:—Samuel Gannett, Milton
H. Feltner, Dedham, William E. Lincoln, Brockton, James V. Noyes, Dedham, James J. Nichols, Dedham, Joseph H. Soladay, Dedham, Samuel
H. Cullen, Dedham, Andrew H. Hodgdon,
Dedham, Frederick H. Currier, Dedham.

GEORGE H. FIELD, Agent for Quincy

Children Cry for Fletcher's

CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 20 years, has borne the signature of and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy.
Allow no one to deceive you in this.
All Counterfeits, Imitations and "Just-as-good" are but experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic, all Teething Troubles and Diarrhoea. It regulates the Stomach and Bowels, assimilates the Food, giving healthy and natural sleep.
The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

GENUINE CASTORIA ALWAYS

Bears the Signature of

Chas. H. Fletcher.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

in Use For Over 30 Years
THE CENTRAL COMPANY, 77 MURRAY STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

SHINGLES

CYPRESS, EASTERN AND WESTERN CEDAR

ALSO, OTHER ROOFING MATERIAL

LUMBER

OF ALL KINDS

THE A. T. STEARNS LUMBER COMPANY

[ESTABLISHED 1852]
Main Office, Mills and Wharves at Neponset
Branch Office and Exhibit, 10 Devonshire Street, and 19 Federal St.
Haymarket Square Salesroom, 1 South Street, corner Merrimack St.

BOSTON

COAL

SPECIAL NUT

The Best and Cheapest

RANGE COAL

Sold in this Market

Only $8.00 Per Ton

BUY NOW

G. PATCH & SON, Inc.

1422 Hancock Street

Feb. 1

EVERYBODY IS

Way down deep within their hearts
Everybody's lonesome.
Far within their secret parts
Everybody's lonesome.
Makes no difference how they smile,
How they live or what their style;
Once in every little while
Everybody's lonesome.

People live in big affairs—
Even they are lonesome.
Maybe like to put on airs;
Just the same, they're lonesome.
Men for whom existence blends
Every good; who gain all ends
Still reach out their hands for friends;
Everybody's lonesome.

Women, silk-clad, jeweled fine,
Yes, they, too, are lonesome.
When their eyes the brightest shine,
They're just as lonesome.
Some must serve and some command;
All still seek, with groping hand,
Love, and friends who understand.
Everybody's lonesome.

Though your gift of friendship's small,
Everybody's lonesome.
It may answer someone's call;
Someone's who is lonesome.
Give and give with might and main,
Give with hands and join the chain;
And your gift will be your gain.
Sometime, when you're lonesome,
The Detroit News.

AGATHA'S FORTUNE

The yellow November sunshine was doing its best to brighten the old farm house kitchen; the yellow leaves, hatched and stained, which had el-died down at the touch of many a bit-ful wind and midnight frost from the big maple tree by the doorstone, lay in pools of shadowed gold, stirred by every gust, and the startled winter apple tree by the well had long since been riddled of its weight of crimson-streaked fruit.

"I do believe the apple crop is the best we've had this 10 years," said Moses Jefferson, as he strode into the kitchen with a bag of seed-corn over his shoulder.

Mrs. Jefferson, a spare, wiry-looking woman, as different as possible from her burly, beaming husband, sat at the whitely-scoured pine table, shelling beans vigorously into a pan. Agatha, the only child, was close to the window, her pretty profile outlined against the blue canvas of the sky, intently busied in the un-romantic but useful occupation of setting a thrifty patch on the elbow of her father's brown cloth coat with quick, agile fingers, and needle that glanced in and out like a flying shaft of silver.

She was a pretty girl, with soft hazel eyes, abundant brown hair, collected picturesquely round her head, and a complexion which, albeit somewhat touched with the too ardent fervor of the sun, was full of delicate reds and whites. Moses Jefferson and Clararissy, his wife, were, to use the farmer's expression, "as homely as hedge-fences," without a graceful outline or a beautiful feature in their whole composition; and how pretty Agatha ever came to be their daughter was as incomprehensible a riddle as it is how the magnificent cactus blossom with its leaves of flame and heart of scarlet fire, should ever spring from the wrinkled old stick by courtesy called a "plant." But so Nature manages her affairs, and as yet we humans have not been able to improve her.

Mother and daughter were earnestly talking together as the bag of seed corn into a chair and shook his head.
"Agatha's right about it," he said.
"I wouldn't sell 'em if I was you, Clarissy."

"You know nothin' about it Moses Jefferson," said his wife, in a sharp, high-pitched tone. "Havin' the best closet in the house all hampered up with a mess of old newspapers!"
Why, there's a thousand on 'em if there's one, I do believe."

"No there ain't, Clarissy—now you are exaggeratin'! Uncle Philomene has been sayin' 'em for 10 years, and there ain't over 52 weeks in a year, as over 100 on 'em."

"Well, there's more'n I want lumbering around, anyhow. It is all folly and nonsense. As long as the old man was able to go poking about with his notted stick, counting on 'em, and straightening the edges, I didn't dare to touch 'em. But now he's bedridden and flighty, and I won't touch 'em, I'm bound to sell 'em."

"But, mother," pleaded Agatha, breathless and eager, "suppose he were to want them brought up to his bedside?"

"Oh, he won't; and if he does we can put 'em on with some excuse or other, I'll venture, easy enough. Kiah

"Bring 'em on."

"Yes, yes, yes, we'll do it," said
Moses Jefferson, who was busy
skinning a hen, and looking at the clear, cool milk-room, whose windows were netted with wire-work and shaded with the yellow vine leaves which yet hung to their stems, when there was a shrill, jingle-jangle of discordant bells in the road beyond.

Mrs. Jefferson dropped her skinning into the golden depths of the jar of cream, and darted, bonnetless and
with her sleeves rolled up above the elbow, across the doorway.

"It's a ragman, or my name ain't Clarissy Jefferson," she thought, ex-
ultantly.

And, sure enough, there was a
portly personage, with a huge fur
cap tipped over his eyes, a coarse red pocket-handkerchief tied around the lower part of his chin, and furthermore attired in a long rusty overcoat,
whose ragged skirts extended nearly
to his knees, and whose shaggy head
was crowned with a wild, untamed
hand-wagon, surmounted with bottles
and partially filled with rags, bottles
cast-off clothing, and crumpled papers, and checked his noisy career at once, as Mrs. Jefferson breathlessly hailed him from her little gate.

"De-
shrieked our housewife, in the shril-
lest of trebles.

"Wa'al, yes, oast in a while," was the deliberate answer. "Got any to sell?"

"How much do you give for them?"
"Four cents, you could say."

"Well, you just wait half a minute;
I've got a pretty good mess on 'em
here I'd like to sell you."

"All right, ma'am," said the travelling merchant, balancing the shafts
of his wagon against the fence, and burying his hands in his pockets.

And the next minute Agatha was summoned from her sewing to help pile

Darwin's

Darwin's widow says paper is four cents a pound, and I calculated I could get a new set of milk-pans with the money. Besides, Agatha wants the closet to keep her clothes in, now that she's home from the factory for good.

"I can get along without it, just as well, mother," said Agatha; and it does seem wrong to go and sell all poor old Uncle Philomene's papers when he is too ill to know about it."

"Now you may just as well hold your tongue," said Mrs. Jefferson, sternly and with unmistakable emphasis. "I've made up my mind to sell 'em—and sell 'em I will, if you and your father keep on talking until the day of judgment. Miss Darwin says there's a man comes round with a sort of hand-barrow, and a string of jangling bells, once in a while, and gives four cents a pound for old newspapers. So, if any of you see him, stop him."

And Mrs. Jefferson, having said her say, flounced out of the room to see if her pickles were nearly scalded. However, whistling a melancholy melody past under his arched eyebrows, and secretly producing the effect of a high wind blowing down a lugubrious chimney, went up to the garret with his bag of seed corn, there to deposit it with other agricultural treasures, and Agatha put on her little frills, sun-bonnet and gray shawl, and trudged across the russet field, to tell Hugh Darwin, her sweetheart, how very shabby "mother was going to treat poor old Uncle Philomene."

For troubles caused by the troubles when Agatha had whispered into the sympathetic ear of her tried and true friend, Hugh Darwin.

Now Hugh Darwin and Agatha Jefferson, were likely to be engaged 13 months; for they were both poor, hard-working young people, without $5 ahead in the world, and nothing to look to but their own skillful right hands and cheerful, honest hearts.

For even the truest of true lovers can't afford to be married unless they have a roof over their heads, and daily bread to eat, to say nothing of the necessities of the attendant butter. But, in spite of this, they derived infinite consolation from long two-light walks, and long, friendly conversations, and confidential talks over their respective wicket-gates, and looking forward with patient hope to the frown
"some day" that was finally to crown their hopes.

Hugh listened to Agatha's story in silence; he was, sorting apples in hopes on the barn floor, and when she had concluded he brought down his hand on the biggest bin with an energy that would have abraded any less horny cuticle.

"It's a shame!" was honest Hugh's emphatic comment.

"Set it," said Agatha, "and see Uncle Philomene brought father up, and took care of him when he was a poor boy and no other friend in all the wide world, and now that he is sick and bedridden—"

"Hain't he no money to leave?"
asked Hugh. "Seems to me you've heard folks say that old Philomene Smith was pretty middling well off."

Agatha shook her head.

"Dear me, no! You forget how long he has been sick and helpless under the doctor's hands, Hugh. And —I wouldn't tell anyone but you, dear
—I think mother hasn't been nearly so kind and forbearing with him since she made up her mind that his little store of money was all spent."

Hugh and Agatha talked together long and earnestly, and then they strutted across the quiet fields, arm-in-arm, and took Moses Jefferson in to their confidence, as he wrestled with a huge log of wood on the pile at the west end of the house.

"Father, Hugh has thought of something," chirped Agatha, as exultantly as if he thought were quite a novelty to Hugh Darwin.

"I've got a plan, sir," said Hugh,
and straight-way proceeded to unfold
it.

"We'll do it," roared Moses, smitting his thigh, with a prodigious laugh which echoed through the frosty twilight like a warwhoop.

"Yes, yes, Hugh, we'll do it," said
Moses Jefferson, who was busy
skinning a hen, and looking at the
clear, cool milk-room, whose windows were netted with wire-work and
shaded with the yellow vine leaves
which yet hung to their stems, when
there was a shrill, jingle-jangle of
discordant bells in the road beyond.

Mrs. Jefferson dropped her skinning
into the golden depths of the jar of cream, and darted, bonnetless and
with her sleeves rolled up above the
elbow, across the doorway.

"It's a ragman, or my name ain't Clarissy Jefferson," she thought, ex-
ultantly.

And, sure enough, there was a
portly personage, with a huge fur
cap tipped over his eyes, a coarse red pocket-handkerchief tied around the
lower part of his chin, and furthermore attired in a long rusty overcoat,
whose ragged skirts extended nearly
to his knees, and whose shaggy head
was crowned with a wild, untamed
hand-wagon, surmounted with bottles
and partially filled with rags, bottles
cast-off clothing, and crumpled papers, and checked his noisy career at once, as Mrs. Jefferson breathlessly hailed him from her little gate.

"De-
shrieked our housewife, in the shril-
lest of trebles.

"Wa'al, yes, oast in a while," was the deliberate answer. "Got any to
sell?"

"How much do you give for them?"
"Four cents, you could say."

"Well, you just wait half a minute;
I've got a pretty good mess on 'em
here I'd like to sell you."

"All right, ma'am," said the travelling merchant, balancing the shafts
of his wagon against the fence, and burying his hands in his pockets.

And the next minute Agatha was summoned from her sewing to help pile

Philomene

Philomene's dearly beloved pile of ancient newspapers into the wicker clothes-basket. Agatha remonstrated no further—perhaps she had learned the folly of entering into argument with her mother; she only obeyed Mrs. Jefferson's bequest in silence. There were several packets of the time-yellowed old papers, and more than one journey back and forth was necessary before the whole heap lay on the turf by the road-side.

Mrs. Jefferson looked on with streaming eyes, and her cheeks were wet with tears, as she made sure that no de-fracting hand were practiced during the momentous operation of weighing.

"Now mind you, said she to the rag-man, 'I won't be cheated.'"

"Thirty-nine pounds!" ejaculated
the hero of the elongated coat skirts, as he swung the burden high in the air.

"Call it out," squeaked Mrs. Jefferson, greedily eyeing the pile. "Forty pounds; you didn't hitch em on true."

"Wa'al, we won't quarrel over an old pound, ma'am, you and I, any way, quod the accompanying merchant, 'Lemme see,' closing one eye in a calculating fashion, 'four pounds at four cents comes to—$40 times four is ort, four times four—$160. Here's your money, ma'am, and hoping you'll gin me your custom
agin'."

Agatha, what are you laughing at?"
demanded her mother, as the bells jangled noisily away down the quiet road, over which the November mists brooded like a haze of gold. "Didn't I see that impudent ragman staring at you and you giggling like a school girl? What do you suppose Hugh Darwin would think if he was to hear on't? Go back to your work this minute."

And Agatha went, leaving her mother to count up her gains, like a feminine style of miser, in calico and cap-borders.

It was drawing toward sunset
the next afternoon. Mr. Jefferson and Agatha had gone on some errand to the village, a mile and a half distant, and Mrs. Jefferson was alone in the kitchen, chopping apples for mince pies, when Uncle Philomene's weak, piping made itself heard from the chamber above.

"Clarissy, Clarissy!"

"Mrs. Jefferson, with a smothered exclamation of impatience threw down the chopping knife, set aside the wooden tray, and ran up stairs.

"Well," said she, with more energy than mildness "What's wanting now?"

"I feel very poorly, Clarissy, groaned the old man, who lay among the white bed-clothes like a dried yellow elfy. 'I think I'm drawing near my end.'"

"Oh, no, you ain't, Uncle Philomene," said Mrs. Jefferson, secretly believing that no such good luck was in store for her. "Here, drink this."

She held some stimulating cordial to his withered lips, but he feebly shook his white head.

"I'm a-dying, Clarissy—medicine ain't no use to me no longer, and I want to see my old newspapers once
agin'."

Mrs. Jefferson had been prepared for some such demand. She stole down stairs, and brought up a neat pile of Harper's Weeklies that she had borrowed some time since of a neighbor to read in the evenings, and the pictures when she was weary of killing.

"Here they be, Uncle Philomene," she said, soothingly.

The portly old man put out his shaking hand, and felt the folds. Mrs.
Jefferson thought guiltily of poor old blind Isaac, and Rebecca who deceived him for Jacob's sake. She had no such excuse to plead. Could she too, hope for a blessing?

"Yes," muttered Uncle Philomene,
yes, take good care of 'em, nice Clarissy, for there's a bit of paper like a will under my pillow somewhere, and I've left 'em all to little Agatha.
She's been a kind, thoughtful child to the old man, and it will help her and Hugh toward housekeeping."

"What will?" eagerly gasped Mrs.
Jefferson, leaning toward him, more surely to catch the incoherently articulated words.

"The money. There's a bill laid smooth between every fold for little Agatha. I hain't no other place to keep my money, and I knew it would be safe there. It's for Aggie and Hugh—that's what the will says."

Mrs. Jefferson sat rigid and agast.
And she had sold this precious pile to an itinerant ragman for the pretty sum of four cents a pound!

The old man, his one haunting secret of his mind, seemed to drift peaceably into a quiet sleep. Not so his niece by marriage. She sat by his bedside pallid and despairing, rock-ing herself to and fro over and over, like one hovering on the verge of insanity. If she had only been able to take the advice of Moses, her husband, or even listen to Agatha's innocent pleadings.

"Oh, my poor girl!" she wailed, rushing down stairs when at last the familiar clank of the front gate latch announced the return of her daughter and husband. "I'm worse than Jacob and Rebecca. I've thrown away your birthright. I've sold it for four cents a pound to a miserable, cheating ragman."

"What do you mean, Clarissy?" demanded her husband, staring at her in open-mouthed astonishment.

She wrung her hands hysterically together as she related the sad story.

"I could tear my hair out by the roots, when I think of my mad selfish
folly!" she cried.

Moses Jefferson looked gravely at his daughter, who had stood listening in perfect silence.

"Take your mother into the house, my dear," he said. "I'll go over and see Hugh Darwin about this business."

Half an hour later, as Mrs. Jefferson sat by the kitchen fire still wringling her hands and bemoaning herself, Moses walked in, carrying a large in a long-skirted coat, with a man-fur cap tipped over his eyes, and his

DRESS IN NEW YORK.

Picturesque Get Ups and Plainest Lines—Beige and Mastic a Foul for Brilliant Contrasts—Hais.

There is war in the East and forthwith the shops blossom out with Balkan and Bulgarian embroideries and color contrasts—Reds, yellow, green of emerald hue, purple, and every screaming contrast conceivable is

The Quincy Patriot

SATURDAY, MARCH 15, 1913

ST. CHRISTOPHER'S GUILD.

The Woman's Guild of St. Christopher's church held its regular monthly business meeting with a good attendance in the parish rooms, Wednesday afternoon. The president, Mrs. Daniel C. Miller presiding. The meeting was preceded by all day services. A luncheon under the direction of Mrs. Herbert H. Albee and Mrs. Miller consisting of hot frankfurts, potato salad, ice cream, cake, hot rolls and coffee was served. This week's sewing was for the Visiting Nurse of the Quincy Women's club. Mrs. Albert N. Murray, chairman of the committee being a member of the Guild.

It was voted to have a fair in the fall and to hold all day sewing meetings the second Wednesdays of each month to make salable articles, a luncheon to be served at noon, Mrs. John E. Walter and Mrs. Miller were appointed to purchase material. It was also voted to hold a May basket sale and children's party the last week in April and Mrs. Frederick H. Steenstra, Mrs. William D. Sanford, Mrs. Walrath Y. Sherman and Miss Gertrude Turner were appointed committee in charge of the sale.

Miss Annie Clean, secretary read a list of those appointed by Mrs. David L. Jewell, chairman of the Missionary committee to serve on that committee. Mrs. Percy L. Davidson, Mrs. David Pulton, Mrs. Frederick H. Steenstra and Mrs. Herbert H. Albee. The secretary also read a letter from Mrs. Jewell expressing her appreciation of a letter sent to her after the death of her aged mother, Mrs. Keviah Sumner.

A GATEWAY OF OPPORTUNITY.

The Associated Charities of Quincy, is the "gateway of opportunity" to all those interested in Social Welfare. Tuberculosis and health problems generally, neglected children, wayward boys and girls, the man out of work, widows and children, deserted wives, are only a few of the problems dealt with, and only a few. The work grows in interest and in importance all the time. Preparations are already under way and will be considered by the directors next week for the first annual meeting, to be held on a year next April, since the secretary came to Quincy and the work began in real earnest.

Tuesday afternoon, March 18, the regular monthly meeting of the directors will be held in the office, 148 Goffe street, at half past four.

SACHIN CLUB.

At the director's meeting of the newly formed Sachin Club of Wollaston, Thursday evening at the home of Harold D. Waterhouse, Prospect avenue, the following officers were elected:

President—Eugene F. DeNormandie
First Vice—Edward E. Jamieson
Second Vice—Eric H. Ewertz
Secretary—N. Gorham Nickerson, Jr.
Treasurer—Harold D. Waterhouse.
A set of rules was adopted and the president authorized the secretary to call a meeting, and a committee on meeting place, and the club has 230 applications for membership which will be acted upon by the board of directors at the next meeting.

The club plans to erect a clubhouse to cost at least $20,000 and containing a hall to seat 600. Bonds for $12,000 will be issued by way of 5 or 6 per cent. If the bond issue exceeds $12,000 a larger clubhouse will be built.

Although started in conjunction with the community house movement the future plans of the club are to co-operate in any way. The club members feel that the movement is not feasible and the club will go ahead on its own initiative.

Frank A. Page, the father of the Community House idea when interviewed by a Ledger reporter, said:

"The action of the community house committee will depend on developments. I don't feel that it has been given up, neither does Mr. Campbell or others similarly interested. It is at present 'status quo' but we will not drop it if we can help it."

FRANK E. HALL.

Frank E. Hall, a resident of Wollaston, and the man who invented the sectional automobile tire, died Friday morning at the old Quincy mansion, Main street, after a lingering illness. He was 60 years of age and leaves two sons, Harry who is in the rubber manufacturing business at Portland, Oregon, and Stanley, who is connected with the Kelly Springfield Power Co.

Mr. Hall devoted his energy to rubber manufacturing from his boyhood. Of an experimental turn of mind he perfected improvements on many processes. About six years ago he was granted his tire patent, and has since been conducting a small establishment on Gould street, Wollaston.

Mr. Hall died exactly two years after the death of his wife. He was a member of the Quincy Yacht Club.

FIRST PARISH CLUB.

The March meeting of the First Parish club will be held Tuesday evening in the chapel of the First church. As usual the members will assemble at 6 o'clock and dinner will be served at 6:30. The speaker for the evening will be George B. Dexter of Brookline whose subject will be "North Africa and the Desert."

The talk will be illustrated with some of Mr. Dexter's colored lantern slides.

Charles Sumner Bird, Progressive candidate for Governor, will be the speaker at the April meeting.

THE WOLLASTON FORUM.

The Wollaston Unitarian Social service committee has appointed a special committee to make a study of the wider use of the school plants in this country. Miss Harriet E. Turner has prepared a report on the subject to be given at the session of the Wollaston Forum in the Unitarian church, Sunday, at 12 o'clock. The public is cordially invited to hear and participate in the discussion of this subject which is of such vital interest to an ever increasing number of cities and towns throughout the country.

BRIEFS

William Cooper, Bigelow street, has returned from a trip to Panama.

Miss Mary Matheson of Greenleaf street, has returned from a visit to friends in Plymouth.

Miss Maud Macfarlane of Butler road visited friends in New Milford, Conn., over the week end.

Miss Helen Connors, South Walnut street, was admitted to the Quincy City Hospital, Tuesday for treatment.

James O'Brien who is being treated for frost bite at the Quincy City Hospital is reported as rapidly recovering.

Miss Esther Beckford of Washington street, spent the week end in Pawtucket, R.I., the guest of Miss Marian Harley.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Hersey of Medford, former residents of Codding street, Quincy, were in the city Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde T. Cox entertained, Mrs. Carrie Maxey and mother Mrs. Rebecca Hale of Dorchester, the first of the week.

Mrs. Mary Flowers of Newcomb place has returned to her home after three weeks illness at the Massachusetts General Hospital.

Michael O'Hara of Newcomb place who was successfully operated upon at the Quincy Hospital last week is at his home and is doing well.

Miss Rose McAllister who has been in the hospital since January 2, is nearly of Chestnut street, has returned to her home in Ithaca, N. Y.

George W. Pennington of Mattapan, formerly of Quincy was elected Grand Warden, of the Grand Lodge N. E. O. P. at its annual session, in Boston, Wednesday.

Officer Whelan who was injured Monday when the police auto ran down a pole on Hancock street, was not seriously hurt and will be able to return to duty in a few days.

Preparations are being made for an unusually attractive Easter concert at the Universalist church. Mrs. James H. Slade and John E. Greene, singers of well known ability are to be the soloists.

Miss Mary A. Ford of the Tax Collector's office who underwent an operation for appendicitis at the City hospital some weeks ago has fully recovered and has returned to duty again.

The Assessors are getting ready to make their annual rounds of the city assessing real and personal estate. Under the present law they begin their tour of duty April 1. It is no April fool joke however.

THE MUSIC OF "THE CREUICITION"

By Stainer is to be rendered by the full choir of Christ church under the direction of Chalmaster Wrigley on the evening of Palm Sunday, following the regular evening service.

P. M. H. Dany of Quincy, who is a member of the Junior Class at Harvard, has been elected an editor of the "Advocate."

The "Advocate" is the oldest literary paper in continuous existence at Harvard University.

It was reported in Weymouth last week that several summer cottages at Weymouth, near Cliff and Port Point had been entered, many articles taken and some malicious mischief done. Among the cottages was that of Mrs. J. C. Morse of Presidents hill.

Ten tables contested at the Weekly billiard tournament at the rooms of the Granite City club, Wednesday evening. The best score was made by Ralph L. Lowell and the second best by James E. Neary.

A ditch lunch was served by the entertainment committee after the tournament.

Jeremiah S. Mahoney died Sunday at his home 11 Thayer street, aged 58 years. He was well known in this city and leaves a widow, one son, John of the Electric Boat Co. of New London, Conn. and three daughters.

Three games were played in the Sunday school basketball game at the M. C. A. court, Saturday afternoon. Christ Church whitewashed Wollaston Congregational to the tune of 30 to 0.

Wollaston Baptist beat Wollaston Methodist 24 to 1. Bethany beat Union 42 to 2, so that in each case the winners had a walkover.

An overflow meeting of John Adams Aerie, Fraternal Order of Eagles was held in Eilecta and Protection halls Wednesday evening. Fine arrangements were made for the class instruction which will take place in Eilecta hall March 26. To date there are 125 candidates. The work will be performed by the local degree team.

The funeral of Mrs. Benjamin Hayden, a former Quincy resident, who died at Randolph took place from her home there Sunday afternoon. Burial was in Mt. Wollaston cemetery.

The deceased was 84 years of age. About 60 years ago she lived in the house opposite Newcomb street, Quincy Neck. Since then she has resided in Randolph.

The advanced evening schools together with the evening industrial classes will close their second term this week after ten weeks of effective work. It is hoped that the opening of the new Adams building and the evening work of succeeding years can be carried on in the old Adams building which is admirably located for such centralization work.

A surprise party was tendered Miss Margery Morrison of Granite street, Friday, March 7, in honor of her eighteenth birthday. During the evening Charles Moyle, presented Miss Morrison with a beautiful core watch and she responded very graciously.

Games were played and a social hour spent in which refreshments were served. There was many friends present from Somerville, Neponset, South Braintree, Weymouth and Quincy.

Dr. Galen Vincent Bowditch, happy in the realization of his life long ambition, namely to witness the inauguration of a Democratic president, retired from Washington, Saturday.

He rectified with deep emotion of having conversed with President Wilson, in the White house when he shook hands with the president. Galen told President Wilson that he came from Quincy, the birthplace of two presidents, of the United States and that he had voted the Democratic ticket, 64 years. President Wilson, after hearing this remarkable tale exclaimed, "Good for you."

BRIEFS

Henry Maloney of Worcester, a native of Quincy spent Tuesday with friends in this city.

Mrs. W. M. Marden of Union street, is the guest of her daughter at Hanson for two weeks.

Dennis Sullivan a former resident was here Wednesday. He has recently opened a pharmacy at Whitman.

Miss Emma C. Low of New York has been the guest for a week of Mr. and Mrs. Russell C. Low of Presidents hill.

Milton High defeated Quincy High in a good game of basketball at Milton Wednesday. The score was 20 to 13.

Miss Helen Connors of South Walnut street, who was operated upon at the Quincy City Hospital, is fairly comfortable.

Miss Hazel Dewhurst of Maple street was taken suddenly ill the first of the week has been removed to the City Hospital.

Mrs. Alice B. Mannex of Quincy announces the engagement of her daughter, Rena Berry, to Daniel Emmet O'Brien of Salem.

The Quincy High School Glee Club has organized with Raymond Cassidy as president and Miss Dorothy Lowe as secretary-treasurer.

L. C. Hewson of Newcomb place has returned from a ten days business trip to Chicago and other western states and reports business on the increase.

Ernest Justin McCarthy, the 15 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. McCarthy, died Wednesday at their home 42 Bittern road, Adams shore. He had been sick for a long time.

Div. 5, A. O. H., will attend communion in a body at St. John's church, Sunday morning, and Div. 17, will attend communion at the Church of the Sacred Heart, Atlantic.

A long list of patronesses shows that much interest is being taken by our society people in Quincy prospect at Music hall April third.

"The Stylis" a musical comedy to be given by the P. E. A. society of Harvard, will be followed by a social hour.

An interesting program will be followed by a social hour. Mrs. Hilda Griderfeld, 37 years, died on Friday at her home 325 Water street. She leaves a husband, Emil, and one son.

A hearty welcome was given Supreme President W. F. Barlow of Sons of St. George by the Granite Lodge members Wednesday evening. Speeches were made by the officers and President Barlow. Refreshments and an entertainment was the program.

Mrs. Emory L. Crane of Whitney road opens her home this Saturday for a sale by the Kathryn Crane Memorial club, a club which meets twice a month and for such young girls is doing remarkably good philanthropic work.

The "Citizens' Gas Light Co., gave a dinner to their employees at Thompson's Cafe, Wednesday evening. After the dinner a meeting was held at the offices of the company and a business talk on current events in gas circles was given by Manager William G. Nichols.

Karl Lehmann of Denver, Col., the interstate field secretary of C. E. West, was present at the Junior C. E. meeting, Thursday afternoon, in his official capacity. Mr. Lehmann gave a witty and characteristic address, which was much enjoyed by the Junior.

Rev. and Mrs. H. Houghton Schumacher, new Edith Louise Mother, who were married Monday afternoon in the Unitarian church, Iowa City, Iowa, when Mr. Schumacher is pastor, are to make their home at 215 Fairchild street in that city where they will be at home to their friends after May first.

A reader meeting of Women's Auxiliary, Loyd Street of Moose was held Thursday evening in Eilecta hall. Several applications were received and four candidates initiated. Under the direction of Associate Worthy Matron, Mrs. Mary McNeil. A white party will follow the meeting, March 27.

The white party given by the G. L. Gill Rebekah club in I. O. O. F. hall Thursday afternoon was largely attended and a general good time was enjoyed by all. The souvenirs were awarded to M. Lazzie Fulford 58, Mrs. Emma Marlock 55, Mrs. E. Sprawl 50, Mrs. M. H. Thomas 52, Mrs. Poland 49 and consolation to Mrs. W. E. Westland 23.

Word has been received of the death Wednesday of Miss Harriet M. Pratt of 5 Allston street, aged 65 years. Miss Pratt was a sister of the late Mrs. H. W. Gray and a sister of the late Francis I. Pratt for many years the city messenger at Cambridge. She was a daughter of the late Deacon William Pratt, who resided in Quincy.

Mrs. John M. Downes, formerly of Quincy, is one of the most active of a committee of prominent Hingham residents arranging for a charity ball to be given in Agricultural hall, Hingham, Friday evening, March twenty eighth. The affair is given to raise funds for the District Nursing Association. Several of Mrs. Downes Quincy friends plan to go down to the dance.

Walter F. Rice for several years foreman of the machine shop, at the Fore River Ship Building Co., has resigned his position to accept a more lucrative position with a corporation which has just been formed, as its general manager. The business of the firm is the manufacture of machinery for the wrapping of packages of various kinds. Several of these firms have recently been consolidated into one corporation and it is with this concern that Mr. Rice has accepted a position. It is understood that the corporation has several large manufacturing plants throughout the state. Mr. Rice will sever his connection with the Fore River Co. April 1.

A meeting of the senior class of the Quincy High school will be held Wednesday. Miss Josie Ashbach was elected secretary in place of Miss Marion Rand who resigned after two years service.

A committee was appointed to take charge of the senior reception which will be held in June. They are Miss Millicent Chapman, Miss Eva Langley, Miss Mary Morrison, Edwin Brown, Miss Helen Miller and Roland Taylor.

HIGH SCHOOL.

A meeting of the senior class of the Quincy High school will be held Wednesday. Miss Josie Ashbach was elected secretary in place of Miss Marion Rand who resigned after two years service.

A committee was appointed to take charge of the senior reception which will be held in June. They are Miss Millicent Chapman, Miss Eva Langley, Miss Mary Morrison, Edwin Brown, Miss Helen Miller and Roland Taylor.

A meeting of the senior class of the Quincy High school will be held Wednesday. Miss Josie Ashbach was elected secretary in place of Miss Marion Rand who resigned after two years service.

A committee was appointed to take charge of the senior reception which will be held in June. They are Miss Millicent Chapman, Miss Eva Langley, Miss Mary Morrison, Edwin Brown, Miss Helen Miller and Roland Taylor.

A meeting of the senior class of the Quincy High school will be held Wednesday. Miss Josie Ashbach was elected secretary in place of Miss Marion Rand who resigned after two years service.

A committee was appointed to take charge of the senior reception which will be held in June. They are Miss Millicent Chapman, Miss Eva Langley, Miss Mary Morrison, Edwin Brown, Miss Helen Miller and Roland Taylor.

A meeting of the senior class of the Quincy High school will be held Wednesday. Miss Josie Ashbach was elected secretary in place of Miss Marion Rand who resigned after two years service.

A committee was appointed to take charge of the senior reception which will be held in June. They are Miss Millicent Chapman, Miss Eva Langley, Miss Mary Morrison, Edwin Brown, Miss Helen Miller and Roland Taylor.

A meeting of the senior class of the Quincy High school will be held Wednesday. Miss Josie Ashbach was elected secretary in place of Miss Marion Rand who resigned after two years service.

A committee was appointed to take charge of the senior reception which will be held in June. They are Miss Millicent Chapman, Miss Eva Langley, Miss Mary Morrison, Edwin Brown, Miss Helen Miller and Roland Taylor.

A meeting of the senior class of the Quincy High school will be held Wednesday. Miss Josie Ashbach was elected secretary in place of Miss Marion Rand who resigned after two years service.

A committee was appointed to take charge of the senior reception which will be held in June. They are Miss Millicent Chapman, Miss Eva Langley, Miss Mary Morrison, Edwin Brown, Miss Helen Miller and Roland Taylor.

A meeting of the senior class of the Quincy High school will be held Wednesday. Miss Josie Ashbach was elected secretary in place of Miss Marion Rand who resigned after two years service.

A committee was appointed to take charge of the senior reception which will be held in June. They are Miss Millicent Chapman, Miss Eva Langley, Miss Mary Morrison, Edwin Brown, Miss Helen Miller and Roland Taylor.

QUINCY POINT

George Costello is confined to his home on South street with water on the knee. He developed Sunday.

The Town River Yacht Club is to hold a whist party at the clubhouse Monday night.

A. F. Wilcher and family have moved from Bedford street to Arnold street, they having recently purchased a new house.

WEST QUINCY

Sunday will be observed at the Hall Place M. E. church as Livingstone day. At 10:30 the pastor will preach on "The Land of the Midnight Sun" at Quincy Mansion school. Friday afternoon.

Members of the Women's Guild of the Park and Downs church are jubilant over the $150 addition to the organ fund made possible by the presentation of the three act sketch "The Tanager" on Wednesday and Thursday evening of last week. This brings the fund up to the $600 mark. A luncheon will be held from 12:30 to 2 o'clock on Friday, the proceeds to go to the fund. With the same object a rummage sale will be held in Quincy on April 11th and 12th.

The Park and Downs Congregational church of Wollaston has been severely censured by an ecclesiastical council of the Congregational denomination for its action taken on July 5, 1912, in suspending Chester A. Bynum, one of its members, on the charge that he had broken faith with the church in failing to withdraw his suit of $5,000 against its minister, Rev. William B. Ayers.

Assistant Principal Miss Wood of Quincy Mansion school chaperoned 12 young ladies of the school who were the guests of Representative Chandler of East Bridgewater Monday session of the House of Representatives.

The regular meeting of the Whatsoever Circle of King's daughters will be held at the home of Mrs. Warren Ames, 141 Warren avenue, March 17th.

Mrs. Jesse T. Fuller, formerly of South Central avenue died March 6 at Atkinson, New Hampshire where she went some two years ago hoping to benefit by change of climate. Three years Mrs. Fuller's illness was diagnosed as tuberculosis of the lungs and though she made a courageous fight for life it was of no avail. She leaves a husband and three children to mourn the loss of a devoted mother. The funeral was held Saturday, March 8 at Atkinson.

Charles N. Faulkner of Woodbine street has been appointed janitor of St. Christopher's and began the duties of this month.

Tuesday afternoon the Wollaston W. C. T. U. will meet at the home of Mrs. Edward S. Tenney, 153 Prospect avenue. Mrs. George C. Bates, 141 Warren avenue, March 17th.

Mrs. Jesse T. Fuller, formerly of South Central avenue died March 6 at Atkinson, New Hampshire where she went some two years ago hoping to benefit by change of climate. Three years Mrs. Fuller's illness was diagnosed as tuberculosis of the lungs and though she made a courageous fight for life it was of no avail. She leaves a husband and three children to mourn the loss of a devoted mother. The funeral was held Saturday, March 8 at Atkinson.

Charles N. Faulkner of Woodbine street has been appointed janitor of St. Christopher's and began the duties of this month.

Tuesday afternoon the Wollaston W. C. T. U. will meet at the home of Mrs. Edward S. Tenney, 153 Prospect avenue. Mrs. George C. Bates, 141 Warren avenue, March 17th.

Mrs. Jesse T. Fuller, formerly of South Central avenue died March 6 at Atkinson, New Hampshire where she went some two years ago hoping to benefit by change of climate. Three years Mrs. Fuller's illness was diagnosed as tuberculosis of the lungs and though she made a courageous fight for life it was of no avail. She leaves a husband and three children to mourn the loss of a devoted mother. The funeral was held Saturday, March 8 at Atkinson.

Charles N. Faulkner of Woodbine street has been appointed janitor of St. Christopher's and began the duties of this month.

Tuesday afternoon the Wollaston W. C. T. U. will meet at the home of Mrs. Edward S. Tenney, 153 Prospect avenue. Mrs. George C. Bates, 141 Warren avenue, March 17th.

Mrs. Jesse T. Fuller, formerly of South Central avenue died March 6 at Atkinson, New Hampshire where she went some two years ago hoping to benefit by change of climate. Three years Mrs. Fuller's illness was diagnosed as tuberculosis of the lungs and though she made a courageous fight for life it was of no avail. She leaves a husband and three children to mourn the loss of a devoted mother. The funeral was held Saturday, March 8 at Atkinson.

Charles N. Faulkner of Woodbine street has been appointed janitor of St. Christopher's and began the duties of this month.

Tuesday afternoon the Wollaston W. C. T. U. will meet at the home of Mrs. Edward S. Tenney, 153 Prospect avenue. Mrs. George C. Bates, 141 Warren avenue, March 17th.

Mrs. Jesse T. Fuller, formerly of South Central avenue died March 6 at Atkinson, New Hampshire where she went some two years ago hoping to benefit by change of climate. Three years Mrs. Fuller's illness was diagnosed as tuberculosis of the lungs and though she made a courageous fight for life it was of no avail. She leaves a husband and three children to mourn the loss of a devoted mother. The funeral was held Saturday, March 8 at Atkinson.

Charles N. Faulkner of Woodbine street has been appointed janitor of St. Christopher's and began the duties of this month.

Tuesday afternoon the Wollaston W. C. T. U. will meet at the home of Mrs. Edward S. Tenney, 153 Prospect avenue. Mrs. George C. Bates, 141 Warren avenue, March 17th.

Mrs. Jesse T. Fuller, formerly of South Central avenue died March 6 at Atkinson, New Hampshire where she went some two years ago hoping to benefit by change of climate. Three years Mrs. Fuller's illness was diagnosed as tuberculosis of the lungs and though she made a courageous fight for life it was of no avail. She leaves a husband and three children to mourn the loss of a devoted mother. The funeral was held Saturday, March 8 at Atkinson.

Charles N. Faulkner of Woodbine street has been appointed janitor of St. Christopher's and began the duties of this month.

Tuesday afternoon the Wollaston W. C. T. U. will meet at the home of Mrs. Edward S. Tenney, 153 Prospect avenue. Mrs. George C. Bates, 141 Warren avenue, March 17th.

Mrs. Jesse T. Fuller, formerly of South Central avenue died March 6 at Atkinson, New Hampshire where she went some two years ago hoping to benefit by change of climate. Three years Mrs. Fuller's illness was diagnosed as tuberculosis of the lungs and though she made a courageous fight for life it was of no avail. She leaves a husband and three children to mourn the loss of a devoted mother. The funeral was held Saturday, March 8 at Atkinson.

Charles N. Faulkner of Woodbine street has been appointed janitor of St. Christopher's and began the duties of this month.

Tuesday afternoon the Wollaston W. C. T. U. will meet at the home of Mrs. Edward S. Tenney, 153 Prospect avenue. Mrs. George C. Bates, 141 Warren avenue, March 17th.

Mrs. Jesse T. Fuller, formerly of South Central avenue died March 6 at Atkinson, New Hampshire where she went some two years ago hoping to benefit by change of climate. Three years Mrs. Fuller's illness was diagnosed as tuberculosis of the lungs and though she made a courageous fight for life it was of no avail. She leaves a husband and three children to mourn the loss of a devoted mother. The funeral was held Saturday, March 8 at Atkinson.

Charles N. Faulkner of Woodbine street has been appointed janitor of St. Christopher's and began the duties of this month.

Tuesday afternoon the Wollaston W. C. T. U. will meet at the home of Mrs. Edward S. Tenney, 153 Prospect avenue. Mrs. George C. Bates, 141 Warren avenue, March 17th.

Mrs. Jesse T. Fuller, formerly of South Central avenue died March 6 at Atkinson, New Hampshire where she went some two years ago hoping to benefit by change of climate. Three years Mrs. Fuller's illness was diagnosed as tuberculosis of the lungs and though she made a courageous fight for life it was of no avail. She leaves a husband and three children to mourn the loss of a devoted mother. The funeral was held Saturday, March 8 at Atkinson.

Charles N. Faulkner of Woodbine street has been appointed janitor of St. Christopher's and began the duties of this month.

Tuesday afternoon the Wollaston W. C. T. U. will meet at the home of Mrs. Edward S. Tenney, 153 Prospect avenue. Mrs. George C. Bates, 141 Warren avenue, March 17th.

Mrs. Jesse T. Fuller, formerly of South Central avenue died March 6 at Atkinson, New Hampshire where she went some two years ago hoping to benefit by change of climate. Three years Mrs. Fuller's illness was diagnosed as tuberculosis of the lungs and though she made a courageous fight for life it was of no avail. She leaves a husband and three children to mourn the loss of a devoted mother. The funeral was held Saturday, March 8 at Atkinson.

Charles N. Faulkner of Woodbine street has been appointed janitor of St. Christopher's and began the duties of this month.

Tuesday afternoon the Wollaston W. C. T. U. will meet at the home of Mrs. Edward S. Tenney, 153 Prospect avenue. Mrs. George C. Bates, 141 Warren avenue, March 17th.

Mrs. Jesse T. Fuller, formerly of South Central avenue died March 6 at Atkinson, New Hampshire where she went some two years ago hoping to benefit by change of climate. Three years Mrs. Fuller's illness was diagnosed as tuberculosis of the lungs and though she made a courageous fight for life it was of no avail. She leaves a husband and three children to mourn the loss of a devoted mother. The funeral was held Saturday, March 8 at Atkinson.

Charles N. Faulkner of Woodbine street has been appointed janitor of St. Christopher's and began the duties of this month.

PARK AND DOWNS.

Mrs. Philip H. Gallagher of West Elm avenue has returned from the Dorchester Cottage hospital after an operation and is convalescing favorably.

Mr. and Mrs. Harrison S. Lord of Beach street are building a new home on Gould street near the Quincy Mansion school.

John O. Fisher has returned to her home at Wollaston, West Virginia after a visit with her daughter Mrs. William H. Spooner of Waterston avenue.

Rev. Dillon Bronson D. D. gave a lecture on "The Land of the Midnight Sun" at Quincy Mansion school, Friday afternoon.

Members of the Women's Guild of the Park and Downs church are jubilant over the $150 addition to the organ fund made possible by the presentation of the three act sketch "The Tanager" on Wednesday and Thursday evening of last week. This brings the fund up to the $600 mark. A luncheon will be held from 12:30 to 2 o'clock on Friday, the proceeds to go to the fund. With the same object a rummage sale will be held in Quincy on April 11th and 12th.

The Park and Downs Congregational church of Wollaston has been severely censured by an ecclesiastical council of the Congregational denomination for its action taken on July 5, 1912, in suspending Chester A. Bynum, one of its members, on the charge that he had broken faith with the church in failing to withdraw his suit of $5,000 against its minister, Rev. William B. Ayers.

Assistant Principal Miss Wood of Quincy Mansion school chaperoned 12 young ladies of the school who were the guests of Representative Chandler of East Bridgewater Monday session of the House of Representatives.

The regular meeting of the Whatsoever Circle of King's daughters will be held at the home of Mrs. Warren Ames, 141 Warren avenue, March 17th.

Mrs. Jesse T. Fuller, formerly of South Central avenue died March 6 at Atkinson, New Hampshire where she went some two years ago hoping to benefit by change of climate. Three years Mrs. Fuller's illness was diagnosed as tuberculosis of the lungs and though she made a courageous fight for life it was of no avail. She leaves a husband and three children to mourn the loss of a devoted mother. The funeral was held Saturday, March 8 at Atkinson.

Charles N. Faulkner of Woodbine street has been appointed janitor of St. Christopher's and began the duties of this month.

Tuesday afternoon the Wollaston W. C. T. U. will meet at the home of Mrs. Edward S. Tenney, 153 Prospect avenue. Mrs. George C. Bates, 141 Warren avenue, March 17th.

Mrs. Jesse T. Fuller, formerly of South Central avenue died March 6 at Atkinson, New Hampshire where she went some two years ago hoping to benefit by change of climate. Three years Mrs. Fuller's illness was diagnosed as tuberculosis of the lungs and though she made a courageous fight for life it was of no avail. She leaves a husband and three children to mourn the loss of a devoted mother. The funeral was held Saturday, March 8 at Atkinson.

The Quincy Patriot

SATURDAY, MARCH 15, 1913

WEEKLY. Price Five Cents. Subscriptions: Single Copies, 5 Cents; Three Months, $1.50; Six Months, $3.00; One Year, $5.00. In Advance. Payment by Money Order or Check. Address: Quincy, Mass. 01906. Telephone 100. Published by The Quincy Patriot Co., 100 North Main Street, Quincy, Mass. 01906.

Ginger pop will be the drink of the present administration which will mean a large saving to Washington entertainers.

Dr. Friedmann having recovered from his sea voyage is launching out with his tuberculous cure with more confidence.

A relative of former president Roosevelt is to be assistant secretary of the navy the place once held by his distinguished relative.

The Bay State office seekers have decided to hide their time and not press their claims just now. Judging from recent events, they are showing some wisdom by this course.

If one of the Wilson girls should be married while her father is president the lucky one will make the thirteenth White House bride, but the President's party to that figure. It has no hoodoo for him.

Why should cities and towns change their time of voting on the liquor license question. As it is purely a local affair the proper time would appear to be at the city election or the annual town meeting.

Evidently the City Council is without a president. Not even the ship of state can sail a very good course without a good pilot at the wheel.

MORE HARMONY NEEDED.

There is evidently not a very deep rooted bond of harmony or sympathy among certain members of the City Council at the present time. It is only natural that 23 men should differ at some time or another but as a continuous performance it loses much of the spice and flavor and becomes rather monotonous. The difference all along appears to be over the liquor license question. As it is purely a local affair the proper time would appear to be at the city election or the annual town meeting.

Chairman Hobbs and Representative Bliss of the committee held the city solicitor with questions which all were answered.

In a letter Mayor Stone put himself on record as favoring a referendum of the matter to the voters of Quincy.

Councilman Bryant, Bailey, an Whitton, Charles R. Sherman and Henry M. Faxon all spoke briefly in favor of the amendment. Representative William J. Leslie introduced the speakers for the bill.

Representative Michael T. Sullivan and William R. Thomas, a former representative spoke for the opposition. Mr. Sullivan took the ground that there is little demand for this legislation. He said he had held an open mind on the subject while trying to settle down and perform the duties which go with the job and do away with this useless wrangling, which takes up so much time and is of little count to any one concerned.

Mr. Thomas made the statement that fully two-thirds of the signers of a petition declaring in favor of the bill, were from Wollaston, one-seventh of the city. He charged the proponents of the bill with secrecy and said the matter had but little publicity in Quincy. At a meeting called for the purpose of talking it over, Mr. Thomas said only a dozen men turned out although some 125 invitations had been issued. Some of them, he declared only went to get a line in what "the others" were up to.

Ex-Representative Walter E. Piper upheld the opposition. He declared strongly in favor of retaining party designations at the polls. The two year term for mayor is not objectionable to him. Mr. Piper said but voters can't get that with this bill and getting a lot they don't want. He took issue with the city solicitor in the statement that there is much sentiment for abandoning the party designations. To his mind there is very little sentiment for that scheme, he said.

Others who opposed the whole measure or parts of it were Councilmen Cunningham, Sandberg, Griffin, Duffy, Richards and Bass. Fred F. Green and former councilman Dudley, representing the republican city committee also talked against it. All there is a state boulevard around the measure had not presented a good case and hoped the committee would not pass favorably on it. There were many in the room including John O. Hall and John L. Hamilton who had evidently come prepared to speak either for or against the bill but the lateness of the hour and the somewhat impatient attitude of the committee dissuaded them from undertaking the task.

Councilman Devaney, of the special committee appointed by the City Council to oppose the passing of bill is being provided that only two of the six wards shall elect in one year.

It would not be easy for voters at large to effect a change, as they will elect only one of the nine members annually. Only one year in three will a voter vote for two councilmen, the year when his ward happens to elect a councilman.

Under the present City Charter every voter can vote for eight councilmen each year, five at large and three from ward; over one-third of the entire body, and the general complaint seems to be that the number elected at large is too small.

If the charter amendments prevail, two-thirds of the voters will be permitted to vote for only one-ninth of the entire Council each year. And in three years each voter can vote for only four councilmen, although 27 are elected in three years.

If the members of the City Council are to be reduced to nine, would not the following method of election be more satisfactory? Divide the city into three districts. For example: District A to include Wards One and Two; District B to include Wards Three and Four; District C to include Wards Five and Six.

With a council of three, with a council board, one member could be elected from each district each year. The nominations could be made locally in each district by the same method as provided in the amended charter, but the election should be by the voters at large, it being provided that they shall vote for one councilman from District A, one councilman from District B, and that the leader in each district shall be declared elected.

Then each of the three districts would elect one councilman at all times, but they would be the choice of the voters at large.

Each year the voters at large would elect one-third of the City Council. Certainly the voters should vote for more than one councilman each year.

Each year the voters at large would elect one-third of the City Council. Certainly the voters should vote for more than one councilman each year.

Each year the voters at large would elect one-third of the City Council. Certainly the voters should vote for more than one councilman each year.

Each year the voters at large would elect one-third of the City Council. Certainly the voters should vote for more than one councilman each year.

Each year the voters at large would elect one-third of the City Council. Certainly the voters should vote for more than one councilman each year.

Each year the voters at large would elect one-third of the City Council. Certainly the voters should vote for more than one councilman each year.

Each year the voters at large would elect one-third of the City Council. Certainly the voters should vote for more than one councilman each year.

Each year the voters at large would elect one-third of the City Council. Certainly the voters should vote for more than one councilman each year.

Each year the voters at large would elect one-third of the City Council. Certainly the voters should vote for more than one councilman each year.

Each year the voters at large would elect one-third of the City Council. Certainly the voters should vote for more than one councilman each year.

Each year the voters at large would elect one-third of the City Council. Certainly the voters should vote for more than one councilman each year.

Each year the voters at large would elect one-third of the City Council. Certainly the voters should vote for more than one councilman each year.

Each year the voters at large would elect one-third of the City Council. Certainly the voters should vote for more than one councilman each year.

Each year the voters at large would elect one-third of the City Council. Certainly the voters should vote for more than one councilman each year.

CHARTER HEARING.

State House, March 12. After spending nearly two hours listening to the arguments pro and con as to whether Quincy should have a chance to vote on accepting the new City Charter, the committee on cities late today voted to refer the matter to the next General Court. This means the end of any charter amendments for Quincy this year. The same verdict was given out to four other cities at the same time.

The committee admonished the speakers to be brief and more than once interrupted what promised to be fiery passages-at-arms between the two factions present.

City Solicitor John W. McAnarney was the principal proponent of the act. He sprung a new bill on the committee which he wished substituted for the old one, but which differed but little, Mr. McAnarney's chief argument for the new charter, or rather the amendments to the old one, was that there is a demand in Quincy for two year terms for the Mayor, a fewer number of councilmen and the abolition of party designations at the polls at municipal elections. These were the points covered by the bill, the text of which is pretty well known to Quincy readers.

The education of the number of councilmen from 23 to 9, Mr. McAnarney said he considered very important. In the opinion of the supporters of the lesser number, the fewer members there are in the council, the less stormy the sessions of that body will be. It would also be in line with the type of politician who invites all his friends to a councilman's meeting and then usurps most of the time on oratory which plays to the gallery. The meetings are turned into a political rally for some of the members, it was declared. Also it is thought feasible to extend the term of councilmen to three years. This would insure a more valuable council, he said. He challenged anybody to say whether or not the people of Quincy want the amendments. Nobody could say without the question being referred to the voters.

A suggestion that a special election be held in October to vote on the subject was strongly objected to. Chairman Hobbs and Representative Bliss of the committee held the city solicitor with questions which all were answered.

In a letter Mayor Stone put himself on record as favoring a referendum of the matter to the voters of Quincy.

Councilman Bryant, Bailey, an Whitton, Charles R. Sherman and Henry M. Faxon all spoke briefly in favor of the amendment. Representative William J. Leslie introduced the speakers for the bill.

Representative Michael T. Sullivan and William R. Thomas, a former representative spoke for the opposition. Mr. Sullivan took the ground that there is little demand for this legislation. He said he had held an open mind on the subject while trying to settle down and perform the duties which go with the job and do away with this useless wrangling, which takes up so much time and is of little count to any one concerned.

Mr. Thomas made the statement that fully two-thirds of the signers of a petition declaring in favor of the bill, were from Wollaston, one-seventh of the city. He charged the proponents of the bill with secrecy and said the matter had but little publicity in Quincy. At a meeting called for the purpose of talking it over, Mr. Thomas said only a dozen men turned out although some 125 invitations had been issued. Some of them, he declared only went to get a line in what "the others" were up to.

Ex-Representative Walter E. Piper upheld the opposition. He declared strongly in favor of retaining party designations at the polls. The two year term for mayor is not objectionable to him. Mr. Piper said but voters can't get that with this bill and getting a lot they don't want. He took issue with the city solicitor in the statement that there is much sentiment for abandoning the party designations. To his mind there is very little sentiment for that scheme, he said.

Others who opposed the whole measure or parts of it were Councilmen Cunningham, Sandberg, Griffin, Duffy, Richards and Bass. Fred F. Green and former councilman Dudley, representing the republican city committee also talked against it. All there is a state boulevard around the measure had not presented a good case and hoped the committee would not pass favorably on it. There were many in the room including John O. Hall and John L. Hamilton who had evidently come prepared to speak either for or against the bill but the lateness of the hour and the somewhat impatient attitude of the committee dissuaded them from undertaking the task.

Councilman Devaney, of the special committee appointed by the City Council to oppose the passing of bill is being provided that only two of the six wards shall elect in one year.

It would not be easy for voters at large to effect a change, as they will elect only one of the nine members annually. Only one year in three will a voter vote for two councilmen, the year when his ward happens to elect a councilman.

Under the present City Charter every voter can vote for eight councilmen each year, five at large and three from ward; over one-third of the entire body, and the general complaint seems to be that the number elected at large is too small.

If the charter amendments prevail, two-thirds of the voters will be permitted to vote for only one-ninth of the entire Council each year. And in three years each voter can vote for only four councilmen, although 27 are elected in three years.

If the members of the City Council are to be reduced to nine, would not the following method of election be more satisfactory? Divide the city into three districts. For example: District A to include Wards One and Two; District B to include Wards Three and Four; District C to include Wards Five and Six.

With a council of three, with a council board, one member could be elected from each district each year. The nominations could be made locally in each district by the same method as provided in the amended charter, but the election should be by the voters at large, it being provided that they shall vote for one councilman from District A, one councilman from District B, and that the leader in each district shall be declared elected.

Then each of the three districts would elect one councilman at all times, but they would be the choice of the voters at large.

Each year the voters at large would elect one-third of the City Council. Certainly the voters should vote for more than one councilman each year.

Each year the voters at large would elect one-third of the City Council. Certainly the voters should vote for more than one councilman each year.

Each year the voters at large would elect one-third of the City Council. Certainly the voters should vote for more than one councilman each year.

Each year the voters at large would elect one-third of the City Council. Certainly the voters should vote for more than one councilman each year.

Each year the voters at large would elect one-third of the City Council. Certainly the voters should vote for more than one councilman each year.

Each year the voters at large would elect one-third of the City Council. Certainly the voters should vote for more than one councilman each year.

Each year the voters at large would elect one-third of the City Council. Certainly the voters should vote for more than one councilman each year.

Each year the voters at large would elect one-third of the City Council. Certainly the voters should vote for more than one councilman each year.

Each year the voters at large would elect one-third of the City Council. Certainly the voters should vote for more than one councilman each year.

Each year the voters at large would elect one-third of the City Council. Certainly the voters should vote for more than one councilman each year.

Each year the voters at large would elect one-third of the City Council. Certainly the voters should vote for more than one councilman each year.

Each year the voters at large would elect one-third of the City Council. Certainly the voters should vote for more than one councilman each year.

Each year the voters at large would elect one-third of the City Council. Certainly the voters should vote for more than one councilman each year.

Each year the voters at large would elect one-third of the City Council. Certainly the voters should vote for more than one councilman each year.

Each year the voters at large would elect one-third of the City Council. Certainly the voters should vote for more than one councilman each year.

Each year the voters at large would elect one-third of the City Council. Certainly the voters should vote for more than one councilman each year.

Each year the voters at large would elect one-third of the City Council. Certainly the voters should vote for more than one councilman each year.

Each year the voters at large would elect one-third of the City Council. Certainly the voters should vote for more than one councilman each year.

Each year the voters at large would elect one-third of the City Council. Certainly the voters should vote for more than one councilman each year.

Each year the voters at large would elect one-third of the City Council. Certainly the voters should vote for more than one councilman each year.

Each year the voters at large would elect one-third of the City Council. Certainly the voters should vote for more than one councilman each year.

WALTHER CLASS.

The Walther Men's class of the Wollaston Baptist church held its annual meeting Wednesday evening and elected the following officers: President—Charles B. Hall. Vice President—Alvord L. Walker. Treasurer—Professor J. H. Marceau. Secretary—Arthur E. Driscoll.

In the absence of President Miller, Rev. Joseph Walther, the pastor presided. Reports were read by William Oxner, the secretary and by Treasurer O'Connell.

Eben Hardy reported for the visiting committee, Kendall F. Harriman for the social committee, Mr. Neal for the membership committee and Mr. Shepard for the devotional committee.

Architect Ernest W. Campbell of Wollaston delivered a very interesting lecture on "The art of exposition building." Mr. Campbell was the designer and builder of the decorations at the Auto Show now being held in the Mechanics building, this being but one of many similar ones.

"You can't put one stick in before Monday morning and Saturday afternoon everything has to be completed. 'Eleven years ago the first auto show took place. There were 30 cars exhibited and the decorations cost $10. The decorations for the present show cost $20,000. Each year it goes up and up."

"There are three firms who build expositions. Daniel's of Chicago is accustomed to pageants and heavy scenery. Kimball of New York makes a specialty of food fairs.

"In all my work I insist upon a fundamental motive in the design. This year it was the hanging gardens of Babylon, the simplest was presented and determined the doll Babylonian colors make an excellent background for the automobiles."

Mr. Campbell told the story of assembling the decorations, getting palm trees from Florida, artificial waterfalls from Japan, the employment of artists, setting up waterfalls and the hundred and one interesting things that went to make up the finished picture.

"It is not simply an Auto Show," said the speakers, it is an educational feature. There have been 50 artists there this week making it a study. In conducting this exhibition we have had several humorous incidents encountered before the finished whole was realized.

The evening opening with a supper served by the social committee and assistants.

A large crowd turned out Tuesday at the State House to hear the arguments on a new bridge at Granite Avenue which was before the committee on Roads and Bridges. This is a bill which was brought into the legislature by John O. Hall representing the Quincy Board of Trade and is one of that board's chief matters before this year's legislature.

Representative William J. Leslie, conducted the hearing for the petitioners and briefly outlined the object of the bill and described the present structure to the committee. He told the committee that the bridge long since outlived its usefulness, connecting Milton with Dorchester, but of great value to Quincy on account of being the only direct thoroughfare, except Neponset Avenue bridge to connect Quincy with Boston. The Neponset bridge is not easily accessible to West Quincy travelers and they are entitled to a new bridge at Granite Avenue. The bridge is of great use to granite teams from Quincy and they carry such big loads sometimes as to actually make the old wooden structure a menace to life of drivers and horses. Another argument advanced was that there is a state boulevard around the bridge and that travel will increase wonderfully in a short time.

Benjamin King, the veteran caretaker of the President John Quincy Adams house for the Quincy Historical society, was the guest of honor Wednesday evening of Tremont lodge of Odd Fellows of which he is a member. He was the guest of honor of the occasion was the golden anniversary of Mr. King's becoming affiliated with that well known fraternal order, he having been an Odd Fellow, March 10, 1862. Mr. King continues to take an active interest in Odd Fellowship and has journeyed far and wide in not in attendance at some lodge meeting.

Previous to the lodge meeting Wednesday evening Mr. King attended the monthly supper at the Wollaston Baptist church, leaving on an early train for Boston. As he entered the lodge room of Tremont lodge he received a great ovation and the brothers gathered about him to offer their congratulations.

After the lodge had assembled Bro. King was escorted to the Noble Grand's office by a special committee and there was an almost deafening applause for the noble grand, who held the chair of the presiding officer.

The Noble Grand congratulated him on his remarkable record and concluded his remarks by presenting him with a massive bouquet of roses as a slight token of their good wishes and with the hope that he would be with them many more years to come.

He was then given a seat near the Noble Grand and was called upon for a speech. In responding Mr. King reviewed his 50 years as an Odd Fellow and some of the changes in the world that had taken place during those years.

Bro. King who is now in his 80th year is remarkably smart for one so advanced in age. He was for 53 years a machinist on the Boston & Albany railroad, and was for many years a member of the Boston fire department, and has been the care taker for the Quincy Historical society for several years. His home is in Wollaston, and although his home is over two miles from the Adams birthplace he always walks too and from his home, his step being as quick and elastic as many a younger man.

Mr. King is also a well known tenor singer and is one of the tenor soloists of the choral society recently formed at the Wollaston Baptist church. In politics he is an ardent republican.

During the social hour all had an opportunity of greeting Mr. King and expressing their appreciation of his address. The hostesses were Mrs. Edward B. Marsh and Mrs. W. B. Nichols with Mrs. Edward Russell and Mrs. Charles Bickford presiding at the coffee urns.

The Dime Social Club of South Quincy organized for the year with the following officers:

President—George Curtis. Secretary—W. Curtis. Treasurer—R. Tinney.

The first social is planned for March 29 at the club rooms.

QUANTUM IMPROVEMENTS.

Fifty thousand dollars in taxes in 1917 was the slogan adopted at the annual meeting of the Quantum Improvement Association, Tuesday evening at the bungalow of John R. Nelson.

A number of interesting speeches were made which brought out the fact that in five years Quantum's taxes have increased from $426 to $10,600, and that with this rate of increase Quantum in 1917 will be paying $50,000 a year into the city treasury.

The meeting was called to order by vice president Herbert A. Smith and owing to the illness of the secretary John Mardon the minutes of the last meeting were read by treasurer T. F. Callahan. The meeting was delayed nearly an hour by members on their way to the meeting stopping to assist an unfortunate teamster whose wagon was stuck in the mud. The deplorable condition of Quantum's streets brought up a discussion as to the petition now pending before the Quincy City Council for the acceptance of Huxley Avenue, Bellevue road and Dorchester street.

John R. Nelson brought out some interesting facts as to why purely a business proposition Quincy should accept these streets. He summarized his remarks in the following statement about Quantum.

"One of high, good building land about 25 acres; sufficient territory for about 2,000 houses; or a population of 10,000 people.

Property owners in 1907, 61; 1912, over 400. Houses in 1907, 37; 1912, over 200. Valuation in 1907, $245,000; 1912, over $7,000. Taxes in 1907, $4,260; 1912, over $10,600.

"With these increases during the past five years, under adverse conditions, and hardly any improvements, what will happen if you give us a little help now? With the same ratio of increase the income from taxes in 1917, five years from now, will be over $50,000. Isn't that a good return on the city's investment?"

Treasurer Callahan, James Hagan, chairman of the street committee and W. N. Kenyon spoke in the same vein; that as a business proposition Quincy could well afford even in this sparse year in its financial condition, to spend $5000 to $7000 for a permanent improvement of Quantum's main thoroughfares.

The following committee was appointed to work in the interests of improving Quantum's streets:—James Hagan, chairman, T. F. Callahan, John Holmes, John R. Nelson, Herman Berghaus, Edward Espar, Herbert A. Smith, W. N. Kenyon, Hiram Morse, Frank Anderson.

Regarding street car services, chairman Kenyon of the street-railway committee reported that after two years' work with officials of the Bay State street railway he had received from Superintendent Conway a commitment to fill with money and endearing terms but without any definite promises as to what the street railway company will do for Quantum during the summer months.

Supt. Conway said it would be impossible to build a turn out at Atlantic this spring so as to put an end to the turning of cars on Hancock street. He made no definite promises regarding the demand for half hour services after April 1 and a late car every night. The matter of car service will undoubtedly be taken to the railroad commissioners as was voted at a previous meeting.

A golf whist at the home of Mrs. S. S. Sayward 1101 Winthrop Avenue promises a pleasant afternoon for members and friends of Abigail Phillips Chapter D. A. R. March 18.

Charitable Ten: Circle of King's Daughters will be entertained at the afternoon, subject, Picturesque Ireland—Lakes of Kilmarey, Blarney castle and Giant's Causeway. There will also be papers on Thomas Moore.

Next week Wednesday Fragment society of First church has arranged for an all day meeting beginning at ten o'clock with lunch at 12.30.

Quincy Alliance held its regular meeting, in the parlor of First church Monday afternoon the president Mrs. George G. Saville in the chair. After the devotional services and business session Miss Dorothy Lavery very effectively rendered on the piano Barcarolle, Prelude.

Mrs. Saville introduced the speaker of the afternoon, Rev. Henry D. Stevens of Walpole, who took for his subject, "An Appreciation of Maeterlinck," giving a brief sketch of his life. The general outline which may be said to lie behind the writings of Maeterlinck is best expressed, perhaps, in his philosophical statement: "It behooves every man to frame for himself his own general conception of the world. On this conception rests his whole human and moral existence." Maeterlinck, therefore, frankly faces all the facts of life, and in so doing admits the vital value of scientific truth. He is not content with a fragmentary impression of the world and of business life, but reaches out for knowledge from every conceivable source. What is known, however, he regards as a very small part of what is within reach of the mind and heart of man.

Maeterlinck is peculiarly gifted in the dramatic interpretation of what has come to be known as the sub-conscious or unconscious expression of human nature. Here, he is frankly recognized as a master of the secret and hidden life of the human soul. In this contentment of the unknown, so large, mysterious and wonderful, he has thought and brought back a wealth of thought, of suggestive feeling and acute observation.

Maeterlinck constantly urges a larger contact with life in all its phases as a means to a fuller growth, and from this experience he would apparently exclude nothing not even the sorrows of life. Upon this vital necessity he remarks: "It is good to enlarge one's sorrows, since this does enlargement come to our consciousness and then, then alone, do we truly feel that we live."

He is distinctly individual and in his dramatic writings, we see him revealed as the most subtle interpreter of the delicate and inarticulate ways of the human spirit in its inwardly pathetic and tragic experiences. These plays are said to be more successful of mental results when read, than when acted on stage, and, peculiarly, the dramatic elements being capable of stage presentation.

Mr. Stevens closed his address by reading quotations from Maeterlinck's works, which were exceedingly interesting.

During the social hour all had an opportunity of greeting Mr. Stevens and expressing their appreciation of his address. The hostesses were Mrs. Edward B. Marsh and Mrs. W. B. Nichols with Mrs. Edward Russell and Mrs. Charles Bickford presiding at the coffee urns.

The Dime Social Club of South Quincy organized for the year with the following officers:

President—George Curtis. Secretary—W. Curtis. Treasurer—R. Tinney.

The first social is planned for March 29 at the club rooms.

AMONG THE CLUBS.

A motion to change the name of the New England Wheatmen Club to "The New England Wheatmen Club" was made at the meeting of the club Saturday at Hotel Vendome, Boston. Since the club was a college, the word in the title has lost its significance. Action on the motion will be taken at a later meeting.

The call and ballots for the annual meeting of the Massachusetts Society of the Daughters of the Revolution went out last week. The meeting will be held Monday March 17 at ten o'clock in Lorimer hall, Tremont Temple, Boston.

Frank E. Spaulding superintendent of schools in Newton is to speak on Current Practices and Ideals in Public Education at the meeting of the New England Women's club on March 17 at their rooms in Chaney Hall building, Boston. Following the club supper the entertainment postponed from last month on account of illness, will be given with the original cast, and there will also be a good musical program.

The Brockton Women's club is to have its annual art exhibition in the High school galleries March 24 and have secured some of the works of well known artists. The Quincy club has been invited to exhibit its "Three days" exhibit at the clubhouse last year, and the same committee is planning an even better collection for the coming one on April 22.

The meeting of the council of the General Federation of Women's clubs will be held in Washington, April 21-24. Business will occupy a part of the time, but trips on the Potomac and to Baltimore are planned, when business is over. In the latter city the Maryland federation of clubs will be in session. Miss George Bacon of Worcester represents Massachusetts in the council.

The Philadelphians of Braintree hold a public meeting Tuesday afternoon at Coochett hall when William N. Craig of North Easton will speak on Practical Floriculture."

Junior Friday club meets as usual on Monday afternoon and will be entertained at the home of Miss George Bacon of Worcester. The club members will be present on Friday and it was hoped other club members would also go. The meeting was called for 2.30 P. M. in the Universalist church, Main street, Waltham, with the Waltham Women's club as the hostess club.

Miss Wilton Marsh in the absence of Mrs. Chandler W. Smith reported for the Philanthropic committee telling of a visit, under the guidance of Miss Purchase, to the Opportunity club at East Boston. She told most interestingly of the work accomplished among the girls and boys who had not had much school or home life, and of going out into the world—the enjoyment they found in the dramatic classes, glee clubs, embroidery, dressmaking, painting, city government, gymnastics, etc. It was hoped to enter upon some such work with Quincy's young women. Members were invited to attend the meeting of the Philanthropic committee at the clubhouse, March 18th.

Mrs. Sheppard was sorry there was not time for Mrs. Marsh to tell more fully of the work, as members of the Philanthropic committee as well as Quincy's club are feeling a responsibility to attend matters in our own city, hoping to do personal work and get right down to earth so to speak, with those who need to be helped. "We, as a body, are emerging from self-culture to public service, and as we go along the broad highway of life, we are laying stress to make a strong roadway for the old, young, women and children to travel over, and in our faith as we do this work, day by day, we are coming all the time to the strong belief that there is something of the divine on earth and something of the human in Heaven."

While the ballots were being cast the afternoon's program began with music by Mrs. Victor E. Miller in charge. It consisted of a group of songs by Mrs. Winnifred Flagg Symonds of Lowell with Mrs. John F. Hallowell of the piano. She sang "The Nightingale has a Lure of Gold," "A wearying for you," "Come kiss your Mammy good night" and "Through Spain" the variety of selection and a pleasant quality of voice giving much pleasure, each calling forth appreciative encores.

Mrs. Sheppard introduced Mrs. Charles R. Safford of the Civic committee who in turn announced the program—a debate on "Resolved—that Women be given the right of Suffrage." On the affirmative were Miss Edith Randall, Miss Harriet E. Turner, negative Mrs. Willard E. Dow and Mrs. Thomas Faxon.

Each was given ten minutes to present arguments for or against and five minutes for rebuttal after the floor. Mrs. Safford opened the debate in the affirmative saying that women had the right to vote and to express opinions and give their vote on every matter of gal her thought. No man can vote for his family as he had only one vote and there might be several women in his family. Men as voters were well qualified to deal with larger affairs but women could and did help solve the problems of the home, pure food, labor, etc., but who got more good ideas and opinions if they did not lead to something. She could go so far in her good work and then run up against a stonewall because she did not have the vote. Miss Randall gave telling statistics in states where women have the vote and expressed her good, given her frequent bursts of applause.

Mrs. Dow for the negative made three points—1st that women don't want to vote; 2d they are not hampered because they cannot vote and 3d their sphere was in the home. She believed the silent women did not want the vote, they were in the majority in Massachusetts. Thought women would vote against suffrage if the question was submitted to them. Those in favor were afraid to submit the question to their sisters. We want, we really cannot get. Many women, she believed really thought they wanted to vote but it was the result of idleness. Women, especially young women were more interested in their babies, husband and homes until middle age when they enter clubs and do much good. They don't even exercise their right to vote on school matters. Mrs. Dow's strong appeal was for the home. She believed if God blessed women with children and she did her duty by those children she was the equal of her husband and the children could be trusted to vote for the right things. No better thing could be said of any woman than "her children rise up and call her blessed."

Mrs. Turner for the affirmative said one's responsibility cannot be delegated—equality did not mean that one sex was subordinate to the other, it killed self respect. Marriage made the couple one but that one was the man and the woman was dependent on his generosity. She did not think it unwomanly to vote any more than to be long to a club. Thought the homes more likely to suffer from social functions than from voting. The vote means power to

The Quincy Patriot

SATURDAY, MARCH 22, 1913

TO OUR SUBSCRIBERS.

For the last few years we have had much complaint, and justly, from our subscribers because they do not receive the Patriot for two or three days after publication. The fault is entirely with the government's way of doing business, the publishers being at the mercy of the postal service. The Patriots are printed Friday and sent to the local post office before 6 P. M. We do not believe they are held up there as it is to the interests of all employees to rush them along and avoid congestion, but the fact remains that Patriots that should be delivered in East Milton, Weymouth and most of Boston suburban towns Saturday morning, do not arrive at their destination until Monday or Tuesday and sometimes Wednesday. One can hardly call it good service when it takes three to four days to get a newspaper delivered within two miles of the office of publication.

We cannot blame our subscribers for stopping their paper for no one cares to read a weekly or daily paper several days old. We have labored for over a year to get relief and the Superintendent of the Quincy post office has done every thing in his power to relieve the situation.

Economy seems to be the national policy for the postal service. There is money enough for battleships and departments not directly benefitting the people but the one department that should serve the people and be brought to a high efficiency is the one when there is authority economy.

What merchant with his business increasing year by year would reduce his working force and at the same time shorten the hours of labor? How long would he be in business with that policy? Can the government afford to continue its present policy? We newspaper people—say give us parcel post, one cent postage, or any other old thing, but first of all give us efficient service—a quick and prompt handling of all mail, whether first or second class.

QUINCY SUBURBS.

Editor of the Patriot:

L. S. Richards, a native of Quincy and a resident for 40 years, now a resident of Marshfield Hills, approaching another 40 years feels confident that Quincy can be relieved of its crowded population, also its heavy tax following in the footsteps of a number of its former residents, who are now chuckling over their good fortune in living in Marshfield to the tune of only a twelve dollar thousand tax, with the privileges of a rollicking summer country home, where the woodbine twines, and oaken buckets hang in many a well.

There are a number of Quincies living in Marshfield and as many natives of the last mentioned place are seeking their fortunes in Quincy. For example there are three Damons two of whom live in Quincy and the other travels by rail every day from Marshfield Hills to the store. Another Damon is janitor of the new Court House. There are also Osborne, Howard, Rogers and Daniel who I think was born on the Daniel Webster estate, that genial gentleman George E. Pfaffmann.

There is in Marshfield the proprietor of the Daniel Webster Homestead, a former Quincie, Walton Hall, whose estate embraces a thousand acres, one hundred of which is a cranberry bog; William A. Rogers and his brother Frank E. Rogers who own fine separate estates of their own, former residents of Quincy; another, Henry Wright, a Boston High School teacher, whose winter residence is on Marshfield Hills and his summer at Presidents Hill and his summer at Presidents Hill and his summer at Presidents Hill and his summer at Presidents Hill.

L. S. Richards' estate of over 20 acres on Richard's hill is one of the attractive places of the Hills, covered with many varieties of fruit and flowers. The outlook from his 5-story tower gives him one of the most extensive views in Marshfield. This is perhaps a very picturesque, but the Quincy boys say they will not hesitate to vouch for its truth.

Marshfieldite.

EIGHTY-FIFTH BIRTHDAY.

The family of Captain Charles T. Derry down to members of the fourth generation assembled at Captain Derry's home on Washington Place, to celebrate his 85th birthday. The flag was raised in honor of the occasion and the house inside was decorated with flowers and palms.

During the evening many friends of the captain called to offer him their hearty congratulations for his continued good health and active interest in all about him.

Those present were Mrs. Stella Freese, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver H. Derry and son, Gardner, Mr. and Mrs. Hervey T. B. Derry and family, Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Derry, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Derry, 3d, and family, Mr. and Mrs. Eben Derry of Attleboro, Mrs. Fred Cowden of Cambridge, Mr. and Mrs. George Belcher and Mr. and Mrs. William T. Derry and family of Dorchester.

Capt. Derry was born in Quincy living there 35 years.

SCHOOL COURSES.

The courses of study which have been in use for about five years without change are soon to undergo some revision. One or two studies are being taken up at a time by the grade teachers who record their criticisms on the present course as printed and furnish suggestions for improvement. These suggestions will be tabulated by the superintendent and with their help it is expected that the revised course will be made more efficient and better adapted to grade.

WILL SUSTAINED.

Dedham, Mass., March 21.—The jury in the case of Mrs. Adie S. Harris vs. George H. Brown, executor of the estate of Sophia Berry, contest on the allowing the will of the deceased brought in a verdict sustaining the will this morning.

BRIEFS

The public schools in the city were closed yesterday, Good Friday.

The Finance Committee was in session until a late hour Thursday night wrestling with the budget.

Owing to serious illness Joseph W. Lasante of Park lane has been removed to the City Hospital.

Rev. B. A. Willmott, pastor of Bethany church preached at Lexington at the noon service Friday.

Miss Hazel Dewhurst who has been under treatment at the City Hospital has so far recovered as to be removed to her home on Maple street.

Charles Purpura of Granite street and family will visit to Providence, R. I., where they will make their future home.

Miss Mabel Combs, of Bath, Maine is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. George Copeland, of Putnam street.

Walter E. Loud and family of Braintree were guests of his parents Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Loud of Washington street over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Carter of Curtis street, formerly of Granite street are receiving congratulations, a ten pound girl arriving on the 12th to help brighten the happy household.

Thomas Curtis of Franklin street and great grandson Master John T. Curtis of Wollaston yesterday celebrated their birthdays yesterday, March 17th their ages being respectively 86 and 4 years of age.

It is rumored that Edward H. Angier, president of the Quincy Yacht Club, has been sold through the Elmer F. Ricker Agency to William E. Cooper of Bigelow street, who buys for immediate occupancy.

The annual banquet and ladies' night of Bethany Brotherhood will be held Wednesday evening, April 3, with Hon. Solon Stevens of Lowell as the principal speaker.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Shaw of Butter road are touring the South with headquarters at the Southern Pines hotel, Southern Pines, North Carolina.

Ex-Mayor William T. Shea who has been in the south for the past few weeks, returned Saturday night. He reports having had an enjoyable visit.

Durant and Wellesley scholarships for Wellesley college were awarded Monday, Elizabeth Atwood of Quincy was awarded a Wellesley Junior scholarship.

Roscoe R. Ricker, the young violinist of Quincy, has just returned from a very successful concert tour through the Middle West and New York state. He went as soloist with the Bostonian sextet.

Miss Bernice Cox of Lewiston, Maine, is making a two weeks visit in this city, the guest of her brother and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde T. Cox of Grosvenor street and of her sister, Mrs. Gladys Lowell of Whitwell street.

Both Quincy A. A. teams are champions of N. E. A. A. basketball ball for the second time. As such they will represent the Northern Atlantic states at the National championships which will probably be held at Chicago.

Quincy Council, Knights of Columbus has made elaborate preparation for their annual Easter ball at Music hall, Monday evening. A large committee has been at work the past month completing the arrangements and the affair promises to outshine any of their successful previous events.

The high scorers at the whist party in Odd Fellows Hall, Thursday afternoon by the George L. Gill Club were Mrs. Sarah Williams, Miss M. Lizzie Farnham, Mrs. George Gragg, Mrs. J. Kenley, Mrs. William Westland, Mrs. Marjorie Davison was presented with a consolation trophy.

The derailment of engine No. 913 of a working train at Atlantic, about 1:30 o'clock Monday afternoon blocked the tracks of the Granite Branch of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad for about three hours and caused some inconvenience to commuters from Boston to East Milton and West Quincy.

A large number attended the Palm Sunday evening service at Christ church. After prayer by Rev. Richard E. Armstrong, rector, the choir rendered Stainer's "Crucifixion." The hymns were sung by the congregation. Professor Frank Wrigley was organist and director. The soloists were William Carter, J. W. McLeod, William Marr and Charles Vannor.

Judge McLaughlin denied the Bay State Railway a new trial, Monday in the suit of Miss Mary Kerrigan and Miss Catherine Regan of Quincy. Verdicts of $100 for Miss Kerrigan and $1000 for Miss Regan were awarded Jan. 20. Charles J. McElvay of Quincy represented the plaintiffs. Foster and Turner of Boston represented the defendants.

A subscription party will be held in New Colonial hall, March 27 by the Quincy Gym Girls to celebrate the close of their basketball season. The affair promises to be one of the most successful ever held by the younger set. The matrons, all mothers of the girls who took part in the season, will be Mrs. James Mullin, Mrs. E. Frank Mitchell, Mrs. G. Beal and Mrs. C. Hilderbrand.

Miss Nina Hedlund entertained friends at the home of her husband and Mr. and Mrs. John Landholm, 16 Bedford street, Saturday evening, the occasion being her nineteenth birthday. Various games were enjoyed and refreshments were served consisting of ice cream, cake, confectionery, etc. not forgetting a very handsome birthday cake beautifully frosted and adorned with candles. Miss Nina received many pretty birthday reminders.

A sumptuous banquet, tendered bowling team No. 1 of the Loftmans by bowling team No. 2 was a big attraction at the Quincy House, Boston, Saturday evening. The series recently completed was and was a source of interest to many who followed the matches closely. Individual prizes were awarded by Archibald Grassick, who acted as toastmaster. Speeches were made by those present and a short entertainment followed.

The Katharyn Crane Memorial club is delighted with the result of the sale Saturday afternoon at Mrs. Emery L. Crane's home, Whittier road. The net receipts were $110, showing an increase over last year's profits. The club is glad to be able to meet the increased demand for assistance and stands ready to help whenever it can.

BRIEFS

John G. Thomas is slating the roof on one of H. M. Faxon's houses on Saville avenue.

George Anderson of New York, a former resident has been visiting his mother, Mrs. George Anderson, Granite street.

The Hospital Aid Association meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. George H. Wilson, Revere road, Thursday, March 27 at 2:30 P. M.

Under the direction of Ernest Osgood the Gardner Club of the Christ church will present a comedy and a farce in the near future.

A supper under the auspices of the Fragment society of First church is to be served in the chapel, Wednesday evening.

If the weather prophet is correct, cold weather has taken its departure for this winter and from now on spring weather may be looked for.

Alex Grant, a lineman of the N. E. T. & C. Co. who was injured by a 25 foot fall at Braintree about a month ago is still confined to his home, 888 Hancock street. He is doing well.

Miss M. Lizzie Farnham won the bean bag contest which followed the meeting of the Knights and Ladies of Honor at Protection hall Wednesday evening.

At a meeting of the Daughters of John Adams, L. O. L., at Wilson hall Tuesday evening, worthy Mistress Mrs. Annie McKenzie initiated two candidates.

The handsome silk flag presented to Mayor Stone by the Women's Relief corps now rests in a glass front case in his office at City Hall, where it will be free from dust.

Daniel Doran has disposed of his property on Gas place and is now in Ireland enjoying a two months visit. He plans to return the latter part of July.

Em. Sils Albert W. Fay and Walter E. Piper attended the inspection of the Providence Commandery at Providence, R. I. Tuesday evening and the inspection of Boston Commandery at Masonic Temple, Boston Wednesday evening.

The Rev. Herbert A. Jump, who was one of the pastors officiating at the funeral of Joaquin Miller, the "poet of the Sierras," has written friends in Quincy, where he was formerly a pastor, as well as at Brunswick, Me., telling of the obsequies.

Several members of Maple Lodge L. of H., visited Friendship Lodge of Uphams corner, Wednesday evening for the visitation of the board of grand officers and deputy and suite. Mrs. Agnes Fletcher being one of the grand officers.

Prize lot of Good Templars announce a stereopticon lecture for Saturday evening, when Dr. A. F. Christian of Boston will speak on "Influence of alcohol on organs of the human body," at Electa hall.

There was considerable excitement in and about the Greenleaf block Thursday night when smoke from the boiler room filled the stores on the first floor and the offices above. The smoke was caused by some waste paper taking fire near the boiler. There was but little blaze but plenty of smoke.

About the usual number of tables were in play Wednesday evening at the weekly whist tournament of the Granite City club. The two best scores were made by Rollin H. Newcomb and George Spooner. Ice cream and cake was served after the tournament.

It is rumored that the tennis club have outgrown their grounds on Whittier road and Woodward avenue and are considering the purchase of a large tract of land on Glendale road at the junction of Goffe street, the property of the Adams family. It would be an ideal location in every way.

The First Parish club will have hard work in finding anyone to take the office held by William B. Nichols during the past year. He had general charge of serving the dinners, which have been so greatly enjoyed, and the club members hope that he may be prevailed upon to take the office for another year.

It is probable the grammar school base ball league will play a shorter schedule this year than last and devote some time to track and field sports to arouse an interest in this direction. If that is done, in all probability there will be a school meet before the close of the summer term, with representatives from every school in the city.

Mr. and Mrs. H. P. McIntire of Presidents Hill returned this week from a very enjoyable three months' trip which included Panama, the Pacific coast to Pisco via Costa Rica, Nicaragua, Honduras, Salvador, Guatemala, Mexican ports and Southern California. They were on their way to Arizona to points in the Gulf states, to Palm Beach and Miami. They left early in December.

Two launchings are scheduled to take place at the Fore River early in April. The first launching will be the torpedo boat destroyer Duncan, April 5, at 10 a. m. The second launching will be of the Standard Oil Co. steamer Richmond will be sent overboard, April 8, at 12 o'clock noon. The sponsors for these two vessels have not been named as yet.

From the present outlook it is extremely doubtful if any appropriation is made by the City Council this year for a July Fourth celebration. There was a quite a debate in the Council last year before the order was passed but it eventually went through and was later used as campaign material. Last year the amount was charged to the supplementary tax receipts of 1911 received in 1912.

Quincy Chapter Order of Eastern Star held a basket party in Electa hall Monday evening. The auctioneer was Amos Damon and a large sum of money was netted from the sales of the baskets. Games and dancing were enjoyed during the evening and the evening was furnished by Miss Clara Call. Refreshments were served.

Miss Eva M. Brown has been spending a week with her friend, Mrs. F. A. Skinner of Upland road, coming down from Vermont to extend aid and comfort to Mrs. Skinner in her great bereavement. She left Tuesday for Washington, D. C. with three Vermont friends stopping over in New York four days and joining the Royal Blue Line excursion party. Miss Brown will return to Vermont for the present and come to Quincy later in the spring.

BRIEFS

Miss Patricia Finlay, daughter of A. W. Finlay who has been in Southern for school, in Springfield to spend the Easter recess with her parents.

Ex-Councilman John J. Mahoney has received a visit to his brother James Mahoney, S. J., professor of physics and mechanics at St. Joseph's College, Philadelphia.

Mrs. May Willis Hatch returned Wednesday from a several months' stay at her old home in Maine and is now a guest at the home of her cousins the James H. Stetsons of School street.

It is with much regret that the many friends of Mrs. James H. Stetson learn of her continued illness, she having a relapse Monday night which again confines her to her room. She has been missed from all the large social functions of the season where she has always been a leader and will probably not enter into social affairs this spring as she will leave early in the season for her summer home on the Cape, hoping there to fully recover her usual good health and spirits.

One of the prettiest parties of the season participated in by the young people of Braintree, Quincy, Wollaston and Milton was the ball given in Cochoate hall, Braintree, Thursday night by Miss Agnes B. Hayward for her German classes. The matrons were Mrs. Alfred P. Worthen of Weymouth, Mrs. Albert Maynard Parker of Quincy and Mrs. Charles A. Bower, Mrs. Charles H. Moulton and Mrs. Herbert F. Kneeland of Braintree.

There seems to be a growing interest in our city in the study of birds. Doubtless people are realizing more each year how birds can help the farmers fight bugs and insect pests. Among the students in this line are Mrs. James H. Stetson and Mrs. George E. Pfaffmann. The latter is so enthusiastic about this study that she has offered to conduct those interested in birds on early Sunday morning walks. As there is no expense on these outings there should be a large number of lovers of nature both young and old, who will avail themselves of this opportunity. All the equipment necessary for studying birds is a pair of glasses to make the markings distinct and some good bird book in which to find the reproduction of the birds under observation.

QUINCY POINT

The annual banquet and ladies' night of the Men's club of the Quincy Point club will be held Wednesday evening, April 16.

John Ahern, aged 35 years died Sunday night at 192 South street, after a long illness. He leaves a father, Daniel and one sister.

The Quincy Point Social club which formerly occupied the premises at Chubbuck and Washington streets have taken headquarters in the Damon block nearby.

The weekly whist party of the Town River Yacht Club was held at the clubhouse Monday evening. The high scorers were Mrs. Isabelle Flannagan, Mrs. Gilbert Arnold and Mrs. Emma Marnock. Dancing followed, Miss Roscoe R. Ricker presiding at the piano.

Because of the dance which will take place in Alpha hall, Tuesday evening the weekly party will be omitted Monday evening.

James Kelly, single, of 506 South street, died at the Red Cross Hospital at the Fore River yards on Monday from a heart ailment. He was 62 years of age and was employed by being run over by a coal car. The accident occurred about 10 o'clock. The cause is unknown.

WEST QUINCY

Miss Georgietta M. Thayer is confined to her home on Crescent street with tonsillitis, her many friends hope to see her around and out again soon.

The last number in the course of lectures at the Hall Place M. E. church will be given Wednesday evening by Rev. I. H. Hughes D. D., subject "Life as a cowboy."

Miss Helen Martin of Hall place spent the week end with friends in Roxbury.

Miss Pauletta Kristofferson of Crescent street left Monday to spend a few weeks at Walpole.

A. A. Shady and daughter of Brooklyn, New York spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Newcomb of Hall place.

A flying piece of steel struck John Clark of Bunker Hill avenue in the left wrist this morning and severed a blood vessel, which was fatal. Dr. O'Connor was a brother of Eugene W. O'Connor of Pleasant street and of Mrs. Michael Walsh of Quincy avenue. When in Quincy Mr. O'Connor was well known but he left the city for California many years ago. He leaves a daughter.

A celebration of the Hebrew feast of Purim in the form of an invitation party, was given Sunday evening by the C. A. A. Girls, at the home of Miss Sadie Berman. A very pleasant evening was in order, the following program being in order: piano solos by Misses Anna O'Connor, Marion Litchman, Doris Grabsky, Sadie Berman, Paulina Litchman, Celia Edelstein and Etta Grossman; violin solo by Edward Berman, accompanied by Miss Doris Grabsky; Jack Litchman in songs and impersonations; and selections by the Quincy Y. M. H. A. quartet.

Refreshments were served and a general pleasant hour was spent. Rev. Mr. Rackett spoke, congratulating the pastor upon his birthday, his church, flock and the good work he had performed in the ministry. The choir sang, "Through the Gates of Pearly." Rev. Mr. Lillback, in responding to the remarks of the previous speaker, thanked his people and the preacher for their good wishes and pledged himself to continue in the field of labor for their good.

At the close of the religious service at the Finnish Congregational church, Thursday evening, an invitation of Deacon Nelson, the entire congregation repaired to the vestry where a little surprise was sprung on the popular pastor of the church, Rev. John E. Lillback. While some were in the secret, there were others who were not aware that it was the pastor's birthday. Busy hands had decorated the apartment with tulips and carnations and on a table 33 candles were in position indicating the age of the pastor while on the birthday cake which was in evidence were his family.

Refreshments were served and a general pleasant hour was spent. Rev. Mr. Rackett spoke, congratulating the pastor upon his birthday, his church, flock and the good work he had performed in the ministry. The choir sang, "Through the Gates of Pearly." Rev. Mr. Lillback, in responding to the remarks of the previous speaker, thanked his people and the preacher for their good wishes and pledged himself to continue in the field of labor for their good.

At the Calvary Baptist church, on Wednesday evening, a very successful celebration of the Livingstone centenary took place under the direction of the Woman's Missionary Society. The following program was given:

An Account of the Early Life of Livingstone. "Who Follows in His Train." Class of Young Ladies. David Livingstone as a Missionary. Alice R. Tilley. Livingstone as an Explorer.

Mr. Robert Farquhar recited, "Drown, Half-Mast Color." Miss Margaret Hoffman. Prayer, Life and Death of Livingstone. Pastor Tilley.

Mrs. Kidder and Mr. Farquhar sang a duet and the choir the funeral hymn of Livingstone. Master Harold Kidder prepared an extemporaneous address, showing the journeys of Livingstone. A social hour was enjoyed at the close of the program.

All interested in lighting fixtures for their homes and public buildings should not fail to see the display of McKenney & Waterbury Co., 151 Franklin street, corner Congress, Boston, practical installers of electric and Gas Lighting Fixtures, showing the latest eye saving lighting fixtures, including the new equalize ray line.

PARK AND DOWNS.

Miss Susie A. Pickering of 72 Billings road, who has been in Southern for school, in Springfield to spend the Easter recess with her parents.

George H. Kendrick, New England sales manager of the Crandall Packing Co., 18 Beach street, Wollaston, attended the annual branch salesmen's convention of the company, March 14 and 15, which terminated at a clam bake, Saturday evening.

The funeral of Frank E. Hall who died Friday, was held from his home, Mulrigh street, Sunday afternoon, Rev. George S. Wheeler of Providence officiated. Burial was in Mt. Wollaston cemetery.

Mr. Hall was the inventor of sectional rubber tires and held several patents in rubber manufacturing.

Quincy Mansion school closed Wednesday for the Easter recess of two weeks.

A large number attended the luncheon of the Women's Guild of the Park and Downs church, March 14, the proceeds of which will go toward the organ fund. The decorations were in green and white with jonquils.

Mrs. Charles P. Bryant and Mrs. Seth P. Crocker were the hostesses of the luncheon at the home of Mrs. Charles P. Bryant, who was the committee consisting of Mrs. Aloana Bisset, Mrs. Charles A. Richardson, Mrs. Helen Boynton, Mrs. Walter Day, Mr. L. I. Letson, Mrs. Arthur P. Capen, Mrs. Fred Robinson, Mrs. James D. Willson, Mrs. Charles L. Gillatt, Mrs. Salander.

A large number of young people of the Park and Downs church made merry at the social of the Choir Chapter in the vestry Monday evening. Games were enjoyed and a dainty collation served. Decorations of green with shamrocks were in evidence. The evening was in charge of Miss Freda Klingenberg and Miss Mildred Podbury.

Dennis Farrell, custodian of the Wollaston Boulevard police station has practically recovered from a two weeks illness.

Mrs. Sarah Davenport who was operated on at the City Hospital for both eyes and who has returned to her home 61 Vana street, Norfolk Downs, and her many friends are pleased to hear that she is rapidly improving.

WOLLASTON

Miss Abbie K. Wilde of Prospect avenue is at her home on Taylor town, New York for the Easter recess.

Mr. and Mrs. Felix J. McCann of Philadelphia are guests of Mrs. George G. Roberts of Lincoln avenue.

The choir of St. Christy's Church have a food sale at Alfred E. Walker's, office corner of Newport avenue and Beale street, Saturday, March 29th from 2 until 8 o'clock. It is under the direction of the choir mistress, Mrs. William Dean Sanford.

Replying to the great demand for a repetition of the cantata of the "Holy City," which met with great success at the Wollaston Congregational church, Feb. 25, the music committee has decided to present Stainer's "Crucifixion," Easter Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The same chorus of forty voices under the direction of W. C. Rogers will assist the regular church quartet in the presentation.

The funeral of Mrs. Anna J. Dorr, widow of Samuel Dorr who died Saturday morning in her 78th year was held Monday afternoon from the home of her daughter, Mrs. Charles P. Loring, 5 Lincoln avenue. Services were conducted by Rev. I. W. Stetson. Burial was in Mt. Wollaston cemetery.

SOUTH QUINCY

It was reported to the police on Monday that sometime between Saturday afternoon and Monday morning vandals had entered the granite yard of the A. W. Smith, Granite Co. at Centre street and done several acts of vandalism such as tipping over monuments, etc.

The funeral of Mrs. Hilda Griefelder who died Friday morning in her 57th year was held Sunday afternoon from her home 325 Water street. Services were conducted by Rev. Paul Hallin of the Swedish Baptist church. Burial was in Mt. Wollaston cemetery.

PASTOR SURPRISED.

At the close of the religious service at the Finnish Congregational church, Thursday evening, an invitation of Deacon Nelson, the entire congregation repaired to the vestry where a little surprise was sprung on the popular pastor of the church, Rev. John E. Lillback. While some were in the secret, there were others who were not aware that it was the pastor's birthday. Busy hands had decorated the apartment with tulips and carnations and on a table 33 candles were in position indicating the age of the pastor while on the birthday cake which was in evidence were his family.

Refreshments were served and a general pleasant hour was spent. Rev. Mr. Rackett spoke, congratulating the pastor upon his birthday, his church, flock and the good work he had performed in the ministry. The choir sang, "Through the Gates of Pearly." Rev. Mr. Lillback, in responding to the remarks of the previous speaker, thanked his people and the preacher for their good wishes and pledged himself to continue in the field of labor for their good.

At the Calvary Baptist church, on Wednesday evening, a very successful celebration of the Livingstone centenary took place under the direction of the Woman's Missionary Society. The following program was given:

An Account of the Early Life of Livingstone. "Who Follows in His Train." Class of Young Ladies. David Livingstone as a Missionary. Alice R. Tilley. Livingstone as an Explorer.

Mr. Robert Farquhar recited, "Drown, Half-Mast Color." Miss Margaret Hoffman. Prayer, Life and Death of Livingstone. Pastor Tilley.

Mrs. Kidder and Mr. Farquhar sang a duet and the choir the funeral hymn of Livingstone. Master Harold Kidder prepared an extemporaneous address, showing the journeys of Livingstone. A social hour was enjoyed at the close of the program.

All interested in lighting fixtures for their homes and public buildings should not fail to see the display of McKenney & Waterbury Co., 151 Franklin street, corner Congress, Boston, practical installers of electric and Gas Lighting Fixtures, showing the latest eye saving lighting fixtures, including the new equalize ray line.

At the Calvary Baptist church, on Wednesday evening, a very successful celebration of the Livingstone centenary took place under the direction of the Woman's Missionary Society. The following program was given:

An Account of the Early Life of Livingstone. "Who Follows in His Train." Class of Young Ladies. David Livingstone as a Missionary. Alice R. Tilley. Livingstone as an Explorer.

Mr. Robert Farquhar recited, "Drown, Half-Mast Color." Miss Margaret Hoffman. Prayer, Life and Death of Livingstone. Pastor Tilley.

Mrs. Kidder and Mr. Farquhar sang a duet and the choir the funeral hymn of Livingstone. Master Harold Kidder prepared an extemporaneous address, showing the journeys of Livingstone. A social hour was enjoyed at the close of the program.

All interested in lighting fixtures for their homes and public buildings should not fail to see the display of McKenney & Waterbury Co., 151 Franklin street, corner Congress, Boston, practical installers of electric and Gas Lighting Fixtures, showing the latest eye saving lighting fixtures, including the new equalize ray line.

ATLANTIC

Rev. T. W. Davison of Billings street was tendered a surprise party Thursday evening in honor of his birthday. His friends assembled at his home and surprised him as he entered the house. He was presented with a house-coat. Games and music were enjoyed after which refreshments were served. Among those present were Rev. and Mrs. Davison, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Hall, Mr. and Mrs. John Murray, Mr. and Mrs. David Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. William Heyser, Mr. and Mrs. Alva Beede, Miss Hazel Davison, Miss Jordine Davison and Arthur Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred M. Burditt and family of Clive street and Mrs. E. E. Walker, who are spending the Easter recess in Western New York.

Miss Catherine Litchfield, Quincy Mansion 14, and Miss Gladys Willey of Walker street, are spending the Easter recess at Miss Litchfield's home in New York.

Walter E. Clive street has been spending the last few weeks in New Hampshire, where he is expecting to remove his family in the near future.

The Quincy Patriot

SATURDAY, MARCH 29, 1913

WIND AND RAIN.

This part of the country was swept by a terrific gale, which is evidently the tail end of the cyclone which struck the middle west earlier in the week and produced such terrible havoc to life and property. As the people in this vicinity are hearing more of the area over which the middle west cyclone swept and the vast sweep of the flood which followed it, many are anxious for the safety of relatives who reside within the stricken zone. Many messages have been received at the Ledger office regarding relatives or friends of Quincy people who are known to live within the devastated district.

The local storm which had been simmering along for several days, broke in all its fury yesterday afternoon about four o'clock and continued with unabated fierceness until after midnight when the moon made its appearance and the morning the sun was shining and everything was tranquil, although the weather was cold.

The wind blew a gale from the north west and the rain came down in torrents, flooding the street and trees were felled by branches at many points, several times the fire alarm sounded owing to crossed wires.

Much havoc was wrought by the wind along the South Shore. In Braintree a large tree, some 20 inches in diameter, standing on Middle street in front of the residence of Eben Prescott, was uprooted and came crashing down nearly across the piazza of the Prescott house blocking the street. The greenhouse of George H. Arnold some distance away, was devastated by the gale, hundreds of panes of glass giving way.

The effect of the heavy rains was felt in all of the small streams and rivers about Quincy. The Monacot river in Boston from the Broad Meadows to tide water was higher than at any time within the memory of the oldest residents.

Contrary to reports, no poles or wires were blown down in this city and neither the telephone or electric light company were handicapped.

Miss Ruth Parker, daughter of Theodore Parker of Atlantic is living in the flooded city of Dayton, Ohio. She is the assistant physician, instructor in the Y. W. C. A., a building in the heart of the affected district.

No word has been received from her and many friends fear that she was caught within the limits of the flood and is undergoing the sufferings coincident with the appearance of the waters.

Miss Parker is well known here and has been a frequent visitor. She has many friends who are anxiously awaiting definite reports of her safety and that the daring investigators who courageously invaded the danger zone and found many safe who were supposed to be lost have her name in the large list secured.

Much anxiety is felt by William A. Richards, the monumental designer for the safety of his city. It is hoped that the daring investigators who courageously invaded the danger zone and found many safe who were supposed to be lost have her name in the large list secured.

Half a dozen candidates were initiated into the mysteries of Elksdom at the regular meeting of the Elks lodge of Elks Tuesday evening. After the business of the evening adjournment was made to the clubhouse on Foster street where the brothers were entertained by artists from a local theatre.

Miss Olive Louise Huston, who is soon to become the bride of Joseph Gilman Jacobs of Wollaston, resigned this week her position as teacher at the Willard school on Thursday evening was given a linen shower at her home, 67 Revere road by eighteen teachers of the school. It was a very happy occasion, "the shower," refreshments and merriment causing the evening to pass all too quickly.

Society and musical circles are much interested in the song recital to be given Monday evening in Colonial hall, the artists being Max Lippman of the Boston Opera company, and the youngest German operatic tenor, Mrs. James H. Slade, soprano; J. Baraja Frauenfelder, bass and Enrico Baraja, piano. A long list of subscribers indicates a large audience.

The funeral of Isabella M. Gregory who died at the Quincy City Hospital March 24 in her 61st year, took place from her home 941 Hancock street, Wednesday morning. A high mass of requiem was celebrated at St. John's church by Rev. Fr. John J. Casey. Burial was in St. Mary's cemetery. The deceased was born in this city and leaves one brother and two sisters one of whom is Mrs. Henry Lavelle of Wollaston.

A bit of local color is added to the famous Admiral Eaton case, when it is recalled that at the time the Admiral was in command of the training ship Enterprise, a Quincy boy was a cadet on the vessel. "This boy was a son of James P. Clare of Quincy and contracted diphtheria while on vessel and died. At that time there was an official investigation and although Admiral Eaton was exonerated the surgeon on the ship was forced to resign.

A marriage of interest to Quincy people was solemnized at Branford, Tuesday evening when Charles Newcomb Baxter formerly of this city was united in marriage to Miss Iva George Bishop of Branford. The ceremony was performed by Rev. George Wood Barhadt. Mr. Baxter left Quincy last week to become the librarian of the Blackstone Memorial library at Branford.

Mr. Stoddard was a machinist by trade. He was a native of Shrewsbury and lived for many years in Worcester. He was a member of Central Lodge, I. O. O. F. and Montague Lodge, F. & M. of that city.

George W. Stebbins died on Wednesday at his home 72 Broad street in his 64th year. He leaves a wife and two sons. Mr. Stebbins was a machinist by trade. He was a native of Shrewsbury and lived for many years in Worcester. He was a member of Central Lodge, I. O. O. F. and Montague Lodge, F. & M. of that city.

George W. Stebbins died on Wednesday at his home 72 Broad street in his 64th year. He leaves a wife and two sons. Mr. Stebbins was a machinist by trade. He was a native of Shrewsbury and lived for many years in Worcester. He was a member of Central Lodge, I. O. O. F. and Montague Lodge, F. & M. of that city.

George W. Stebbins died on Wednesday at his home 72 Broad street in his 64th year. He leaves a wife and two sons. Mr. Stebbins was a machinist by trade. He was a native of Shrewsbury and lived for many years in Worcester. He was a member of Central Lodge, I. O. O. F. and Montague Lodge, F. & M. of that city.

George W. Stebbins died on Wednesday at his home 72 Broad street in his 64th year. He leaves a wife and two sons. Mr. Stebbins was a machinist by trade. He was a native of Shrewsbury and lived for many years in Worcester. He was a member of Central Lodge, I. O. O. F. and Montague Lodge, F. & M. of that city.

George W. Stebbins died on Wednesday at his home 72 Broad street in his 64th year. He leaves a wife and two sons. Mr. Stebbins was a machinist by trade. He was a native of Shrewsbury and lived for many years in Worcester. He was a member of Central Lodge, I. O. O. F. and Montague Lodge, F. & M. of that city.

George W. Stebbins died on Wednesday at his home 72 Broad street in his 64th year. He leaves a wife and two sons. Mr. Stebbins was a machinist by trade. He was a native of Shrewsbury and lived for many years in Worcester. He was a member of Central Lodge, I. O. O. F. and Montague Lodge, F. & M. of that city.

George W. Stebbins died on Wednesday at his home 72 Broad street in his 64th year. He leaves a wife and two sons. Mr. Stebbins was a machinist by trade. He was a native of Shrewsbury and lived for many years in Worcester. He was a member of Central Lodge, I. O. O. F. and Montague Lodge, F. & M. of that city.

BRIEFS

Quincy Commandery made a fine appearance Sunday turning out more than seventy in full uniform.

Daniel Palvey has returned to this city after a winter at the Isle of Pines.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Rice and family and Mr. P. B. Rice have returned to their home in Dover.

Joseph Currie, a well known Quincy young man has returned to Brooklyn N. Y. Navy Yard, after spending a few days here.

Faxon Loyal Temperance Legion meets Thursday afternoon in Protection hall at 4.15. All are most cordially invited to attend.

Mrs. Harrison F. Lord, wife of Harrison F. Lord of the Board of Health is at the Quincy City Hospital where she is recovering from an operation. She is fairly comfortable.

The merchants in City Square were grateful to Commissioner Tupper Monday afternoon for putting out a watering cart and laying the dust in City Square which was being blown about in great clouds.

Herbert Smith and Bernard Burke, first and second high average men in the Shilliters team which won first place in the Fore River bowling league will roll at the Coliseum alleys, April 5 and 15.

A very enjoyable afternoon was spent Thursday with Mrs. Wagon at Revere Road. Several songs sung by Mrs. Mary Slade added much to the pleasure of the occasion and those present.

Rebecca Wiswell Tent, No. 53, Daughters of Veterans has been organized in Quincy. Officers have been elected for the coming year and they will be publicly installed at Elks hall, Monday evening.

The many friends of little May Brewster who is at Quincy Hospital will be pleased to learn that she is improving rapidly. The little girl figured in an auto accident some time ago.

Miss Helen Connor, the well known pianist has so far recovered from her recent operation at Quincy Hospital as to be at home. Miss Connor leaves this week for a long stay at Lexington where she hopes to fully regain her health.

The W. C. T. U. hold their next regular meeting April 3 in Protection hall at 2.30. All members are requested to be present as business of importance is to come before the meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest E. Branch who have been passing the winter at Port Ormond, Florida, are expected home the first of the week and will be at their home on Putnam street by April first.

Mrs. Dexter Emerson Wadsworth and her father Colonel Edward Adams, who have been in Boston at The Thordike for February and March, returned this week to their Presidents hill home.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvah Pierce, nee Helen Clafin, who have recently returned from Germany and have been guests at the Clafin home on Greenleaf street, have rented one of Mr. Faxon's houses on the Dr. Everett estate.

Half a dozen candidates were initiated into the mysteries of Elksdom at the regular meeting of the Elks lodge of Elks Tuesday evening. After the business of the evening adjournment was made to the clubhouse on Foster street where the brothers were entertained by artists from a local theatre.

Miss Olive Louise Huston, who is soon to become the bride of Joseph Gilman Jacobs of Wollaston, resigned this week her position as teacher at the Willard school on Thursday evening was given a linen shower at her home, 67 Revere road by eighteen teachers of the school. It was a very happy occasion, "the shower," refreshments and merriment causing the evening to pass all too quickly.

Society and musical circles are much interested in the song recital to be given Monday evening in Colonial hall, the artists being Max Lippman of the Boston Opera company, and the youngest German operatic tenor, Mrs. James H. Slade, soprano; J. Baraja Frauenfelder, bass and Enrico Baraja, piano. A long list of subscribers indicates a large audience.

The funeral of Isabella M. Gregory who died at the Quincy City Hospital March 24 in her 61st year, took place from her home 941 Hancock street, Wednesday morning. A high mass of requiem was celebrated at St. John's church by Rev. Fr. John J. Casey. Burial was in St. Mary's cemetery. The deceased was born in this city and leaves one brother and two sisters one of whom is Mrs. Henry Lavelle of Wollaston.

A bit of local color is added to the famous Admiral Eaton case, when it is recalled that at the time the Admiral was in command of the training ship Enterprise, a Quincy boy was a cadet on the vessel. "This boy was a son of James P. Clare of Quincy and contracted diphtheria while on vessel and died. At that time there was an official investigation and although Admiral Eaton was exonerated the surgeon on the ship was forced to resign.

A marriage of interest to Quincy people was solemnized at Branford, Tuesday evening when Charles Newcomb Baxter formerly of this city was united in marriage to Miss Iva George Bishop of Branford. The ceremony was performed by Rev. George Wood Barhadt. Mr. Baxter left Quincy last week to become the librarian of the Blackstone Memorial library at Branford.

Mr. Stoddard was a machinist by trade. He was a native of Shrewsbury and lived for many years in Worcester. He was a member of Central Lodge, I. O. O. F. and Montague Lodge, F. & M. of that city.

George W. Stebbins died on Wednesday at his home 72 Broad street in his 64th year. He leaves a wife and two sons. Mr. Stebbins was a machinist by trade. He was a native of Shrewsbury and lived for many years in Worcester. He was a member of Central Lodge, I. O. O. F. and Montague Lodge, F. & M. of that city.

George W. Stebbins died on Wednesday at his home 72 Broad street in his 64th year. He leaves a wife and two sons. Mr. Stebbins was a machinist by trade. He was a native of Shrewsbury and lived for many years in Worcester. He was a member of Central Lodge, I. O. O. F. and Montague Lodge, F. & M. of that city.

George W. Stebbins died on Wednesday at his home 72 Broad street in his 64th year. He leaves a wife and two sons. Mr. Stebbins was a machinist by trade. He was a native of Shrewsbury and lived for many years in Worcester. He was a member of Central Lodge, I. O. O. F. and Montague Lodge, F. & M. of that city.

George W. Stebbins died on Wednesday at his home 72 Broad street in his 64th year. He leaves a wife and two sons. Mr. Stebbins was a machinist by trade. He was a native of Shrewsbury and lived for many years in Worcester. He was a member of Central Lodge, I. O. O. F. and Montague Lodge, F. & M. of that city.

George W. Stebbins died on Wednesday at his home 72 Broad street in his 64th year. He leaves a wife and two sons. Mr. Stebbins was a machinist by trade. He was a native of Shrewsbury and lived for many years in Worcester. He was a member of Central Lodge, I. O. O. F. and Montague Lodge, F. & M. of that city.

George W. Stebbins died on Wednesday at his home 72 Broad street in his 64th year. He leaves a wife and two sons. Mr. Stebbins was a machinist by trade. He was a native of Shrewsbury and lived for many years in Worcester. He was a member of Central Lodge, I. O. O. F. and Montague Lodge, F. & M. of that city.

George W. Stebbins died on Wednesday at his home 72 Broad street in his 64th year. He leaves a wife and two sons. Mr. Stebbins was a machinist by trade. He was a native of Shrewsbury and lived for many years in Worcester. He was a member of Central Lodge, I. O. O. F. and Montague Lodge, F. & M. of that city.

BRIEFS

Milton Burton left last week for a trip to New York, Philadelphia and Chicago.

A voice recital by several of the pupils of Miss Emma A. Perkins will be given in the new Colonial hall, Wednesday evening, April 2.

Misses Isabel and Grace Kateon who teach in New Bedford spent the Easter vacation with their brother John L. Kateon of Chestnut street.

The sewing circle of Dorothy Q. Lodge No. 55 U. O. of I. O. L. met on Monday with Mrs. Edward F. Livingston of 42 Glendale road, Monday evening April 7 the lodge is to hold a whist party in Odd Fellows hall, Wollaston.

Mrs. Arthur C. Merritt of Elm place has returned from Middlebury, Vt., where she has been on a visit to her son Ralph who has recently become the father of a bouncing boy who has been named Herbert Bingham Merritt.

Maple lodge, K. and L. of H. will entertain the grand officers, district deputy and subordinates, at a social evening at Elks hall Wednesday evening. Plans have been made for a record attendance.

The local high school can not only turn out good business men, but that some of its members are also good comedians, judging from the rehearsal for the minstrel show to be given by the boys Friday evening, April 4.

A masquerade party will be held by St. Margaret's Guild in the Christ Church parish house, April 11. The committee is under the direction of their president, Miss Elizabeth G. Dickie.

The cup won by the degree team of John Adams Aerie, F. O. E. at the Revere Aerie contest Monday, was the centre of attraction at the meeting at Elks hall, Wednesday evening. A vote of thanks was extended to the members.

Court John Erickson beat John Adams in the Foresters league at the Coliseum alleys, Thursday evening, 3 to 1. Sandberg was high man with a single of 100 and Hermanson secured best total of 273.

The American team beat the Argentine 3 to 1. Both had only four men. The Quincy team had five.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Fay who have made their home in Indianapolis, Indiana, spent the last few days of the week here, contemplating returning to Quincy. Mr. Fay was for many years connected with the Quincy Mutual Fire Insurance Company and owned an attractive estate on Greenleaf street.

Mrs. S. DeForest of Goddard street, South Quincy gave a tea Wednesday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Walter P. Hill of Cliff street, Atlantic. A few of her friends attended and an enjoyable afternoon was spent. Mrs. Hill is to make her future home in New Hampshire and leaves soon to join her husband. As a token of remembrance her friends presented her with a leather hand bag.

A well attended whist party was held at G. A. R. hall, Wednesday evening, in honor of the troops who have been in the line for many years. The committee was headed by Mrs. Frank Stoddard.

A largely attended whist party was held in Elks hall, Thursday evening by Women's Lady Moose Circle, No. 26. There were 26 tables in play. The high scores were Mrs. Edward J. Sandberg, Mrs. Herbert Johnson, Mrs. C. L. Bean, Mrs. Emma E. Marnock, Mrs. W. R. Thomas, Herbert Selton, Jacob Van Vloten, Patrick A. Milford, Albert W. Lawton, R. A. Johnson.

The G. L. Gill club held a successful whist party in I. O. O. F. hall Thursday afternoon and souvenirs were awarded Mrs. Emma E. Marnock, Miss M. Lizzie Farnall, Mrs. B. Portierfield, Mrs. Wm. Thomas, Mrs. Magie Bingle and the consolation went to Mrs. Sarah C. Williams. The highest score was 52 and the lowest 16.

A. J. Rondthaler D. D. of Indianapolis, Associate Governor General of the Moose was the speaker at the memorial services in Kincaid hall Sunday afternoon. An elaborate program has been arranged consisting of solos and orchestral selections, together with the address. Final arrangements were made at a meeting Thursday evening in Faxon hall.

The funeral of Miss Judith E. Swanson who died Friday in her 15th year was held Sunday afternoon from the home of her parents, 107 Franklin street. Services were conducted at the Swedish Congregational Church by Rev. O. G. Noren of Worcester. Burial was in Mt. Wollaston cemetery. She leaves her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Swanson.

The bill presented to the legislature on the petition of John D. McKay, Esq. of Quincy, providing that "in police, district and municipal courts the former conviction of a defendant shall not be communicated to the judge by the probation officer until the defendant has been found guilty of a crime." was returned to the legislature, Wednesday with a veto message from Gov. Foss.

While James Mackin, a clerk of the Boston Post Office was leaving the Town Hall Assembly at Alpha hall, Tuesday evening he slipped on the stairs and fractured his knee cap. Dr. C. W. Garey was summoned and after he had set the knee the injured man was taken to his home, 884 Broadway, South Boston.

Asahel F. Nott of Cohasset was taken from the 6.30 train at the Quincy station Thursday night on complaint of the conductor, for drunkenness and for behaving in a disorderly manner on the train. In court this morning the conductor testified that Nott made a nuisance of himself all the way out from Boston and greatly annoyed the passengers in the car. The court placed the case for drunkenness and fined and imposed a fine of $25 for disturbance on the cars. He paid.

George W. Stebbins died on Wednesday at his home 72 Broad street in his 64th year. He leaves a wife and two sons. Mr. Stebbins was a machinist by trade. He was a native of Shrewsbury and lived for many years in Worcester. He was a member of Central Lodge, I. O. O. F. and Montague Lodge, F. & M. of that city.

George W. Stebbins died on Wednesday at his home 72 Broad street in his 64th year. He leaves a wife and two sons. Mr. Stebbins was a machinist by trade. He was a native of Shrewsbury and lived for many years in Worcester. He was a member of Central Lodge, I. O. O. F. and Montague Lodge, F. & M. of that city.

George W. Stebbins died on Wednesday at his home 72 Broad street in his 64th year. He leaves a wife and two sons. Mr. Stebbins was a machinist by trade. He was a native of Shrewsbury and lived for many years in Worcester. He was a member of Central Lodge, I. O. O. F. and Montague Lodge, F. & M. of that city.

George W. Stebbins died on Wednesday at his home 72 Broad street in his 64th year. He leaves a wife and two sons. Mr. Stebbins was a machinist by trade. He was a native of Shrewsbury and lived for many years in Worcester. He was a member of Central Lodge, I. O. O. F. and Montague Lodge, F. & M. of that city.

George W. Stebbins died on Wednesday at his home 72 Broad street in his 64th year. He leaves a wife and two sons. Mr. Stebbins was a machinist by trade. He was a native of Shrewsbury and lived for many years in Worcester. He was a member of Central Lodge, I. O. O. F. and Montague Lodge, F. & M. of that city.

George W. Stebbins died on Wednesday at his home 72 Broad street in his 64th year. He leaves a wife and two sons. Mr. Stebbins was a machinist by trade. He was a native of Shrewsbury and lived for many years in Worcester. He was a member of Central Lodge, I. O. O. F. and Montague Lodge, F. & M. of that city.

George W. Stebbins died on Wednesday at his home 72 Broad street in his 64th year. He leaves a wife and two sons. Mr. Stebbins was a machinist by trade. He was a native of Shrewsbury and lived for many years in Worcester. He was a member of Central Lodge, I. O. O. F. and Montague Lodge, F. & M. of that city.

George W. Stebbins died on Wednesday at his home 72 Broad street in his 64th year. He leaves a wife and two sons. Mr. Stebbins was a machinist by trade. He was a native of Shrewsbury and lived for many years in Worcester. He was a member of Central Lodge, I. O. O. F. and Montague Lodge, F. & M. of that city.

George W. Stebbins died on Wednesday at his home 72 Broad street in his 64th year. He leaves a wife and two sons. Mr. Stebbins was a machinist by trade. He was a native of Shrewsbury and lived for many years in Worcester. He was a member of Central Lodge, I. O. O. F. and Montague Lodge, F. & M. of that city.

QUINCY POINT

A formal letter of acceptance has been received by the Quincy Point Congregational Church from Rev. Sherman Goodwin of Brookfield. He stated that he would assume the pastorate May 1st. He was called shortly after Rev. C. P. Marshall resigned to accept the pastorate of the church of the Pilgrimage at Plymouth.

The next meeting of the Parents' and Teachers' association of the Washington school will be held Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. Rev. Benjamin A. Willmott will speak on "The relation of Rev. school and home." The pupils of the seventh grade will sing under the direction of Miss McCall.

Miss Elizabeth H. Buckley one of West Quincy's long time residents died Saturday afternoon at her home 64 Buckley street, after a short illness. She was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Buckley, who were among the early Irish settlers of Quincy. The deceased was in her 66th year.

A degree team is being formed by the members of Div. 22, A. O. H. under the direction of President James H. O'Dowd. This additional feature of the organization is due to the large number of applications which have been received during the past year. The substantial increase in members is in excess of that added by other organizations and the members are making every effort to boost the figure to large numbers.

Hon. William T. Shea quietly observed his 56th birthday on Wednesday. The funeral of Miss Elizabeth Buckley who died Saturday in her 66th year was held Tuesday morning from her home 64 Buckley street. A high mass of requiem was celebrated at St. John's church, Rev. William J. Duffy officiating. The deceased was one of West Quincy's best known residents. She was a member of Ladies Auxiliary, No. 5, A. O. H. and a delegation attended the services. The bearers were John J. Fallon, Charles Fallon, Thomas Fallon, John Fallon and Charles A. Spencer of Medford.

The "round-up" in the course of lectures at the Hall Place M. E. Church during the winter months occurred Wednesday evening when Rev. L. H. Bugbee, D. D. of Malden gave an amusing and interesting lecture on "Life as a Cowboy." Dr. Bugbee gave a fine account of his own experiences as a "cow puncher" in Montana where he went upon advice in search of health, back to the heart of nature for the strength and vigor which only nature can give.

The many friends of Mr. George Curran are rejoicing that he is back in Quincy. Mr. Curran is director of the choir and Mr. Curran, secretary of the new Wollaston Citizens Association and both are active in the church and social interests of that section of the city.

Charles E. Perkins, 27 Lincoln avenue died Tuesday evening. He came from Chelsea to Atlantic and shortly after became a resident of Wollaston.

Lyman A. Brown of 224 Fayette street who was operated upon for appendicitis two months ago is still in a very serious condition and his mother Mrs. Susan Brown of Beverly, Ohio, his brother, Rev. A. Brown of Youngstown, Ohio and his sister Mrs. A. W. Patterson of Washington, D. C. have been called to his bedside.

John Hancock Lodge of Odd Fellows received a fraternal visitation from America lodge of Roxbury Wednesday evening. There was a very high turnout of members from Hancock and America lodges. The degree team of the visitors exemplified the third degree on two candidates. After the work of the evening there was an entertainment and refreshments were served.

Miss Marion L. Moorhouse, the cellist of Wollaston, who has been teaching since last fall, Miss Parker was graduated from the Quincy High school, class of 1909, and from Sargent's school, Boston, last year.

The Wollaston Glee Club offers special attractions for the Spring concert Wednesday evening April 2, Mme. Camporelli, a prima donna of the Boston Opera Co. is to sing, and the club is to be heard with the assisting artists in the New School Hall on Beale street, Wollaston. The Glee Club expects to see all its old friends and urges those unacquainted with its excellent work to come to this gala occasion.

The Foresters lodge of Wollaston offers special attractions for the Spring concert Wednesday evening April 2, Mme. Camporelli, a prima donna of the Boston Opera Co. is to sing, and the club is to be heard with the assisting artists in the New School Hall on Beale street, Wollaston. The Glee Club expects to see all its old friends and urges those unacquainted with its excellent work to come to this gala occasion.

The Foresters lodge of Wollaston offers special attractions for the Spring concert Wednesday evening April 2, Mme. Camporelli, a prima donna of the Boston Opera Co. is to sing, and the club is to be heard with the assisting artists in the New School Hall on Beale street, Wollaston. The Glee Club expects to see all its old friends and urges those unacquainted with its excellent work to come to this gala occasion.

The Foresters lodge of Wollaston offers special attractions for the Spring concert Wednesday evening April 2, Mme. Camporelli, a prima donna of the Boston Opera Co. is to sing, and the club is to be heard with the assisting artists in the New School Hall on Beale street, Wollaston. The Glee Club expects to see all its old friends and urges those unacquainted with its excellent work to come to this gala occasion.

The Foresters lodge of Wollaston offers special attractions for the Spring concert Wednesday evening April 2, Mme. Camporelli, a prima donna of the Boston Opera Co. is to sing, and the club is to be heard with the assisting artists in the New School Hall on Beale street, Wollaston. The Glee Club expects to see all its old friends and urges those unacquainted with its excellent work to come to this gala occasion.

The Foresters lodge of Wollaston offers special attractions for the Spring concert Wednesday evening April 2, Mme. Camporelli, a prima donna of the Boston Opera Co. is to sing, and the club is to be heard with the assisting artists in the New School Hall on Beale street, Wollaston. The Glee Club expects to see all its old friends and urges those unacquainted with its excellent work to come to this gala occasion.

The Foresters lodge of Wollaston offers special attractions for the Spring concert Wednesday evening April 2, Mme. Camporelli, a prima donna of the Boston Opera Co. is to sing, and the club is to be heard with the assisting artists in the New School Hall on Beale street, Wollaston. The Glee Club expects to see all its old friends and urges those unacquainted with its excellent work to come to this gala occasion.

The Foresters lodge of Wollaston offers special attractions for the Spring concert Wednesday evening April 2, Mme. Camporelli, a prima donna of the Boston Opera Co. is to sing, and the club is to be heard with the assisting artists in the New School Hall on Beale street, Wollaston. The Glee Club expects to see all its old friends and urges those unacquainted with its excellent work to come to this gala occasion.

The Foresters lodge of Wollaston offers special attractions for the Spring concert Wednesday evening April 2, Mme. Camporelli, a prima donna of the Boston Opera Co. is to sing, and the club is to be heard with the assisting artists in the New School Hall on Beale street, Wollaston. The Glee Club expects to see all its old friends and urges those unacquainted with its excellent work to come to this gala occasion.

The Foresters lodge of Wollaston offers special attractions for the Spring concert Wednesday evening April 2, Mme. Camporelli, a prima donna of the Boston Opera Co. is to sing, and the club is to be heard with the assisting artists in the New School Hall on Beale street, Wollaston. The Glee Club expects to see all its old friends and urges those unacquainted with its excellent work to come to this gala occasion.

The Foresters lodge of Wollaston offers special attractions for the Spring concert Wednesday evening April 2, Mme. Camporelli, a prima donna of the Boston Opera Co. is to sing, and the club is to be heard with the assisting artists in the New School Hall on Beale street, Wollaston. The Glee Club expects to see all its old friends and urges those unacquainted with its excellent work to come to this gala occasion.

The Foresters lodge of Wollaston offers special attractions for the Spring concert Wednesday evening April 2, Mme. Camporelli, a prima donna of the Boston Opera Co. is to sing, and the club is to be heard with the assisting artists in the New School Hall on Beale street, Wollaston. The Glee Club expects to see all its old friends and urges those unacquainted with its excellent work to come to this gala occasion.

The Foresters lodge of Wollaston offers special attractions for the Spring concert Wednesday evening April 2, Mme. Camporelli, a prima donna of the Boston Opera Co. is to sing, and the club is to be heard with the assisting artists in the New School Hall on Beale street, Wollaston. The Glee Club expects to see all its old friends and urges those unacquainted with its excellent work to come to this gala occasion.

The Foresters lodge of Wollaston offers special attractions for the Spring concert Wednesday evening April 2, Mme. Camporelli, a prima donna of the Boston Opera Co. is to sing, and the club is to be heard with the assisting artists in the New School Hall on Beale street, Wollaston. The Glee Club expects to see all its old friends and urges those unacquainted with its excellent work to come to this gala occasion.

The Foresters lodge of Wollaston offers special attractions for the Spring concert Wednesday evening April 2, Mme. Camporelli, a prima donna of the Boston Opera Co. is to sing, and the club is to be heard with the assisting artists in the New School Hall on Beale street, Wollaston. The Glee Club expects to see all its old friends and urges those unacquainted with its excellent work to come to this gala occasion.

The Foresters lodge of Wollaston offers special attractions for the Spring concert Wednesday evening April 2, Mme. Camporelli, a prima donna of the Boston Opera Co. is to sing, and the club is to be heard with the assisting artists in the New School Hall on Beale street, Wollaston. The Glee Club expects to see all its old friends and urges those unacquainted with its excellent work to come to this gala occasion.

The Foresters lodge of Wollaston offers special attractions for the Spring concert Wednesday evening April 2, Mme. Camporelli, a prima donna of the Boston Opera Co. is to sing, and the club is to be heard with the assisting artists in the New School Hall on Beale street, Wollaston. The Glee Club expects to see all its old friends and urges those unacquainted with its excellent work to come to this gala occasion.

The Foresters lodge of Wollaston offers special attractions for the Spring concert Wednesday evening April 2, Mme. Camporelli, a prima donna of the Boston Opera Co. is to sing, and the club is to be heard with the assisting artists in

The Quincy Patriot

SATURDAY, MARCH 29, 1913

SINGLE COPIES 5 CENTS.
FOR SALE AT:
The Patriot Office, 25 Hancock St., Quincy, Mass.
W. E. Brown & Co., Quincy, Mass.
H. P. Kittredge, 25 Hancock St., Quincy, Mass.
J. P. O'Brien, 25 Hancock St., Quincy, Mass.
P. Carlson, near Quincy Depot, Quincy, Mass.
A. Cook, Quincy Point, Quincy, Mass.
H. H. Smith, Quincy Point, Quincy, Mass.
Sprague & Hobbart, Quincy Point, Quincy, Mass.
Shunk's Periodical Store, Wollaston, Quincy, Mass.
Thomas Gurney, Atlantic, Quincy, Mass.
Branchfield & Martens, Norfolk Downs, Quincy, Mass.
P. L. Littlefield, Quincy Adams, Quincy, Mass.
E. H. Dolbe & Co., West Quincy, Quincy, Mass.
Frank A. Skinner, West Quincy, Quincy, Mass.
Mrs. Lark's Store, Brewer's Corner, Quincy, Mass.
J. J. Hammers, East Milton, Quincy, Mass.
South Terminal Station, Boston.

Notes and Comments.

A movement has been inaugurated in Ontario to celebrate, in August, 1915, the 20th anniversary of the arrival of the white man in that region. Champlain spent the winter in 1615-16 where now stands the city of Orillia. The place was then known as Capilago, and is spoken of by this name in his diary. The proposal for a celebration originates in Orillia.

Persons who consider it the essence of wit says the Brockton Enterprise give false information to newspapers would do well to consider the fact that to send such information through the mails is a federal offense, and to give untruthful stories to reporters is also punishable.

Three dollars and fifty-two cents due him for 48 years for services as a soldier in the Civil war have been received by David H. Barnhart of Kellogg, Idaho. Of this amount $2.56 constituted short pay and 96 cents for shortage on clothing. Mr. Barnhart was a private in Company F 36th Iowa Infantry and participated in battles at Vicksburg, Little Rock, Elkins Ferry and Camden and was captured in the battle of Mark Mills. He was taken to Tyler, Texas, and imprisoned for nine months, being taken afterwards to Red River and exchanged. He was mustered out of the service at Du Bald, Arkansas. It is a long time to wait for money, said Mr. Barnhart, "but the government seems never to forget us. I can say without hesitation that it is the longest time I ever waited for money. Still, if everybody got money due them for 48 years, we would have no complaint to make."

As a result of an energetic good roads campaign waged by Spokane, Washington, citizens the last two years, Spokane county will have $919,000 for road building and improvement in 1913 and 1914. With an additional $162,000 appropriated by the legislature for state roads immediately tributary to Spokane, the total is brought to $1,082,000. The distribution calls for 90 per cent of the amount being concentrated on continuous stretches of standard highway built from trade centers, along main traveled roads which are a part of the state primary trunk highway system. In the comprehensive road program a law has been enacted providing for the development of roads in counties whose assessed valuations do not permit of extensive road work. All state road expenditures are made by the state under direct supervision of the state highway commissioner.

Washington tongues are wagging because President Wilson declines to accept "passes" to the local theaters. Heretofore Presidents have given a theatre box or two whenever they or their families wished to attend a performance. President Wilson and his friends occupied two boxes the other evening, for which he paid $40, the same price that is charged the general public.—Taunton Herald.

Announcement has been made that the Cape Cod canal will be completed late this year, and undoubtedly will be open to shipping in the summer of 1914. The construction of wharves, docks, warehouses and other essentials is to be begun immediately. The canal will greatly shorten the distance between Boston and points to the south, but its great advantage will be avoidance of the dangerous shoals and reefs off the Cape.

There is one from Life: A New York politician, in writing a letter of condolence to a widow of a member of the legislature, says: "I cannot tell you how pained I was to hear that your husband had gone to Heaven. We were bosom friends but now we shall never meet again."

Hawthorne and Morton will take their sentences. With parole in sight probably before a new trial could be reached, they can see less hardship in facing the situation than waiting for another long drawn out trial.

YACHT CLUB DANCE.

The assembly of the Town River Yacht Club at Alpha Hall, Tuesday evening was pronounced a social success by a large number that attended and enjoyed the dance until midnight. The weather conditions seemed to have had no effect on the attendance. Music was furnished by Wilson's orchestra.

The floor was in charge of William Kemp with Daniel Ring of the Quincy Post Office as his assistant. Edward Ford was chief of aids and on his staff were Eugene Goudreau, George E. Sprague, W. C. Caldwell, W. C. Luther C. C. Foster.

JOLLY PARTY.

A jolly party was held at the home of Miss Catherine Brown, Hancock street, Tuesday evening. There was fancy dancing by Miss Dorothy Green and Charles Brown, a bass solo by Basil Brooks.

Miss Catherine Brown and Miss Alice Parker sang a duet accompanied by Miss Abigail R. Gougeon. Miss Charles Jones and Harry Brown gave a representation of the Turkey trot as it was originally done.

Russell Green favored the company with one of his original piano compositions.

MILTON REAL ESTATE SALES.

Mary G. Richardson to Rosa Epstein, Warren avenue.

J. Edwin Swan to John G. Murray, Brookside park.

Arthur H. Tucker to Katherine Donald, Blue Hill avenue, Canton avenue.

CITY COUNCIL.

Every member of the City Council was present Monday evening at the adjourned meeting of the Council. The main subject of consideration was the annual appropriation order. Several attempts were made by Councilman Cunningham to change the amounts as reported by the Finance Committee but in only two instances was the amount raised, one was in regard to the increase of the grade teachers salaries. The Committee reported the sum of $2,000 for the increase to take effect from Sept. 1. This amount was changed to $3,500 to take effect on April 1.

There was also a slight increase in the appropriation for the Fire Department owing to the increase in the number of permanent men, the order for which passed early in the evening.

A venire was received for the drawing of one grand jury. The Mayor, City Clerk and Councilman Devaney drew Michael Arnold.

William P. Pinel and Elizabeth Pinel petitioned to have their sidewalk assessment apportioned. Referred to the Finance Committee.

The Mayor forwarded a communication enclosing a petition from Capt. Charles P. Boyd of the Fire Department to be retired. Councilman Boyd ordered an order retiring Capt. Costa at a salary of $550 a year. Referred to Finance Committee.

A communication from the Overseer of the Poor stating that on investigation he had found that Elizabeth L. Dawson who had applied for aid, had a legal settlement in Quincy. The applicant was then given leave to withdraw and Councilman Cunningham offered an order discontinuing the Soldiers Relief now being paid Mrs. Dawson. Order adopted.

PETITIONS.
Petitions for the apportionment of sidewalk assessments were received and granted.

A large number of applications for minor licenses were received and referred to the License committee.

An application of Frank F. Crane for an auctioneer's license was received and granted.

Councilman Griffin presented a petition for a police station box in Newcomb Square. Referred to the Executive.

CALENDAR MATTERS.

On motion of Councilman Bryant it was voted to take up the matters in the calendar.

Order 89 granting the Electric Light Co. a location for poles on Hill street was passed.

The order appropriating $200 for the July 4th celebration at Atlantic was read and laid on the table.

The order appropriating $500 for paved gutters on Birch street was referred to the Committee on Streets.

FIREMEN GRILLED.
The order and the Fire Department ordinance by reducing the number of call men from 54 to 36 and increasing the number of permanent men by three came up for its final passage.

Councilman Cunningham requested the presence of the Chief Engineer and asked a number of questions. The foremen of several of the fire companies were also called up before the council and asked questions if the companies could get along with the cut as proposed.

There seemed to be considerable difference of opinion as to how many of the call men were any good. It was also brought out that there were a number of black sheep among the call men. That is call men who never attended fires but showed up twice a year to draw their pay, less fines. In one case it was brought out that a call man of House 4 did not attend any of the city alarms to which the apparatus responded last year. That his fines amounted to $25 and that he drew the balance $65 in cold cash.

It was also said by the Chief that there was a man of the Atlantic company about as bad.

The Chief also admitted that he was away from the call men as to the call men but had done nothing to remedy it.

The Chief was also questioned if it was necessary to run about so much in his automobile and if he could not just as well get along without a special driver who might be used on patrol to the willard school, Miss Elsie Downing to the Wollaston school.

The expenditures of the department to March 25, were reported as follows:
Administration $14,728.88
Instruction 40,757.56
Text Books 1,292.24
Stationery 1,584.72
Operation of Plant 7,037.02
Maintenance 8.09
Miscellaneous 465.42
Evening Schools 194.41
Total $53,222.54
Quincy Ind. Industrial school 720.00
Industrial Evening School 617.54
Total $54,670.08

SAMSON—DIAMOND.

The marriage ceremony of Bessie Etta Diamond and Hyman Samson was performed Sunday evening by Rev. Julius Sandolovitz of Congregation Avath Achdam, at the home of the couple, Washington street. The bride was given away by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Diamond. Louis Diamond, a brother of the bride was best man. Mrs. Samson, is well known in Quincy, being a member of Abigail Adams Circle, No. 11, I. C. of A. and formerly conducted a dress-making establishment on Washington street. Mr. Samson who is a widower, is employed as a carpenter and has made his home in Quincy for several years. A supper was served to the guests after the ceremony.

The budget as reported also provides for the raising of the maximum salary of the first seven grade teachers to $700 after Sept. 1.

Quincy Music hall, Tuesday night a group of local amateurs who gave a very creditable performance and deserved every bit of applause that was coming to them. The terrific storm which swept the city just about the usual entertainment hour and then continued all night no doubt prevented a great many from attending, but while the audience was only of fair size it was not lacking in enthusiasm and a desire to show appreciation.

It is said the author of the play was in the house but as few were aware of this fact there was no general call for his or her appearance before the curtain. "A Fool Tip," is essentially a base ball story, as may be judged from its name.

It was a well balanced company which presented the play. To go into details and enumerate any especially good part by individuals would be to good part to the others. All united in sustaining their parts and aiding in the one grand general production which was quite successful. Another performance would be very much enjoyed even by those who witnessed the first.

The cast of characters was as follows:
First Prize, Harry Glover: The only original "come-back" kid. 488.
Second Prize, Henry Trask: The rising star of the All-around Test for the Senior cup, won last year by John McArthur with a total of 479 points. Henry Trask was second. This year won by Harry Glover with a total of 488 points, Henry Trask again second. Glover was especially good in that he broke the record for the 300 yd. run and also broke McArthur's record of total number of points. The prizes were presented as follows:
First Prize, Harry Glover: The only original "come-back" kid. 488.
Second Prize, Henry Trask: The rising star of the All-around Test for the Senior cup, won last year by John McArthur with a total of 479 points. Henry Trask was second. This year won by Harry Glover with a total of 488 points, Henry Trask again second. Glover was especially good in that he broke the record for the 300 yd. run and also broke McArthur's record of total number of points. The prizes were presented as follows:

Fourth Prize, Leon White: Common-sense "A" student. 417.
Fifth Prize, Philip Wood: The jumping kangaroo.
Sixth Prize, Clifford Saxe: He also very seldom wears a hat, to look at his head will tell the reason why.
Seventh Prize, Thomas Djerf: The thunder-bolt, also tries to wrestle.
Eighth Prize, Dick Favorite: The student athlete, he studies for the sport and then goes into athletics for exercise.
Ninth Prize, John Shaw: He would rather play soccer football than work for a living.
Tenth Prize, William Cranshaw: Has run his last race, is going to join the ranks of John McArthur's class. Has too much on his hands to go into sports of this kind.

Award of trophy to the second baseman, "A" student, of the Y. M. C. A. second teams, Stuart Dineen, Capt. Names of players on shield. Shields will be kept in custody of Y. M. C. A. in Trophy room.

Trophy to Oscar Djerf, Capt. of the Dartmouth team of the Employed boys' season up to date there have been 682 men and boys in the physical department. Forty-five boys have been taught to swim this winter. 65 medical exams have been given and 50 full or physical examinations have been given to the older fellows.

The Junior class leaders, a body of boys who have shown exceptional ability in gymnastics, athletics or basketball have met about ten times for instruction. These boys have made it possible for the Physical Director to get away from the classes to attend conferences, outside athletic meets and like affairs. They were also responsible to a certain degree for the conduct of the boys in the locker room and swimming pool. Sturgis Hunt has been chief leader and a great deal of credit is due him for the good work done by the boys.

Athletic meets have been held in the gym by the Physical Director and by the men of the Boston Gear Works.

The Boy Scouts have had the privilege of using the gym during the winter months on Friday afternoons.

A Sunday school basketball league has been organized and is now playing the last series of games. The league started with four teams but at present there are 7 schools represented. Next year this promises to be one of the big things of the boys department work.

The Association was represented by three basketball teams at a religious league as such but we believe the church and state should be kept separate.

Representative Greenwood told of the fight he led for the bill on the floor of the House and the underrunning of opposition to it. He spoke eloquently and convincingly for the movement.

T. E. Perley read the second edition of the "Wollaston Mauler" which was full of knocks on club members and local hits.

President Mann announced a new edition of the Wollaston Mauler composed of Wendell H. H. B. D. Locke, L. W. Mandell and Rev. Isaiah W. Sneath.

The meeting was preceded by the monthly supper of the club in the vestry at which this time roast turkey formed the piece dresistance.

BENJAMIN F. CRANE.

Benjamin F. Crane, a former well known resident of South Quincy died Sunday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Samuel Curtis at Allston in his eightieth year. Mr. Crane was son of the late Benjamin L. Crane and was born in Quincy, Aug. 7, 1833. He spent the greater part of his life in Quincy his business in his active days being that of a boot maker. Some years ago he had a shock of paralysis which has been poor health since. About a year ago he left Quincy to make his home with his daughter in Boston, where he has since resided.

He was a veteran of the civil war having served in Co. B. of the 60th regiment. He leaves a widow and one daughter, Samuel Curtis, a son, one of whom is Mrs. Henry Lavelle of Wollaston.

MISS ISABELLA M. GREGORY.

Miss Isabella M. Gregory died at the Quincy City Hospital Monday evening in her 61st year. She was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Gregory and was born in this city. She leaves one brother and three sisters, one of whom is Mrs. Henry Lavelle of Wollaston.

FORMER RESIDENT DEAD.

The funeral of Edward M. Nutter who died suddenly at Roxbury Friday was held from Hall's undertaking room Monday. Services were conducted by Rev. Richard E. Armstrong, rector of Christ Church. Burial was in Mt. Wollaston.

THE BUDGET.

On motion of Councilman Little the budget was taken up.

A FOUL TIP.

The three act comedy "A Fool Tip," was presented for the first time in Quincy Music hall, Tuesday night.

All the All-around Test for the Senior cup, won last year by John McArthur with a total of 479 points. Henry Trask was second. This year won by Harry Glover with a total of 488 points, Henry Trask again second. Glover was especially good in that he broke the record for the 300 yd. run and also broke McArthur's record of total number of points. The prizes were presented as follows:

Fourth Prize, Leon White: Common-sense "A" student. 417.
Fifth Prize, Philip Wood: The jumping kangaroo.
Sixth Prize, Clifford Saxe: He also very seldom wears a hat, to look at his head will tell the reason why.
Seventh Prize, Thomas Djerf: The thunder-bolt, also tries to wrestle.
Eighth Prize, Dick Favorite: The student athlete, he studies for the sport and then goes into athletics for exercise.
Ninth Prize, John Shaw: He would rather play soccer football than work for a living.
Tenth Prize, William Cranshaw: Has run his last race, is going to join the ranks of John McArthur's class. Has too much on his hands to go into sports of this kind.

Award of trophy to the second baseman, "A" student, of the Y. M. C. A. second teams, Stuart Dineen, Capt. Names of players on shield. Shields will be kept in custody of Y. M. C. A. in Trophy room.

Trophy to Oscar Djerf, Capt. of the Dartmouth team of the Employed boys' season up to date there have been 682 men and boys in the physical department. Forty-five boys have been taught to swim this winter. 65 medical exams have been given and 50 full or physical examinations have been given to the older fellows.

The Junior class leaders, a body of boys who have shown exceptional ability in gymnastics, athletics or basketball have met about ten times for instruction. These boys have made it possible for the Physical Director to get away from the classes to attend conferences, outside athletic meets and like affairs. They were also responsible to a certain degree for the conduct of the boys in the locker room and swimming pool. Sturgis Hunt has been chief leader and a great deal of credit is due him for the good work done by the boys.

Athletic meets have been held in the gym by the Physical Director and by the men of the Boston Gear Works.

The Boy Scouts have had the privilege of using the gym during the winter months on Friday afternoons.

A Sunday school basketball league has been organized and is now playing the last series of games. The league started with four teams but at present there are 7 schools represented. Next year this promises to be one of the big things of the boys department work.

The Association was represented by three basketball teams at a religious league as such but we believe the church and state should be kept separate.

Representative Greenwood told of the fight he led for the bill on the floor of the House and the underrunning of opposition to it. He spoke eloquently and convincingly for the movement.

T. E. Perley read the second edition of the "Wollaston Mauler" which was full of knocks on club members and local hits.

President Mann announced a new edition of the Wollaston Mauler composed of Wendell H. H. B. D. Locke, L. W. Mandell and Rev. Isaiah W. Sneath.

The meeting was preceded by the monthly supper of the club in the vestry at which this time roast turkey formed the piece dresistance.

Representative Greenwood told of the fight he led for the bill on the floor of the House and the underrunning of opposition to it. He spoke eloquently and convincingly for the movement.

T. E. Perley read the second edition of the "Wollaston Mauler" which was full of knocks on club members and local hits.

President Mann announced a new edition of the Wollaston Mauler composed of Wendell H. H. B. D. Locke, L. W. Mandell and Rev. Isaiah W. Sneath.

The meeting was preceded by the monthly supper of the club in the vestry at which this time roast turkey formed the piece dresistance.

Representative Greenwood told of the fight he led for the bill on the floor of the House and the underrunning of opposition to it. He spoke eloquently and convincingly for the movement.

T. E. Perley read the second edition of the "Wollaston Mauler" which was full of knocks on club members and local hits.

President Mann announced a new edition of the Wollaston Mauler composed of Wendell H. H. B. D. Locke, L. W. Mandell and Rev. Isaiah W. Sneath.

The meeting was preceded by the monthly supper of the club in the vestry at which this time roast turkey formed the piece dresistance.

Representative Greenwood told of the fight he led for the bill on the floor of the House and the underrunning of opposition to it. He spoke eloquently and convincingly for the movement.

T. E. Perley read the second edition of the "Wollaston Mauler" which was full of knocks on club members and local hits.

GRADE CROSSING REPORT.

The special board of commissioners appointed to consider the petition of the New York, New Haven and Hartford for the abolition of the grade crossings at Saville and Water streets, John L. Bates, Winfred S. Slocum and Arthur H. Wellman have submitted their report, in which they decide that certain changes should be made in accordance with the petition and convenience of the public and desirable changes agreed upon, with a statement of the land taken and in fact every detail bearing upon this important measure.

An abstract of the report submitted to the Superior Court is herewith submitted.

The raising of the railroad at Water street will involve the raising of the bridge at School street about 12 feet. The property takings to be made in connection with this project are as follows:

Homestead Trust 5330
Fred B. Rice 2348
Homestead Trust 5330
Margaret Fallon 770
Frances Blackmur 237
Persons Unknown 14,000
Bessie Eldridge 5160
Adams Real Estate Trust 5740
Adams Real Estate Trust 5400
John R. Richards 9600
Adams Real Estate Trust 10,800
Adams Real Estate Trust 1200
Merry Mount Granite Co. 6640
Adams Real Estate Trust 252
Old Colony Railroad Co. 1684
John B. Sutherland 1333
Henry H. Faxon 2148
Arthur G. Pinel 66
Charles Ratti 4700
Bessie Eldridge 4251
John Glover 656
Adams Real Estate Trust 7245
Rosa B. Blackmur 237
Frances Blackmur 237
Merry Mount Granite Co. 11,000
Adams Real Estate Trust 480
Homestead Trust 1515

The total estimated cost of this project will be about $275,000, of which the City of Quincy will pay ten per cent or about $27,500.

The total expense, then, to Quincy of both the Saville Street and Water Street projects will be about $35,000, which is a very low figure for the City of Quincy to pay for so important a public improvement.

When the Water Street grade crossing project is constructed the Railroad proposes to construct at its own expense two new tracks on the eastern side of the present tracks and to build a new inbound passenger station which will be located opposite the junction of Federal Avenue and Presidents Avenue and which will be approached by carriages and pedestrians directly from Federal Avenue and from Federal Avenue Extension and by stairs directly from Water Street.

BASE BALL IN AFRICA.
Dr. Harold F. Curtis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse F. Curtis of Upland road, and Dr. Albin Bonney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert E. Bonney of Glenwood way, the American dentists at Alexandria, Egypt, made a great showing, March 1 in the base ball game between the "African" championship at Cairo. They played on the Alexandria team but Cairo won by the score of 15 to 9.

A letter just received from Dr. Curtis tells of the trip, the game, and the sights of Cairo. He writes in part: "We had a glorious trip and a good time on our journey. After that we lost the game was like a thunder-bolt to us. Our pitcher, a man we had planned on to hold Cairo in check, simply went to pieces in the first two innings they knocked him out of the box and scored 12 runs while he was pitching. After that we had a shade better of the argument but the early lead was to great to overcome."

"Incidentally 'Al' and I" did our part bravely and pulled off the star plays both in the field and on the bases. I never played a better fielding game making a series of the most sensational catches I ever did and scoring three of our nine runs, stole second twice, third twice and home once, and chanced the crowd what we could do toward winning. "Al" caught a good game and made one swell catch a high fly ball. After the game we took our baths and cold sprays and returned to the hotel, wishing we could have cut out the first two innings. The game is to be an annual affair from now on, as the interest has been keen on base ball."

"We left Alexandria on the 28th at 5:30 P. M. and arrived at Cairo at 8:17 P. M. We stayed at the National Hotel where we had a good nights rest. "On Saturday we were up early and visited the Citadel and were shown the sights. We visited the "Mosque Mohamed Ali" which is at the highest point of the city. The mosque is a beautiful building and the view from the top is magnificent. On the way up we saw the bullet holes in the doors and walls over the pavement where the Mamelukes were massacred."

"Once on the summit we entered the mosque and it is the best ever, the largest and most beautiful mosque in Egypt, simply indescribable. Took some pictures around the mosque and visited the well of Joseph which you no doubt read about in your Sunday School days."

"From the Citadel we journeyed to the Museum which is Egypt's best. Then saw the bodies of Set I and Nemeses 2nd and 3rd and the mummies. From there we started for the Mission House where we were treated to a very fine dinner. Then by carriages we journeyed to the Y. M. C. A. grounds, put on our togs and limbered up and played "that now historic game" which has been commented upon. "Sunday morning I went to the Pyramids and took more pictures. "Al" went to church as he was to sore to climb. Returned to dinner at one o'clock. Sat on the veranda until three o'clock when the thermometer was 80 degrees in the shade. It was a very warm day. Just like summer, consequently we went for a trolley ride to Helopolis. After looking around the Palace Hotel we called on friends from Brockton, Mass. where we took tea. Returned in time to take the 6:35 P. M. train for Alexandria arriving about 10 P. M. after a very pleasant trip."

The legislature plans a probe of the ice supply. One of the coal situation was promised before the state election but never materialized.

Granite Firms.

MERRY MOUNT GRANITE CO., Incorporated 1881. Manufacturers and Dealers in Monumental and Cemetery Work. Works near Quincy Adams station, South Quincy.

McGRATH BROS.

Large stock of finished Monuments and Tablets constantly on hand. Works at Quincy Adams Station. Established 1854.

PRESIDENT'S AVENUE.

The freight house near Water street will be moved south and located near Federal Avenue opposite Goodard street.

All sidetrack connections to industries are to be retained at their present grade, and the track facilities in the Crane yard and in the Granite street freight yard are all to be at least as ample as at the present time.

The raising of the railroad at Water street will involve the raising of the bridge at School street about 12 feet. The property takings to be made in connection with this project are as follows:

Homestead Trust 5330
Fred B. Rice 2348
Homestead Trust 5330
Margaret Fallon 770
Frances Blackmur 237
Persons Unknown 14,000
Bessie Eldridge 5160
Adams Real Estate Trust 5740
Adams Real Estate Trust 5400
John R. Richards 9600
Adams Real Estate Trust 10,800
Adams Real Estate Trust 1200
Merry Mount Granite Co. 6640
Adams Real Estate Trust 252
Old Colony Railroad Co. 1684
John B. Sutherland 1333
Henry H. Faxon 2148
Arthur G. Pinel 66
Charles Ratti 4700
Bessie Eldridge 4251
John Glover 656
Adams Real Estate Trust 7245
Rosa B. Blackmur 237
Frances Blackmur 237
Merry Mount Granite Co. 11,000
Adams Real Estate Trust 480
Homestead Trust 1515

The total estimated cost of this project will be about $275,000, of which the City of Quincy will pay ten per cent or about $27,500.

The total expense, then, to Quincy of both the Saville Street and Water Street projects will be about $35,000, which is a very low figure for the City of Quincy to pay for so important a public improvement.

When the Water Street grade crossing project is constructed the Railroad proposes to construct at its own expense two new tracks on the eastern side of the present tracks and to build a new inbound passenger station which will be located opposite the junction of Federal Avenue and Presidents Avenue and which will be approached by carriages and pedestrians directly from Federal Avenue and from Federal Avenue Extension and by stairs directly from Water Street.

BASE BALL IN AFRICA.
Dr. Harold F. Curtis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse F. Curtis of Upland road, and Dr. Albin Bonney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert E. Bonney of Glenwood way, the American dentists at Alexandria, Egypt, made a great showing, March 1 in the base ball game between the "African" championship at Cairo. They played on the Alexandria team but Cairo won by the score of 15 to 9.

A letter just received from Dr. Curtis tells of the trip, the game, and the sights of Cairo. He writes in part: "We had a glorious trip and a good time on our journey. After that we lost the game was like a thunder-bolt to us. Our pitcher, a man we had planned on to hold Cairo in check, simply went to pieces in the first two innings they knocked him out of the box and scored 12 runs while he was pitching. After that we had a shade better of the argument but the early lead was to great to overcome."

"Incidentally 'Al' and I" did our part bravely and pulled off the star plays both in the field and on the bases. I never played a better fielding game making a series of the most sensational catches I ever did and scoring three of our nine runs, stole second twice, third twice and home once, and chanced the crowd what we could do toward winning. "Al" caught a good game and made one swell catch a high fly ball. After the game we took our baths and cold sprays and returned to the hotel, wishing we could have cut out the first two innings. The game is to be an annual affair from now on, as the interest has been keen on base ball."

"We left Alexandria on the 28th at 5:30 P. M. and arrived at Cairo at 8:17 P. M. We stayed at the National Hotel where we had a good nights rest. "On Saturday we were up early and visited the Citadel and were shown the sights. We visited the "Mosque Mohamed Ali" which is at the highest point of the city. The mosque is a beautiful building and the view from the top is magnificent. On the way up we saw the bullet holes in the doors and walls over the pavement where the Mamelukes were massacred."

"Once on the summit we entered the mosque and it is the best ever, the largest and most beautiful mosque in Egypt, simply indescribable. Took some pictures around the mosque and visited the well of Joseph which you no doubt read about in your Sunday School days."

"From the Citadel we journeyed to the Museum which is Egypt's best. Then saw the bodies of Set I and Nemeses 2nd and 3rd and the mummies. From there we started for the Mission House where we were treated to a very fine dinner. Then by carriages we journeyed to the Y. M. C. A. grounds, put on our togs and limbered up and played "that now historic game" which has been commented upon. "Sunday morning I went to the Pyramids and took more pictures. "Al" went to church as he was to sore to climb. Returned to dinner at one o'clock. Sat on the veranda until three o'clock when the thermometer was 80 degrees in the shade. It was a very warm day. Just like summer, consequently we went for a trolley ride to Helopolis. After looking around the Palace Hotel we called on friends from Brockton, Mass. where we took tea. Returned in time to take the 6:35 P. M. train for Alexandria arriving about 10 P. M. after a very pleasant trip."

The legislature plans a probe of the ice supply. One of the coal situation was promised before the state election but never materialized.

Granite Firms.

MERRY MOUNT GRANITE CO., Incorporated 1881. Manufacturers and Dealers in Monumental and Cemetery Work. Works near Quincy Adams station, South Quincy.

</